Upcoming Events

Psychology Speaker on Personality and Low Back Pain
Date/Time: 3/6/2007 11:00:00 AM
Location: RMSC 326
Details: Dr. Sandy Waters from Duke University Medical Center will give a presentation on her research examining personality factors and persistent pain. Living with chronic low back pain may lead them to feel they have exchanged the characteristics by which they define themselves (e.g., breadwinner) for less desirable traits (e.g., dependent). Social psychologists refer to the contrast between traits individuals say they possess and traits they would like to possess or feel they ought to possess as self-discrepancy. Self-discrepancy theory is useful in describing processing biases that may impact patients’ adjustment to chronic pain.

"Model Development" Talk Thursday
Date/Time: 3/15/2007 11:00:00 AM
Location: Olin 213
Details: Glenn Taylor, a Fellow Engineering at the Savannah River National Laboratory, will present a talk on "Model Development" Thursday, March 15, at 11 a.m. in Olin 213. This seminar will discuss the various components that are needed to develop a model. Modeling is a balancing act between putting what the users want, i.e., everything, and what is possible and reasonable. Development begins with the question “What is the answer to ..?” and finishes with an answer. In between there is a lot more to do than just put some mathematical expressions together. The case study for this seminar will be shallow land burial of radioactive waste. In our case study some of the elements to be considered are geomorphology, geo-chemistry, radioactive decay, structural changes, chemical changes, etc. The seminar will discuss how these various aspects are handled and show the final product (always billed as a work-in-progress). Glenn Taylor, a Fellow Engineering at the Savannah River National Laboratory, has been doing modeling and code development for 30 years. He has developed non-equilibrium thermodynamic and structural codes and modeled extensively in computational fluid dynamics and chemical processes. Hand-in-hand with the code development and modeling has been involvement in experimental programs supporting development. He attended, and graduated from, graduate school at the University of Texas-Austin.

Re: Campus Parking

Colleagues,

My apologies if you receive this twice.

The Parking Commission met yesterday, and made some changes to current rules. We also made some proposals, about which I’d like your feedback.

First, the changes: Beginning next year, student parking permits will be decals (either bumper decals or window decals; the details haven’t been finalized). This is to prevent students from removing and hiding their permits in order to park in visitor parking. Also, over spring break, maintenance will be painting arrows and putting up signs that will make the aisles in the Olin/Shipp parking lot one-way. This will (hopefully) reduce the number of accidents and near-accidents that occur while making those tight turns. Also, the spaces designated for faculty, staff, and visitors in that same lot will be reserved beginning at 7:30 on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Finally, for the rest of the semester at least, all parking lot closures (or partial closures) will be handled by Dean Bigger’s office. She will ensure that the campus community is aware of any parking changes well in advance. Closure requests made without sufficient notice will be denied.

Now the big proposal: Beginning in the fall, we are considering creating designating parking for our three primary parking groups: college residents; non-resident students, faculty, and staff; and visitors. There is a significant trade-off that the faculty and staff must make for this to work: we will have many more parking spots that are designated for our use (we would share these with commuting students), meaning that our parking situation would be much more regular and less prone to disruption by campus events; however, these spots may be less convenient than the spaces you currently enjoy (or, as is probably more often the case, fight students over).

What do you think? Let me know via email at catheyme@wofford.edu (DO NOT JUST REPLY TO THIS!). Also, to give you the student perspective, I’m including the message composed by the student commissioners and distributed yesterday evening to students.

Thanks to all of you who sent your suggestions and comments. If you have any others, please send them my way!

Thanks,

Matt

RE: Possible Parking Changes

We are happy to report that the Traffic Commission met this morning to discuss the traffic issues on and around the campus. We discussed many possible changes. Before the Commission makes any final decisions, it seeks student input. Proposed changes include the following:

1) Changing the designation of the special spaces in the Shipp Hall/Olin Building parking lot from reserved for "Faculty Staff and Visitors" to be reserved for "non resident members of the campus community". This change would mean that faculty, staff, and commuting students could park in these spaces. The Commission heard that faculty and staff members have legitimate concerns about getting to class on time, and they think they need reserved spots because this lot serves those who work in the Olin Building, the DuPre Administration Building and the Papadopoulos Building as well as visitors to the President's and the Deans' offices.

These spots were designated as reserve spaces last year when the construction vehicles around Old Main eliminated most of the faculty parking on the horseshoe. At that time the Traffic Commission agreed to this designation for a term of one year effective September 2005 and thus have expired (September 1, 2006). So in an effort to promote parking equality among members of the campus community it seems more appropriate to include commuting students who are in the same situation as non-resident faculty and staff members.

2) Drawing the distinction between "resident" and "non-resident" members of our community would start September 2007. At that time Campus Safety would distribute parking decals that reflect this classification. It was proposed that the new passes all be bumper stickers similar to those currently used by full-time faculty and staff. One decal would represent non-resident faculty, staff, and students. The second decal would represent resident faculty, staff, and students.

3) Change the time on spaces reserved for faculty and staff from 8:00 am to 7:30 am to allow faculty time to get to 8:00 am classes. This change is being proposed to take place the Monday after spring break instead of waiting until the fall.

4) Currently there are parking problems when special events bring a large number of visitors to the campus. The Admissions parking lot is blocked off and regardless of any emails warning people some faculty, staff and students do not get the message and try and park there. Several members of the Commission proposed blocking off a larger part of the Admissions lot on a permanent basis for special events/visitor parking. It is prime parking, but with more and more events coming to Wofford it is very important to have spaces for our visitors and special guests. This does not directly effect students because the lot has long been established as a non-student lot. However your thoughts are welcome.

5) Make the aisles is the Shipp Hall parking lot one-way. The lot is very narrow, and there have been several accidents and near accidents creating safety issues in the lot. Making drive one way only will eliminate people racing around blind curves and causing accidents.

6) We recognized that members of the campus community would like to see the gravel lot across from the horseshoe paved, but this lot is temporary and it is not economically sensible to pave it at this point. Like the gravel lot, many of these issues are a result of the rapid growth of the campus, the faculty and the student body. Students should know that there will be additional parking spaces in the Village parking lot next August. The Commission wants students to know that lighting, cameras and fencing and other safety concerns are addressed as new lots are created. If you know of an area that you think is unsafe, please let one of us know about it.

Please feel free to email us your comments about any of these ideas or others you may have.

Regards,

John Linton                      Stacy Barnell talk on “Model Development” today at 11 a.m. in Olin 213. This seminar will discuss the various components that are needed to develop a model. Modeling is a balancing act between putting what the users want, i.e., everything, and what is possible and reasonable. Development begins with the question “What is the answer to ..?” and finishes with an answer. In between there is a lot more to do than just put some mathematical expressions together. The case study for this seminar will be shallow land burial of radioactive waste. In our case study some of the elements to be considered are geomorphology, geo-chemistry, radioactive decay, structural changes, chemical changes, etc. The seminar will discuss how these various aspects are handled and show the final product (always billed as a work-in-progress). Glenn Taylor has been doing modeling and code development for 30 years. He has developed non-equilibrium thermodynamic and structural codes and modeled extensively in computational fluid dynamics and chemical processes. Hand-in-hand with the code development and modeling has been involvement in experimental programs supporting development. He attended, and graduated from, graduate school at the University of Texas-Austin.

Special Catholic Mass tonight
Details: Everyone is invited to a special Catholic mass tonight, Wednesday, March 21, at the Carlisle-Wallace House (home of Dean Bigger). Our celebrant and special guest will be Father Tim Lijewski, a 1985 Wofford graduate and the Catholic Campus Minister at the University of South Carolina. Following mass at 5, please join us for a pre-game meal before we walk over to the USC-Wofford baseball game. If you are planning to eat with us, it would be most helpful (but not essential) if you would make a reservation through Doyle Boggs- boggsdw@wofford.edu, or leave a message at 597-4182.

Colleagues:

I apologize for my misleading message. The figure that tripled was the number of contributors to the United Way campaign and not the sum of the contributions. I was thinking about the math and not the wording...

Hub-Bub presents Eric Taylor (concert) & Before the Music Dies (film)
Date/Time: 3/23/2007 at 8:00:00 PM
Details: 3/23 – 8 -11 p.m. - Eric Taylor is a sage musician, a lyrical genius and a master of the guitar. If you're not familiar with Taylor by name, you've probably heard his songs performed by people such as Nanci Griffith and Lyle Lovett. Local musician Fayssouxf McLean opens the show. - Admission is $10.
3/24 – 8-10:30 p.m. – Before the Music Dies takes a critical look at the homogenization of popular music with commentary by some of the industry's biggest talents like Eric Clapton, Dave Matthews, Elvis Costello, Erykah Badu, Branford Marsalis, Bonnie Raitt and more. Using historic footage the film looks at the evolution of American music and the artists who created it and pulls back the curtain to expose the sad truth behind today's "artificial" music stars. Be sure to hang around after the movie for a talkback with local musicians. - Admission is FREE.

Dr. Paul Farmer to receive Sandor Teszler Award and address convocation
Tuesday, March 27, at 11 a.m. in Leonard Auditorium

Medical anthropologist and physician Paul Farmer, founding director of the international charity organization Partners in Health, will receive the Sandor Teszler Award for Moral Courage and Service to Humankind and an honorary degree from Wofford College on Tuesday, March 27.

Farmer will speak at the 11 a.m. convocation in Leonard Auditorium.

The Sandor Teszler Award for Moral Courage and Service to Humankind represents the highest ideals that the Wofford community espouses, and it carries with it an honorary degree, a citation and a $10,000 cash award, made possible by Reed Hastings, CEO of Netflix Corp.

Farmer is an attending physician in infectious diseases and chief of the Division of Social Medicine and Health Inequalities at Brigham and Women’s Hospital in Boston. He has written extensively about health and human rights, and has received numerous national and international awards and recognitions for his work. He was the subject of Pulitzer Prizewinner Tracy Kidder’s “Mountains Beyond Mountains: The Quest of Dr. Paul Farmer, a Man Who Would Cure the World” (Random House, 2003).

All faculty, staff and students are encouraged to attend this important event.

The Wofford campus community is invited to attend a roundtable discussion at 9 a.m. tomorrow (Tuesday, March 27) with Dr. Paul Farmer in the Verandah Room.

Members of the audience will have an opportunity to post questions and make comments from the floor. This is a tremendous opportunity for members of the Wofford community to interact with Dr. Farmer.
To: The Wofford Community
From: President Dunlap

As I trust everyone knows, the Sandor Teszler Award for Moral Courage and Service to Humankind is a celebration of Wofford’s own highest ideals and aspirations. This year’s recipient, Paul Farmer, is one of the world’s best known and most praised change agents, having transformed healthcare delivery in much of the developing world. The Convocation at 11:00 on Tuesday in Leonard Auditorium will be preceded by a roundtable discuss with Dr. Farmer at 9:00 in the Verandah Room. At the roundtable discussion, there will be an opportunity for those in the audience to pose questions or make comments.

I urge everyone to attend the Convocation and as many as can to attend the roundtable discussion. Please note that college dining facilities will begin serving lunch only after the Convocation has ended.

The Stern Scholar String Quartet - Chamber Music Series
Date/Time: 4/9/2007 7:00:00 PM
Location: Leonard Auditorium
Cost: Free
Details: The Stern Scholar String Quartet from the North Carolina School of the Arts, accompanied by pianist Emile Blondei, will perform at Wofford College on Monday, April 9. The performance, which is free and open to the public, will be at 7 p.m. in Leonard Auditorium. The quartet was established in 2006 in memory of Isaac Stern through the generous support of his widow, Linda Stern. The quartet is an ensemble committed to the pursuit of excellence in chamber music. Led by the Isaac Stern Scholarship First Violinist, membership in the quartet is an honor primarily reserved for graduate students of the North Carolina School of the Arts (NCSA), although the group may occasionally include undergraduate students of exceptional promise. The quartet consists of Elisa Friedrich, violinist; Geronimo Oyenard, violinist; Laura Manko, violist; and Dorothea Vit, cellist. The program will include the String Quartet in D minor, K. 421, by W.A. Mozart, and the Piano Quintet in F minor, Op. 115, by C. Franck. The music students will have an open Q&A session after the performance, moderated by President Dunlap.

Hub-Bub Events
Details: 3/30 - 8-11:30 p.m. - Seth Walker & Ménage in concert - The driving delivery and infectious down-home style of Seth Walker’s voice and songs resonate with blues and roots music. Although he is heavily influenced by guitar players -- B.B. King, T-Bone Walker and Snooks Eaglin to name just a few, Seth also has a great gift for songwriting in the blues idiom.  Mary Ellen Bush and Sarah McDonald are the gifted talents that merged to form Ménage, whose intimate, harmonic landscapes echo the authenticity of Emmylou Harris, the Indigo Girls, and Neil Young. While legendary predecessors inform any current artist, Mary Ellen & Sarah (along with their band-mates Matt & Evan) have etched their own signature perspective: folk-rooted melodies wrapped in a bluesy swing, conveyed in grooves ranging from smoky, rollicking roadhouse, to dreamy, three-quarter waltz. For more info, check out www.hub-bub.com

From: Dean Roberta Bigger
To: Campus Community
Re: New Campus Safety Director:

Please welcome Lt. Col. Randy Hall back to Wofford College. On April 1, Randy will become our new Director of Campus Safety. In this position, Randy will oversee the campus safety officers and the switchboard operators. Randy is a 1983 graduate of Wofford College. Immediately after his graduation, he served in the US Army as a Captain in the Armor Division. After active military service he served as a specialist for the South Carolina Department of Juvenile Justice. From 2000-2006, Randy worked here on campus as an Assistant Professor of Military Science and Recruiting Operations Officer for the Army. Most recently he has been a supervisor for CEVA Logistics which is a subcontractor for BMW Corporation. Since 1987 Randy has been a member of the US Army Reserves. Randy and his wife have two children. Please welcome them to our community.

Randy’s extension will be 4351, and his email address is halljr@wofford.edu. His office is located in the Andrews Field House. If you have any questions or concerns about safety and security on the campus, please contact him.
