To All Wofford College Non-Faculty Employees:

Effective Monday, February 4, 2002, the College amended its policy on employee attendance during severe winter weather. The policy as detailed in the Non-Faculty Employee Handbook is printed in its entirety below, with changes shown in bold print:

Severe Weather Policy

Since the College has resident students, we must have services available at all times. In the event of severe winter weather, each employee should check with his/her immediate supervisor regarding work schedules before 8:30 a.m. and listen to a local news station for any announcements. Safety is Wofford's main concern for both students and employees.

Any employee approved for absence due to weather in the morning must check in with his/her immediate supervisor by noon that same day to reassess the weather situation. Absence due to severe weather in the morning hours may not necessitate absence during afternoon work hours. It is important that employees return to work as soon as feasible.

- Interim work due

Interim Evaluations

---

All students are asked to participate in the Evaluation of Interim. Please visit www.woffordcollege.org/interim/ and complete this very simple online form. Your input is essential to the success of the Interim and we appreciate your taking the time to give us your honest and constructive assessment. All evaluations are anonymous, and will be available to the faculty after grades have been submitted.

---

Today is the final day of Interim; all students' project work should be completed. Any work unavoidably not finished by this date must be completed and submitted to instructors by February 8 at noon in order for students involved to qualify for consideration for passing evaluation for projects. This work will only be accepted in extraordinary circumstances and only with the permission of the instructor.

New Fitness Center Procedures

Due to security reasons, starting February 11, 2002, all students, faculty and staff that use the Fitness Center (weight room, fitness room, dance/aerobics room and racquetball courts) must sign in at the Fitness Center desk before working out. Then, effective February 18, all persons wanting to use the Fitness Center from 6:00 p.m. – 10:00 p.m. must sign in and present your college ID card at the Fitness Center desk. You will not be allowed to work out or use any equipment unless you have your ID card with you. Just as a reminder, the Fitness Center hours for the spring semester are as follows:

Monday – Thursday 7:30 a.m. – 10:00 p.m.
Friday 7:30 a.m. – 7:00 p.m.
Saturday 12:00 p.m. – 10:00 p.m.
Sunday 2:00 p.m. – 10:00 p.m.

Also, the Fitness Center is for current Wofford students, faculty and staff only. Thank you for your cooperation with these new policies.

Wofford College Bookstore - Feb 28th Schedule

---

The Wofford College Bookstore will be closed for the first half of the day on Thursday February 28th but will reopen at 1:00pm that afternoon.

We apologize for the inconvenience but we will have our annual inventory and it will be necessary for us to be closed for business during those hours.

Reward for keys

---

I will gladly pay a reward to the person who finds my keys. I lost them either between Main Circle and the Olin building, or in the Olin Building itself. They are on a keychain with a silver shoe on it. Please call Karen Goodchild at x4601.

Literary Salon 2002: Inspiring a Nation of People

In celebration of African-American History Month the second annual Literary Salon 2002: Inspiring a Nation of People will be held. Interested faculty, students, and staff members should e-mail literarysalon@hotmail.com with your name and selected reading by February 10, 2002. These may include, but are not limited to poems, speeches and excerpts from plays, novels, etc. written for or by African-Americans. We would prefer for recitations to be no longer than three minutes. The Literary Salon will be held on Sunday, February 24, 2002 in the Papadopoulos Room at 6:30 p.m. Thank you in advance for your support.

Southern Voices--Troubadours at Wofford - Tonight

Scott Ainslie, Blues guitarist and singer, and Glenis Redmond, poet, will be performing at Wofford this evening, Tuesday, February 5, at 7:00 p.m. in the Papadopoulos Building. This program is offered by the Troubadour Series and the Office of Multicultural Affairs in celebration of Black History Month.

Here are some details about 'Southern Voices' in the performers' own words: 'Tonight we will take you on a personal tour of the southern landscape. In solo and collaborative voices, we will conjure the South, gently defining it and marking its bounty and burdens. Our voices will mix Blues and Gospel songs with poetry and spoken word; slide and ragtime guitar with personal and public histories. We hope to express a personal understanding that echoes the brilliance and darkness of the south wrapped in words worn smooth as river stones by the repetition of grandmothers, daughters, and mothers, and by the songs and stories polished up like a National Guitar slung across the back of a century. We want to embrace you this evening, to lift you up, and leave you slyly better educated, perhaps impressed, but most certainly, moved.'

Don't miss this free event at Wofford!

Invitation from Davidson
-----

*Greetings from the Davidson College Bioethics Society!

We are pleased to announce the inaugural year of the Students' Pre-Conference Workshops of the Speas Symposium to be held March 13, 2002. This bioethics forum is an important undergraduate event focusing on 'Responsibility for Health Status.' A range of topics will touch on issues concerning genetics, reproductive issues, ethics in biomedical research, the interactions of faith and medical practices, as well as stigma and illness as represented in contemporary literary works (will most probably focus on AIDS issues). This event will begin with a morning of introductory remarks and an open panel discussion, followed by an afternoon of small group sessions. This forum is a unique opportunity for students to interact with distinguished professionals, scientists, ethicists, as well as students from other colleges and universities through an exchange of information, ideas, and opinions.

For more information, please visit <http://www.davidson.edu/student/organizations/bioethics/Forum/Forum.htm>

Campus Safety

- Don't leave valuables laying in your vehicle. They become a target for those looking to rip you off. We have had some people loose items from their vehicles.
- Don't park on Memorial Drive, we have more problems with Breakins and vandalism there than anywhere else on or around campus.
- Park in student parking lots, in marked spaces.

All Organizations Must Recharter

The Student Affairs Committee of the College has begun the process of re-chartering all student organizations that operate on the campus. The student-leader(s) of the organization should consult the faculty/staff advisor and complete the form which has been posted on the Student Affairs web site (<http://www.wofford.edu/studentlife/charter.htm>) by 5:00 pm on Friday, February 15, 2002. Attachments to the form can be sent electronically or by hard copy through the campus mail if necessary.
Thank you

Policy on the Responsible and Ethical Use of Wofford College Technology Resources

Over the past six months members of the President's staff, the Information Technology staff, the Academic Computing Committee, and the Technology Committee have worked on a policy that defines the responsible and ethical use of Wofford College technology resources. The College expects that our technology will be used in a legally and ethically appropriate way and that persons who have been assigned a user account and password for the College's network will abide by the policy.

The Policy on the Responsible and Ethical Use of Wofford College Technology Resources, which replaces the former Computer Services Policies, can be found at the URL http://www.wofford.edu/technology/acceptable\_use.htm . The policy also can be reached from the Wofford web page by following the path outlined below:

Wofford Information Network

Policies: Responsible and Acceptable Use

Because information technologies change so rapidly, updates to the Responsible and Ethical Use Policy may be made at any time. It is the responsibility of the user to keep informed of the guidelines. A more detailed explanation of some of the guidelines is available on the Wofford web site.

Modeling Workshops

June 2 - June 8, the Shodor Foundation as part of the National Computational Sciences Institute (NCSI) sponsored by the National Science Foundation will offer a one-week workshop on modeling. 'Introduction to Computational Science.' at Appalachian State University. Over the past two years, six Wofford Faculty members have attended similar workshops, which were excellent. Except for the cost of the drive to Boone, NCSI covers all expenses, including room and board. The schedule for this and other NCSI summer workshops is posted at:

<http://www.computationalscience.net> (click on workshops)

If you have a question about the workshops, you might want to ask one of the former Wofford participants, Ellen Goldey, Lee Hagglund, Bob Moss, George Shiflet, Dan Welch, or me. Please send me email if you plan to apply, so I can tell you of others who are applying.

If you are interested in using modeling in the classroom, please let me know. It probably can be arranged through NCSI funding for a Wofford student, who has done modeling, to help you.

Lost purse

I left a small jean purse with a zipper along the top in the women's restroom in Main on Monday, the 18th. It was last seen on Tuesday morning on the couch next to the mirror. I believe that someone has inadvertently picked it up along with her stuff. It has an earring in it which is of great sentimental value, so if everyone could look through her stuff and see if she has this, I would really really appreciate it! Please contact me at welchec@wofford.edu if you believe you have it. Thank you!

Residential Learning Program

Students interested in taking Biology 212, Chemistry 123, and Philosophy 225 this coming fall Residential Learning Program in Biology, Chemistry, and Philosophy

Drs. Arrington, Kay, and Moss will be creating a "residential learning community" for 2002-2003. Twenty-four students will live together on the 2nd floor of DuPre, and will study biology, chemistry, and philosophy together as a group. In the fall, all twenty four students will register for biology 212 [genetics and development], chemistry 123 [introductory chemistry], and philosophy 225 [science and religion], together in the same sections whenever possible. The faculty will meet with you in the dorm over "munchies" one evening a week.

ROOMS:

- We have reserved rooms in DuPre for this project. If you are selected for this project, you will not participate in the room lottery.
- You may apply with a roommate who would also like to be in the program; or you may apply individually and we will make an effort to match you up with other interested students. All applicants will be informed of the results prior to the room lottery.

You can pick up an application in the biology office, or download from:
ftp://biology2/residential\_app.PDF

Please fill out the form and return it to Dr. Moss by March 13, 2002.

Speaker on Law and Genetics

Albert Scherr, Associate Dean and Professor of Law at Franklin Pierce Law Center in NH will speak in Olin Theater on Thursday, 2/28, 7 pm. The title of his talk will be: 'Genetic Identity: Rhetoric or Reality?' Mr. Scherr is an excellent and entertaining speaker, and has expertise in forensic DNA evidence, as well as legal issues surrounding the Human Genome Project. All students, faculty and staff are welcome to attend.

Student Discounts at Jazzercise Center

The Spartanburg Jazzercise Center, located at the intersection of Church and St. John Streets downtown, offers a range of cardiovascular and strength training classes that are open to Wofford students at a 10 percent discount. To receive a brochure and additional details, call 579-7534. (This announcement is for information only and should not be interpreted as a college endorsement of these services.)

Speaker Tonight on Law and Genetics

Albert Scherr, Associate Dean and Professor of Law at Franklin Pierce Law Center in NH will speak in Olin Theater on Thursday, 2/28, 7 pm. The title of his talk will be: 'Genetic Identity: Rhetoric or Reality?' Mr. Scherr is an excellent and entertaining speaker, and has expertise in forensic DNA evidence, as well as legal issues surrounding the Human Genome Project. All students, faculty and staff are welcome to attend.

Invitation to Hear

You are invited to hear representatives of the Mennonite, Mormon, and Moravian Churches in the Religion in American seminar, Holcombe Room, Burwell, 3:15-6:15 p.m., Thursday, February 28.

Pastor Patrick J. McFarren of the Mennonite Church in Asheville and Bishop John Alexander Stephenson (and two missionaries) of the Mormons join resident Moravian Dr. John M. Bullard in a discussion of the 3-M Religions.

A Pilgrimage to Medjugorje

All are welcome to join the Newman Club in Mickel Chapel for a special Lenten journey on this Sunday night, March 3, at 6:30 p.m. Our speakers will be Ann Marie Rowe and Ann Stozzo, better known locally as 'The Anns,' owners of the Catholic Shoppe on North Dean Street. They will talk about their trip to the Marian shrine in Medjugorje — why they went, what they saw, and the great sadness that has accompanied the civil wars in former Yugoslavia. Following the talk, they will lead the 'Medjugorje Rosary,' a meditation that has become traditional at the site. We will have Rosaries and instructions available for those who want them, but others are welcome to listen in silence.

Economics Speaker Today

George Ayittey, economics professor at the American University in Washington, DC and president of the Free Africa Foundation, will be giving a talk in Leonard Auditorium at 3PM today. Dr. Ayittey has written extensively on economic development problems in Africa, and is the author of the award-winning book Africa Betrayed. All are invited.
