The Wofford College men's basketball program has announced the signing of 6-foot-3 point guard Curtis Ingram and 6-foot-4 wing Eric Marshall to National Letters-of-Intent.

Ingram, a senior at Cardinal Mooney High School in Youngstown, Ohio, averaged 16.8 points, 6.4 rebounds, and 6.1 assists last year in earning first-team All-Conference and All-Northeast Ohio honors. He was also a third-team All-State selection.

"Curtis has a big, strong, football-type body in a point guard," Wofford Head Coach Mike Young said. "He has a good, compact stroke and will add a real element of toughness to our team. We really like the things that Curtis brings to us."

Marshall, a Grovetown, Ga., native, received first-team All-State honors last year for Greenbrier High School. He averaged 21 points, nine rebounds, and five assists in earning team Most Valuable Player honors.

"I saw Eric play a lot this summer," Young said. "He possesses the type of skills that we look for in perimeter players."

"In losing two really good ones in Mike Lenzly and Lee Nixon after this season, it was crucial for us to find a couple of guys to come in and help our club. Eric is an outstanding shooter and we like his size. He is a very strong player and will be very good for us defensively. We believe he will be able to help our team immediately."

2002-03 Wofford College Basketball

Nov. 22, 2002, at Auburn, Beard-Eaves-Memorial Coliseum (10,500), Auburn, Ala.; 8 p.m. (Eastern)

The Game

The Wofford basketball team, with Mike Young making his head coaching debut, opens the 2002-03 campaign when it travels to Auburn.

Wofford, which returns four starters and eight of 12 lettermen from last year's squad, is playing at Auburn for the fourth time in the last eight seasons. The Terriers dropped 73-56 (1995-96), 68-51 (1997-98), and 79-51 (1998-99) decisions in their three most recent visits to the Tigers.

Wofford and Auburn also split a pair of meetings in the 1922-23 campaign. The Tigers hold a 4-1 series lead.

The Terriers have a pair of Tigers on the slate to open the season as they will face Cliff Ellis' previous team, Clemson, on Sunday.

Worth Noting

•Wofford is the second smallest school in Division I with an enrollment of 1,100, behind only Centenary (850 students). Wofford actually has a higher SAT average (1236) than enrollment (1,100).

•Point guard Mike Lenzly was the only player in the SoCon last season to rank in the Top 12 in scoring (14.4 ppg), rebounding (6.8 rpg), and assists (3.6 apg). He also placed fifth in the league with six double-doubles (points and rebounds).

•Justin Stephens was named to the All-SoCon Freshman team as he averaged 12.4 points per game, with that mark increasing to 14.1 in league action.

•Wofford's "Lethal Weapon 3" of Lenzly, Stephens, and Lee Nixon (13.2 ppg) accounted for 60.0 percent of Wofford's offense last season.

Meet The Head Coach

After 13 seasons as a Wofford assistant to Richard Johnson, Mike Young is in his first year as head coach of the Terriers.

Johnson was promoted to athletic director last Dec. 3 with the announcement that he would coach the Terriers just through the remainder of the 2001-02 season. His first head coaching hire was the elevation of Young effective at the close of the campaign.

A native of Radford, Va., and a 1986 graduate of Emory & Henry (Va.), Young has helped guide Wofford from NCAA Division II to Division I Independent status in 1995-96 and the Southern Conference in 1997-98. In recognition of his contribution to the Terriers, Young was promoted to associate head coach in August 1998.

Young came to Wofford in 1989 after serving as a graduate assistant for one year at Radford. He was also an assistant at his alma mater for two seasons before moving on to Radford.

Young was honored in 2001 as America's Best Dressed Assistant Coach in a national contest conducted by www.collegeinsider.com.

About Wofford

•Located in Spartanburg, S.C., Wofford is one of only five independent colleges and universities to have a Phi Beta Kappa chapter in the Carolinas (Davidson, Duke, Furman, and Wake Forest are the others).

•Wofford is one of just three Division I colleges or universities to have the nickname Terriers. The others are Boston University and St. Francis (N.Y.).

•Founded in 1854, Wofford has an enrollment of 1,100, making it the smallest school in NCAA Division I-A or I-AA football.

•With 1,100 students, Wofford is the second smallest school in Division I. Only Centenary (La.) is smaller with 850 students. However, the Gentlemen do not field a football team.

•Famous Wofford graduates include Carolina Panther owner and founder Jerry Richardson and Air Force Head Football Coach Fisher DeBerry.

•Wofford ranks No. 1 among national liberal arts colleges in "operating efficiency," providing a quality education while spending relatively less.

In the 2000 NCAA Division I Graduation Rate Report, Wofford was the only school in the nation to rank in the Top 10 in all four categories: overall student-athlete graduation rate as well as those for the football, men's basketball, and women's basketball teams.

"There are no junk courses at Wofford that we could see, and we would certainly match its course of study with that of any school in the Ivy League."

There's Something about Wofford and Clemson

•Wofford and Clemson meet Sunday in an annual series that has produced three consecutive thrillers, with the Terriers and Tigers being separated by just 12 points.

•The Terriers built a 14-point first-half lead before the Tigers fought back and then held off a late Wofford charge for an 85-82 victory last year at Littlejohn Coliseum.

Trailing by eight with 1:38 left, the Terriers closed within two points and had the ball with 34 seconds remaining before committing a turnover. Wofford missed a 3-pointer at the buzzer that would have forced overtime.

•In the 2000-01 season, Wofford rallied from a 20-point deficit to take a one-point lead with less than two minutes to play before Clemson came back for a 78-74 victory.

•The Terriers rallied from 17 points down in the final 10:43 for a 79-74 win at Clemson during the 1999-00 campaign.

Season Openers

Since beginning Division I play in 1995-96, Wofford has opened on the road each season:

Year	Opponent
1995-96	Missouri
1996-97	Georgia Tech
1997-98	Chattanooga
1998-99	BYU
1999-00	South Carolina
2000-01	Georgia Tech
2001-02	Memphis
2002-03	Auburn

Only once during that span (1996-97) have the Terriers been home for the second game of the season.

Raising $$$$

Head Coach Mike Young's wife, Margaret, is the drive co-chairman for the Terrier Club, Wofford's fundraising organization which raised $1,021,289 last year in scholarship support for Terrier student-athletes.

The Ironman

Point guard Mike Lenzly played the entire game, including two overtime contests, in nine of Wofford's 16 SoCon games. On two occasions, he played 39 minutes.

He averaged 38.4 minutes in SoCon action and 35.8 overall.

Speaking of the Ironman

On frequently playing the entire game, Mike Lenzly said, "It's no big deal. Practice is two hours. A game is only 40 minutes."

Schedule Difficulty

•The tradition continues this season when it comes to Wofford facing one of the toughest schedules in the nation for a mid-major Division I program.

The Terriers open the 2002-03 campaign with games at Auburn and Clemson in addition to traveling to Virginia Tech, West Virginia, South Carolina, NC State, and Virginia.

•In their opening 12 games last year, the Terriers played at Memphis, Clemson, Nebraska, NC State, and Georgia Tech. Wofford also played host to South Carolina.

•The RPI rankings, which take into account Division I games only, determined that Wofford's pre-Christmas schedule in 2000-01 was the most difficult in the nation. The Terriers had road games at Georgia Tech, South Carolina, Boston College, Alabama, Clemson, and Vanderbilt. Wofford was also home for William & Mary.

•According to the Sagarin Ratings in the 1999-00 season, Wofford played the nation's third toughest pre-Christmas schedule. Only Iowa and Temple faced more difficult slates.

Preseason Honors

Wofford point guard Mike Lenzly is a consensus preseason All-SoCon selection. He received honors from the league coaches in addition to several preseason publications.

Lenzly, a 6-foot-3 southpaw from Jonesboro, Ga., has been an All-SoCon selection from the league media in each of the last two seasons.

He posted Wofford's first-ever triple-double with 21 points, 12 assists, and 10 rebounds in a 105-69 victory over Chattanooga during the 2000-01 campaign.

The Jonesboro, Ga., flirted several times last year with another triple-double:

Opponent	Stats
Georgia Southern (Jan. 19)	11 pts., 8 reb., 6 asst.
Chattanooga (Jan. 14)	17 pts., 7 reb., 6 asst.
Georgia Tech (Dec. 21)	22 pts., 6 reb., 7 asst.
Florida A&M (Nov. 26)	24 pts., 14 reb., 7 asst.

The Staff

The following is an inside look at Head Coach Mike Young's three assistants:

•Jimmy Allen is in his first season at Wofford after serving the last six years at Navy, helping guide the Midshipmen to a pair of Patriot League championships and NCAA Tournament berths.

Allen, like Young, is an Emory & Henry graduate who also coached at his alma mater upon his graduation.

•Alex Peavey is in his third year with the Terriers after working with the basketball program at Virginia Commonwealth.

He is the son of Marion Peavey, a 1965 Wofford graduate and former executive director of the NCAA Foundation.

•Mark Prosser, son of Wake Forest Head Coach Skip Prosser, joined the Terriers after graduating from Marist this past spring. He played for the Red Foxes before a knee injury ended his career. He then served as a student assistant coach.

The Trickle Down

The SoCon hiring a new commissioner last year resulted in Wofford naming a new head basketball coach.

With Danny Morrison leaving his Wofford senior vice-president position to become the SoCon commissioner, David Wood was promoted from athletic director to Morrison's vacated role.

Head Basketball Coach Richard Johnson was then promoted to athletic director with the Dec. 3 announcement that he would coach the Terriers just through the remainder of the 2001-02 season.

In his first official day as athletic director, Johnson made his first coaching hire. He tabbed longtime assistant Mike Young to take over the head coaching duties effective at the close of the campaign. Young is in his 14th year overall at Wofford.

Morrison hired Johnson to be Wofford's basketball coach in 1985.

Waiting in the Wings

Greg Taylor, a transfer from the University of South Carolina, is sitting out this season per NCAA rules.

Taylor will have two years of eligibility with the Terriers. Taylor signed with Eddie Fogler at USC after a highly decorated prep career at Hillcrest High School in Simpsonville, S.C.

Winning The Battle

As reported in the Memphis Commercial-Appeal, Wofford's Justin Stephens won the head-to-head battle with 2001 National High School Player of the Year and eventual NBA lottery pick Dajuan Wagner in last year's season opener at Memphis:

	Pts.	Reb.	Asst.	T.O.	Blk.	Stl.
Stephens	19	1	6	2	1	2
Wagner	18	1	4	3	0	2

Freshman Impact

The Terriers' nine-man rotation last season featured four freshmen (Justin Stephens, Sam Daniels, Adrien Borders, Jeff Tarr).

Those four rookies combined to score 45 of Wofford's 76 points in the 76-67 win over Georgia Southern.

Justin Stephens

Remember When?

One of the more memorable wins in Wofford athletic history was a 19-14 football victory over Auburn in the 1950 season opener.

It came on the heels of the Terriers being upset, 19-6, by Florida State in the 1949 Cigar Bowl.

Streak Over

Dating back to last season, each of the last four games between Wofford and the College of Charleston have come down to the final possession in regulation.

Listed below are notables from the Terriers' 66-64 win last year over the Cougars in Charleston:

- Wofford became just the second SoCon team to win at the John Kresse Arena in CofC's four seasons of league play.

- Wofford nearly didn't make the trip to Charleston that day due to a statewide snowstorm.

- The Terriers had dropped 16 straight games to the Cougars dating back to Feb. 17, 1979.

- Wofford hadn't won at Charleston since Nov. 29, 1974, representing a stretch of 13 games. Former head coach and now athletic director Richard Johnson was in his junior year at The Citadel at the time.

Handling the Ball

The Terriers topped the SoCon last year in committing the fewest turnovers per game (12.8), including just 71 in their last seven contests (10.1 avg).

Women Beware

Wofford assistant coach Alex Peavey was named last year by www.collegeinsider.com as one of the "50 Most Eligible Bachelors" in the Division I coaching ranks.

Athlete Extraordinaire

Sophomore guard Adrien Borders earned All-SoCon honors and was the league's Freshman of the Year in outdoor track last season.

Borders placed second at the SoCon Championships in the triple jump (over 50 feet) and long jump (24 feet). He also competed well as a sprinter.

Whatever Happened To...

Former Terrier guard Ian Chadwick, arguably the top player in Wofford basketball history, is playing with the Mattersburg 49ers in the top division of Austria.

A 2001 Wofford graduate with a degree in business economics, Chadwick was a three-time All-SoCon selection and the league's career 3-point leader with 299.

Chadwick was the runner-up for SoCon Player of the Year honors his senior year and finished his career sixth on the Terriers' all-time scoring list with 1,789 points.

He had 26 points, including 6-of-9 on 3-pointers, in Wofford's last visit to Auburn during the 1998-99 campaign.

Future Terriers

The Wofford College men's basketball program has announced the signing of 6-foot-3 point guard Curtis Ingram and 6-foot-4 wing Eric Marshall to National Letters-of-Intent.

Ingram, a senior at Cardinal Mooney High School in Youngstown, Ohio, averaged 16.8 points, 6.4 rebounds, and 6.1 assists last year in earning first-team All-Conference and All-Northeast Ohio honors. He was also a third-team All-State selection.

"Curtis has a big, strong, football-type body in a point guard," Wofford Head Coach Mike Young said. "He has a good, compact stroke and will add a real element of toughness to our team. We really like the things that Curtis brings to us."

Marshall, a Grovetown, Ga., native, received first-team All-State honors last year for Greenbrier High School. He averaged 21 points, nine rebounds, and five assists in earning team Most Valuable Player honors.

"I saw Eric play a lot this summer," Young said. "He possesses the type of skills that we look for in perimeter players.

"In losing two really good ones in Mike Lenzly and Lee Nixon after this season, it was crucial for us to find a couple of guys to come in and help our club. Eric is an outstanding shooter and we like his size. He is a very strong player and will be very good for us defensively. We believe he will help our team immediately."

The Fork Union Pipeline

Head Coach Mike Young played one season at Fork Union (Va.) Military Academy and refers to longtime FUMA coach Fletcher Arritt as one of his coaching mentors.

Freshman Howard Wilkerson is the fifth former FUMA player to land at Wofford during Young's 14 seasons with the Terriers:

Player	Yrs. at Wofford
John McGinnis	1990-94
Seth Chadwick	1993-97
Natter Miller	1994-98
Colon Largent	1998-01
Jeff Tarr	2001-present
Howard Wilkerson	2002-present

No More Puppies?

After entering last season with just four players having more than one year of collegiate basketball experience, this year's Wofford squad is more seasoned but still relatively young.

Eight of the 13 players who will dress this season are freshmen or sophomores, while the two juniors (Edmond Davis and David Eaton) have both seen limited action.

Terriers Close to Wins over ACC Teams

Wofford came very close to a pair of wins over ACC opponents this season.

The Terriers built double-digit leads at Clemson (Nov. 24) and Georgia Tech (Dec. 21) before falling 85-82 and 79-70, respectively.

Wofford held a 14-point first-half lead and led by 11 at the intermission against the Tigers. The game ended with the Terriers missing a 3-pointer at the buzzer that would have forced overtime.

The Terriers led the Yellow Jackets by 11 points with 17 minutes left before Georgia Tech used its depth to rally for the win.

Baby Watch

Head Coach Mike Young is due to become a father for the second time in January.

Young's wife, Margaret, is due on Jan. 20, the same night the Terriers are scheduled to host Chattanooga.

Versus The SoCon

Wofford has a 36-48 record (.429) in its five-year SoCon history which began with the Terriers in just their third season in Division I.

Wofford's league record against each team, including SoCon Tournament action, is listed below:

Team	Record
Appalachian State	1-4
Chattanooga	4-6
The Citadel	6-4
College of Charleston	1-8
Davidson	2-5
East Tennessee State	0-5
Furman	6-4
Georgia Southern	7-3
UNC Greensboro	3-3
VMI	3-3
Western Carolina	3-3
Totals	36-48

Hanging Out with Grant

Starting forward Grant Sterley was the overwhelming favorite in a recent Wofford web page poll that asked, "Which Terrier player would you most like to spend the day with?"

Against the League

Since beginning SoCon play in the 1997-98 campaign, Wofford has posted the eighth-best record in the league. It's a mark made impressive when considering the Terriers' first year in the SoCon was only their third season in Division I. Listed below are the league records for each team since 1997-98 (not including SoCon Tournament games):

Team	Record
1. College of Charleston	50-14 (.781)
2. Davidson	52-27 (.658)
3. Appalachian State	51-28 (.646)
4. East Tennessee State	47-32 (.595)

The Wofford men's basketball team and Clemson went down to the wire for the fourth straight year, before the Tigers prevailed with a 79-72 victory this afternoon in Anderson, S.C.

With Clemson's Littlejohn Coliseum undergoing renovations, the game was played at the nearby Anderson Civic Center. The last four games between the Terriers (0-2) and Tigers (1-0) have now been decided by a total of just 19 points. Wofford won during the 1999-00 campaign, while Clemson has taken the last three meetings.

Trailing 49-34 at the half, Wofford faced its largest deficit of the contest when Olu Babalola converted 1-of-2 free-throws to give Clemson a 52-34 lead with 18:20 to play.

The Terriers, playing the second half without an injured Justin Stephens, answered with a 24-9 run to pull within 61-58 on a Tyler Berg hook with 9:11 remaining. The freshman center from Mt. Holly, N.C., had nine points during the spurt as he finished the game with 13 points and seven rebounds, including 11 points and five boards in the second half.

Stephens suffered a hyperextended right knee at the close of the first half and is listed as day-to-day. He topped Wofford with 16 points in Friday's season opener at Auburn.

After the Tigers built their margin back to 71-62 on a Chris Hobbs follow shot with 4:39 left, the Terriers answered with a Lee Nixon 3-pointer and a pair of Berg free-throws to close within 71-67 with 3:35 remaining. Wofford then had turnovers on two successive possessions in an attempt to cut the deficit further.

A Sam Daniels layup brought Wofford within 74-69 with 1:48 to play while a Mike Lenzly 3-pointer closed the Terrier deficit to 77-72 at the 16-second mark.

Lenzly topped Wofford with 22 points, six rebounds, and five assists. Nixon added 17 points, including five 3-pointers. Adrien Borders scored nine points.

Hobbs and Edward Scott topped Clemson with 19 points. The Tigers outrebounded the Terriers by a 46-to-35 margin.

Wofford will make its home debut under first-year Head Coach Mike Young when it hosts Emmanuel on Tuesday at 7 p.m.

Mike Young earned his first collegiate head coaching victory as the Wofford basketball team rolled to an 80-54 victory over Emmanuel (Ga.) tonight in Spartanburg, S.C.

Freshman center Tyler Berg, coming off a 13-point, seven-rebound performance at Clemson on Sunday, continued to impress as he posted his first collegiate double-double with 16 points and 10 rebounds off-the-bench.

Mike Lenzly topped the Terriers (1-2) with 22 points on 7-of-9 shooting, including 4-of-5 from 3-point range. He was also 4-of-4 at the free-throw line to extend his season-opening streak of consecutive makes at the charity stripe to 15.

Lee Nixon added 12 points. He teamed with Adrien Borders for the most exciting play of the night. On a breakaway following a steal, Borders intentionally threw the ball off the backboard with Nixon trailing for the follow dunk and a 33-22 lead with 3:31 left in the first half.

"I saw some good things out there in terms of the way we executed on offense," Young said. "At the same time, it was disappointing that we began the game sluggish.

"Tyler Berg gave us a nice lift off-the-bench and a spark, especially inside. We still need to improve defensively. Emmanuel had a very good game plan and gave us some problems. I'm happy a lot of guys were able to see significant playing time tonight."

Emmanuel (1-4) hung tough through the opening eight minutes. The Lions trailed just 13-12 with 11:52 remaining in the first half before a 12-3 Terrier spurt, capped by four straight Berg points, enabled Wofford to pull away.

Chris Bearden topped the Lions with 26 points.

The Terriers return to action Monday when they travel to Virginia Tech.

2002-03 Wofford College Basketball

Dec. 2, 2002, at Virginia Tech, Cassell Coliseum (10,052), Blacksburg, Va.; 7 p.m.

The Game

The Wofford basketball team returns to action for the first time since Tuesday when it travels to Virginia Tech in a Homecoming game for first-year Head Coach Mike Young, a native of nearby Radford, Va.

Young is in his first season as head coach at Wofford after serving the previous 13 seasons as a Terrier assistant. Assistant coach and Roanoke, Va., native Jimmy Allen will also enjoy a trip home.

Wofford is facing Virginia Tech for just the second time in its history. A then-Division II Terrier squad dropped a 101-65 decision to Virginia Tech in the 1988-89 campaign.

Worth Noting

- Wofford is the second smallest school in Division I with an enrollment of 1,100, behind only Centenary (850 students). Wofford actually has a higher SAT average (1236) than enrollment (1,100).

- The Terriers' non-conference schedule includes road games at Auburn, Clemson, Virginia Tech, West Virginia, South Carolina, NC State, and Virginia.

- All-SoCon point guard Mike Lenzly was the only player in the league last season to rank in the Top 12 in scoring (14.4 ppg), rebounding (6.8 rpg), and assists (3.6 apg). He also placed fifth in the SoCon with six double-doubles (points and rebounds).

- Starting guard Justin Stephens is questionable for the Virginia Tech game. A member of the All-SoCon Freshman team last year when he averaged 12.4 points per game, including 14.1 in league action, Stephens suffered a knee injury at Clemson (Nov. 24).

Meet The Head Coach

After 13 seasons as a Wofford assistant to Richard Johnson, Mike Young is in his first year as head coach of the Terriers.

Johnson was promoted to athletic director last Dec. 3 with the announcement that he would coach the Terriers just through the remainder of the 2001-02 season. His first head coaching hire was the elevation of Young effective at the close of the campaign.

A native of Radford, Va., and a 1986 graduate of Emory & Henry (Va.), Young has helped guide Wofford from NCAA Division II to Division I Independent status in 1995-96 and the Southern Conference in 1997-98. In recognition of his contribution to the Terriers, Young was promoted to associate head coach in August 1998.

Young came to Wofford in 1989 after serving as a graduate assistant for one year at Radford. He was also an assistant at his alma mater for two seasons before moving on to Radford.

Young was honored in 2001 as America's Best Dressed Assistant Coach in a national contest conducted by www.collegeinsider.com.

1236 vs. 1100

Wofford College boasts a higher SAT average (1236) than enrollment (1100).

About Wofford

•Located in Spartanburg, S.C., Wofford is one of only five independent colleges and universities to have a Phi Beta Kappa chapter in the Carolinas (Davidson, Duke, Furman, and Wake Forest are the others).

•Wofford is one of just three Division I colleges or universities to have the nickname Terriers. The others are Boston University and St. Francis (N.Y.).

•Founded in 1854, Wofford has an enrollment of 1,100, making it the smallest school in NCAA Division I-A or I-AA football.

•With 1,100 students, Wofford is the second smallest school in Division I. Only Centenary (La.) is smaller with 850 students. However, the Gentlemen do not field a football team.

•Famous Wofford graduates include Carolina Panther owner and founder Jerry Richardson and Air Force Head Football Coach Fisher DeBerry.

•Wofford ranks No. 1 among national liberal arts colleges in "operating efficiency," providing a quality education while spending relatively less.

In the 2000 NCAA Division I Graduation Rate Report, Wofford was the only school in the nation to rank in the Top 10 in all four categories: overall student-athlete graduation rate as well as those for the football, men's basketball, and women's basketball teams.

"There are no junk courses at Wofford that we could see, and we would certainly match its course of study with that of any school in the Ivy League."

There's Something about Wofford and Clemson

Wofford and Clemson have met in each of the last four seasons with those contests being decided by a total of just 19 points.

The Terriers won 79-74 in the 1999-00 campaign, while the Tigers have prevailed in each of the last three seasons by a combined 14 points.

Year	Result
1999-00	Wofford 79-74
2000-01	Clemson 78-74
2001-02	Clemson 85-82
2002-03	Clemson 79-72

Countdown to 1,000

Wofford guards and roommates Mike Lenzly and Lee Nixon are both closing in on 1,000 career points.

The duo would become the 34th and 35th players in school history to reach that milestone. Listed below are their career points and projected game to reach the 1,000-point club:

Name	Career Pts.	Projected Game:
Mike Lenzly	929	Dec. 16, at South Carolina
Lee Nixon	843	Jan. 18, at Col. of Charleston

Shooting the Rock

•Wofford has a higher field-goal percentage from 3-point range (42.2) than overall (41.7). Mike Lenzly and Lee Nixon, the Terriers' top two scorers, are shooting 50.0 percent (8-of-16) and 61.5 percent (8-of-13), respectively, behind the arc.

•The Terriers are shooting 79.2 percent (38-of-48) at the free-throw line after being at a 66.6 clip last year.

The Ironman

Point guard Mike Lenzly played the entire game, including two overtime contests, in nine of Wofford's 16 SoCon games last season. On two occasions, he played 39 minutes.

He averaged 38.4 minutes in SoCon action and 35.8 overall.

On frequently playing the entire game, Lenzly said, "It's no big deal. Practice is two hours. A game is only 40 minutes."

Raising $$$$

Head Coach Mike Young's wife, Margaret, is the drive co-chairman for the Terrier Club, Wofford's fundraising organization which raised $1,021,289 last year in scholarship support for Terrier student-athletes.

Schedule Difficulty

•The tradition continues this season when it comes to Wofford facing one of the toughest schedules in the nation for a mid-major Division I program.

The Terriers opened the 2002-03 campaign with games at Auburn and Clemson in addition to traveling to Virginia Tech, West Virginia, South Carolina, NC State, and Virginia.

•In their opening 12 games last year, the Terriers played at Memphis, Clemson, Nebraska, NC State, and Georgia Tech. Wofford also played host to South Carolina.

•The RPI rankings, which take into account Division I games only, determined that Wofford's pre-Christmas schedule in 2000-01 was the most difficult in the nation. The Terriers had road games at Georgia Tech, South Carolina, Boston College, Alabama, Clemson, and Vanderbilt. Wofford was also home for William & Mary.

•According to the Sagarin Ratings in the 1999-00 season, Wofford played the nation's third toughest pre-Christmas schedule. Only Iowa and Temple faced more difficult slates.

Preseason Honors

Wofford point guard Mike Lenzly is a consensus preseason All-SoCon selection. He received honors from the league coaches in addition to several preseason publications.

Lenzly, a 6-foot-3 southpaw from Jonesboro, Ga., has been an All-SoCon selection from the league media in each of the last two seasons.

He posted Wofford's first-ever triple-double with 21 points, 12 assists, and 10 rebounds in a 105-69 victory over Chattanooga during the 2000-01 campaign.

The Jonesboro, Ga., flirted several times last year with another triple-double:

Opponent	Stats
Georgia Southern (Jan. 19)	11 pts., 8 reb., 6 asst.
Chattanooga (Jan. 14)	17 pts., 7 reb., 6 asst.
Georgia Tech (Dec. 21)	22 pts., 6 reb., 7 asst.
Florida A&M (Nov. 26)	24 pts., 14 reb., 7 asst.

The Staff

The following is an inside look at Head Coach Mike Young's three assistants:

•Jimmy Allen is in his first season at Wofford after serving the last six years at Navy, helping guide the Midshipmen to a pair of Patriot League championships and NCAA Tournament berths.

Allen, like Young, is an Emory & Henry graduate who also coached at his alma mater upon his graduation.

•Alex Peavey is in his third year with the Terriers after working with the basketball program at Virginia Commonwealth.

He is the son of Marion Peavey, a 1965 Wofford graduate and former executive director of the NCAA Foundation.

•Mark Prosser, son of Wake Forest Head Coach Skip Prosser, joined the Terriers after graduating from Marist this past spring. He played for the Red Foxes before a knee injury ended his career. He then served as a student assistant coach.

The Trickle Down

The SoCon hiring a new commissioner last year resulted in Wofford naming a new head basketball coach.

With Danny Morrison leaving his Wofford senior vice-president position to become the SoCon commissioner, David Wood was promoted from athletic director to Morrison's vacated role.

Head Basketball Coach Richard Johnson was then promoted to athletic director with the Dec. 3 announcement that he would coach the Terriers just through the remainder of the 2001-02 season.

In his first official day as athletic director, Johnson made his first coaching hire. He tabbed longtime assistant Mike Young to take over the head coaching duties effective at the close of the campaign. Young is in his 14th year overall at Wofford.

Morrison hired Johnson to be Wofford's basketball coach in 1985.

Waiting in the Wings

Greg Taylor, a transfer from the University of South Carolina, is sitting out this season per NCAA rules.

Taylor will have two years of eligibility with the Terriers. Taylor signed with Eddie Fogler at USC after a highly decorated prep career at Hillcrest High School in Simpsonville, S.C.

Winning The Battle

As reported in the Memphis Commercial-Appeal, Wofford's Justin Stephens won the head-to-head battle with 2001 National High School Player of the Year and eventual NBA lottery pick Dajuan Wagner in last year's season opener at Memphis:

	Pts.	Reb.	Asst.	T.O.	Blk.	Stl.
Stephens	19	1	6	2	1	2
Wagner	18	1	4	3	0	2

Freshman Impact

The Terriers' nine-man rotation last season featured four freshmen (Justin Stephens, Sam Daniels, Adrien Borders, Jeff Tarr).

Those four rookies combined to score 45 of Wofford's 76 points in the 76-67 win over Georgia Southern.

Justin Stephens

A Youthful Staff

The Wofford men's basketball coaching staff is officially the youngest in the country in a national study conducted by Radford University.

The average age of the four Terrier coaches is 29.8. Radford is second at 30.0

Head Coach Mike Young is 39 and the graybeard on the staff. Assistant coaches Jimmy Allen (31), Alex Peavey (25), and Mark Prosser (24) are next in line. Even basketball trainer Barry Parsons (26) is young.

Streak Over

Dating back to last season, each of the last four games between Wofford and the College of Charleston have come down to the final possession in regulation.

Listed below are notables from the Terriers' 66-64 win last year over the Cougars in Charleston:

•Wofford became just the second SoCon team to win at the John Kresse Arena in CofC's four seasons of league play.

•Wofford nearly didn't make the trip to Charleston that day due to a statewide snowstorm.

•The Terriers had dropped 16 straight games to the Cougars dating back to Feb. 17, 1979.

•Wofford hadn't won at Charleston since Nov. 29, 1974, representing a stretch of 13 games. Former head coach and now athletic director Richard Johnson was in his junior year at The Citadel at the time.

Women Beware

Wofford assistant coach Alex Peavey was named last year by www.collegeinsider.com as one of the "50 Most Eligible Bachelors" in the Division I coaching ranks.

Athlete Extraordinaire

Sophomore guard Adrien Borders earned All-SoCon honors and was the league's Freshman of the Year in outdoor track last season.

Borders placed second at the SoCon Championships in the triple jump (over 50 feet) and long jump (more than 24 feet). He also competed well as a sprinter.

The Lilburn, Ga., native is averaging 9.0 points this season after scoring at a 4.8 clip last year.

Whatever Happened To...

Former Terrier guard Ian Chadwick, arguably the top player in Wofford basketball history, is playing with the Mattersburg 49ers in the top division of Austria.

A 2001 Wofford graduate with a degree in business economics, Chadwick was a three-time All-SoCon selection and the league's career 3-point leader with 299.

Chadwick was the runner-up for SoCon Player of the Year honors his senior year and finished his career sixth on the Terriers' all-time scoring list with 1,789 points.

Future Terriers

The Wofford College men's basketball program has announced the signing of 6-foot-3 point guard Curtis Ingram and 6-foot-4 wing Eric Marshall to National Letters-of-Intent.

Ingram, a senior at Cardinal Mooney High School in Youngstown, Ohio, averaged 16.8 points, 6.4 rebounds, and 6.1 assists last year in earning first-team All-Conference and All-Northeast Ohio honors. He was also a third-team All-State selection.

"Curtis has a big, strong, football-type body in a point guard," Wofford Head Coach Mike Young said. "He has a good, compact stroke and will add a real element of toughness to our team. We really like the things that Curtis brings to us."

Marshall, a Grovetown, Ga., native, received first-team All-State honors last year for Greenbrier High School. He averaged 21 points, nine rebounds, and five assists in earning team Most Valuable Player honors.

"I saw Eric play a lot this summer," Young said. "He possesses the type of skills that we look for in perimeter players.

"In losing two really good ones in Mike Lenzly and Lee Nixon after this season, it was crucial for us to find a couple of guys to come in and help our club. Eric is an outstanding shooter and we like his size. He is a very strong player and will be very good for us defensively. We believe he will help our team immediately."

The Fork Union Pipeline

Head Coach Mike Young played one season at Fork Union (Va.) Military Academy and refers to longtime FUMA coach Fletcher Arritt as one of his coaching mentors.

Freshman Howard Wilkerson is the sixth former FUMA player to land at Wofford during Young's 14 seasons with the Terriers:

Player	Yrs. at Wofford
John McGinnis	1990-94
Seth Chadwick	1993-97
Natter Miller	1994-98
Colon Largent	1998-01
Jeff Tarr	2001-present
Howard Wilkerson	2002-present

Still Puppies

After entering last season with just four players having more than one year of collegiate basketball experience, this year's Wofford squad is more seasoned but still relatively young.

Eight of the 13 players who will dress this season are freshmen or sophomores, while the two juniors (Edmond Davis and David Eaton) have both seen limited action.

Terriers Close to Wins over ACC Teams

Wofford came very close to a pair of wins over ACC opponents last season.

The Terriers built double-digit leads at Clemson (Nov. 24) and Georgia Tech (Dec. 21) before falling 85-82 and 79-70, respectively.

Wofford held a 14-point first-half lead and led by 11 at the intermission against the Tigers. The game ended with the Terriers missing a 3-pointer at the buzzer that would have forced overtime.

The Terriers led the Yellow Jackets by 11 points with 17 minutes left before Georgia Tech used its depth to rally for the win.

Baby Watch

Head Coach Mike Young is due to become a father for the second time in January.

Young's wife, Margaret, is due on Jan. 20, the same night the Terriers are scheduled to host Chattanooga.

Versus The SoCon

Wofford has a 36-48 record (.429) in its five-year SoCon history which began with the Terriers in just their third season in Division I.

Wofford's league record against each team, including SoCon Tournament action, is listed below:

Hanging Out with Grant

Starting forward Grant Sterley was the overwhelming favorite in a recent Wofford web page poll that asked, "Which Terrier player would you most like to spend the day with?"

Terriers Upset Virginia Tech December 2, 2002

BLACKSBURG, Va. -- Lee Nixon scored 27 points to give Wofford its first-ever victory over a Big East opponent as Wofford defeated Virginia Tech 79-77.

The Hokies rebounded from a 17-point deficit at halftime to trail by just four with less than a minute remaining. A pair of Mike Lenzly free throws put Wofford ahead 77-71 with 47 seconds remaining. Virginia Tech's Dimari Thompkins cut the lead in half with a trey. After a Nixon free throw stretched the lead to four, Terry Taylor made it just one with a layup and free throw with 16 seconds to play. Adrien Borders helped preserve the lead, drawing a charge with seven seconds left. Nixon sealed the victory, converting a free throw with .9 seconds remaining.

Virginia Tech made a 8-0 run to start the second half, and closed the gap to just eight points on a trey by Thompkins at the 17:43 mark. Nixon converted a pair of free throws to bring the lead back into double digits. The Hokies chipped away throughout the second half, though, cutting Wofford's edge to one at 58-57 on a Taylor jumper with 8:34 remaining. A Tyler Berg layup and Nixon trey gave the Terriers a six-point lead before Virginia Tech closed the gap again.

The 27 for Nixon equals the second-best game of his career. He went 5-of-7 on the night from 3-point range and is now 13-of-20 on the year. Lenzly had 16 points and seven rebounds, while Berg tallied 15 points and seven boards. Virginia Tech was led by Taylor, who had a double-double of 21 points and 10 rebounds.

"They played their hearts out," said Young. "They made so many big plays. Adrien Borders just steps up and takes a tremendous charge, Lee Nixon was phenomenal, Mike Lenzly was terrific, and Tyler Berg played exceptionally well as a freshman.

"It's a great win for our basketball team and a great win for our college," Young added. "It's a lot of fun."

With the win, Wofford improves to 2-2 on the season. Virginia Tech falls to 3-2.

The Terriers return to action Monday when they host Toccoa Falls in a 7 p.m. contest in the Benjamin Johnson Arena.

NOTES:

- Wofford scored first on a layup by Borders and never trailed or tied for the rest of the game.
- The game was a homecoming for Head Coach Mike Young, who grew up in Radford, Va., about 25 miles outside of Blacksburg.
- The Terriers were without guard Justin Stephens, who is sidelined with a knee injury. With him sidelined, Nixon and Borders each played 39 minutes and Lenzly played 38.

The Terriers, coming off Monday's 79-77 win at Virginia Tech, return to action Saturday when they host Virginia Intermont at 1 p.m.

Wofford College men's basketball guard Justin Stephens, an All-SoCon Freshman team selection last season, will be sidelined for the remainder of the year with a knee injury.

The injury occurred late in the first half of the Nov. 24 game at Clemson. Stephens did not play in the second half of that contest and has sat out the Terriers' subsequent two games.

Stephens placed third among SoCon freshmen last season with a 12.4 scoring average, with that mark increasing to 14.1 points in league action. He also topped all SoCon freshmen in assists (3.2 apg) while ranking 10th overall. The Newnan, Ga., native started all 29 games last season. He scored a career-high 26 points to go with five steals, four rebounds, and four assists in a 76-67 win over Georgia Southern.

Stephens played in just two games this season and would be eligible for a medical hardship year.

"It's terribly unfortunate," Wofford Head Coach Mike Young said. "He's been such an important part of our equation.

"Justin is such a class guy and a terrific basketball player. We're still very hopeful that Justin will be fine and can contribute to our basketball team, but I think it would be unrealistic to think that he would ever be 100 percent again."

Stephen made an immediate impact last year. In his first collegiate game, he garnered attention when he outplayed heralded freshman and eventual NBA lottery pick Dajuan Wagner of Memphis. Stephens outscored Wagner (19-18) while totaling more assists (6-4) and blocks (1-0). He also had the same number of steals (2) and rebounds (1) while recording one less turnover (2-3).

Mike Lenzly moved closer to the 1,000-career points milestone as he keyed Wofford's 86-56 rout of Virginia Intermont this afternoon at the Benjamin Johnson Arena in Spartanburg, S.C.

Lenzly had his third 22-point game in the last four contests to move his career total to 967 points. He also added five rebounds and five assists with no turnovers in 34 minutes.

Lenzly was one of four Terriers in double figures. Freshman center Tyler Berg hit 7-of-8 shots as he scored 15 points to reach double figures for the fourth consecutive game. Lee Nixon added 13 points and seven assists while Sam Daniels scored 10 points. Freshman Howard Wilkerson posted season-high totals of nine points and eight rebounds.

The Terriers opened the game without two starters. Sophomore guard Justin Stephens is out for the season with a knee injury while senior forward Grant Sterley was taking the Law School Admission Test (LSAT) in Greenville, S.C., and didn't arrive at the game until halftime. Sterley did grab six rebounds in just 10 second-half minutes.

The Terriers (3-2) hit their first five shots, including three 3-pointers, to take a 15-4 lead just 2:25 into the contest. However, the Cobras (3-9) hung tough and trailed by just four points on two occasions before Wofford took a 40-32 halftime lead.

The Terriers used a 20-7 run over a 7:04 stretch midway through the second half to break the game open.

"I'm relieved that we won," Wofford Head Coach Mike Young said. "Virginia Intermont did some things very well to hang around.

"We stressed this week that we needed to play hard, and we did. We followed our game plan and came out strong at the start of each half. We were able to get a lot of guys some quality minutes, and we responded well to Justin (Stephens) being out."

The Terriers continued their torrid early-season shooting from 3-point range, going 10-of-25 (40.0 percent) behind the arc. Wofford shot 50.0 percent (32-of-64) for the game and held a 40-28 rebounding edge, while forcing Virginia Intermont into 23 turnovers.

Derrick Kaufman topped the Cobras with 11 points while Bryan Simon scored 10.

Wofford will take the coming week off for final exams before returning to action next Saturday at West Virginia. The Terriers will be looking for their second straight win over a Big East opponent. Wofford defeated Virginia Tech, 79-77, on Monday.

Wofford College guard Lee Nixon has been named the Southern Conference Men's Basketball Player of the Week for his performance in a pair of Terrier wins.

Nixon scored 27 points in last Monday's 79-77 victory at Virginia Tech, representing Wofford's first-ever win over a Big East opponent. The senior from Hanahan, S.C., was 7-of-13 from the field, including 5-of-7 from 3-point range, in equaling the second-best scoring performance of his career. He played 39 minutes against the Hokies.

Nixon then added 13 points and seven assists in Saturday's 86-56 win over Virginia Intermont.

For the week, Nixon averaged 20.0 points while shooting 66.7 percent (8-of-12) from 3-point range and 52.2 overall (12-of-23). He is averaging 16.4 points on the year, shooting 64.0 percent (16-of-25) behind the arc and 50.0 overall (29-of-58).

Nixon is just the third men's basketball player in Wofford's six seasons of league play to receive SoCon Player of the Week honors. Ian Chadwick and Mike Lenzly are the previous recipients.

Following a break for final exams, the Terriers return to action Saturday with a 4 p.m. game at West Virginia.

2002-03 Wofford College Basketball

Dec. 14, 2002, at West Virginia, WVU Coliseum (14,000), Morgantown, W.Va.; 4 p.m.

The Game

Following a one-week break for final exams, the Wofford basketball team returns to action with its first-ever trip to Morgantown, W.Va., as it faces West Virginia.

The Terriers and Mountaineers met in a 1999-00 game in Charleston, W.Va., with West Virginia taking a 72-54 decision. That game was played just two days after arguably the biggest win in Wofford basketball history, a 79-74 victory at Clemson.

Wofford will be looking for its second victory over a Big East opponent this season. The Terriers built a 17-point halftime lead en route to a 79-77 win at Virginia Tech on Dec. 2.

Worth Noting

•Wofford is the second smallest school in Division I with an enrollment of 1,100, behind only Centenary (850 students). Wofford actually has a higher SAT average (1236) than enrollment (1,100).

•Since he was taking the Law School Admission Test (LSAT), starting forward Grant Sterley missed the first half of last Saturday's Virginia Intermont game. He arrived in time for the second half and grabbed six rebounds in just 10 minutes.

•Standout guard Justin Stephens is sidelined for the season with a knee injury. He was a member of the All-SoCon Freshman team last year when he averaged 12.4 points, including 14.1 in league action.

•First-year Wofford assistant Mark Prosser, son of Wake Forest Head Coach Skip Prosser, is a native of Wheeling, W.Va., and will have a strong contingent of family and friends in attendance at the game.

Meet The Head Coach

After 13 seasons as a Wofford assistant to Richard Johnson, Mike Young is in his first year as head coach of the Terriers.

Johnson was promoted to athletic director last Dec. 3 with the announcement that he would coach the Terriers just through the remainder of the 2001-02 season. His first head coaching hire was the elevation of Young effective at the close of the campaign.

A native of Radford, Va., and a 1986 graduate of Emory & Henry (Va.), Young has helped guide Wofford from NCAA Division II to Division I Independent status in 1995-96 and the Southern Conference in 1997-98. In recognition of his contribution to the Terriers, Young was promoted to associate head coach in August 1998.

Young came to Wofford in 1989 after serving as a graduate assistant for one year at Radford. He was also an assistant at his alma mater for two seasons before moving on to Radford.

Young was honored in 2001 as America's Best Dressed Assistant Coach in a national contest conducted by www.collegeinsider.com.

About Wofford

•Located in Spartanburg, S.C., Wofford is one of only five independent colleges and universities to have a Phi Beta Kappa chapter in the Carolinas (Davidson, Duke, Furman, and Wake Forest are the others).

•Wofford is one of just three Division I colleges or universities to have the nickname Terriers. The others are Boston University and St. Francis (N.Y.).

•Founded in 1854, Wofford has an enrollment of 1,100, making it the smallest school in NCAA Division I-A or I-AA football.

•With 1,100 students, Wofford is the second smallest school in Division I. Only Centenary (La.) is smaller with 850 students. However, the Gentlemen do not field a football team.

•Famous Wofford graduates include Carolina Panther owner and founder Jerry Richardson and Air Force Head Football Coach Fisher DeBerry.

•Wofford ranks No. 1 among national liberal arts colleges in "operating efficiency," providing a quality education while spending relatively less.

In the 2000 NCAA Division I Graduation Rate Report, Wofford was the only school in the nation to rank in the Top 10 in all four categories: overall student-athlete graduation rate as well as those for the football, men's basketball, and women's basketball teams.

"There are no junk courses at Wofford that we could see, and we would certainly match its course of study with that of any school in the Ivy League."

There's Something about Wofford and Clemson

Wofford and Clemson have met in each of the last four seasons with those contests being decided by a total of just 19 points.

The Terriers won 79-74 in the 1999-00 campaign, while the Tigers have prevailed in each of the last three seasons by a combined 14 points.

Year	Result
1999-00	Wofford 79-74
2000-01	Clemson 78-74
2001-02	Clemson 85-82
2002-03	Clemson 79-72

Countdown to 1,000

Wofford guards and roommates Mike Lenzly and Lee Nixon are both closing in on 1,000 career points.

The duo would become the 34th and 35th players in school history to reach that milestone. Listed below are their career points and projected game to join the 1,000-point club:

Name	Career Pts.	Projected Game:
Mike Lenzly	967	Dec. 16, at South Carolina

Lee Nixon	883	Jan. 13, at The Citadel
------------------	-----	-------------------------

Shooting the Rock

•Wofford has a higher field-goal percentage from 3-point range (44.6) than overall (44.3).

•Mike Lenzly and Lee Nixon, the Terriers' top two scorers, are shooting 53.3 percent (16-of-30) and 64.0 percent (16-of-25), respectively, behind the arc.

•The Terriers' 10.0 treys per game is seventh nationally in Division I, while their 44.6 3-point percentage ranks 12th.

•Wofford is shooting 73.3 percent at the free-throw line after a 66.6 clip last year.

The Ironman

Point guard Mike Lenzly played the entire way, including two overtime contests, in nine of Wofford's 16 SoCon games last season. On two occasions, he played 39 minutes.

He averaged 38.4 minutes in SoCon action and 35.8 overall.

On frequently playing the entire game, Lenzly said, "It's no big deal. Practice is two hours. A game is only 40 minutes."

Raising $$$$

Head Coach Mike Young's wife, Margaret, is the drive co-chairman for the Terrier Club, Wofford's fundraising organization which raised $1,021,289 last year in scholarship support for Terrier student-athletes.

Schedule Difficulty

•The tradition continues this season when it comes to Wofford facing one of the toughest schedules in the nation for a mid-major Division I program.

The Terriers opened the 2002-03 campaign with games at Auburn and Clemson in addition to traveling to Virginia Tech, West Virginia, South Carolina, NC State, and Virginia.

•In their opening 12 games last year, the Terriers played at Memphis, Clemson, Nebraska, NC State, and Georgia Tech. Wofford also played host to South Carolina.

•The RPI rankings, which take into account Division I games only, determined that Wofford's pre-Christmas schedule in 2000-01 was the most difficult in the nation. The Terriers had road games at Georgia Tech, South Carolina, Boston College, Alabama, Clemson, and Vanderbilt. Wofford was also home for William & Mary.

•According to the Sagarin Ratings in the 1999-00 season, Wofford played the nation's third toughest pre-Christmas schedule. Only Iowa and Temple faced more difficult slates.

Preseason Honors

Wofford point guard Mike Lenzly is a consensus preseason All-SoCon selection. He received honors from the league coaches in addition to several preseason publications.

Lenzly, a 6-foot-3 southpaw from Jonesboro, Ga., has been an All-SoCon selection from the league media in each of the last two campaigns.

He posted Wofford's first-ever triple-double with 21 points, 12 assists, and 10 rebounds in a 105-69 victory over Chattanooga during the 2000-01 campaign.

Lenzly had 16 points, seven rebounds, and seven assists in the 79-77 win at Virginia Tech (Dec. 2) and flirted several times last year with another triple-double:

Opponent	Stats
Georgia Southern (Jan. 19)	11 pts., 8 reb., 6 asst.
Chattanooga (Jan. 14)	17 pts., 7 reb., 6 asst.
Georgia Tech (Dec. 21)	22 pts., 6 reb., 7 asst.
Florida A&M (Nov. 26)	24 pts., 14 reb., 7 asst.

The senior from Hanahan, S.C., was 7-of-13 from the field, including 5-of-7 from 3-point range, in equaling the second-best scoring performance of his career. He played 39 minutes against the Hokies.

Nixon then added 13 points and seven assists in the 86-56 win over Virginia Interment.

For the week, Nixon averaged 20.0 points while shooting 66.7 percent (8-of-12) from 3-point range and 52.2 overall (12-of-23).

Nixon is just the third men's basketball player in Wofford's six seasons of league play to receive SoCon Player of the Week honors. Ian Chadwick and Mike Lenzly are the previous recipients.

The Staff

The following is an inside look at Head Coach Mike Young's three assistants:

- Jimmy Allen is in his first season at Wofford after serving the last six years at Navy, helping guide the Midshipmen to a pair of Patriot League championships and NCAA Tournament berths.

Allen, like Young, is an Emory & Henry graduate who also coached at his alma mater upon his graduation.

- Alex Peavey is in his third year with the Terriers after working with the basketball program at Virginia Commonwealth.

He is the son of Marion Peavey, a 1965 Wofford graduate and former executive director of the NCAA Foundation.

- Mark Prosser, son of Wake Forest Head Coach Skip Prosser, joined the Terriers after graduating from Marist this past spring. He played for the Red Foxes before a knee injury ended his career. He then served as a student assistant coach.

The Trickle Down

The SoCon hiring a new commissioner last year resulted in Wofford naming a new head basketball coach.

With Danny Morrison leaving his Wofford senior vice-president position to become the SoCon commissioner, David Wood was promoted from athletic director to Morrison's vacated role.

Head Basketball Coach Richard Johnson was then promoted to athletic director with the Dec. 3 announcement that he would coach the Terriers just through the remainder of the 2001-02 season.

In his first official day as athletic director, Johnson made his first coaching hire. He tabbed longtime assistant Mike Young to take over the head coaching duties effective at the close of the campaign. Young is in his 14th year overall at Wofford.

Morrison hired Johnson to be Wofford's basketball coach in 1985.

Waiting in the Wings

Greg Taylor, a transfer from the University of South Carolina, is sitting out this season per NCAA rules.

Taylor will have two years of eligibility with the Terriers. Taylor signed with Eddie Fogler at USC after a highly decorated prep career at Hillcrest High School in Simpsonville, S.C.

Stephens Sidelined for the Season

Wofford guard Justin Stephens, an All-SoCon Freshman Team selection last season, will be sidelined for the remainder of the year after sustaining a knee injury in the first half of the Nov. 24 game at Clemson.

Stephens placed third among SoCon rookies last season with a 12.4 scoring average, with that mark increasing to 14.1 points in league action. He also topped all SoCon freshmen in assists (3.2 apg) while ranking 10th overall as he started all 29 games.

Stephens played in just two games this season and is eligible for a medical hardship year.

In his first collegiate game, he garnered attention when he outplayed heralded freshman and eventual NBA lottery pick Dajuan Wagner of Memphis. Stephens outscored Wagner (19-18) while totaling more assists (6-4) and blocks (1-0). He also had the same number of steals (2) and rebounds (1) while recording one less turnover (2-3).

Freshman Sensation

Freshman Tyler Berg's 12.6 points per game average is the highest by a Wofford center since John McGinnis scored at a 12.6 clip during the 1993-94 campaign.

Berg's stellar performances have included a 15-point, seven-rebound effort in the 79-77 win at Virginia Tech, in addition to 13 points and seven boards at Clemson.

The Mt. Holly, N.C., native tops the Terriers in rebounding (6.4 rpg) and is second on the team with 24 trips to the free-throw line.

A Youthful Staff

The Wofford men's basketball coaching staff is officially the youngest in the country in a national study conducted by Radford University.

The average age of the four Terrier coaches is 29.8. Radford is second at 30.0.

Head Coach Mike Young is 39 and the graybeard on the staff. Assistant coaches Jimmy Allen (31), Alex Peavey (25), and Mark Prosser (24) are next in line. Even basketball trainer Barry Parsons (26) is young.

Streak Over

Dating back to last season, each of the last four games between Wofford and the College of Charleston have come down to the final possession in regulation.

Listed below are notables from the Terriers' 66-64 win last year over the Cougars in Charleston:

- Wofford became just the second SoCon team to win at the John Kresse Arena in CofC's four seasons of league play.

- Wofford nearly didn't make the trip to Charleston that day due to a statewide snowstorm.

- The Terriers had dropped 16 straight games to the Cougars dating back to Feb. 17, 1979.

- Wofford hadn't won at Charleston since Nov. 29, 1974, representing a stretch of 13 games. Former head coach and now Athletic Director Richard Johnson was in his junior year at The Citadel at the time.

This and That

- In the Sagarin Ratings as of Dec. 11, Wofford is ranked No. 155 out of 327 Division I programs. West Virginia is No. 124.

- Wofford is 50-of-112 (44.6 percent) from 3-point range while its opposition is just 19-of-60 (31.7 percent).

- The Terriers are 3-0 when scoring at least 79 points.

- Wofford's 3-2 record equals its best start in eight years of Division I play. The Terriers have yet to reach 4-2 in their D-I era.

Women Beware

Wofford assistant coach Alex Peavey was named last year by www.collegeinsider.com as one of the "50 Most Eligible Bachelors" in the Division I coaching ranks.

Athlete Extraordinaire

Sophomore guard Adrien Borders earned All-SoCon honors and was the league's Freshman of the Year in outdoor track last season.

Borders placed second at the SoCon Championships in the triple jump (over 50 feet) and long jump (more than 24 feet). He also competed well as a sprinter.

The Lilburn, Ga., native is averaging 8.0 points this season after scoring at a 4.8 clip last year.

Whatever Happened To...

Former Terrier guard Ian Chadwick, arguably the top player in Wofford basketball history, is playing with the Mattersburg 49ers in the top division of Austria.

A 2001 Wofford graduate with a degree in business economics, Chadwick was a three-time All-SoCon selection and the league's career 3-point leader with 299.

Chadwick was the runner-up for SoCon Player of the Year honors his senior year and finished his career sixth on the Terriers' all-time scoring list with 1,789 points.

Future Terriers

The Wofford College men's basketball program has announced the signing of 6-foot-3 point guard Curtis Ingram and 6-foot-4 wing Eric Marshall to National Letters-of-Intent.

Ingram, a senior at Cardinal Mooney High School in Youngstown, Ohio, averaged 16.8 points, 6.4 rebounds, and 6.1 assists last year in earning first-team All-Conference and All-Northeast Ohio honors. He was also a third-team All-State selection.

"Curtis has a big, strong, football-type body in a point guard," Wofford Head Coach Mike Young said. "He has a good, compact stroke and will add a real element of toughness to our team. We really like the things that Curtis brings to us."

Marshall, a Grovetown, Ga., native, received first-team All-State accolades last year for Greenbrier High School. He averaged 21 points, nine rebounds, and five assists in earning team Most Valuable Player honors.

"I saw Eric play a lot this summer," Young said. "He possesses the type of skills that we look for in perimeter players.

"In losing two really good ones in Mike Lenzly and Lee Nixon after this season, it was crucial for us to find a couple of guys to come in and help our club. Eric is an outstanding shooter and we like his size. He is a very strong player and will be very good for us defensively. We believe he will help our team immediately."

The Fork Union Pipeline

Head Coach Mike Young played one season at Fork Union (Va.) Military Academy and refers to longtime FUMA coach Fletcher Arritt as one of his coaching mentors.

Freshman Howard Wilkerson is the sixth former FUMA player to land at Wofford during Young's 14 seasons with the Terriers:

Player	Yrs. at Wofford
John McGinnis	1990-94
Seth Chadwick	1993-97
Natter Miller	1994-98
Colon Largent	1998-01
Jeff Tarr	2001-present
Howard Wilkerson	2002-present

Still Puppies

After entering last season with just four players having more than one year of collegiate basketball experience, this year's Wofford squad is more seasoned but still relatively young.

Six of the 11 players who will dress this season are freshmen or sophomores, while the two juniors (Edmond Davis and David Eaton) have both seen limited action.

Terriers Close to Wins over ACC Teams

Wofford came very close to a pair of wins over ACC opponents last season.

The Terriers built double-digit leads at Clemson and Georgia Tech before falling 85-82 and 79-70, respectively.

Wofford held a 14-point first-half lead and led by 11 at the intermission against the Tigers. The game ended with the Terriers missing a 3-pointer at the buzzer that would have forced overtime.

The Terriers led the Yellow Jackets by 11 points with 17 minutes left before Georgia Tech used its depth to rally for the win.

Baby Watch

Head Coach Mike Young is set to become a father for the second time in January.

Young's wife, Margaret, is due on Jan. 20, the same night the Terriers are scheduled to host Chattanooga.

Versus The SoCon

Wofford has a 36-48 record (.429) in its five-year SoCon history which began with the Terriers in just their third season in Division I.

Wofford's league record against each team, including SoCon Tournament action, is listed below:

Team	Record
Appalachian State	1-4
Chattanooga	4-6
The Citadel	6-4
College of Charleston	1-8
Davidson	2-5
East Tennessee State	0-5
Furman	6-4
Georgia Southern	7-3
UNC Greensboro	3-3
VMI	3-3
Western Carolina	3-3
Totals	36-48

Hanging Out with Grant

Starting forward Grant Sterley was the overwhelming favorite in a recent Wofford web page poll that asked, "Which Terrier player would you most like to spend the day with?"

Against the League

Since beginning SoCon play in the 1997-98 campaign, Wofford has posted the eighth-best record in the league. It's a mark made impressive when considering the Terriers' first year in the SoCon was only their third season in Division I. Listed below are the league records for each team since 1997-98 (not including SoCon Tournament games):

Team	Record
1. College of Charleston	50-14 (.781)
2. Davidson	52-27 (.658)

In their bid for a second straight win over a Big East opponent, the Terriers went down to the wire with West Virginia before dropping a 79-69 decision Saturday afternoon in Morgantown, W.Va.

Wofford (3-3) trailed just 48-45 after a Howard Wilkerson free-throw with 11:48 to play. The Terriers then had three consecutive dunks in a 1:30 span, including a pair of spectacular alley-oop slams by Lee Nixon, to close within 60-55 with 6:33 remaining. Adrien Borders assisted on all three dunks.

However, the Mountaineers (5-1) answered with a 9-0 run to build their margin back to 14 with 4:23 left. Mike Lenzly then had six points to key an 8-2 run that cut the Terrier deficit to 71-63 with 2:42 remaining.

Nixon topped the Terriers with 19 points while freshman center Tyler Berg contributed 15 points and seven rebounds off-the-bench.

"Those two guards, Nixon and Lenzly, can play in any conference in the country," West Virginia Head Coach John Beilein said. "They were just getting into the gaps and causing us problems."

West Virginia, with a win over Florida earlier this season, shot 78.3 percent (18-of-23) in the second half and 63.3 for the game. The Mountaineers were 8-of-17 from 3-point range.

Wofford held a 33-21 rebounding edge, including 17-to-5 on the offensive end. The Terriers were just 3-of-16 from 3-point range after making 13-of-23 attempts behind the arc in a 79-77 win at Virginia Tech on Dec. 2.

"We knew we had our hands full coming in here," Wofford Head Coach Mike Young said. "Anybody that beats Florida ... obviously they are doing something to give teams fits. I admire what they've done with their team. They've got several very good players."

The Terriers trailed by as many as seven points in the first half before going on an 11-0 run over a 3:31 span to take a 24-20 lead on a pair of Berg free-throws with 6:47 to play before the half. A Borders layup, three straight free throws by Nixon after being fouled on a 3-point attempt, a dunk by Berg, a layup by Lenzly, and Berg's free throws accounted for the 11 points.

The Mountaineers scored the final four points of the first half to take a 29-28 lead into the locker room at the intermission.

Tyrone Sally led West Virginia with 25 points while Drew Schifino scored 16.

The Terriers return to action Monday at South Carolina in an 8 p.m. regionally-televised contest (CSS).

2002-03 Wofford College Basketball

Dec. 16, 2002, at South Carolina, Carolina Center (18,000), Columbia, S.C.; 8 p.m.

The Game

The Wofford basketball team will make its first appearance at the new Carolina Center when it meets the University of South Carolina in a regionally-televised contest on CSS.

The Terriers and Gamecocks are meeting for the seventh time in Wofford's eight seasons on the Division I level. USC took a 64-49 decision last year in Spartanburg, S.C., and holds an 18-game winning streak in the series. Wofford's last victory over South Carolina was a 33-31 win in the 1938-39 campaign.

Worth Noting

•Wofford is the second smallest school in Division I with an enrollment of 1,100, behind only Centenary (850 students). Wofford actually has a higher SAT average (1236) than enrollment (1,100).

•Standout guard Justin Stephens is sidelined for the season with a knee injury. He was a member of the All-SoCon Freshman team last year when he averaged 12.4 points, including 14.1 in league action.

•Former Gamecock Greg Taylor is at Wofford and sitting out this season per NCAA transfer rules. He will have two years of eligibility for the Terriers. Taylor made his radio broadcasting debut with the color commentary on the Dec. 7 home game with Virginia Intermont.

•Point guard Mike Lenzly needs 23 points to become the 34th player in Wofford history to reach 1,000 career points.

•Since he was taking the Law School Admission Test (LSAT), starting forward Grant Sterley missed the first half of the Dec. 7 Virginia Intermont game. He arrived in time for the second half and grabbed six rebounds in just 10 minutes.

Meet The Head Coach

After 13 seasons as a Wofford assistant to Richard Johnson, Mike Young is in his first year as head coach of the Terriers.

Johnson was promoted to athletic director last Dec. 3 with the announcement that he would coach the Terriers just through the remainder of the 2001-02 season. His first head coaching hire was the elevation of Young effective at the close of the campaign.

A native of Radford, Va., and a 1986 graduate of Emory & Henry (Va.), Young has helped guide Wofford from NCAA Division II to Division I Independent status in 1995-96 and the Southern Conference in 1997-98. In recognition of his contribution to the Terriers, Young was promoted to associate head coach in August 1998.

Young came to Wofford in 1989 after serving as a graduate assistant for one year at Radford. He was also an assistant at his alma mater for two seasons before moving on to Radford.

Young was honored in 2001 as America's Best Dressed Assistant Coach in a national contest conducted by www.collegeinsider.com.

1236 vs. 1100

Wofford College boasts a higher SAT average (1236) than enrollment (1100).

About Wofford

•Located in Spartanburg, S.C., Wofford is one of only five independent colleges and universities to have a Phi Beta Kappa chapter in the Carolinas (Davidson, Duke, Furman, and Wake Forest are the others).

•Wofford is one of just three Division I colleges or universities to have the nickname Terriers. The others are Boston University and St. Francis (N.Y.).

•Founded in 1854, Wofford has an enrollment of 1,100, making it the smallest school in NCAA Division I-A or I-AA football.

•With 1,100 students, Wofford is the second smallest school in Division I. Only Centenary (La.) is smaller with 850 students. However, the Gentlemen do not field a football team.

•Famous Wofford graduates include Carolina Panther owner and founder Jerry Richardson and Air Force Head Football Coach Fisher DeBerry.

•Wofford ranks No. 1 among national liberal arts colleges in "operating efficiency," providing a quality education while spending relatively less.

In the 2000 NCAA Division I Graduation Rate Report, Wofford was the only school in the nation to rank in the Top 10 in all four categories: overall student-athlete graduation rate as well as those for the football, men's basketball, and women's basketball teams.

"There are no junk courses at Wofford that we could see, and we would certainly match its course of study with that of any school in the Ivy League."

There's Something about Wofford and Clemson

Wofford and Clemson have met in each of the last four seasons with those contests being decided by a total of just 19 points.

The Terriers won 79-74 in the 1999-00 campaign, while the Tigers have prevailed in each of the last three seasons by a combined 14 points:

Year	Result
1999-00	Wofford 79-74
2000-01	Clemson 78-74
2001-02	Clemson 85-82
2002-03	Clemson 79-72

Countdown to 1,000

Wofford guards and roommates Mike Lenzly and Lee Nixon are both closing in on 1,000 career points.

The duo would become the 34th and 35th players in school history to reach that milestone. Listed below are their career points and projected game to join the 1,000-point club:

Name	Career Pts.	Projected Game:
Mike Lenzly	977	Saturday, vs. King

Lee Nixon	902	Jan. 11, at Furman
------------------	-----	--------------------

Shooting the Rock

•Wofford is shooting nearly as high from 3-point range (41.4) as overall (44.2).

•Lee Nixon (16.8 ppg) and Mike Lenzly (16.5 ppg), the Terriers' top scorers, are shooting 58.6 percent (17-of-29) and 50.0 percent (17-of-34), respectively, behind the arc.

•The Terriers' 8.8 treys per game and 41.4 3-point percentage both rank second in the SoCon.

•Wofford is shooting 74.5 percent at the free-throw line after a 66.6 clip last year.

A Youthful Staff

The Wofford men's basketball coaching staff is the youngest in the country in a national study conducted by Radford University.

The average age of the four Terrier coaches is 29.8. Radford is second at 30.0.

Head Coach Mike Young is 39 and the graybeard on the staff. Assistant coaches Jimmy Allen (31), Alex Peavey (25), and Mark Prosser (24) are next in line.

Raising $$$$

Head Coach Mike Young's wife, Margaret, is the drive co-chairman for the Terrier Club, Wofford's fundraising organization which raised $1,021,289 last year in scholarship support for Terrier student-athletes.

Schedule Difficulty

•The tradition continues this season when it comes to Wofford facing one of the toughest schedules in the nation for a mid-major Division I program.

The Terriers opened the 2002-03 campaign with games at Auburn and Clemson in addition to traveling to Virginia Tech, West Virginia, South Carolina, NC State, and Virginia.

•In their opening 12 games last year, the Terriers played at Memphis, Clemson, Nebraska, NC State, and Georgia Tech. Wofford also played host to South Carolina.

•The RPI rankings, which take into account Division I games only, determined that Wofford's pre-Christmas schedule in 2000-01 was the most difficult in the nation. The Terriers had road games at Georgia Tech, South Carolina, Boston College, Alabama, Clemson, and Vanderbilt. Wofford was also home for William & Mary.

•According to the Sagarin Ratings in the 1999-00 season, Wofford played the nation's third toughest pre-Christmas schedule. Only Iowa and Temple faced more difficult slates.

Preseason Honors

Wofford point guard Mike Lenzly is a consensus preseason All-SoCon selection. He received honors from the league coaches in addition to several preseason publications.

A 6-foot-3 southpaw from Jonesboro, Ga., Lenzly has been an All-SoCon selection from the league media in each of the last two campaigns.

He posted Wofford's first-ever triple-double with 21 points, 12 assists, and 10 rebounds in a 105-69 victory over Chattanooga during the 2000-01 campaign.

Lenzly had 16 points, seven rebounds, and seven assists in the 79-77 win at Virginia Tech (Dec. 2) and flirted several times last year with another triple-double:

Opponent	Stats
Georgia Southern (Jan. 19)	11 pts., 8 reb., 6 asst.
Chattanooga (Jan. 14)	17 pts., 7 reb., 6 asst.
Georgia Tech (Dec. 21)	22 pts., 6 reb., 7 asst.
Florida A&M (Nov. 26)	24 pts., 14 reb., 7 asst.

The Ironman

Point guard Mike Lenzly played the entire way, including two overtime contests, in nine of Wofford's 16 SoCon games last season. On two occasions, he played 39 minutes.

He averaged 38.4 minutes in SoCon action and 35.8 overall.

On frequently playing the entire game, Lenzly said, "It's no big deal. Practice is two hours. A game is only 40 minutes."

Speaking of the Backcourt

"Those two guards, Nixon and Lenzly, can play in any conference in the country,"

John Beilein
Head Coach
West Virginia
(Dec. 14, 2002)

Nixon Named SoCon Player of the Week

Lee Nixon was named the Southern Conference Men's Basketball Player of the Week (Dec. 2-8) for his performance in a pair of Terrier wins.

Nixon scored 27 points in a 79-77 victory at Virginia Tech, representing Wofford's first-ever win over a Big East opponent. The senior from Hanahan, S.C., was 7-of-13 from the field, including 5-of-7 from 3-point range, in equaling the second-best scoring performance of his career. He played 39 minutes against the Hokies.

Nixon then added 13 points and seven assists in the 86-56 win over Virginia Intermont.

For the week, Nixon averaged 20.0 points while shooting 66.7 percent (8-of-12) from 3-point range and 52.2 overall (12-of-23).

Nixon is just the third men's basketball player in Wofford's six seasons of league play to receive SoCon Player of the Week honors. Ian Chadwick and Mike Lenzly are the previous recipients.

The Staff

The following is an inside look at Head Coach Mike Young's three assistants:

•Jimmy Allen is in his first season at Wofford after serving the last six years at Navy, helping guide the Midshipmen to a pair of Patriot League championships and NCAA Tournament berths.

Allen, like Young, is an Emory & Henry graduate who also coached at his alma mater upon his graduation.

•Alex Peavey is in his third year with the Terriers after working with the basketball program at Virginia Commonwealth.

He is the son of Marion Peavey, a 1965 Wofford graduate and former executive director of the NCAA Foundation.

•Mark Prosser, son of Wake Forest Head Coach Skip Prosser, joined the Terriers after graduating from Marist this past spring. He played for the Red Foxes before a knee injury ended his career. He then served as a student assistant coach.

The Trickle Down

The SoCon hiring a new commissioner last year resulted in Wofford naming a new head basketball coach.

With Danny Morrison leaving his Wofford senior vice-president position to become the SoCon commissioner, David Wood was promoted from athletic director to Morrison's vacated role.

Head Basketball Coach Richard Johnson was then promoted to athletic director with the Dec. 3 announcement that he would coach the Terriers just through the remainder of the 2001-02 season.

In his first official day as athletic director, Johnson made his first coaching hire. He tabbed longtime assistant Mike Young to take over the head coaching duties effective at the close of the campaign. Young is in his 14th year overall at Wofford.

Morrison hired Johnson to be Wofford's basketball coach in 1985.

Terriers on the Tube

Wofford will be making a single-season school record four regional television appearances this season:

Date	Opponent	Network
Dec. 16	at South Carolina	CSS
Dec. 29	at NC State	FOX Sports Net
Jan. 2	at Virginia	Comcast Sports
Feb. 22	Furman	FOX Sports Net

Stephens Sidelined for the Season

Wofford guard Justin Stephens, an All-SoCon Freshman Team selection last season, will be sidelined for the remainder of the year after sustaining a knee injury in the first half of the Nov. 24 game at Clemson.

Stephens placed third among SoCon rookies last season with a 12.4 scoring average, with that mark increasing to 14.1 points in league action. He also topped all SoCon freshmen in assists (3.2 apg) while ranking 10th overall as he started all 29 games.

Stephens played in just two games this season and is eligible for a medical hardship year.

In his first collegiate game, he garnered attention when he outplayed heralded freshman and eventual NBA lottery pick Dajuan Wagner of Memphis. Stephens outscored Wagner (19-18) while totaling more assists (6-4) and blocks (1-0). He also had the same number of steals (2) and rebounds (1) while recording one less turnover (2-3).

Freshman Sensation

Freshman Tyler Berg's 13.0 points per game average is the highest by a Wofford center since John McGinnis scored at a 13.1 clip during the 1992-93 campaign.

Berg made a bid for All-Big East honors as he totaled 15 points and seven rebounds against both Virginia Tech and West Virginia. He also had 13 points and seven boards at Clemson.

The Mt. Holly, N.C., native tops the Terriers in rebounding (6.5 rpg) and with 28 trips to the free-throw line (71.4 percent).

Speaking of Berg

Following the Nov. 24 game at Clemson, in which Tyler Berg had 13 points and seven rebounds in just his second collegiate game, Tiger forward Chris Hobbs had the following to say about Wofford's freshman center:

"We talked about him in the locker room at the half. He had a good game and stepped up to the plate. He's going to have a good career if he plays like that. I don't know if we play Wofford again next year, but we'll have to be worried about him again if we do."

Streak Over

Dating back to last season, each of the last four games between Wofford and the College of Charleston have come down to the final possession in regulation.

Listed below are notables from the Terriers' 66-64 win last year over the Cougars in Charleston:

•Wofford became just the second SoCon team to win at the John Kresse Arena in CofC's four seasons of league play.

•Wofford nearly didn't make the trip to Charleston that day due to a statewide snowstorm.

•The Terriers had dropped 16 straight games to the Cougars dating back to Feb. 17, 1979.

•Wofford hadn't won at Charleston since Nov. 29, 1974, representing a stretch of 13 games. Former head coach and now Athletic Director Richard Johnson was in his junior year at The Citadel at the time.

This and That

•In the Sagarin Ratings as of Dec. 15, Wofford is ranked No. 132 out of 327 Division I programs. South Carolina is No. 76.

•Wofford's 3-3 record equals its best start in eight years of Division I play.

With an annual early-season schedule loaded against major conference competition, the Terriers have yet to reach 4-3 in their Division I era.

•Wofford is 3-0 when scoring at least 79 points this season.

Women Beware

Wofford assistant coach Alex Peavey was named last year by www.collegeinsider.com as one of the "50 Most Eligible Bachelors" in the Division I coaching ranks.

Athlete Extraordinaire

Sophomore guard Adrien Borders earned All-SoCon honors and was the league's Freshman of the Year in outdoor track last season.

Borders placed second at the SoCon Championships in the triple jump (over 50 feet) and long jump (more than 24 feet). He also competed well as a sprinter.

The Lilburn, Ga., native is averaging 7.8 points this season after scoring at a 4.8 clip last year.

Whatever Happened To...

Former Terrier guard Ian Chadwick, arguably the best player in Wofford basketball history, is playing with the Mattersburg 49ers in the top division of Austria.

A 2001 Wofford graduate with a degree in business economics, Chadwick was a three-time All-SoCon selection and the league's career 3-point leader with 299.

Chadwick was the runner-up for SoCon Player of the Year honors his senior year and finished his career sixth on the Terriers' all-time scoring list with 1,789 points.

Future Terriers

The Wofford College men's basketball program has announced the signing of 6-foot-3 point guard Curtis Ingram and 6-foot-4 wing Eric Marshall to National Letters-of-Intent.

Ingram, a senior at Cardinal Mooney High School in Youngstown, Ohio, averaged 16.8 points, 6.4 rebounds, and 6.1 assists last year in earning first-team All-Conference and All-Northeast Ohio honors. He was also a third-team All-State selection.

"Curtis has a big, strong, football-type body in a point guard," Wofford Head Coach Mike Young said. "He has a good, compact stroke and will add a real element of toughness to our team. We really like the things that Curtis brings to us."

Marshall, a Grovetown, Ga., native, received first-team All-State accolades last year for Greenbrier High School. He averaged 21 points, nine rebounds, and five assists in earning team Most Valuable Player honors.

"I saw Eric play a lot this summer," Young said. "He possesses the type of skills that we look for in perimeter players.

"In losing two really good ones in Mike Lenzly and Lee Nixon after this season, it was crucial for us to find a couple of guys to come in and help our club. Eric is an outstanding shooter and we like his size. He is a very strong player and will be very good for us defensively. We believe he will help our team immediately."

The Fork Union Pipeline

Head Coach Mike Young played one season at Fork Union (Va.) Military Academy and refers to longtime FUMA coach Fletcher Arritt as one of his coaching mentors.

Freshman Howard Wilkerson is the sixth former FUMA player to land at Wofford during Young's 14 seasons with the Terriers:

Player	Yrs. at Wofford
John McGinnis	1990-94
Seth Chadwick	1993-97
Natter Miller	1994-98
Colon Largent	1998-01
Jeff Tarr	2001-present
Howard Wilkerson	2002-present

Still Puppies

After entering last season with just four players having more than one year of collegiate basketball experience, this year's Wofford squad is more seasoned but still relatively young.

Six of the 11 players who will dress this season are freshmen or sophomores, while the two juniors (Edmond Davis and David Eaton) both see limited action.

Terriers Close to Wins over ACC Teams

Wofford came very close to a pair of wins over ACC opponents last season.

The Terriers built double-digit leads at Clemson and Georgia Tech before falling 85-82 and 79-70, respectively.

Wofford held a 14-point first-half lead and led by 11 at the intermission against the Tigers. The game ended with the Terriers missing a 3-pointer at the buzzer that would have forced overtime.

The Terriers led the Yellow Jackets by 11 points with 17 minutes left before Georgia Tech used its depth to rally for the win.

Baby Watch

Head Coach Mike Young is set to become a father for the second time in January.

Young's wife, Margaret, is due on Jan. 20, the same night the Terriers are scheduled to host Chattanooga.

Versus The SoCon

Wofford has a 36-48 record (.429) in its five-year SoCon history which began with the Terriers in just their third season in Division I.

Wofford's league record against each team, including SoCon Tournament action, is listed below:

Team	Record
Appalachian State	1-4
Chattanooga	4-6
The Citadel	6-4
College of Charleston	1-8
Davidson	2-5
East Tennessee State	0-5
Furman	6-4
Georgia Southern	7-3

Hanging Out with Grant

Starting forward Grant Sterley was the overwhelming favorite in a recent Wofford web page poll that asked, "Which Terrier player would you most like to spend the day with?"

Against the League

Since beginning SoCon play in the 1997-98 campaign, Wofford has posted the eighth-best record in the league. It's a mark made impressive when considering the Terriers' first year in the SoCon was only their third season in Division I. Listed below are the league records for each team since 1997-98 (not including SoCon Tournament games):

Team	Record
1. College of Charleston	50-14 (.781)
2. Davidson	52-27 (.658)

The Wofford College men's basketball team built a six-point second-half lead before the University of South Carolina rallied for a hardfought 70-59 victory before a crowd of 10,028 at the Carolina Center in Columbia and a regional television audience.

Already without standout guard Justin Stephens, sidelined for the season with a knee injury, Wofford also played without starting forward Grant Sterley. The senior was a last-minute scratch due to food poisoning. Freshman Howard Wilkerson made his first collegiate start as the Terriers often had three freshmen on the court at the same time.

Trailing 27-24 at the intermission, the Terriers opened the second half with an 11-2 run, keyed by five points from Sam Daniels, to take their largest lead of the night at 35-29 on an Adrien Borders layup with 16:19 to play. Borders topped Wofford with 13 points and a career-high eight rebounds. Daniels scored all 10 of his points in the second half.

The Gamecocks scored the next 13 points to regain a 42-35 margin with 12:54 remaining. Lee Nixon then hit a 3-pointer and a running jumper to cut the Terrier deficit to 42-40 with 12:18 to play. Nixon had nine points while playing all 40 minutes.

Wofford was still within five points, 50-45, after a Tyler Berg free-throw with 8:35 remaining.

USC then scored the next 11 points to build a 16-point lead before the Terriers again answered. A 12-4 run, sparked by consecutive 3-pointers by Mike Lenzly and capped by a Borders trey, pulled Wofford within 65-57 with 2:08 to play.

"It's a good thing we prepared for Wofford tonight because, if we hadn't, we would have lost the game tonight," South Carolina Head Coach Dave Odom said. "Every team that Wofford has played similar to us, they have taken it straight down to the end.

"Wofford is a very scrappy team and they are well coached. The Terrier fans have to be happy because (Head Coach) Mike Young has them headed in the right direction."

Lenzly had 11 points and is now just 12 points shy of becoming the 34th player in Wofford history to reach 1,000 career points.

Carlos Powell and Rolando Howell topped the Gamecocks with 16 points each. Chuck Eidson contributed a team-best 12 rebounds.

USC shot 41.8 percent from the field with Wofford at a 41.7 mark. The Gamecocks had 22 attempts at the free-throw line compared to just six for the Terriers.

"They were bigger, faster, and stronger," Young said. "I thought our kids battled, played hard, and did some good things.

"It always concerns me when we play a team with their kind of size. Coach Odom really has them playing well defensively. We needed to get some easier shots and we didn't. Their sheer size and way they guard makes it tough."

Wofford returns to action Saturday when it hosts King at 1 p.m.

Today's Rating Percentage Index (RPI) shows the Wofford men's basketball team having played the second-most difficult schedule in Division I.

The RPI has been used by the NCAA since 1981 to supplement the selection of at-large teams and the seeding of all teams for the NCAA basketball tournament. It is derived from three component factors: Division I winning percentage, schedule strength, and opponent's schedule strength. Games against non-Division I opponents are not used in calculating the RPI.

The Terriers (3-4), ranked No. 112 out of 327 Division I programs, have had road games at Auburn, Clemson, Virginia Tech, West Virginia, and South Carolina in their opening seven contests. Wofford defeated Virginia Tech, 79-77, while going down to the wire in those other contests versus ACC, Big East, and SEC opponents. The Terriers still have upcoming road dates at NC State (Dec. 29) and Virginia (Jan. 2). Southeastern Louisiana has played the nation's most-difficult schedule.

The Sagarin Ratings have Wofford playing the seventh-most difficult schedule thus far while holding the No. 136 position in its Division I men's basketball rankings.

Mike Lenzly scored 12 points to become the 34th player in Wofford basketball history to reach 1,000 career points as the Terriers rolled to an 89-52 win over King College this afternoon in Spartanburg, S.C.

Lenzly reached 1,000 points exactly when he scored his final points of the game on a 3-pointer from the corner with 8:15 to play. He also added six rebounds, five assists, and four steals. He was one of five Terriers in double figures as all 11 Wofford players in uniform scored.

The Terriers (4-4) started slowly as the game was tied 2-2 over six minutes into the contest. However, Wofford then went on a 36-7 run over the next 11:06 en route to a 44-13 halftime lead.

Lee Nixon added 12 points and four assists, including the feed to Lenzly on his milestone trey. Freshman guard Byron Fields scored 10 points for his fourth consecutive game with a season-high in scoring. He had six points at West Virginia and eight at South Carolina in his previous two contests. Fellow rookies Tyler Berg and Howard Wilkerson also scored 10 points apiece with Berg adding a team-high nine rebounds.

"I'm very happy for Mike (Lenzly)," Wofford coach Mike Young said. "He works hard, plays hard, and has been a great player for us. He was probably the least excited about his 1,000th point, but that's just his personality. It's a nice milestone for him.

"Our three freshmen added energy and a spark for us when they came in the game. Our guys then played well the rest of the way. We were good with our shot selection and in transition."

Wofford shot 60.7 percent for the game, including 73.9 (17-of-23) in the second half. The Terriers limited the Tornado (5-7) to just 6-of-24 shooting (25.0 percent) in the opening 20 minutes. Wofford also held a 34-to-18 rebounding edge.

Dusan Vucen and Justin Seaver topped King with 19 and 17 points, respectively.

The Terriers will now break for Christmas and return to action next Sunday, Dec. 29, with a regionally-televised (FOX Sports Net) contest at NC State. Tip-off is 2 p.m. in Raleigh, N.C.

Julius Hodge had 26 points and 11 rebounds to lead No. 24 NC State to an 86-71 victory over Wofford before a crowd of 10,780 in Raleigh, N.C., and a regional television audience.

Lee Nixon and Mike Lenzly topped the Terriers with 15 and 14 points, respectively. Nixon added a team-best seven rebounds which also equaled a career-high for the senior guard. Freshman center Tyler Berg contributed 10 points off-the-bench.

A Nixon free-throw with 8:35 to play in the first half pulled Wofford (4-5) within 20-15. However, Hodge then keyed a 13-2 NC State run which helped the Wolfpack (7-1) to their 14-point margin at the intermission.

"They (Nixon and Lenzly) are two great senior guards," NC State guard Clifford Crawford said. "We really got prepared for them and really went over their actions in practice."

The Terriers shot just 37.0 percent in the opening 20 minutes, including missing all eight 3-point attempts, in falling behind 38-24 at the half. Wofford made 47.1 percent of its field-goal attempts in the second half in being outscored just 48-47.

N.C. State was 22-of-25 (88.0 percent) at the free-throw line while Wofford was just 14-of-23 (60.9 percent). The Terriers came into the game shooting 73.9 for the season at the charity stripe.

"I like how we competed the entire game," Wofford coach Mike Young said. "We kept battling and never quit."

"I like our team an awful lot. We did some good things and this game will help us when we enter conference play."

Six of the Terriers' nine opponents this season have been from the ACC, SEC, and Big East Conferences. Wofford will close its non-conference schedule Thursday at Virginia.

Crawford added 22 points for the Wolfpack, who entered the game having outscored their opponents by an average margin of 21.5 points.

The Game

The Wofford basketball team will close a rigorous non-conference schedule, ranked as the second-most difficult in the nation by the Sagarin Ratings, when it travels to Charlottesville, Va., for its first-ever meeting with the University of Virginia.

The Terriers will be facing their third ACC opponent of the season. Wofford has dropped 79-72 and 86-71 decisions, respectively, at Clemson and NC State.

The UVa game will be regionally televised on Comcast Sports and will mark a Homecoming for Wofford assistant coach Alex Peavey, a 1999 graduate of Virginia. Head coach Mike Young (Radford) and assistant Jimmy Allen (Roanoke) are also Virginia natives.

Worth Noting

•Wofford is the second smallest school in Division I with an enrollment of 1,100, behind only Centenary (850 students). Wofford actually has a higher SAT average (1236) than enrollment (1,100).

•Standout guard Justin Stephens is sidelined for the season after suffering a knee injury in the Nov. 24 Clemson game. He was a member of the All-SoCon Freshman team last year when he averaged 12.4 points, including 14.1 in league action.

•Wofford guards Lee Nixon and Mike Lenzly top the Terriers in scoring at 15.2 and 15.1 points, respectively. They are shooting a combined 43.7 percent from 3-point range.

Meet The Head Coach

After 13 seasons as a Wofford assistant to Richard Johnson, Mike Young is in his first year as head coach of the Terriers.

Johnson was promoted to athletic director last Dec. 3 with the announcement that he would coach Wofford just through the remainder of the 2001-02 season. His first head coaching hire, made that same day, was the elevation of Young effective at the close of the campaign.

A native of Radford, Va., and a 1986 graduate of Emory & Henry (Va.), Young helped guide Wofford from NCAA Division II to Division I Independent status in 1995-96 and the Southern Conference in 1997-98. In recognition of his contribution to the Terriers, Young was promoted to associate head coach in August 1998.

Young came to Wofford in 1989 after serving as a graduate assistant for one year at Radford. He was also an assistant at his alma mater for two seasons before moving on to Radford.

Young was honored in 2001 as America's Best Dressed Assistant Coach in a national contest conducted by www.collegeinsider.com.

About Wofford

•Located in Spartanburg, S.C., Wofford is one of only five independent colleges and universities to have a Phi Beta Kappa chapter in the Carolinas (Davidson, Duke, Furman, and Wake Forest are the others).

•Wofford is one of just three Division I colleges or universities to have the nickname Terriers. The others are Boston University and St. Francis (N.Y.).

•Founded in 1854, Wofford has an enrollment of 1,100, making it the smallest school in NCAA Division I-A or I-AA football.

•With 1,100 students, Wofford is the second smallest school in Division I. Only Centenary (La.) is smaller with 850 students. However, the Gentlemen do not field a football team.

•Famous Wofford graduates include Carolina Panther owner and founder Jerry Richardson and Air Force Head Football Coach Fisher DeBerry.

•Wofford ranks No. 1 among national liberal arts colleges in "operating efficiency," providing a quality education while spending relatively less.

In the 2000 NCAA Division I Graduation Rate Report, Wofford was the only school in the nation to rank in the Top 10 in all four categories: overall student-athlete graduation rate as well as those for the football, men's basketball, and women's basketball teams.

"There are no junk courses at Wofford that we could see, and we would certainly match its course of study with that of any school in the Ivy League."

There's Something about Wofford and Clemson

Wofford and Clemson have met in each of the last four seasons with those contests being decided by a total of just 19 points.

The Terriers won 79-74 in the 1999-00 campaign, while the Tigers have prevailed the last three seasons by a combined 14 points:

Year	Result
1999-00	Wofford 79-74
2000-01	Clemson 78-74
2001-02	Clemson 85-82
2002-03	Clemson 79-72

A Youthful Staff

The Wofford men's basketball coaching staff is the youngest in the country in a national study conducted by Radford University.

The average age of the four Terrier coaches is 29.8. Radford is second at 30.0.

Head Coach Mike Young is 39 and the graybeard on the staff. Assistant coaches Jimmy Allen (31), Alex Peavey (25), and Mark Prosser (24) are next in line.

Shooting the Rock

•The Terriers rank second in the SoCon in 3-point shooting percentage (37.4) while placing third in treys per game (7.9).

•Wofford was 13-of-23 (56.5 percent) from behind the arc in its 79-77 win at Virginia Tech (Dec. 2).

•Lee Nixon (15.2 ppg) and Mike Lenzly (15.1 ppg), the Terriers' top scorers, are shooting 42.9 percent (21-of-49) and 44.4 percent (24-of-54), respectively, from 3-point range. They shoot a combined 43.7 percent.

•Wofford has a 72.0 percentage at the free-throw line after a 66.6 mark last year. It's the Terriers' best effort at the charity stripe since a 73.4 percentage in the 1980-81 campaign.

Waiting in the Wings

Greg Taylor, a transfer from the University of South Carolina, is sitting out this season per NCAA transfer rules.

The 6-foot-5 guard will have two years of eligibility with the Terriers. Taylor signed with Eddie Fogler at USC after a highly decorated prep career at Hillcrest High School in Simpsonville, S.C.

Raising $$$$

Head Coach Mike Young's wife, Margaret, is the drive co-chairman for the Terrier Club, Wofford's fundraising organization which raised $1,021,289 last year in scholarship support for Terrier student-athletes.

Schedule Difficulty

•The tradition continues this season when it comes to Wofford facing one of the toughest schedules in the nation for a mid-major Division I program.

The Terriers opened the 2002-03 campaign with games at Auburn and Clemson in addition to traveling to Virginia Tech, West Virginia, South Carolina, NC State, and Virginia.

•In their opening 12 games last year, the Terriers played at Memphis, Clemson, Nebraska, NC State, and Georgia Tech. Wofford also played host to South Carolina.

•The RPI rankings, which take into account Division I games only, determined that Wofford's pre-Christmas schedule in 2000-01 was the most difficult in the nation. The Terriers had road games at Georgia Tech, South Carolina, Boston College, Alabama, Clemson, and Vanderbilt. Wofford was also home for William & Mary.

•According to the Sagarin Ratings in the 1999-00 season, Wofford played the nation's third toughest pre-Christmas schedule. Only Iowa and Temple faced more difficult slates.

Preseason Honors

Wofford point guard Mike Lenzly is a consensus preseason All-SoCon selection. He received honors from the league coaches in addition to several preseason publications.

A 6-foot-3 southpaw from Jonesboro, Ga., Lenzly has been an All-SoCon selection from the league media in each of the last two campaigns.

He posted Wofford's first-ever triple-double with 21 points, 12 assists, and 10 rebounds in a 105-69 victory over Chattanooga during the 2000-01 season.

Lenzly had 16 points, seven rebounds, and seven assists in the 79-77 win at Virginia Tech (Dec. 2) and flirted several times last year with another triple-double:

The 1,000-Point Club

Mike Lenzly became the 34th player in Wofford basketball history to reach 1,000 career points in the Dec. 21 win over King.

Lee Nixon, Lenzly's roommate, is next in line for that milestone as he needs just 62 points to reach the 1,000 career mark. He is projected to accomplish the feat on Jan. 18 at the College of Charleston, just outside his hometown of Hanahan, S.C.

Listed below are the individuals Lenzly will soon be passing on the Wofford career scoring list:

26. Collie Feemster	1,074	1974-76
27. Matt Allen	1,057	1990-94
28. Jerome Hall	1,033	1987-92
29. Doug Murray	1,031	1968-72
30. Twitty Carpenter	1,025	1954-58
30. Tom Miller	1,025	1983-87
32. Mike Lenzly	1,014	1999-03

Speaking of the Backcourt

"Those two guards, (Lee) Nixon and (Mike) Lenzly, can play in any conference in the country."

John Beilein, head coach
West Virginia University
(Dec. 14, 2002)

"They (Nixon and Lenzly) are two great senior guards. We really got prepared for them and really went over their actions in practice."

Clifford Crawford, NC State guard
(Dec. 29, 2002)

Nixon Named SoCon Player of the Week

Lee Nixon was named the Southern Conference Men's Basketball Player of the Week (Dec. 2-8) for his performance in a pair of Terrier wins.

Nixon scored 27 points in a 79-77 victory at Virginia Tech, representing Wofford's first-ever win over a Big East opponent. The senior from Hanahan, S.C., was 7-of-13 from the field, including 5-of-7 from 3-point range, in equaling the second-best scoring performance of his career. He played 39 minutes against the Hokies.

Nixon then added 13 points and seven assists in the 86-56 win over Virginia Inter mont.

For the week, Nixon averaged 20.0 points while shooting 66.7 percent (8-of-12) from 3-point range and 52.2 overall (12-of-23).

The Staff

The following is an inside look at Head Coach Mike Young's three assistants:

- Jimmy Allen is in his first season at Wofford after serving the last six years at Navy, helping guide the Midshipmen to a pair of Patriot League championships and NCAA Tournament berths.

Allen, like Young, is an Emory & Henry graduate who also coached at his alma mater upon his graduation.

- Alex Peavey is in his third year with the Terriers after working with the basketball program at Virginia Commonwealth.

He is the son of Marion Peavey, a 1965 Wofford graduate and former executive director of the NCAA Foundation.

- Mark Prosser, son of Wake Forest Head Coach Skip Prosser, joined the Terriers after graduating from Marist this past spring. He played for the Red Foxes before a knee injury ended his career. He then served as a student assistant coach.

The Trickle Down

The SoCon hiring a new commissioner last year resulted in Wofford naming a new head basketball coach.

With Danny Morrison leaving his Wofford senior vice-president position to become the SoCon commissioner, David Wood was promoted from athletic director to Morrison's vacated role.

Head Basketball Coach Richard Johnson was then promoted to athletic director with the Dec. 3 announcement that he would coach the Terriers just through the remainder of the 2001-02 season.

In his first official day as athletic director, Johnson made his first coaching hire. He tabbed longtime assistant Mike Young to take over the head coaching duties effective at the close of the campaign. Young is in his 14th year overall at Wofford.

Morrison hired Johnson to be Wofford's basketball coach in 1985.

Athlete Extraordinaire

Sophomore guard Adrien Borders earned All-SoCon honors and was the league's Freshman of the Year in outdoor track last season.

Borders placed second at the SoCon Championships in the triple jump (over 50 feet) and long jump (more than 24 feet). He also competed well as a sprinter.

The Lilburn, Ga., native is averaging 8.4 points after scoring at a 4.8 clip last year.

Stephens Sidelined for the Season

Wofford guard Justin Stephens, an All-SoCon Freshman team selection last season, will be sidelined for the remainder of the year after sustaining a knee injury in the first half of the Nov. 24 game at Clemson.

Stephens placed third among SoCon rookies last season with a 12.4 scoring average, with that mark increasing to 14.1 points in league action. He also topped all SoCon freshmen in assists (3.2 apg) while ranking 10th overall as he started all 29 games.

Stephens played in just two games this season and is eligible for a medical hardship year.

In his first collegiate game, he garnered attention when he outplayed heralded freshman and eventual NBA lottery pick Dajuan Wagner of Memphis. Stephens outscored Wagner (19-18) while totaling more assists (6-4) and blocks (1-0). He also had the same number of steals (2) and rebounds (1) while recording one less turnover (2-3).

Freshman Sensation

Freshman Tyler Berg's 11.6 points per game average is the highest by a Wofford center since John McGinnis scored at a 12.6 clip during the 1993-94 campaign.

Berg made a bid for All-Big East honors as he totaled 15 points and seven rebounds against both Virginia Tech and West Virginia. He also had 13 points and seven boards at Clemson.

The Mt. Holly, N.C., native tops the Terriers in rebounding (6.1 rpg) and with 37 trips to the free-throw line (70.3 percent).

Speaking of Berg

Following the Nov. 24 game at Clemson, in which Tyler Berg had 13 points and seven rebounds in just his second collegiate game, Tiger forward Chris Hobbs had the following to say about Wofford's freshman center:

"We talked about him in the locker room at the half. He had a good game and stepped up to the plate. He's going to have a good career if he plays like that. I don't know if we play Wofford again next year, but we'll have to be worried about him again if we do."

Streak Over

Dating back to last season, each of the last four games between Wofford and the College of Charleston have come down to the final possession in regulation.

Listed below are notables from the Terriers' 66-64 win last year over the Cougars in Charleston:

- Wofford became just the second SoCon team to win at the John Kresse Arena in CofC's four seasons of league play.

- Wofford nearly didn't make the trip to Charleston that day due to a statewide snowstorm.

- The Terriers had dropped 16 straight games to the Cougars dating back to Feb. 17, 1979.

- Wofford hadn't won at Charleston since Nov. 29, 1974, representing a stretch of 13 games. Former head coach and now Athletic Director Richard Johnson was in his junior year at The Citadel at the time.

This and That

- In the Sagarin Ratings through Dec. 29, Wofford is ranked No. 142 out of 327 Division I programs while playing the nation's second-most difficult schedule. Virginia is No. 33.

- The latest RPI Ratings show the Terriers at No. 115 and having played the third-toughest schedule in Division I.

Six of Wofford's opening nine games have been against ACC, SEC, and Big East competition.

- Facing six opponents from major conferences, the Terriers have been outrebounded by just seven boards (307-300). Wofford hasn't outrebounded its opposition in a season since 1993-94.

A UVa Homecoming

Wofford assistant coach Alex Peavey, a 1999 UVa graduate, worked four years in the Cavalier football recruiting office in addition to assisting in a statistical capacity for the sports information department.

Terrier Blood in the UVa Family

Colin Murray, son of longtime University of Virginia SID Rich Murray, is a junior at Wofford and a member of the Terrier golf team.

Whatever Happened To...

Former Terrier guard Ian Chadwick, arguably the best player in Wofford basketball history, is playing with the Mattersburg 49ers in the top division of Austria.

A 2001 Wofford graduate with a degree in business economics, Chadwick was a three-time All-SoCon selection and the league's career 3-point leader with 299.

Chadwick was the runner-up for SoCon Player of the Year honors his senior year and finished his career sixth on the Terriers' all-time scoring list with 1,789 points.

Future Terriers

The Wofford College men's basketball program has announced the signing of 6-foot-3 point guard Curtis Ingram and 6-foot-4 wing Eric Marshall to National Letters-of-Intent.

Ingram, a senior at Cardinal Mooney High School in Youngstown, Ohio, averaged 16.8 points, 6.4 rebounds, and 6.1 assists last year in earning first-team All-Conference and All-Northeast Ohio honors. He was also a third-team All-State selection.

"Curtis has a big, strong, football-type body in a point guard," Wofford Head Coach Mike Young said. "He has a good, compact stroke and will add a real element of toughness to our team. We really like the things that Curtis brings to us."

Marshall, a Grovetown, Ga., native, received first-team All-State accolades last year for Greenbrier High School. He averaged 21 points, nine rebounds, and five assists in earning team Most Valuable Player honors.

"I saw Eric play a lot this summer," Young said. "He possesses the type of skills that we look for in perimeter players.

"In losing two really good ones in Mike Lenzly and Lee Nixon after this season, it was crucial for us to find a couple of guys to come in and help our club. Eric is an outstanding shooter and we like his size. He is a very strong player and will be very good for us defensively. We believe he will help our team immediately."

The Fork Union Pipeline

Head Coach Mike Young played one season at Fork Union (Va.) Military Academy and refers to longtime FUMA coach Fletcher Arritt as one of his coaching mentors.

Freshman Howard Wilkerson is the sixth former FUMA player to land at Wofford during Young's 14 seasons with the Terriers:

Player	Yrs. at Wofford
John McGinnis	1990-94
Seth Chadwick	1993-97
Natter Miller	1994-98
Colon Largent	1998-01
Jeff Tarr	2001-present
Howard Wilkerson	2002-present

Still Puppies

After entering last season with just four players having more than one year of collegiate basketball experience, this year's Wofford squad is more seasoned but still relatively young.

Six of the 11 players who will dress this season are freshmen or sophomores, while the two juniors (Edmond Davis and David Eaton) both see limited action.

Terriers Close to Wins over ACC Teams

Wofford came very close to a pair of wins over ACC opponents last season.

The Terriers built double-digit leads at Clemson and Georgia Tech before falling 85-82 and 79-70, respectively.

Wofford held a 14-point first-half lead and led by 11 at the intermission against the Tigers. The game ended with the Terriers missing a 3-pointer at the buzzer that would have forced overtime.

The Terriers led the Yellow Jackets by 11 points with 17 minutes left before Georgia Tech used its depth to rally for the win.

Baby Watch

Head Coach Mike Young is set to become a father for the second time.

Young's wife, Margaret, is due on Jan. 20, the same night the Terriers are scheduled to host Chattanooga.

Versus The SoCon

Wofford has a 36-48 record (.429) in its five-year SoCon history which began with the Terriers in just their third season in Division I.

Wofford's league record against each team, including SoCon Tournament action, is listed below:

Team	Record
Appalachian State	1-4

Hanging Out with Grant

Starting forward Grant Sterley was the overwhelming favorite in a recent Wofford web page poll that asked, "Which Terrier player would you most like to spend the day with?"

Against the League

Since beginning SoCon play in the 1997-98 campaign, Wofford has posted the eighth-best record in the league. It's a mark made impressive when considering the Terriers' first year in the SoCon was only their third season in Division I. Listed below are the league records for each team since 1997-98 (not including SoCon Tournament games):

Team	Record
1. College of Charleston	50-14 (.781)

Game 4 -- Wofford 79, Virginia Tech 77
December 2, 2002
Blacksburg, Va.

Lee Nixon scored 27 points to give Wofford its first-ever victory over a Big East opponent as the Terriers defeated Virginia Tech, 79-77.

Wofford never trailed and built an 18-point lead before taking a 43-26 margin into the locker room at the intermission.

The Hokies, carrying a three-game winning streak that included a victory over Michigan, began the second half with an 8-0 run in just 1:08 to trim their deficit to 43-34. However, the Terriers would answer every run by Virginia Tech.

A Mike Lenzy 3-pointer extended the Wofford lead back to 13 points, 52-39, with 16:10 left. Lenzy, playing on a sore ankle, had 16 points, seven rebounds, and seven assists in 38 minutes as the Terrier backcourt was shorthanded with Justin Stephens sidelined.

The Hokies continued to chip away throughout the second half, cutting Wofford's edge to one at 58-57 on a Terry Taylor jumper with 8:34 remaining. The Terriers immediately answered with a Tyler Berg layup and Nixon try to regain a six-point lead, before Virginia Tech closed the gap again to just two points, 69-67, on a Carlos Dixon 3-pointer with 4:30 to play.

A pair of Lenzy free throws put Wofford ahead 77-71 with 47 seconds remaining. Virginia Tech's Dimari Thompkins cut the lead in half with a 3-pointer. After a Nixon free throw stretched the margin to four points, Taylor made it just one with a layup and free throw with 16 seconds left.

Adrien Borders then helped preserve the game, drawing a charge with seven seconds to play. Nixon converted a free throw with .9 seconds remaining to provide the final margin.

The 27 points for Nixon equaled the second-best game of his career. He went 5-of-7 from 3-point range and 7-of-13 overall. Wofford was 13-of-23 (56.5 percent) behind the arc.

Berg tallied 15 points and seven boards. Virginia Tech was led by the 6-foot-8, 285-pound Taylor, who had a double-double of 21 points and 10 rebounds.

The game was a successful homecoming for Wofford Head Coach Mike Young, who grew up in Radford, Va., just outside of Blacksburg.

Game 6 -- West Virginia 79, Wofford 69
December 14, 2002
Morgantown, W.Va.

In their bid for a second straight win over a Big East opponent, the Terriers went down to the wire with West Virginia before dropping a 79-69 decision.

Wofford had three consecutive dunks in a 1:30 span, including a pair of spectacular alley-oop slams by Lee Nixon, to close within 60-55 with 6:33 to play. However, the Mountaineers answered with a 9-0 run to build their margin back to 14 with 4:23 left. Mike Lenzy then had six points to key an 8-2 spurt that cut the Terrier deficit to 71-63 with 2:42 remaining.

Nixon topped the Terriers with 19 points while freshman center Tyler Berg contributed 15 points and seven rebounds off-the-bench.

West Virginia, with a win over Florida earlier this season, shot 78.3 percent (18-of-23) in the second half and 63.3 for the game. The Mountaineers were 8-of-17 from 3-point range.

Wofford held a 33-21 rebounding edge, including 17-to-5 on the offensive end. However, the Terriers were just 3-of-16 behind the arc.

Game 7 -- South Carolina 70, Wofford 59 December 16, 2002 Columbia, S.C.

Wofford built a six-point second-half lead before the University of South Carolina rallied for a hardfought 70-59 victory before a crowd of 10,028 at the Carolina Center in Columbia and a regional television audience.

Already without standout guard Justin Stephens, sidelined for the season with a knee injury, Wofford also played without starting forward Grant Sterley. The senior was a last-minute scratch due to food poisoning. Freshman Howard Wilkerson made his first collegiate start as the Terriers often had three freshmen on the court at the same time.

Trailing 27-24 at the intermission, the Terriers opened the second half with an 11-2 run, keyed by five points from Sam Daniels, to take their largest lead of the night at 35-29 on an Adrien Borders layup with 16:19 to play. Borders topped Wofford with 13 points and a career-high eight rebounds. Daniels scored all 10 of his points in the second half.

The Gamecocks scored the next 13 points to regain a 42-35 margin with 12:54 remaining. Lee Nixon then hit a 3-pointer and a running jumper to cut the Terrier deficit to 42-40 with 12:18 to play. Nixon had nine points while playing all 40 minutes.

Wofford was still within five points, 50-45, after a Tyler Berg free-throw with 8:35 remaining.

USC then scored the next 11 points to build a 16-point lead before the Terriers again answered. A 12-4 run, sparked by consecutive 3-pointers by Mike Lenzly and capped by a Borders trey, pulled Wofford within 65-57 with 2:08 to play.

"It's a good thing we prepared for Wofford tonight because, if we hadn't, we would have lost the game," South Carolina Head Coach Dave Odom said. "Every team that Wofford has played similar to us, they have taken it straight down to the end.

"Wofford is a very scrappy team and they are well coached. The Terrier fans have to be happy because (Head Coach) Mike Young has them headed in the right direction."
