RULES FOR WOFFORD COLLEGE.

DUTIES OF PRESIDENT AND FACULTY.

The President shall be the chief executive officer in the government of the College. It shall be his duty to preside at all meetings of the Faculty, to deliver their opinions, and announce all sentences and censures against Students. It shall be his duty to give the casting vote whenever the members of the Faculty are equally divided on any question. He shall report to the Trustees, at their annual meeting, the number, general behavior, and progress of the Students, and any other matters which in his opinion may promote the interests of the institution. In the event of his absence, the Faculty shall elect from themselves a President pro tem.

SECRETARY.

The Faculty shall appoint one of their number Secretary, whose duty it shall be to keep a Record of their meetings, which shall be open to inspection by the Trustees at any time.

TREASURER.

The College Treasurer shall be elected from the Faculty. It shall be his duty to receive all moneys from the Students, keep an accurate account of his receipts and expenditures, and make a full report of the same, accompanied by the proper vouchers. Before entering on the duties of his office he shall give a bond, with satisfactory security, to the amount of Dollars, for the faithful performance of his duty. As a compensation he shall receive two per cent. on all moneys paid out by him.

LIBRARY.

The Faculty shall appoint one of their number Librarian, whose duty shall be to attend in the Library at such hours as he may be directed by the Faculty, keep an account of all books borrowed by the Students, and enforce on them a careful observance of all regulations made for the preservation of the Library Books.

No Encyclopedia, or other book intended chiefly for reference, shall be taken out by any Student.

All books must be returned at least three days before each vacation.

No student shall take out at one time more than three volumes, nor shall he keep any volume out longer than three weeks. A violation of either of these rules may subject him to a fine of One Dollar.

The Students are positively forbidden to lend a Library book to any other person.

The Professors may enter the Library at any hour to consult or borrow books. They are expected, however, to register, in a book kept in the Library for that purpose, the names of all volumes taken out by them.

COMMENCEMENT, VACATIONS, &c.

The fourth Wednesday in June shall be Commencement Day. The Scholastic Year shall be divided as follows: The First Term shall begin on the fourth Wednesday in August, and end on the second Wednesday in December. The Second Term shall begin on the second Wednesday in January, and end on Commencement Day.

The Exercises of Commencement shall consist of Addresses delivered by those whose deportment and proficiency as Students may entitle them to such distinction, after which the President shall publicly confer Degrees on the graduating class.

ADMISSION OF STUDENTS.

Applicants for Admission are expected to bring written testimonials of moral character, and to stand a satisfactory examination on our published requisitions. After which, having procured boarding at some house approved by the President, (or in his absence, by the Faculty,) and having produced his Treasurer's receipt for Tuition and contingent fee, (which contingent fee shall be Two Dollars each term,) he shall be allowed to take his place in the class assigned him.

The Faculty shall keep a Register, in which shall be recorded the name and residence of every Student, his age, date of admission, dismissal, or graduation, together with the name and Post Office of his Father or Guardian.

EXERCISES.

There shall be one Recitation on Saturday, and three on every other day, at such hours as the Faculty may appoint.

There shall be devotional exercises every morning and evening, at which time every Student is expected to be present, and to behave with the seriousness and reverence proper to a religious assembly.

PUNISHMENT, CONDUCT, &c.

The Punishments shall be reproof, private or public, complaint made to Parent or Guardian, suspension and expulsion.

In a case of gross deficiency in study, a Student may be degraded to a lower class.

Where the intellectual or moral habits of a young man are such as to render the privileges of the College useless to him, or render his example hurtful to other students, the Parent or Guardian will be requested to withdraw him.

Gaming, drunkenness, the use of profane or obscene language, visiting drinking houses, loitering idly about stores or public places, and all riotous, disorderly, and immoral conduct generally, are forbidden.

The Report of the President to Trustees shall refer particularly to all cases of gross misdemeanor or immorality, for which Students have been suspended or expelled.

The Students are strictly enjoined not to visit or walk on the streets during study hours; and they are expected at all times and in all companies (especially at their boarding houses and in all their intercourse with citizens of the village and vicinity) to display that delicate regard for the rights and the feelings of others, which is the sure test and unfailing characteristic of the GENTLEMAN.

A strict observance of the Sabbath, and habitual attendance on religious service are enjoined on all the Students.
