Minutes for 1820.

Not long after this, he felt his mind impressed that a "dispensation of the gospel was given to him," and in compliance with this divine injunction, being duly recommended, he came forward and offered himself to the Virginia Conference, and was appointed in 1817 to Yaukin circuit; in 1818 to Allemane Sound, and in 1819 to Mercer, where, on the 15th of September, he departed this life, and changed the cross of suffering for the crown of life.

On October 11th, about four o'clock in the afternoon, he arrived at the house of a friend, ate his dinner, and appeared cheerful; a little after which he was attacked with a chill, and about seven o'clock became delicious and inept of speaking. Two physicians were immediately called in, and under the blessing of God, and through their instrumentality, on Sunday about two o'clock he began, apparently, to recover; and Monday morning was so much better as to furnish his friends ground to hope that he would again appear on the walls of Zion, "pointing to the Lamb of God who taketh away the sin of the world," and sit up for some time, and continue on his journey, expressing his hope that he would soon be able to meet an appointment of a two days' residence he had made, and also to attend his next quarterly meeting. But alas! how soon were the hopes of his friends and his own expectations blasted; for in the afternoon his fever returned, which was succeeded by delirium and the loss of speech again. And though all human means were used to save his life, it was to no purpose; for he sank under his disease, and soon expired.

Thus did our beloved brother, in the 50th year of his age, in full assurance of a blessed immortality; and is now, no doubt, triumphing where the wicked cease from troubling, and the weary are at rest.
