Wofford Football Opens Spring Practice

SPARTANBURG, SC – The Wofford College football team opened spring practice on a cold Monday night with the first of fifteen scheduled practices. On the first day, the Terriers worked out in helmets on the practice fields for approximately two hours.

“The thing we need to do is to come up with the best football team that we can,” said head coach Mike Ayers. “You lose a great player like Eric Breitenstein and somebody has to step up. We think we have some guys who are going to be able to fill in, but they have to bring their own shoes, they can’t expect to fill his shoes. We are going to be different, but at the same time that is not a bad thing. We are going to try our best to be more effective in the throwing game. We have a lot of young kids who are testing the waters for the first time who were redshirted last year and a lot of them are going to be out here trying to earn a position. There is a lot of work to be done but I am excited to be back out here. We are going to do everything we can to emphasize the fundamentals and the concepts.”

The biggest position battle of the spring will be at quarterback. Last season’s starter Brian Kass will not return for his fifth year of eligibility. Michael Weimar and James Lawson both come into spring with game experience at the position, while redshirt freshmen Taylor Bragg and Evan Jacks worked in the system all fall.

“We are looking for the consistent guy who is going to move the football team, a guy that can run the football and throw the football effectively,” said Ayers. “You look at the guys we have, you have some that have reps and have done some real good things. Overall it is going to be a very competitive position and nobody wants to be second, everyone wants to be first. That is the way it should be.”

On the injury front, several veteran players were held out of the practice including OL Tymeco Gregory (knee), LB Kevin Thomas (hip), LB Mike McCrimon (knee), and OL Kane Sherrill (hamstring). OL Anton Wahrby and DL Steven Cornellier, who signed with the Terriers last month, took part in the practice.

Wofford will hold the first of two scrimmages on Saturday, March 16 at 10:00 am. The second scrimmage is scheduled for Saturday, March 23, also at 10:00 am. In each scrimmage, the Terriers will run 80 to 100 scripted plays.

Wofford Football Completes Second Spring Scrimmage

SPARTANBURG, S.C. – On a cold and damp Saturday morning, the Wofford football team completed the second scrimmage of the spring season. The scrimmage focused on situations, from the two minute drill and overtime to first-and-ten from the twenty yard line.

“What we tried to do was to hit on just about every situation possible,” said head coach Mike Ayers. “We worked on going out, coming in, a 1:45 with two time outs, a 1:30 with one time out, we looked at overtime situations and goal line situations, along with a two minute scenario at the end. I saw some real good things and some real bad things. It is a matter of us coaching and the kids hearing it enough that they get it. Overall there were some good plays and good effort. Defensively we had one get hurt, which did not help us on defense. At the same time, when someone goes down, someone steps up and that is the nature of the game. I was proud of the way the defense came back and competed. We have a lot of good film to look at and learn from as we finish up next week.”

The first set of situations was first-and-ten from the twenty yard line. James Lawson completed a first down pass to Cam Flowers, but the drive ended on an incomplete pass. Evan Jacks ran for 16-yard for a first down and then scored a touchdown on a seven yard run on his drive. Taylor Bragg was sacked twice by Jim Dolinak to end the third drive.

The Terriers then worked on first-and-ten from the 40-yard line. James Lawson handed the ball off to Jonny Martin for a 38-yard run and then Martin capped the drive with a one-yard touchdown run. On the second drive, Brody Hingst had a twelve-yard run for a first down which was followed by a 28-yard touchdown pass from Evan Jacks to Will Gay. Taylor Bragg began his series with a pair of first down catches to Alex Starnes and Brody Hingst. Steven Cornellier picked up a fumble and returned it ten yards before Ray Smith knocked the ball out and recovered it for the offense. Taylor Bragg then found Paul Nelson down the sidelines for a 45-yard touchdown reception.

In the overtime scenario, the first drive led by James Lawson opened with a first down pass to Caleb Lucas. Octavius Harden capped the drive with an eight-yard touchdown run in which he jukeed the defender. Evan Jacks completed a first down pass to Logan Christian and Cam Flowers scored on a six-yard run. Taylor Bragg’s drive featured a 19-yard reverse by Jeff Ashley and a six-yard touchdown run by Brody Hingst.

Each quarterback then began a drive at the five-yard line. After the defense stopped the first drive from gaining a first down, the defense scored on a twelve-yard interception return by Brion Anderson on the second drive. The final drive also failed to gain a first down after a sack by Jordan Claytor and Jim Dolinak.

In the two minute drill, James Lawson hit Caleb Lucas for a first down and then found Jeff Ashley for a 40-yard completion. After additional first down catches by Jeff Ashley and Rob Greene, James Lawson ran the ball in from four yards out. Evan Jacks ended his drive with an incomplete pass on fourth down, while Taylor Bragg completed one first down pass to Jeff Ashley before turning the ball over on downs.

On the injury front, over fifteen players were held out of the scrimmage due to injury. E.J. Speller hurt his leg on the second play of the morning and did not return.

The Terriers will practice three times next week to end the fifteen allotted practice sessions of the spring.

Wofford Football Finishes Spring Practices

SPARTANBURG, S.C. – The Wofford football team completed spring practice with a seventy-five minute workout on Wednesday afternoon. The practice session was the fifteenth of the spring for the Terriers.

“It was a very productive spring,” said head coach Mike Ayers. “Starting out we wanted to improve in the throwing game and we have done that. Defensively we wanted to make sure that everyone was assignment sound and understood their job and how to do it. We worked on the kicking game, probably not as extensively as we would have liked, but we got some work in on that. The big concern coming out of spring ball is some of the injuries that we sustained.”

“The way that it looks now at quarterback is that it is going to be a dogfight,” continued Ayers. “You have four guys that have nice skill sets and have the ability to run the football and throw the ball fairly well. In the past fifteen days they have each had days when the light was bright and sometimes had days when it was a little bit dim. Overall all of them were able to show what they are capable of doing.

“We have competition on the offensive line, at running back and at fullback,” said Ayers. “On defense we have had some guys that have stepped up and this will be there first time in a starting role who are performing well. Every time that we have gone against each other in eleven-on-eleven situations it has been very physical, very up tempo. We have tried to work on ball security from an offensive aspect. We have worked on tackling almost every day and tried to get our guys in a better position in terms of angles and the basic fundamentals.”

The Terriers will return to work after spring break on strength and speed training in preparation for the 2013 season opener at Baylor.

Brenton Bersin Signs With Carolina Panthers

SPARTANBURG, S.C. – Following the Carolina Panthers minicamp this past weekend, former Wofford wide receiver Brenton Bersin has signed a contract with the team. Fullback Eric Breitenstein also participated in the try-out, however he was not one of the eight players signed.

Bersin signed with the Panthers as a rookie free agent in 2012 and spent training camp with the team. He appeared in one preseason game before being released. Most recently he was playing with the Arizona Rattlers of the Arena Football League.

Bersin, from Charlotte, N.C., caught 26 passes for 445 yards and two touchdowns in 2011 at Wofford. He also had twelve carries for 169 yards and returned five punts. At The Citadel he returned a punt 76 yards for a touchdown, which was the fourth longest in school history.

In his career, he is fifth in school history with 1,567 receiving yards. Bersin is tied for third in school history with 15 touchdown receptions. In the 2010 season, he had 32 receptions for 703 yards and nine touchdowns. The 703 yards were the third most in a single season in school history, while the nine touchdowns tied the school record mark held by Carolina Panthers owner Jerry Richardson.

Eric Breitenstein Named SoCon Male Athlete of the Year

HILTON HEAD, S.C. – Wofford College running back Eric Breitenstein and Davidson College women's basketball player Sophia Aleksandravicius have been named the 2013 Southern Conference Male and Female Athletes of the Year, the league announced today (May 28). Aleksandravicius and Breitenstein will be honored in conjunction with the league's annual Honors Dinner on Wednesday night in Hilton Head, S.C.

Breitenstein was named the league's Bob Waters Male Athlete of the Year after earning the league's Offensive Player of the Year Award for the second consecutive season. He finished third in the 2012 Walter Payton Award voting. As a senior, Breitenstein led the Southern Conference and ranked second nationally with 2,035 rushing yards.

A three-time All-American, Breitenstein finished his career as the league's second-leading rusher with 5,730 yards and ranks third in league annals with 65 career touchdowns. He set a new Southern Conference record in 2012 with 12 100-yard rushing games and set the conference's single-game mark with 321 yards at Elon. As a senior, he helped the Terriers earn a share of the conference championship and a berth in the FCS Playoffs.

An environmental studies major, Breitenstein was a two-year co-president of Wofford's Student-Athlete Advisory Committee. He spearheaded a campus-wide recycling initiative and also assisted with Relay for Life while serving as a Miracle League Buddy. Breitenstein also worked as a Terrier Tales participant, promoting reading in Spartanburg libraries.

Aleksandravicius becomes the first female athlete at Davidson to win the award and the sixth women's basketball player in the SoCon to take the honor. The Pound Ridge, N.Y., native was named the league's Women's Basketball Player of the Year for the second consecutive season in 2013. She also was named the league's top defensive player for the second straight year. As a senior, she led the league in scoring (16.5 ppg), rebounding (9.9 rpg) and blocked shots (2.9 bpg). A first-team all-conference selection in 2013, she became the first player in school history to earn first-team all-conference honors for three straight years. Aleksandravicius finished her career ranked in the league's top 10 in scoring (ninth), made field goals (fifth), free throw (ninth), rebounding (fourth), and blocks (first). Off the court, she volunteered with the Boys & Girls Club, Davidson Elementary and the Davidson Run for Green. She completed her degree in political science earlier this month.

The Athlete of the Year Awards are selected annually by the Southern Conference athletics directors and a media member representing each conference school. The award recognizes athletic achievement, academic performance and civic involvement. Prior to 1990-91, the award was selected solely by members of the Southern Conference Sports Media Association. Beginning in 1991-92, the men's award was named after the late Bob Waters, who was Western Carolina's head football coach from 1969-88.

2013 Wofford football poster design and new marketing theme unveiled

7/17/2013 | Marketing and Promotions

Wofford Sports Marketing unveiled the 2013 Wofford football poster today and with it, ushered in a new marketing theme for the department.

The 2013 poster boasts a striking new look and features five Wofford standouts, James Zotto, Jared Singleton, Donovan Johnson, Ty Gregory and Alvin Scioneaux. The poster features a new size as well, 12" x 36", which is a departure from the posters of recent years.

With the unveiling of the football poster, a new marketing theme for the department makes its debut. Wofford alumni and fans will readily recognize the rallying cry "Conquer and Prevail" taken from the Wofford College Alma Mater. "Conquer and Prevail" will be seen on nearly all marketing materials for the coming year and beyond. This new theme replaces "Let's Go." which debuted in August 2008 and has been slowly phased out over the last year in preparation for this new look.

Another subtle nod to Wofford's success in the Southern Conference over the past decade can be found in the bottom right corner of the poster with the photos of the four championship rings accompanied by the tagline "Our Sparkle, Our City." Locals refer to Spartanburg as "Sparkle City," and as Spartanburg's Team we felt the community should share in the "sparkle" the Terriers have enjoyed over the last 10 years. Additional graphics will be created and used in various platforms to include Wofford's four additional Southern Conference championships won since 2003 in men's basketball (2), men's soccer (1) and baseball (1) - and all will be joined by the "Our Sparkle, Our City" tagline.

Also attached to this release is a highlight commercial produced by TerrierVision that incorporates the "Conquer and Prevail" theme.

Wofford College photographer Mark Olencki, web designer Michelle Thilges and Wofford Sports Marketing collaborated on this new look. In 2012 this creative team's football poster series won a NACMA Bronze Award for Promotional Poster Design.

Be sure to share these new graphics, as well as designs being released over the coming days for men's soccer, women's soccer and volleyball on our social media platforms. Like us on Facebook by searching Wofford Terriers and follow on Twitter @WoffordTerriers.

Another subtle nod to Wofford's success in the Southern Conference over the past decade can be found in the bottom right corner of the poster with the photos of the four championship rings accompanied by the tagline "Our Sparkle, Our City." Locals refer to Spartanburg as "Sparkle City," and as Spartanburg's Team we felt the community should share in the "sparkle" the Terriers have enjoyed over the past 10 years. Additional graphics will be created and used in various platforms to include Wofford's four additional Southern Conference championships won since 2003 in men's basketball (2), men's soccer (1) and baseball (1) - and all will be joined by the "Our Sparkle, Our City" tagline.

Also, TerrierVision has produced a special highlight commercial that

2013 Southern Conference Preseason Selections Announced

SPARTANBURG, S.C. – In conjunction with the 2013 Southern Conference Football Media held on Wednesday, the league's head coaches selected an all-conference first and second team. Coaches were not allowed to vote for their own student-athletes as part of the balloting. The Terriers had seven players recognized by the league's coaches, three on the first and four on the second team.

In addition, the conference's nine head coaches have chosen Georgia Southern as the choice to win the league championship, while Wofford was picked to finish fifth. The Southern Conference Sports Media Association also selected Georgia Southern first, with Wofford in second place.

Leading the Terriers on the first team were offensive linemen Tymeco Gregory and Jared Singleton, along with linebacker Alvin Scioneaux. Gregory, a senior from Greer, S.C., was a starter in all 13 games at left guard last season and was named second team All-SoCon. Singleton, a senior from Lugoff, S.C., started all 13 games at center last season to earn All-SoCon first team honors. Scioneaux, a senior from Garyville, Louisiana, was first team All-SoCon last season after leading the team in sacks and tackles for loss. He is on the 2013 Buck Buchanan Award Watch List.

Second team honorees include running back Donovan Johnson, defensive lineman Tarek Odom, linebacker Mike McCrimon, and safety James Zotto. Johnson, a senior from McDonough, Georgia, moves to fullback this season after playing half back in 2012 and rushing for 473 yards. Odom, a junior from St. Augustine, Florida, earned second team All-SoCon honors last season after starting twelve games at defensive end. McCrimon, a senior from Center Hill, Florida, started all 13 games at inside linebacker and led the team with 76 tackles. Zotto, a senior from Libertyville, Illinois, has started 25 straight games at strong safety and was second on the team in tackles last season.

The Terriers will report to campus on Sunday, August 4 and begin practice on Monday, August 5. A complete practice schedule will be released next week.
