GAME TONIGHT: Terriers vs. West Virginia Wesleyan

Date/Time: 1/3/2007 7:00:00 PM
Location: Benjamin Johnson Arena
Cost: Details: Tonight marks the first home athletic event of 2007 as the men's basketball team hosts the Bobcats of West Virginia Wesleyan. Tip-off is at 7:00. At halftime, the Spartanburg Pistons wheelchair basketball team will display its talents in a special exhibition of the sport. The Spartanburg Pistons were formed in 1997 to offer the opportunity for athletes with disabilities to compete in wheelchair sports, particularly basketball. The Pistons have won several conference titles over the years and currently compete at the Division III level in the Carolinas Wheelchair Basketball Conference against teams from Columbia and Charleston, S.C., and Wilmington and Winston-Salem, N.C. The Pistons play their home games at the Middle Tyger Recreation Center in Duncan. "We are thankful to Wofford College for this opportunity to increase community awareness and display the athletic talents of individuals with physical disabilities that live in the Greenville/Spartanburg area," said Sam Napier, a founding member of the Pistons and one of the team’s current coaches. During the 10-minute halftime exhibition, the Pistons will face a team comprised of members of the Wofford College community including representatives of the faculty, student body, college staff and athletic department. Those scheduled to participate for the Wofford squad include: Deno Trakas, english professor; Corey Helle, head volleyball coach; Lenny Mathis, assistant athletic director for marketing and promotions; Libby Long, director of the Bonner Scholars; Corey Wilson, assistant cross country coach; and Wofford students Martha Albergotti, Meg Morrison and Steve Olejnik. Tonight is Wofford Sports Marketing's annual “Take a Kid to the Game” event with all kids age 12 and under admitted free, and all adults admitted for a special $5 ticket price! “Take a Kid to the Game” events are spearheaded by the NCAA to promote the sport of basketball to youth across the country.

Recycle your old phonebook and receive a free general admission ticket voucher to any basketball game

Details: This Saturday, Jan. 6, the Real Yellow Pages from BellSouth will be hosting a phone book recycling event outside the Benjamin Johnson Arena in conjunction with their sponsorship of the basketball doubleheader beginning at 3:00 pm. Everyone bringing a phone book to be recycled will receive a free general admission ticket voucher good to any future Wofford men’s or women’s basketball game including Saturday’s contests. Free ticket vouchers will only be distributed basketball game including Saturday’s contests. Free ticket vouchers will only be distributed outside the arena on Saturday.

NOTE: The Real Yellow Pages has arranged for a recycling bin the size of a small automobile to arrive on Friday and be placed outside the Arena either in a parking space or on the sidewalk. It will be removed on Monday. So, the more phone books we receive the better. All books regardless of company, location or size will be accepted.

ATHLETIC STAFF ONLY: If you have an old phone book at home or in your desk to be recycled and cannot make the game on Saturday please place it on the stack underneath the fire extinguisher outside Lenny’s cube before 5 p.m. Friday.

OTHER CAMPUS DEPTS: If you have phone books that you would like to recycle and cannot make the game on Saturday, gather them in your office before noon on Friday and someone will pick them up Friday afternoon. To make it easier, please create one pick-up location for your respective departments and e-mail that location to me. We cannot pick up books from individual desks.

Interim Book Club
Date/Time: 1/11/2007 4:30:00 PM
Location: Health Services
Cost: cost of book
Details: Join Beth Wallace and Betsy Claire Neely for the Interim Book Club! What: We will read and discuss Reading Lolita in Tehran, a memoir by Azar Nafisi that chronicles her private literature class as well as her experience during the rise of the Islamic Republic in Iran. When: We will meet for a light dinner and discussion on Thursday afternoons beginning January 11 in Health Services from 4:30-5:30 p.m. Please contact us if you are interested in joining us for reading, eating and discussion Book Review: "Anyone who has ever belonged to a book group must read this book. Azar Nafisi takes us into the vivid lives of eight women who must meet in secret to explore the forbidden fiction of the West. It is at once a celebration of the power of the novel and a cry of outrage at the reality in which these women are trapped. The ayatollahs don't know it, but Nafisi is one of the heroes of the Islamic Republic." —Geraldine Brooks, author of “Nine Parts of Desire”

To: Faculty
From: Lyn Pace

Our institution is currently collaborating with area Colleges and Universities to chronicle our community outreach efforts. As we move toward a system of open communication and shared resources we are compiling a comprehensive list of all community affiliates that our institution has partnered with for outreach activities within the past 2 years.

If your students have worked with agencies or communities during the semester or interim as part of your class requirement (service learning), please take a moment to let me know the agencies with whom you have partnered. These service learning initiatives are important to my work at Wofford and with other educational institutions in Spartanburg. Please fill out the chart in the attachment and send it back to Lyn Pace at pacepl@wofford.edu or through Campus Mail to CPO 132. Please send your response by Wednesday, January 17, 2007.

TO: Wofford College Campus Community
FROM: Dan B. Maultsby

Wofford College has a new professorship, The Reeves Family Professorship in Finance, created by Wofford Trustee, Mr. J. E. Reeves, President and Treasurer of the Reeves Foundation of Summit, NJ, to expand the faculty in business and to attract, reward, and retain faculty known for the excellence of their teaching and for leadership and creativity in developing programs in their field of study.

I am delighted to announce that Dr. James Edwin Proctor has been named the Reeves Family Professor of Finance. Dr. Proctor, a leader on our faculty for over 25 years, organized the Department of Accounting, Business, and Finance at Wofford and served as its first chair. Now he is returning as chair after serving for three years as founding Director of Wofford’s Success Initiative.

The Reeves Foundation gift was $1,000,000, and created a $3,000,000 challenge for professorships for outstanding faculty. Previous gifts from the Reeves family, long-time partners in the mission of the College, include The Reeves Tennis Center and The Reeves Family Endowed Scholarship Fund which provides support for five students annually at the College. The new professorship and the challenge to create two more such positions at Wofford are evidence of the Reeves family’s continuing vision, generosity, and leadership for liberal education at Wofford.

Dr. Proctor’s excellence as a teacher and scholar and his leadership and creativity make him a natural choice for the Professorship. Please join me in congratulating Dr. Proctor for this recognition and in thanking Mr. Reeves and his family for their generous support of our work.

Location: Hub-Bub Showroom - 149 S. Daniel Morgan Ave. - Spartanburg
Cost: $4 for film society members, $5 students, $6 general admission
Details: The film focuses on an evangelical Christian camp of rare devotion. 12-year old Levi, who was "saved" when he was five, is a shy boy except when he is filled with the Holy Spirit. Nine-year-old Rachael is outspoken in her love for the Lord. They are home-schooled by their Christian parents and interact with their peers at church and church events. In the summer they travel to Becky Fischer's "Kids on Fire" summer camp in Devil's Lake, North Dakota, to intensify their devotion to the Lord.
