Faculty/Staff Achievements

Here's another reminder -- We'd love to hear about your recent professional accomplishments, so we can use them in Wofford Today and perhaps other outlets, such as the web. Please email activities to Laura Corbin at laura.corbin@wofford.edu. Also, please keep Laura updated on the campus activities in which you are involved -- if you have events scheduled on campus, please be sure to email the details to Laura so she can get them on the web calendar and the Outlook calendar. (If you're not sure whether your event is there, just check the online calendar and the calendar in Public Folders in Outlook.) If you have questions, please email Laura or call her at 4180.

- Sculpture on the Central Lawn

Sculpture on the Central Lawn

The first sculpture in the TRIBUTE TO TREES exhibition has been installed on the central lawn in front of the President's home.

The sculptor, Kipp McIntyre of Tryon, North Carolina is a graduate of the Atlanta College of Art and has exhibited widely in the Atlanta area, most recently in The Emory Chairs Show, an invitational outdoor sculpture exhibition on the campus of Emory University.

His work, Planting, in painted wood and metal, 'creates a whimsical world where tree limbs sprout fanciful leaves and measuring stakes record dimensions in an ever-changing standardized rule.' It is his intention to bring to the mind of the viewer thoughts of beginnings, buddings, and new roots.

The exhibition pays tribute to the trees lost during last winter's ice storm. Nine sculptors were invited to participate, with each creating an outdoor sculpture. The only requirement was that as part of the sculpture, timber from the downed trees would be used. A corresponding exhibition will be located in the Library gallery; this show will designs and photographs leading to the sculptures, as well as views of the storm that prompted the loss of the trees.

The remaining sculptures will be installed during the next two weeks or so, with the exhibition officially opening on September 1st.

Fall Book Orders

In order to avoid any problems, which may develop over textbooks this fall, I would like to invite you to come to the bookstore and check that we have ordered the correct books for your classes. Textbooks today come in many incarnations including multiple package options with numerous ancillary materials, constantly changing editions, switches between publishers, etc. We would like to minimize any surprise which may arise during back-to-school, particularly those which may have risen due to miscommunication. If you are not able to visit the bookstore in the next two weeks, please visit our web site at www.wofford.bkstr.com. If you search your class by section number you will be able to view the books we are listing for your classes.

For those who have already checked with us, thank you very much.

Please feel free to send questions or comments our way either to Wofford@bkstr.com or x4060.

- Tribute to Trees

Tribute to Trees

The second sculpture in the TRIBUTE TO TREES exhibition has been installed on the central lawn near the large magnolia.

The sculptor, Amy Goldstein-Rice of Inman, SC, is known primarily as a ceramic artist whose works have been exhibited widely throughout the Carolinas and which have received numerous purchase and first-place awards.

In her piece for this exhibition, Spirit Sticks, the individual parts serve as memorials for each of the lost trees. The bark is peeled back to reveal the tree's message. The work shows the influence of aboriginal and tribal art.

The exhibition pays tribute to the trees lost during last winter's ice storm. Nine sculptors were invited to participate, with each creating an outdoor sculpture. The only requirement was that as part of the sculpture, timber from the downed trees would be used. A corresponding exhibition will be located in the Library gallery; this show will feature designs and photographs leading to the sculptures, as well as views of the storm that prompted the loss of the trees.

A third sculpture is scheduled for installation on Thursday with two more going in place on Friday of this week. The remaining sculptures will be installed during the following week, with the exhibition officially opening on September 1st.

- Additional sculpture installations:
- Lucas McMillan Appointment
- Student Affairs Staff

Additional sculpture installations:

A Tribute to Trees sculpture show.

Two more sculptures have been installed in the TRIBUTE TO TREES exhibition.

Lalage Warrington's specialty is working with clay in the 'add on' technique to create representational pieces such as portraits. She has taught basic clay techniques and mold-making locally as well as workshops on forensic reproduction of the face on a skull.

Her piece here, MOTHER TREE, focuses on the nurturing aspects of a tree -- providing homes for birds and animals, food and comfort for humans. She has used mixed media to represent these supporting values.

The sculpture includes a small figure reading and wearing a Wofford cap and is located along the sidewalk above the Greek court.

A second sculpture is located near the corner of the old wing of the Milliken Science Center:

Winston Wingo is a graduate of Claflin and Clemson universities with post-graduate foundry work in Lucca and Pietrasanta, Italy. He is a widely sought instructor and artist-in-residence; his work has seen exhibition recently in Detroit, Tallahassee, and Brookgreen Gardens.

His work in this exhibition contrasts welded steel with trees shapes, posing the flexible biomorphic shapes from nature with the hardness of man-made shapes.

Lucas McMillan Appointment

Lucas McMillan '02 has returned from a year as a Rotary Fellow at the University of Warwick in England and joins the Wofford community Monday, August 25, for an internship year as assistant to the vice president for planning and marketing (Dr. McGehee). His office will be on the second floor of the admissions building, x-4198, and his campus mail can be sent to Box J. Among his several duties, Lucas will be compiling personalized contact lists for assorted external constituencies and developing rifle-shot messages about Wofford to those parties.

Student Affairs Staff

The Student Affairs staff is pleased to welcome

Mr. Robert Knott as the Director of Residence Life.

Mr. Lyn Pace, Wofford Class of 1999 as Director of Volunteer Service.

Ms. Heather Morrow joins us from the Athletic Department as Director of Student Activities and Greek Life

Mr. Darrin Goss, Wofford Class of 1993 as Director of Multicultural Affairs and Leadership Programs

The new resident directors are:

Becky Farmer in Evins Street Residence Hall

BJ Brooks in Marsh Hall

Sheena Spencer in Greene Hall

Nickie Smith in Shipp & Dupre Halls

Gerrelda Ferrand at the Days Inn

Last Chance - Tell Us How You Spent Your Summer

Here's a final chance to tell the Wofford Community -- through Wofford Today -- how you spent your summer vacation.

Please send Laura Corbin any of your accomplishments -- speaking engagements, papers or books published, awards, appointments, etc. -- for use in the Fall issue of Wofford Today.

We are approaching deadline, so please get them into Laura soon! Email her at laura.corbin@wofford.edu. If you have questions, call her at 4180.

Also -- don't forget to keep Laura updated on your campus events -- lectures, meetings, programs, etc.

This Friday - Heather Mitchell sings

Wofford's own Heather Mitchell will be performing at Nacho Mama's, 1200 East Main Street (582-2800), on Friday, August 29 from 7-9pm. Heather puts her accomplished voice to work on a wide array of acoustic arrangements, both classic and contemporary. So, please come out and support her contribution to our local music scene!

WOFFORD COLLEGE FACULTY/STAFF DAILY ANNOUNCEMENTS

Wednesday, August 27, 2003

Dear Faculty and Staff:

The Office of Alumni and Development is forming a Student Alumni Association. We would appreciate your suggestions regarding current students who would provide strong representation of Wofford to our alumni. We hope for a wide variety of student leaders, with individuals from all aspects of campus life.

A brief description of the group and activities:

The Wofford College SAA is an organization designed to create meaningful connections between students and alumni. This group will have the opportunity to serve as liaisons between Wofford Alumnus and students by planning career luncheons, etiquette dinners, Phonathon, and other alumni events. SAA membership will not only be fun and provide many perks but also help to develop leadership skills, polish students professional image, and make meaningful contacts and friendships.

Business Luncheons with Senior VP for Development
Alumni/major Career Luncheons (monthly)
Phonathon
Homecoming
Alumni Events
Student Dinners
Column in Old Gold and Black and Wofford Today
Booth at Terrier Play Day/Halloween Carnival
Discount Card
Terrier Birthday Cakes (fundraising idea)
Community Service Project as voted on by board
Senior Gift
Senior Salute

Please email williamsac@wofford.edu or call me at x4185 with any nominations. We would like to get a letter in campus mail to those who are invited as soon as possible. Thank you very much for your input on this, we hope to get a great group of students and make this a successful association.

Sincerely,

April Williams
