REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Your Committee beg leave to report that they highly appreciate the grand work already accomplished by the Freedmen's Aid Society. The Institutions established by the authority of that Society have done much toward the Christian education and moral elevation of our youth. We recognize and regret that this work has been done very largely without our aid.

The Church should be congratulated on the efficiency of the Secretaries, through whose energetic and untiring labors so great good has been accomplished in the South.

Resolved, That the preachers of this Conference be requested to urge upon their congregations the importance of the collection for the Freedmen's Aid Society, and further request that they do all in their power to secure the full amount apportioned to their charges.

EDW. G. ANDREWS.

The Committee on Parsonages beg to submit the following report:
Your Committee have realized how much trouble has been and is being felt every year all over our Districts and charges, for the want of suitable houses in which to accommodate the preacher and his family, and often from exposure incident upon such poor houses, often causing much suffering and even death. Your Committee would earnestly recommend that each preacher on going to charges on which there are no parsonage shall make this his first duty, to see that a comfortable house is constructed. Your Committee do also recommend that the Presiding Elders urge the necessity of immediate action on this important subject.

Respectfully,
J. MCLEOD,
S. S. BUTLER,
V. H. BULKLEY.

The Committee on Auditing Accounts hereby certify that they have examined the accounts of the Presiding Elders, and find them to be correct.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

He that said feed my sheep also said feed my lambs, and it is the Church who best performs this duty that shall secure the promise of Jesus—the gates of hell or death shall never prevail against it. We can not give too much attention to our Sunday Schools, but we fear we have given too little, especially to the food we in many instances have given them.

Resolved 1. That we use our own literature in our Sunday Schools.

Resolved 2. That we aid and assist every worker sent among us to work in the interest of Sunday Schools, i. e., such as Dr. Gillett.

Resolved 3. That we take a collection in all our schools for the Sunday School Union and the Tract Society.

Resolved 4. That we observe the second Sunday in June as Children's Day, and the third Sunday in October as Good Tidings Day.

B. F. WITHERSPOON, for the Committee.

Your Committee on Conference Relation beg leave to report that after careful examination with the cases presented to them, they would recommend that Bro. A. Cooper be continued on the effective list, M. F. Black be placed on the superannuated list, J. A. Sasportas supernumerary, J. S. Garrett supernumerary, Z. L. Duncan superannuated.

Respectfully yours,

D. M. MINUS,
F. L. BAXTER,
L. S. BLAKENEY.

CHURCH EXTENSION.

Your Committee beg leave to report that the work of Church Extension is one of marvelous importance. After considering the amount of work done through the agency of this department of our Church in helping to enlarge the borders of our Methodism, especially in the South and West, in erecting houses of worship in which the fundamental principles of the Gospel of Christ may be taught and a high Christian standard attained and maintained, we can but invoke the Divine blessings upon the institution, and wish her enlargement a thousand fold.

Resolved 1. That we co-operate heartily with the Church Extension Board in establishing its methods of business in the minds of our people.

Resolved 2. That we manifest our confidence in its management by increased contributions to the funds with which it is entrusted.

Resolved 3. That collections be taken for Church Extension on each charge in compliance with the provisions of the Discipline.

Respectfully submitted,

N. C. DAVIS,
S. THOMAS,
THOS. SIMS.

Your Committee on Bible Cause beg leave to make the following report:

The Bible is God's unfailing barn of sustaining grain; his perennial spring of living waters, from which millions in every period of time have been preserved from the pollution of sin and its awful death, and that high plain of morality, religious knowledge and Christian purity which we are laboring to lift our people, can never be done as long as we neglect a full and free circulation of the Bible among them, and indulge their indisposition to utilize its contents; many homes are without this the greatest of all books. Every home should have it. What is home without it? No book can take its place. The American Bible Society is well adapted to the circulation of the Bible, and we know no better way to supply our homes than through its agency.

This grand distributor of eternal truth has a history of 69 years, and since its organization has distributed 45,440,260 volumes of the Holy Scriptures. In 1856 and 1857 500,000 destitute families were supplied with the Bible. The Methodist Episcopal Church has co-operated with the American Bible Society for more than forty years.

Resolved therefore, That we do all we can to help this Society in its efforts to place the Bible into every home in this broad land.

Resolved, That every minister of this Conference do bring the American Bible cause before his people, and ask them to contribute liberally to its aid.

Respectfully submitted,

F. E. McDONALD,
A. MIDDLETON,
S. GREEN.

BOOKS AND PERIODICALS.

Your Committee beg leave to report the following preambles and resolutions:

Whereas your books are a fountain of knowledge to the thirsty soul, and light and inspiration to the beclouded intellect and the wayward feet; and whereas only a reading people can possibly be prosperous and happy; and whereas our Book Concern has done and is doing much to benefit the millions of readers by the publication annually of many thousands of volumes of wholesome literature, which are as bread cast upon the waters,

Therefor Resolved 1. That the increased prosperity of the Book Concern is of profound interest to us, and it shall have our individual support in the future as in the past.

Resolved 2. That its increased sales of books and periodicals is a subject that commands our sincere gratitude to its wise and efficient managers.

Resolved 3. That as far as possible we use our own Church literature in our Church and Sunday School services, and that we use every legitimate means at command for the circulation of our periodicals among our people.

Respectfully submitted,

A. McLEES,
E. J. FREDERICK,
W. G. DEAS.

EDUCATIONAL SOCIETY.

Being convinced of the increasing importance of the work of the Board of Education in assisting young men and women of promise in acquiring an education, we most heartily and cordially endorse the work of the Society, and recommend that collections be taken in all of our Churches and Sunday Schools, on Children's Day, for the Board of Education.

Respectfully submitted,

L. M. DUNTON.

Feb. 7th, 1886.

The Committee on the Conference Paper beg leave to submit the following report:

For two years the Methodist Messenger has been published in Charleston, S. C., by an Association composed principally of the members of the M. E. Church in this State. A valuable medium of communication, it has furnished much information with regard to our work. It has been treated with courtesy by the press, and freely quoted by journals of national reputation. Our paper has abundantly vindicated its right to live.

Your Committee suggest that the debt of the Association be raised by a special collection in all our Churches, on the second Sabbath in March. We also suggest that a special effort be made to sustain the paper as a weekly journal.

Wm. H. LAWRENCE, Chairman,
E. C. BROWN,
L. M. DUNTON.

The Committee to whom the Cause of Temperance was referred, beg leave to submit the following report:

The Cause of Temperance is demanding national attention. Its opposers are bringing all of the powers of reasoning and statesmanship to impede its progress. All reforms have, of necessity, made progress slowly, but surely. Intemperance brings many evils, crimes and sorrows; however it is not the purpose of your Committee to spend valuable time in speaking on these well known facts, but after prayerful consideration we feel that if the nation's conscience is to be aroused, we should do our part in the sacred cause of Temperance by urging those committed to our charge to stand out boldly in the defence of the right. We therefore urge the passage of the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereas, we gladly recognize a change, for better, in the public sentiment of our State in behalf of Prohibition, and we have noticed the efforts of those thus engaged in the last session of our State Legislature, and whereas we recognize fully the value of these efforts in behalf of humanity and Christianity,

Therefore be it Resolved, That we, as members of the South Carolina Conference, do earnestly pledge ourselves to faithful and unceasing work against Intemperance in every form.

Resolved 2, That we recognize no middle ground in this cause, but that we will teach those committed to our care, both by example and precept, that total abstinence, only, is the true principle laid down in our discipline and the Holy Scripture, for the guidance of the Church.

Resolved 3, That we believe local prohibitory laws to be practicable and wise, and that we pledge ourselves to assist in enforcing such laws.

Resolved 4, That we rejoice at the recent Prohibition victory at Atlanta, Ga., and that we further rejoice at the part taken by our brethren in that struggle.

Resolved 5, That we shall preach, teach and labor in favor of total abstinence, and in every contest take an uncompromising stand in favor of Prohibition.

I. B. SMITH,
I. E. LOWERY,
H. H. MOUZON,
S. SIMMONS,
Wm. STEWART.

The Scriptures affirm that Jehovah ruleth the nation. When a nation throws off this allegiance it is preparing to die. The Church is also God's kingdom. The connection which exists between Church and State is apparent from the relations which they sustain to God. But once in the history of the world did the Church safely assume the prerogatives of civil and political government. Experience shows that a nation can not take from the Church her God-given rights. They must exist independently, but the influence of the one will ever be great upon the other. It is therefore eminently proper that the Church should be familiar with the State or government in which she exists, and be ready to advise the members how to become good citizens and protect their rights.

The Methodist Episcopal Church, South of the Potomac, sustains relations to these commonwealths which are important, and her duties are imperative, though delicate. To refuse to consider the material interest of her members would be an act of unfaithfulness to those who confide so implicitly in her. She can not suffer her members to be wronged without rebuke. She must protect and advise when the occasion demands.

It is with sadness that we recognize a condition of violence and lawlessness in South Carolina with which the State seems unable to cope. Our courts of justice are prostituted to unworthy ends. Weakness is unprotected, innocence too often suffers, and the guilty go unpunished. It can not be denied but that race and class prejudice interferes with the proper administration of the law. The poor, and those discriminated against, can protect themselves by a judicious combination of power. We feel that the preachers should advise and encourage mutual protective brotherhoods throughout the State to protect the innocent and to secure the punishment of the guilty.

Secondly, A great evil befell the Freedmen of the South when the Freedmen's bank failed; not only were the hard earnings of hundreds of thousands swept away, but confidence in saving's institutions was also lost. No people can be great without economy; fortunes are the slow accumulations of years of labor. The savings banks of the South do not receive deposits small enough to accommodate many of our people. We believe that Congress should establish postal savings banks, such as exist among some nations on the continent of Europe.

Thirdly, We are greatly injured as a Church by the emigration of our members from the State. There is a condition of unrest and dissatisfaction which is sad to contemplate. While we cheerfully recognize the right of every free man to remove to whatever country or clime which offers him the best advantages, yet emigration is a serious step. It not only interrupts long continued relations on which so much of life's happiness depends, but it is attended with dangers, even under the best circumstances. We feel that South Carolina offers in climate, soil, etc., as good advantages as can be found in those States to which so many of our people are emigrating. There must be a cause therefore for this emigration, which does not appear on the surface. If this cause or these causes are productive of unhappiness and misery, it is our duty to search them out and seek for a remedy.

The dissatisfaction with regard to the administration of law has been already referred to. Besides, the poor man feels that it is almost impossible to make an honest living in some parts of South Carolina, for the following reasons:

1. There is an inadequate compensation for labor. The best wages, besides rations commonly received by able-bodied men, ranges from five to eight dollars per month, or from twenty-five to fifty cents per day. This pitiful sum in some countries is paid in checks, which are not a legal tender, but are only received by the employer, in exchange for supplies. When cashed elsewhere, it is at a ruinous discount.

2. Land rents are exorbitantly high, fair cotton land; valued at five or six dollars per acre, rents for two or three dollars per acre, in many instances for more. In the best of times these terms are sufficiently burdensome to help many laborers attached to the soil by the accumulation of debts, but when crops are short and the prices low the suffering becomes extreme. Landlords and capitalists must be interested in this question of emigration, and must know that it can not be met without ceasing to oppress the hirelings in his wages, and without observing the golden rule towards those who rent their lands. Appeal to public conscience and a constant agitation of the public mind upon these subjects are the legitimate remedies provided in a free country.

Resolved, That we, the members of the South Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, advise our people not to emigrate hastily, but to expect better things here.

And Resolved, That we use our influence with landlords and capitalists in every possible way to grant better terms in wages and in land rents to our people.

W.M. H. LAWRENCE, Chairman,
YORK GOODLETT,
D. M. MINUS.

EDUCATION.

The cause of Education should have the unqualified support of the ministers and members of the Church.

No great progress can be made by any people without educational advantages. The sooner our people are led to see that ignorance is weakness and knowledge is power, the earlier will the people be freed from the domination of slavery, superstition, poverty and sin.

We recommend that all ministers give special attention to the education of the youth within the bounds of their work. If the free school does not meet the demands of the times, we suggest that private or parochial schools be organized and sustained by the various circuits and stations.

We most heartily commend the special efforts put forth at Greenville, Orangeburg, Florence and Lydia, circuits for the education of the youth.

We commend the Gammon School of Theology to young men preparing for the work of the ministry.

For higher education of our youth, we most heartily recommend the Claflin University, located at Orangeburg. Under its present administration we doubt if any other school in the South offers greater inducements to any desiring an education.

In view of the crowded condition of the school and the imperative demand for additional accommodations, we submit the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the South Carolina Conference request the F. A. Society to proceed at once in the erection of a building, to be known as the South Carolina Conference Centennial Building.

Resolved, That we will continue special collections for the same, until the building is completed, and the debt is paid.

Respectfully submitted,

L. M. DUNTON,
J. A. BROWN.

MEMOIRS.

It was said of Sir Moses Montefiore, the celebrated Jewish philanthropist, that on every Saturday afternoon, the Hebrew Sabbath, he would kneel before his wife and repeat the following beautiful words from the Book of Proverbs: "Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all." It may be that the time honored "proverb," "that there is but one good wife in the world, and every man thinks he has her," has been deduced from the above passage. At any rate, without the least disparagement of the hundreds of noble women who have made the sacrifice to come down from the North to labor for the upbuilding of the colored people, in many respects, and in many things, the late Mrs. L. A. Webster excelled them all. We do not say this as expressive of her relation as a wife, but as a worker in the uplifting of the down-trodden, the education of the ignorant, and the salvation of the lost.

In some respects she was the mother of the memorable Baker Institute. During the period that the Institute remained in Charleston, it was, indeed, a school in her house. Here she showed a mother's love, and a mother's fostering care for that ancient school of the prophets. All of the young ministers were recipients of the bounties of her table, and, not satisfied at having done this, she took some of them aside, "and expounded unto them the way of God more perfectly."

When the school was removed to Orangeburg in connection with the Claflin University, her sphere of usefulness was enlarged. Here hundreds of young men and young women were under her care and training. And they all found in her the tenderness of a mother, and the kindness of a friend. And when her relations with the University were severed, and she came to dwell in her own home, there was always an open door and a hearty welcome for the brethren of the Conference. It seems that she took a great delight in entertaining the humble servants of God, and especially those of the colored race. Her many attentions and pleasant greetings will not soon be forgotten by those whose privilege it was to receive them. Yes, they will live in our hearts and minds as long as heart and mind endure. "The righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance."

Mrs. Webster was an exemplary Christian lady. Her memory is like precious ointment poured forth. She has fallen, and has gone from labor to reward; and when, in eternity's morn, the dead shall live again, many of us shall rise up with children and call her blessed.

We submit the following resolutions:

Resolved 1, That in the death of Mrs. Webster the work of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in South Carolina, has lost a most earnest and faithful worker.

Resolved 2, That the sympathy and prayers of this Conference are extended to our dear old father in Israel, Dr. Webster, in this his sore bereavement. And that, in his declining years, he may realize that God's grace sustains, and that His spirit comforts him.

Signed,

I. E. LOWERY,
J. E. WILSON,
W. H. LAWRENCE, Chairman.
