World Premiere of September 11th Elegy--at Wofford

Ayako Yonetani, nationally renowned violinist, returns to Wofford College for a special performance at 11:00 a.m., Tuesday, March 12th, in Leonard Auditorium of Main, at which she will perform works by Bach, Beethoven, Dvorak, and Paganini, concluding with the World Premiere of an Elegy for Solo Violin and String Ensemble composed by Dr. Stella Sung, a reflection on the aftermath of September 11th's terrors. She will be accompanied by Evan Solomon, pianist, and the strings ensemble will be composed of six Wofford students and staff and three Spartanburg High School orchestra members conducted by Dr. William R. Scott, conductor of the Spartanburg Philharmonic.

Opening for a Youth Director In Chattanooga

Rock Spring United Methodist in Walker County, northwest Georgia--twenty miles from downtown Chattanooga, Tennessee--is looking for an individual to serve as director of youth. A knowledge of the Methodist church and its curriculum is desired. Program development and implementation skills are essential to this job. Send your resume to Rev. Bob Infinger, Pastor, Rock Spring UMC, P.O. Box 117, Rock Spring, GA 30739. For information on this and other full-time opportunities, go to <http://wofford.jobdirect.com> and register by uploading your resume. If you need resume help, call J. Akers at 4261.

Mtn. Biking @ Southside Park

Mountain Biking Trip to Southside Park (Spartanburg) sponsored by Wofford Outdoors. Meet at 1pm, Saturday March 9th in the Campus Life Building Lobby. Come get your adrenaline fix with Wofford Outdoors. Ride at your own pace while you enjoy the beautiful trails. Cost: Free, unless you need a rental bike. Call Palmer Straughn by 5pm Thursday to reserve a high-performance rental ($10). Snacks will be provided

Rayner to Hold Book Signing March 7

Dr. Doug Rayner will hold an autograph session on Thursday, March 7, for his newly published book, "A Guide to the Wildflowers of South Carolina." Rayner co-authored the book with Richard Dwight Porcher, professor of biology and director of the herbarium at The Citadel in Charleston, S.C.

The book signing will be held from 4 to 5:30 p.m. in the Acorn Café and Great Oaks Hall of the Roger Milliken Science Center at Wofford College. Books will be available for purchase. The event is free and open to the public.

Change in the Business Office

Mary Lynn Yarnall has resigned from Wofford College. We wish her well in her future endeavors. In the interim, please address all payroll inquiries to Heather Mosesley, ext. 4224 (moseleyhh@wofford.edu).

Found a Macroeconomics textbook

Please come by the Campus Ministry Office on the first floor Main Building if you have lost a Macroeconomics Textbook. IT also had class notes someone had gotten off the Professor's webpage. It was found in the balcony of Leonard Auditorium.

PSA tonight!

Join us at PSA for guitar lessons/practice at 7 p.m. - other instruments are welcome. At 7:30 p.m., we have lasagna for dinner. At 8 p.m., we sing, take prayer requests, make announcements, and our program: God's plan for my life!? 582-5600 for directions!

Rotaract Club Meeting - Thursday, Mar. 7th

The Rotaract Club will have Dr. Donald Winkelmann, Woodrow Wilson Visiting Fellow, as guest speaker for its meeting on Thursday, Mar. 7th. Winkelmann has worked with CGIAR to alleviate poverty and protect the environment in the developing world, a purpose similar to some programs of Rotary Foundation.

Everyone is invited to bring your tray down to the Holcombe Room, Burwell Building, at noon on Thursday.

Contact Dr. Akers at akersjc@wofford.edu or x4261 for more information.

Wofford Bookstore Book Returns

As we are well into spring semester, it is time for us to begin book returns. If you have not purchased a book for a class yet that you will need, please do so by Wednesday March 6th. If you know you will need a book and cannot purchase it before Wednesday, please call and make arrangements for the book to be held for you. Thank you for your cooperation.

Twin Tower's Service Day

Come enjoy a fun day of service!! This Saturday, March 9th, Twin Towers is hosting its annual 'Habitat For Humanity Day'. Please meet behind Old Main at 9:00 am so we can carpool to Una, the site where we will be helping to build a house for those in need! The event lasts from 9-12, so come out whenever you can! Also, we will have our 'Sunny Saturday' this Saturday from 11:00-12:30 pm in Shipp Hall Lounge. Come play games and have fun with the mentally challenged adults of Spartanburg! Any questions? Summer Interim Project

'Wing to Wing and Oar to Oar:' A Reflection on Courtship and Marriage Through Readings in Literature and Philosophy

The intention of the course is to recover an understanding of the centrality of marriage to human life and the primary importance of the choice of a spouse and preparation for marriage.

Please remember that you need to successfully complete four Interims to be eligible to graduate. If you have previously failed an Interim, this would be the ideal time to make up the deficit. If you have any questions, please call the Registrar's Office at ext. 4030.

Position available in the Business Office

Payroll/Accounting Staff

The Business Office seeks full-time payroll/accounting staff with a minimum of five years experience in payroll. Background should include hands on experience in payroll processing, payroll tax reporting, accounts payable and accounts receivable processing, and proficiency in standard Windows MS office programs. Must be a detail-oriented individual who enjoys working in a team environment. Salary and benefits will be commensurate with experience. EOE.

Send resume with education, experience and salary requirements to the attention of Cammie Truesdale in the Business Office. No phone calls please.

Church-State Seminar Thursday

Professors A. K. Anderson, Robert C. Jeffrey, and William E. DeMars will discuss Church-State Relations and Issues in American Religious History for the Religion 340 Seminar Thursday afternoon, 3:15-6:15 p.m., Holcombe Room. Law Student Jon B. Williams '00 will be present as a resource aide. Members of the Wofford community are invited to attend. Recent legislation proposed related to posting the Ten Commandments makes the topic timely.

Spanish National Honor Society to Induct Students

Eighteen Wofford students are to be inducted into Sigma Delta Pi, National Spanish Honor Society, at noon on Thursday, March 14. This is the largest group Wofford has had since the Gamma Xi chapter began in the 1950s. The ceremony will be in the AAAS lounge, followed by lunch and entertainment by Nancy Heis, a folk singer from Argentina. Several Wofford faculty and staff will be present. The current president is Beth Hawley; Michael Echemendia is the treasurer.

Dr. Joe Sloan will be interviewing for the computer science position this Thursday, March 14. Everyone is invited to attend Dr. Sloan's talk on 'Some Economic Implications of Moore's Law' at 11:00 a.m. in OB 213. The talk will first cover Moore's Law, which predicts that the power of computers will double about every 18 months. Next, a scenario will be introduced and refined which illustrates the implications of declining prices on the strategy of buying surplus capacity. Both quantitative and qualitative factors will be considered. Relevant economic concepts, (fixed and variable costs and the time value of money) will be explained briefly as needed.

Express your opinion

The Student Affairs Committee of the College will hold an open meeting from 11:00 am - 12:00 noon on Thursday, March 14 in the Holcombe Room on the first floor of the Burwell Building. The purpose of this meeting is to hear opinions from any member of the college community for or against the chartering of organizations. If you have any questions, please refer them to Dean Bigger.

Convocation Speeches

The Communications Office has produced an audio cassette with recordings of the February convocation speeches of the Rev. Lyndon Harris and Habitat for Humanities founder Millard Fuller. If you would like a copy, just come by the Papadopoulos Building and ask for one.

Personnel Changes in the Athletic Department

David Graves has accepted an assistant coaching position with the Western Kentucky University women's basketball team. David has served as head coach for our women's basketball program for the past six years and we wish him well as he returns home to his alma mater.

Drew Watson has accepted a position at Coastal Carolina University as Assistant Football Coach. Drew has been a valuable member of the football program for the past 13 years and we wish him and his family the best.

As many of you are aware, John Blair has stepped aside as Head Men's Soccer Coach to fulfill a position in the Student Affairs Office as Conference Coordinator. John served as head coach for 16 years and we appreciate all that he contributed to the soccer program.

The Athletic Department will be holding a reception on Wednesday, March 27 from 3:00pm until 4:30pm in the Verandah Room. Please join us as we thank Coach Blair for his work in the soccer program and to wish Coach Watson a fond farewell. (Note: Coach Graves has already assumed responsibilities in his new position, therefore he will be unable to attend the reception.)

Hula for Health Today from 11:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m.

Today in the Campus Life Building...you'll find Terrier Bucks for doorprizes, giveaways, screenings, massage therapy, stress relief, tie-dye t-shirts, food, and much more...come on down and take a break from it all from 11:00 a.m. - 2:00 p.m.

Internships in Reproductive Health and HIV/AIDS

Family Health International - Youthnet Program
Internship Opportunities in Reproductive Health and HIV/AIDS
2002

The YOUTHNET Program of Family Health International (FHI) announces an eleven-week internship program designed to give current or recent undergraduate university students from developing countries experience in designing, implementing and evaluating youth reproductive health(YRH) and HIV/AIDS programs. Six positions, based in the Washington,DC area are available. The internship program will run from May 27 to August 9, 2002.

YOUTHNET is a global program, managed by FHI, committed to improving the reproductive health(RH)and HIV/AIDS prevention behaviors of youth 10-24 years old. It is designed to meet the unique, complex and often wide-ranging RH and HIV prevention needs of young people as well as those of their parents and other adults who work with youth and influence their well-being. As such, YOUTHNET collaborates with youth,parents, religious and community leaders, policymakers, schools, health professionals, employers, the media, non-governmental organizations(NGOs) and other youth networks to improve the RH of young people worldwide. Supported by the U.S. Agency for International Development(USAID), YOUTHNET works to strengthen programs, conduct research, strengthen policy, disseminate information and improve services that address the RH and AIDS prevention needs and rights of youth.

How Will The Internship Work?

Each intern will develop a collaborative relationship with YOUTHNET staff working in one of six technical areas related to YRH and HIV/AIDS. These are:

- Health Communications & Youth Leadership
- Research and Evaluation
- Private Sector & Corporate Social Responsibility
- Policy and Gender
- Country Program Management
- Journalism & Electronic Media

Interns will receive free housing (if needed) and an expense allowance of $300 per week. Travel to/from the Washington, DC area to participate in the internship will be paid up to $400 per individual.

Who Should Apply?

Preference will be given to dynamic individuals from developing countries currently enrolled in or recently graduated from US-based undergraduate universities who expect to return to their country of origin after their studies are complete. Individuals must have particular interests or skills in YRH and HIV/AIDS in developing country contexts and one or more of the technical areas listed above. Foreign language and computer skills are desirable.

How Do I Apply?

Applicants should send a current resume or C.V.; a cover letter identifying their technical skills and interests with an explanation of why the internship matches the applicant's career goals; and a letter of recommendation from the applicant's advisor, professor or supervisor in an applicable field. Deadline for receipt of applications is April 1.

Applications and inquiries can be sent via e-mail to youthnetinterns@fhi.org, or by mail to:

YouthNet Interns
Family Health International
2101 Wilson Blvd., Suite 700
Arlington, VA 22201

- Pre-Registration Meeting: New Course Opportunities
- Requests for reports or labels -- New schedule
- Interim Filmmakers Screen Documentary for Campus
- Renowned Southern Historian Speaks March 28th

Pre-Registration Meeting: New Course Opportunities

Dr. Goldey, Dr. Dunlap, and Dr. Maultsby will hold an important meeting with students to inform them about opportunities for new courses next fall. Students will need this information to pre-register for fall semester. The meeting is 11:00 am in Leonard Auditorium on Tuesday (this week, Mar 26).

Requests for reports or labels -- New schedule

The conversion and the implementation of the new Banner database is beginning to require long uninterrupted periods of time in which Reba Epton works with the SCT remote DBA. The remote DBA services end in November and would be prohibitively expensive to continue after then. To avoid interruptions, Information Technology will fill requests for reports, lists, labels, etc. only on Wednesday of each week. Requests must be submitted by Thursday of the previous week.

Requests for payroll labels and lists should be directed to Heather Moseley. Payroll requests, which will be filled only on Monday of each week, must be submitted by Tuesday of the previous week.

This schedule will be effective on April 1, 2002. We are sorry for any inconvenience that this may cause other offices. Oracle DBA time is very expensive and we must use the remaining eight months wisely.

Interim Filmmakers Screen Documentary for Campus

Over interim, Kenny Camacho, Evan Derrick, and Kristofer Neely filmed and edited an hour long documentary about the weekly Confederate flag protests that occur in front of the Spartanburg Area Chamber of Commerce.

The film is showing tonight in the Olin Theater at 9:00 PM.

Both students and faculty are encouraged to attend.

Renowned Southern Historian Speaks March 28th

Religion 340 (American Religious History) will present David Goldfield on Thursday, March 28, in the Montgomery Room of Burwell Building. Members of the campus community are invited to hear him discuss Religion in the South, a theme in his new book, Still Fighting the Civil War.

Goldfield is Robert Lee Bailey Professor of History at UNC-Charlotte. A native of Memphis, he grew up in Brooklyn, New York, and attended the University of Maryland. He is the author or editor of thirteen books dealing with the history of the American South, including two works, Cotton Fields and Skyscrapers: Southern City and Region, 1607-1980 (1982) and Black, White, and Southern: Race Relations and Southern Culture, 1940 to the Present (1991), nominated for the Pulitzer Prize in history which received the Mayflower Award for Non-Fiction. His new book, Still Fighting the Civil War: The American South and Southern History appeared in March 2002. He is the editor of the Journal of Urban History, and serves on the Editorial Boards of several leading historical publications both in the U.S. and abroad.

In addition to his writing and research, Goldfield serves as an expert witness in voting rights and death penalty cases, as a consultant on the American South to museums and public television, and works for the U.S. State Department as an Academic Specialist, leading workshops on American history and culture in foreign countries. Among his leisure-time activities are listening to Gustav Mahler and Buddy Holly, and coaching girls' fastpitch softball.

The first hour of the class (3:15-4:15) will feature a viewing of the student-produced documentary on the Spartanburg Confederate Flag advocate. Dr. Goldfield will speak at 4:30 and answer questions afterward. The class adjourns at 6:15 p.m.

Hear Southern Historian March 28th

Religion 340 (American Religious History) will present David Goldfield on Thursday, March 28, in the Montgomery Room of Burwell Building. Members of the campus community are invited to hear him discuss Religion in the South, a theme in his new book, Still Fighting the Civil War.

Goldfield is Robert Lee Bailey Professor of History at UNC-Charlotte. A native of Memphis, he grew up in Brooklyn, New York, and attended the University of Maryland. He is the author or editor of thirteen books dealing with the history of the American South, including two works, Cotton Fields and Skyscrapers: Southern City and Region, 1607-1980 (1982) and Black, White, and Southern: Race Relations and Southern Culture, 1940 to the Present (1991), nominated for the Pulitzer Prize in history which received the Mayflower Award for Non-Fiction. His new book, Still Fighting the Civil War: The American South and Southern History appeared in March 2002. He is the editor of the Journal of Urban History, and serves on the Editorial Boards of several leading historical publications.

Goldfield serves as an expert witness in voting rights and death penalty cases, as a consultant on the American South to museums and public television, and works for the U.S. State Department as an Academic Specialist, leading workshops on American history and culture in foreign countries. Among his leisure-time activities are listening to Gustav Mahler and Buddy Holly, and coaching girls' fastpitch softball.

The first hour of the class (3:15-4:15) will feature a viewing of the student-produced documentary on the Spartanburg Confederate Flag advocate. Dr. Goldfield will speak at 4:30 and answer questions afterward. The class adjourns at 6:15 p.m.

Mike Kohler to speak at Rotaract Club on Thursday

Mike Kohler, president of the Downtown Rotary Club of Spartanburg, will speak to the Rotaract Club at noon on Thursday, Mar. 28 in the Holcombe Room.

Kohler, a retired business leader, will talk about Rotarian principles and the opportunity for Rotaracters to attend a summer conference, sponsored by the Downtown Club. All members of the Wofford community are invited to attend.

For more information, please contact Lucas McMillan at x4928 or mcmillansl@wofford.edu

Junior Class Resumes

All members of the junior class are asked to submit a resume to Prof. Akers in the Career Services office by May 1--many have taken care of this already. Please email him a draft in a Microsoft Word document (akersjc@wofford.edu) or bring your resume to his office in Burwell, downstairs.

Students are invited and encouraged to come to Career Services for critiquing of their resumes.

Voter Registration Applications Available

Voter registration applications are available in the Office of Communications with the Public Policy Committee. All students, faculty and staff that are not currently registered to vote are invited to request an application from any state.

During 2002 in South Carolina, primary and general elections will be held for members of the SC House, US House, one US Senate seat, SC Governor and all constitutional officers of SC.

For more information, see <http://www.wofford.edu/publicpolicy> or contact Lucas McMillan at x4184 or mcmillansl@wofford.edu.
