Sandor Teszler Library Now Offering Science Direct

The Library is announcing an important new information service--ScienceDirect. Follow the links from the library's web page under What's New or Electronic Resources, or E-Journals.

Through this service you will now have access to a web-based information source for scientific, technical, and medical research that offers access to approximately 1100 journals across 16 fields of science, including the social sciences. These journals, available in full-text and abstract--many never previously affordable--include all graphs and images. A powerful search engine assists the user.

While the collection is especially strong in the sciences it also includes important additions in other areas of the curriculum.

Initial directions:

At the first ScienceDirect screen use the "Group-wide login."

Both a full-text journal archive and a database.

The service permits browsing the contents of particular journals and searches through a range of journals as well

Customizing service available.

You may request that you be notified of new articles on particular topics of interest to your research and teaching. To make use of this feature use the personal login button on ScienceDirect's opening page and complete a profile.

Archived issues:

For most titles the archive extends back to 1994-95.

Printing/file formats

Articles may be read or printed from the browser screen or downloaded as PDF files in the original page layout. For PDF files, Acrobat Reader may be needed for some articles.

We urge you and your classes to make use of this valuable new collection. Contact a librarian for additional training for you or a class. Contact us also if you want help in setting up a personal profile.

This service is made available through a consortial arrangement combining the subscriptions within a group of ten South Carolina college and university libraries: USC, Clemson, The College of Charleston, the medical schools of USC and MUSC, The Citadel, Coastal Carolina, Francis Marion, Presbyterian, and Wofford.

Faculty/Staff Annual Fund Forms Needed by January 15

You can make a difference with just $1 per month!

Contrary to popular belief, you don't have to give a large amount to make an impact on Wofford. The percent of faculty and staff who support the college financially is a vital statistic viewed by many external sources. If you haven't given to Wofford in the past, you can increase this percentage by giving as little as $1 per month. If you are a loyal donor to the college, an increase of just 10% could mean quite a difference in the total contributed by faculty and staff members.

We need your continued support along with adding new gifts from those who haven't participated before. We can all make a difference, regardless of the amount of our contributions.

The cost of operating the college continues to rise and must be offset with Annual Fund dollars rather than tuition. Additional funds are desperately needed for the renovation of Old Main, other capital projects and endowed funds. However, please remember that the Annual Fund supports every person and program at Wofford and we need your participation.

Please take a few moments to consider the effect you can have on Wofford as we move into the new millennium. Collectively, we can make a difference in Wofford's future, both with our everyday work and with our financial support.

If you have any questions concerning the payroll deduction plan, please call Lisa De Freitas at ext. 4191 or Lisa Justus at ext. 4192. Please return the attached form by January 15 (You can also call, or e-mail your response to justuslg@wofford.edu), so the appropriate adjustments can be made to the January payroll.

Best wishes for the New Year and thanks for your consideration!

Human Resources Digitized Videos available on the web

Human Resources now has two digitized videos available for your viewing on the Wofford website. They are titled On the Move and TIAA-CREF. On the Move is a video presentation on cumulative trauma, musculoskeletal disorders, and ergonomics. TIAA-CREF is a video presentation on the Supplemental Retirement Account, one of the best retirement savings opportunities around. We anticipate adding more informational training and benefits videos in the future and hope that you will find them helpful, as well as easy to access.

You may view them by going to <http://origin.wofford.edu/mbase/>. Press "List", then select the "Human Resources" folder. You will see both of the above videos listed. Make your selection. If you are using a leased computer, the player (the software that you need to view the video) is already loaded on your computer and you should be able to click on the video and watch it. If it doesn't work, you may need to install the player software. Go to <http://technology.wofford.edu/videoinst.html> and follow the instructions there. Should you have any problems, please call Carole Lister at extension 4228.

Carole has worked with Information Technology Services to provide this service and would appreciate your feedback. We also welcome your comments and suggestions on other videos which you would like made available for viewing on our website.

It enables students and researchers at all levels to perform comprehensive searches for periodical articles on a wide variety of subjects.

LegalTrac is a subset of InfoTrac OneFile that indexes 875 legal periodicals and law reviews, and provides full-text articles from selected titles. LegalTrac allows researchers to focus their searches for articles on law and legal topics.

The DISCUS group of resources now available through the Sandor Teszler Library includes the following InfoTrac databases:

Ideas for Senior Profiles Needed

Dear Colleagues:

I need some help in selecting some outstanding seniors to be profiled in our Honor Roll of Contributors publication. Our theme this year is "Plant a Seed: Grow a Future". We want to profile about 10 seniors who have been outstanding (in some regard) at Wofford and have some idea of what the future holds for them. Anything from plans to go to graduate school, to a job or career plan, to joining a family business, to doing research, to starting their own business, etc. is acceptable. I would appreciate your help in recommending students for us to use. We need to get this done very quickly so please have all recommendations to us by Thursday, February 1. Thanks for your help.

Praise and Worship

Monday, Jan. 29, at 10PM in the LCR

This is a non-denominational, inter-ministry time of praise and worship. There will be a full band, playing contemporary Christian worship songs, many from the Passion movement. Everyone is encouraged to come and participate. You can come when you want and stay as late as you want. This is completely student led, and it is our sincere prayer that many will come desiring simply to worship God.

If you have any questions, please call 5110 or email derrickec@wofford.edu

Reception for Bill English

Bill English has accepted a position as Director of Sports Information at USC-Spartanburg. We are happy for Bill and wish him well but deeply saddened to see him leave. Bill has done an excellent job as our assistant SID and will always remain a part of the Wofford family. Please join me in saying thank you and best wishes to Bill in the Verandah room on Thursday, February 1 from 3-4pm.
