You Can Learn to Create 3D Computer Animations!

Details: And you don't need to be so called "good with computers!" The Alice programming language makes it easy to create an animation for telling a story, creating an interactive game, or developing a video animation to share on the web. In Alice, 3D objects (such as people, animals, and vehicles) populate a virtual world, and you create a program to move the objects according to your directions. At <http://video.google.com/videosearch?hl=en&q=alice%20videos%20programming%20%22carnegie%20mellon%22&um=1&ie=UTF-8&sa=N&tab=wv#>, scrolling along the left of the page, you can find a video about the language ("Alice: Programming for a New Generation") and under that a number of Alice animations. Alice is free to download from <http://www.alice.org>. This spring, you can take "Animation with Alice" (COSC 116) MWF 11:30 a.m., and the prerequisite is that you NOT have had an upper-level computer science course. (Course pending faculty approval.)

Chairman of the Board...r2.doc

To the Wofford Campus Community:

At approximately 3 p.m. today (Tuesday, November 4, 2008), we conducted our monthly test of the Wofford Emergency Alert System. These tests take place at the same time (typically 3 p.m.) on the first Tuesday of each month during the academic year.

The test generated a message delivered to REGISTERED and validated cell phones, PDAs, pagers, e-mails and Web browsers.

We're asking your assistance in helping us evaluate the system and encourage registrations.

- If you are registered and received the message on all registered devices, NO RESPONSE is needed.
- If you are registered, but DID NOT receive the message on all registered devices, please contact Laura Corbin at laura.corbin@wofford.edu. Please put "Emergency Alert System" in your subject line.
- If you have NOT REGISTERED to receive these messages, you are strongly urged to do so immediately at <http://www.wofford.edu/campusSafety/content.aspx?id=33330>.

Registrations have expired for many of you who were registered during the spring semester. You should have received notification 30 days before your accounts were to expire, reminding you to extend your registration. If you did not receive that notification, please contact Laura Corbin at laura.corbin@wofford.edu.

If you have not already done so, reinstate your registration:

- Go to: <http://www.e2campus.com/my/wofford/index.htm>
- Log into your account, which you created when you first registered.
- If you have forgotten your password, there is a link that will send you an e-mail with a new, temporary password, allowing you to log into the system; once there, you will be able to change your password.
- When you log in, you should receive a message that says your account has expired.
- Follow the instructions for reinstating the account and setting a new expiration date.
- We suggest that you set your account to be active through your graduation (if you are a student). Faculty/staff should set your expiration date as you desire. If necessary in the future, you may temporarily suspend your account (if you're traveling, for example), and you always have the option to cancel the account if you wish. (Of course, we urge you to keep your account current as long as you are associated with Wofford College.)

Wofford's Emergency Alert System is an instant, mass notification system that enables students, parents, and members of the faculty and professional staff to receive updates and alerts via cell phones, personal data assistants (PDAs), e-mail accounts, and personal Web pages (such as Google, AOL, or Yahoo).

This service is part of our larger strategy to enhance communications during an emergency. Our goal is to increase safety on the Wofford College campus.

Wofford College Emergency Alert System is a completely voluntary service provided to the college community and is powered by Omnilert Network e2Campus. No advertisements or non-emergency alerts will be sent to you. You must sign up for the service in order to receive alerts. *Because this is a voluntary service, you may choose to opt-in or opt-out of the service at any time.

You only have to register one time. Use either the cell phone or the e-mail sign up page, not both. Once you have an account, you can add to, or change, how you receive your messages. Links on the page take you to the appropriate sign up page.

Remember – e2Campus is an OPT-IN system, so you must handle the registration yourself. No one else can register you or update your account.

If you have problems or questions, contact Laura Corbin at x4180 or laura.corbin@wofford.edu.

Wofford to hold 'Economic Meltdown' panel discussion Nov. 11

If the recent U.S. economic situation has both worried you and baffled you, you are not alone. How did it happen, and what does it mean – for you, for the country, for the world?

A panel of Wofford College professors will explain it all in "The Economic Meltdown: A Panel Discussion," to be presented at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 11, in Leonard Auditorium. The program is free and open to the public.

Dr. David Wood, dean of the college, will serve as the moderator.

Dr. Frank Machovec, professor of economics, will discuss "The Origins of the Home Mortgage Crisis," an outline of the background and causes of the mortgage lending crisis in the United States.

Dr. Philip Swicegood, associate professor of finance, will talk about "From Main Street to Wall Street," how the effects in the housing markets were transmitted into a general crisis in the investment sector.

Dr. Mark Byrnes, associate professor of history, will follow with "1929-2009: Is the Situation the Same?" a historical overview addressing the similarities and differences between today's conditions and those that precipitated the Great Depression.

Dr. John Farrenkopf, associate professor of government, will discuss "International Perspectives," consideration of the manner in which events in the United States' financial sectors have impacted foreign markets, and what this portends for future U.S. relationships with the rest of the world.

A period for questions and answers will be provided following the presentations.

Details: Faculty Lecture: A World on the Edge: Philosophical Perspectives on Contemporary Science Professor Christine Dinkins, Philosophy with Professor Steve Zides, Physics As the world gets more dangerous and unpredictable, and as the end-of-the-world date on the Mayan calendar approaches in the year 2012, philosophy and science help us explore potential cataclysmic or apocalyptic events. Some of these events are subject to human control, such as overpopulation, pollution, and dangerous scientific experimentation; some we have little control over, such as the possibility of an alien invasion or deadly comets. The science behind these phenomena raises philosophical questions about individual responsibility, human nature, sustainable living, environmental awareness, and how to find hope and meaning in one's own life even in the face of potential world disaster. During the presentation, we will share the creative work of students in our 'A World on the Edge' learning community. A Reception with light refreshments at 3:30 p.m. precedes the talk at 4 p.m.

Guitar Recital by Award-Winning Isaac Bustos of Nicaragua

Date/Time: 11/9/2008 7:00:00 PM

Location: Leonard Auditorium, Main Building

Cost: Free and Open to the Public

Details: Wofford College's Troubadour Series will present a recital by award-winning guitarist Isaac Bustos on Sunday, Nov. 9, at 7 p.m., in Leonard Auditorium of Main Building, Wofford College. The concert will feature music by Bach, Barrios, Rodrigo and others. As a new face on the classical guitar scene, Bustos has already received an impressive array of top prizes at numerous international competitions and performed with major symphony orchestras. He has gained critical acclaim and is quickly becoming recognized as one of the top young guitarists of his generation. "Soulful and virtually flawless," hails the Portland Oregonian and the Boston Globe writes, "In warm, round tones, the notes of Bach cascaded from the guitar, every note correct and played without hesitation." Isaac is currently on faculty at Texas A&M University.

Armistice Day Lecture

Date/Time: 11/11/2008 11:00:00 AM

Location: Olin Theater

Cost: Free and Open to Public

Details: Armistice Day Campus Lecture by Professor Machovec. Please join Dr. Frank Machovec in the Olin Theater at 11 a.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 11, for an exploration of the lost meaning of Armistice Day. A fast-moving, 60-minute historical lecture (supported with 60 color-photo slides) will examine numerous unfamiliar topics on The Great War (as the First World War was called before 1940). Some of the highlights will be the praiseworthy role of Canada; the U.S. Army's novel solution to the race problem it confronted in France; the medical revolution spurred by battle-wound reconstructive surgery; and WWI's legacy of adamant grass-roots isolationism that circumscribed U.S. foreign policy during the late 1930s. The presentation will conclude with several examples of the stark anti-war paintings of George Grosz, plus an illustrated reading of heart-warming, soldier-written poetry. Finally, every attendee will be given three souvenirs to commemorate those who died 90 years ago. Open to the public.

Programming Teams Do Well at Regional Contest

Details: Congratulations to two Wofford teams coached by Dr. Dave Sykes that did well in the prestigious Association for Computing Machinery Southeastern Regional Programming Contest. Team Terrier 1 with members Shay Ellison, Manan Gupta, and Brad Neff came in 17th; and Team Terrier 2 with members Glenn Hope, James Koutroulias, and Whitney Sanders were 46th. Most of the 76 participating schools were universities, and first-year graduate students can be team members. Top finishers were all teams from large schools, such as the Universities of Central Florida, Florida, and Clemson. Few colleges participated, and no colleges ranked higher than our teams. Congratulations Terriers!

The Sophomore Class Delegates of Campus Union are holding a petition signing tomorrow at the football game to send a message to the SC State Legislators. The "Minimally Adequate" educational policies of this state only require each child to have the most basic levels of education possible, which is unacceptable when compared to other states' educational policies in the nation. By signing the petition, the people of this state will vote "no" to "Minimally Adequate," and "yes" to higher standards of education. Tables with the petition will be set up in front of Gibbs Stadium, from 2:15 p.m. to 3 p.m.

To: The Wofford Community
From: President Dunlap

We have just concluded a long and hotly contested presidential campaign, for which there were passionate supporters of both candidates. The result has caused both jubilation and disappointment, but there is nearly universal agreement on one point: Senator McCain's concession speech was a truly patriotic and magnanimous appeal to the best traditions of the country to which he has devoted his entire career. It would be a despicable contradiction of that message for any of us at Wofford to yield to baser emotions in victory or defeat. We believe in a better America.

Upcoming Events

Armistice Day Lecture

Date/Time: 11/11/2008 11:00:00 AM

Location: Olin Theater

Cost: Free and Open to Public

Details: Armistice Day Campus Lecture by Professor Machovec. Please join Dr. Frank Machovec in the Olin Theater at 11 a.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 11, for an exploration of the lost meaning of Armistice Day. A fast-moving, 60-minute historical lecture (supported with 60 color-photo slides) will examine numerous unfamiliar topics on The Great War (as the First World War was called before 1940). Some of the highlights will be the praiseworthy role of Canada; the U.S. Army's novel solution to the race problem it confronted in France; the medical revolution spurred by battle-wound reconstructive surgery; and WWI's legacy of adamant grass-roots isolationism that circumscribed U.S. foreign policy during the late 1930s. The presentation will conclude with several examples of the stark anti-war paintings of George Grosz, plus an illustrated reading of heart-warming, soldier-written poetry. Finally, every attendee will be given three souvenirs to commemorate those who died 90 years ago. Open to the public.

Philosophy Club Film Series: "I, Robot"

Date/Time: 11/11/2008 8:00:00 PM

Location: McMillan Theater

Cost: Free

Details: Come join the Philosophy Club as we watch the action-packed and thought-provoking movie "I, Robot", starring Will Smith. Afterwards, we'll have a brief discussion of some of the issues that the film raises. Not good enough for you? I'll sweeten the deal then: we'll also be serving Dippin' Dots while we watch the movie. What better way to take a study break than to watch a futuristic dystopia while enjoying the "Ice Cream of the Future?" We'll be having several different varieties, so stop by and bring a friend!

Guest Speaker Mr. Bud Ferillo and Showing of the Film "Corridor of Shame"

Date/Time: 11/13/2008 11:00:00 AM

Location: McMillan Theater

Cost: Free

Details: Come learn how you can help say goodbye to "Minimally Adequate" education in South Carolina! The Campus Union will be showing the short film "Corridor of Shame" and Bud Ferillo will be leading a talk afterward. Also, a petition will be available to sign. We have to gather 1,000,000 signatures across the state of South Carolina in order to get Congress to consider changing the "minimally adequate education" clause in the SC State Constitution, so please come out and support this worthy cause! The petition will also be available in Burwell throughout the week. Thanks for your support!

Changes for upcoming basketball season announced

Changes for upcoming basketball season Student section to move behind Terrier bench

In a collaborative effort between Wofford Sports Marketing, the Wofford Athletic Ticket Office and several other campus agencies, fans will notice a few changes this year inside the Benjamin Johnson Arena when the Terrier basketball seasons begin one week from tonight as the women host Coastal Carolina.

Here is a brief rundown of the changes coming for 2008-09:

Student Section move - For years, the Wofford students have taken a traditional place in the center section (Section 3) of the West Stands inside the Arena. Beginning this year, the Wofford students will slide over to West sections 4 and 5 - directly behind the Terrier bench. The reasons behind this are two-fold...First, this allows the students to sit beside the new pep band. Secondly, it will allow the students to utilize the end of the West Concourse for special gatherings, giveaways specifically for students and potential pre-game social gatherings. There will be new signage installed in the Arena as well marking the newly moved Student Section.

"The Thundering Terriers" - Under the direction of Ron Miller, Wofford will have a pep band this basketball season. The pep band will perform for most men's and women's basketball games (excluding games over the holiday break). "Ron came to us with a concept for making a jazz ensemble style group function as a pep band for basketball and perform at many other College functions. We are grateful to him for his dedication and energy in making this group a major part of our in-game entertainment. If there is one thing I have heard over and over again about how to improve our basketball games it is to have a large, loud pep band and we will have that now," said Wofford assistant athletic director for marketing and promotions Lenny Mathis.

Family Section seating - In an attempt to have fans move lower in the seating bowl, the section formerly inhabited by the students (West Section 3) is now available on game-nights as a "Family Section." Fans now have the opportunity to purchase an adult ticket in this section for $10 (normal reserved seat price) but children under the age of 12 will only be charged for the price of a child general admission ticket ($5.00). Meaning a family of four can sit at mid-court for a total of $30.

Popular past promotions return - Fans will be pleased that many of the exciting promotions they have enjoyed in the past will return in 2008-09 including the Spartanburg Martial Arts Demo Team and the Charlotte Bobcats Rhythm Cats drummer group. There will be two special theme-night doubleheaders - "Take a Kid to the Game" night will be held for the February 7 doubleheader (women vs. Furman, men vs. Samford) and "Terriers GO PINK" night will be February 23 (women vs. Georgia Southern, men vs. Western Carolina). Also, Wofford will continue to work with area elementary schools giving children the unique opportunity to perform at a college basketball game. Area schools include Fairforest Elementary (Nov. 19), Cleveland Street Elementary (Dec. 6), Hillcrest Middle School (Dec. 6), Pine Street School (Jan. 15), New Prospect Elementary (Jan. 17), Boiling Springs Elementary (Feb. 5) and Oakland Elementary (Mar. 2). All promotions are subject to change and a complete list may be found by clicking the Basketball Promotions icon found here.

Season, group and individual game ticket packages are now on-sale. For a ticket brochure or to order call the Wofford Athletic Ticket Office at 864-597-4090.

High-Altitude Balloon Program

Details: The South Carolina Space Grant Consortium (SCSGC) is pleased to announce the High-Altitude Balloon Program, which will immerse students in "hands on" learning experiences while working on NASA-related research with a faculty mentor. The program's purpose is to provide students across South Carolina the opportunity to Design—Build—Fly science and engineering experiments in a near space environment. Students will apply to build an experiment (under 2 pounds) to fit into a 6x6x6 in. pod for flight on a high altitude balloon. The student/faculty team will have the thrilling opportunity to launch the high altitude weather balloon to the outer edge of the earth's atmosphere, sometimes as high as 110,000 feet. Project ideas are now posted on our website. The student/faculty teams will also be a part of the tracking team following the balloon's progress and the descent of the payload before recovering it to retrieve data. Upon data retrieval the student will be able to conduct exciting research of their own design. Applications are available for download at <http://www.cofc.edu/~scsgrant/research/balloon.html>. Student applications are due Nov. 21.

Palmetto Academy Program-Deadline Nov. 21

Details: The South Carolina Space Grant Consortium (SCSGC) is pleased to announce the Palmetto Academy Program, an immersive and integrated multidisciplinary exposure and training for students with various backgrounds and career aspirations. This program is aimed at undergraduate and graduate students attending colleges and universities in South Carolina. Faculty at member institutions may apply to host a Palmetto Academy site focused on one of NASA's current research priorities. Although the program is a ten-week summer program, the Palmetto Academy Sites should host 9-week research opportunities that have direct relevance to NASA mission areas. The students will be involved in a welcome session at the beginning and then a finale ceremony at the end, constituting the tenth week. Faculty applications are available for download at <http://www.cofc.edu/~scsgrant/research/PA.html> and student applications will be available December <http://www.wofford.edu/sssystem/research/RA.html> and student applications will be available December 15, once research projects have been selected. Upon announcement of research projects, students will be able to select and prioritize research projects of their interest. Faculty applications are due Nov. 1 and student applications will be due Feb. 6, 2009.

LOCAL CULTURAL EVENTS, WEEK OF NOV. 17 – NOV. 23

Wofford Cultural Events

Monday, Nov. 17

Lecture and Discussion: 6 p.m. Civil War Roundtables (speaker: Rob Andrew). Montgomery Room, Burwell Building.

Tuesday, Nov. 18

Presentations: 11 a.m. – 1 p.m. Success Initiative Students will be presenting their semester deliverables for their projects. Campus Life Building.

Film Series: 7 p.m. Spiritual Cinema Circle features short and full-length films handpicked from festivals around the world. Each one is a movie with a story that matters. The stories remind us what it means to be human. They explore new possibilities and help us understand more of the world around us. Leonard Auditorium, Main Building.

Wednesday, Nov. 19:

World Film Series: 3:30 and 7:30 p.m. "El crimen perfecto" (The Perfect Crime). Pompous salesman and ladies' man Rafael sets his sight on becoming floor manager of the ritzy department store where he works. His sworn enemy gets the job, and, after they argue, he winds up dead. Lourdes, the most plain woman on his staff, assures him the incriminating corpse will be safely disposed of, but her help isn't for free. Rafael soon starts considering a new crime – a perfect crime. Teaching Theater, F. W. Olin Building.

Thursday, Nov. 20:

Drum Circle: 4 – 5:30 p.m. (WEATHER PERMITTING). Lawn between Old Main & Roger Milliken Science Center. No experience needed.

Guest Research Talk - Dr. Fadel "Changes in the Hypothalamus due to Aging"

Date/Time: 11/20/2008 11:00:00 AM

Location: Roger Milliken Science Center, Room 326

Cost: Free

Details: Why do some older individuals who experience significant weight loss claim that they "forget to eat" or don't "feel hungry"? This phenomenon, sometimes described as the "anorexia of aging" is associated with decreased food intake and altered metabolism in the elderly. Interestingly, in many cases, this condition appears to predict an increased risk for the subsequent development of Alzheimer's disease. Dr. Fadel will describe how this condition reflects a loss of communication between parts of the brain that are important for feeding and metabolism (such as the hypothalamus) and other brain regions that are important for normal cognition. He will also take time to talk about graduate school opportunities in the neuroscience program at the University of South Carolina.

Hello!

My name is Lindy Bunch and I am a senior at Wofford. I work as a student organizer; thus far, I have spent time mobilizing students from area campuses as well as community members to enact change in Spartanburg.

Spartanburg is in a unique position; with 6 colleges and universities, we have a student population of around 10,000. As students, we have a great deal of power to change our world for the better.

Whatever the issue might be, there is strength in working together and forming relationships with other Spartanburg students. Through such connections, we can all work to enhance our efforts. In fact, the areas of overlap can lead to some big events in the city we are all a part of.

On Saturday, December 6 at 4:00, there will be a Spartanburg Student Convergence at the Glendale Outdoor Leadership School. This will be a time to meet with other like-minded students to discuss possibilities for change in our community, regardless of the issue. Think of it as an interesting study break-- take a few hours and talk about something other than exams!

All students are welcome to be a part of this great experience. There will be a $5 charge, just to cover dinner. If you encounter any problems with payment, please contact me and we can work something out. I do not want cost to prevent anyone from attending.

Please call or email me with any questions or to RSVP.
Thanks, hope you hear from you.

p.s. Here are the directions to the Glendale Outdoor Leadership School (GOLS):

Follow Pine St. all the way through Spartanburg. Take a left turn onto Country Club road. Travel approximately 5 miles. Take a left at the stop sign onto Clifton Glendale road (also known as Whitestone Glendale Rd). Make a very sharp right onto Church street. You will be able to see a large church in front of as you make this turn. Pass the fire station and cemetery on the left. GOLS sits just right of the cemetery in the large tan building.

Guest Research Talk - Dr. Fadel "Changes in the Hypothalamus Due to Aging"

Date/Time: 11/20/2008 11:00:00 AM

Location: Roger Milliken Science Center, Room 326

Cost: Free

Details: Why do some older individuals who experience significant weight loss claim that they "forget to eat" or don't "feel hungry"? This phenomenon sometimes described as the "anorexia of aging" is associated with decreased food intake and altered metabolism in the elderly. Interestingly, in many cases, this condition appears to predict an increased risk for the subsequent development of Alzheimer's disease. Dr. Fadel will describe how this condition reflects a loss of communication between parts of the brain that are important for feeding and metabolism (such as the hypothalamus) and other brain regions that are important for normal cognition. He will also take time to talk about graduate school opportunities in the neuroscience program at USC.

Wofford names Gabbert to marketing position

Vice president for communications, marketing begins job Jan. 1, 2009

Douglas C. Gabbert has been named vice president for communications and marketing at Wofford College. Gabbert is a 33-year veteran of the marketing and advertising business, having begun his career at the J. Walter Thompson Co. in Chicago, where he worked on such brands as Sears, Gillette, Sara Lee and Kimberly Clark. He begins his duties at Wofford effective Jan. 1, 2009.

Most recently, Gabbert was vice president of Meridian Chiles marketing and advertising firm in Lexington, Ky.

A native of Lexington, Gabbert brings to Wofford expertise to develop comprehensive integrated marketing and communications programs to further the mission of the college.

He received a bachelor's degree in journalism from the University of Kentucky and a master's degree in advertising from the University of Illinois, where he was a Marsteller Scholar, provided by Burson-Marsteller Agency, one of the largest and most prestigious public relations firms in New York City.

Gabbert and his wife, Mae Mae, have three children, adult twin daughters Pattie and Carolyn, and a son, Douglas, who is a first-year student at Wofford.

To: The Wofford Community
From: President Dunlap and Dean Wood

Amid the urgencies of our nation's military and economic crises, all Americans are hoping for a unanimity based on our best traditions of justice and respect for others, no matter how intractable our differences might seem. In the aftermath of the recent election, members of this community have been offended and distressed by reactions that reportedly range from political rancor to racial insensitivity. Many, if not all, of those statements originated elsewhere, but, as officers of this institution, we want to emphasize that mean-spirited disparagements based upon race, gender, sexual orientation, or religion have no place at Wofford College. We are confident we speak for the entire faculty and administration in reaffirming that "as a learning community, we are united by the unfettered pursuit of knowledge and the creative search for truth." Those goals will often lead to passionate conviction and debate in a vibrant intellectual community like ours, but never, let us mutually resolve, via bigotry or intolerance. We trust this message is clear to everyone at this college.

From: WoffordNews WoffordNews@Wofford.Edu
Subject: Open Letter from Faculty to Students
Date: November 21, 2008 at 9:28 AM
To: Wofford Students WoffordStudents@Wofford.Edu, Wofford Staff WoffordStaff@Wofford.Edu

The undersigned faculty welcome and encourage responses to this letter from all members of the Wofford community, including students. The Old Gold and Black will be publishing the letter, along with a selection of responses they receive, in their next issue. If you wish to write a response, please submit it to Vanessa Lauber at laubervj@wofford.edu by 5 p.m. this Saturday, Nov. 22.

To the Wofford Community:

Members of Wofford's faculty have written an open letter in response to recent events on campus after the presidential election.

We believe strongly in the basic principles of a liberal arts education. As stated in the College's student handbook, these principles include "independence of thought, maturity of judgment, self-discipline, religious faith, and moral character" so as to develop the excellence in character necessary to become good citizens, effective leaders and generous servants of our communities. This letter intends to promote the principles of a liberal arts education and affirm Wofford's ongoing commitment to diversity and inclusiveness.

Our ability to pursue a liberal arts education depends upon an environment in which all members of the community can feel safe. Since the election, some students have shared stories with faculty about racist statements on Facebook accounts, in text messages, and on dry erase boards outside of individual dorm rooms. These actions have created a hostile climate for some and have no place on this campus or in any civil community.

The undersigned faculty categorically reject racism and bigotry in any form on this campus. Hateful speech toward any group violates the spirit of ethical inquiry in our community, and we join students in rejecting such despicable behavior.

Freedom of speech does not guarantee the right to intimidate and harass others. A true and principled democracy requires good faith efforts to act in a civil, mutually respectful and generous way with our fellow citizens. Disagreements based upon informed and substantive knowledge of policy encourage democracy; personal attacks based on ignorance and prejudice break it down.

The undersigned Wofford faculty call upon all members of this community to conduct themselves in ways that uphold the basic values of a democratic society, and look forward to informative and enriching conversations about the election and its consequences.

IMPORTANT MEETING, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 24

All members of the administration and staff (non-faculty) are urged to attend a brief meeting with President Dunlap this Monday, November 24 at 4:00 pm in Leonard Auditorium. One of the primary reasons for this gathering is to hear a report from Dr. Sally Hitchmough of the faculty about the importance of the college's United Way campaign. The faculty has already received this information, so their attendance at Monday's meeting is very optional. Others in the community of employees are strongly encouraged to be present.

Cultural Events – Week of Nov. 24 – Nov. 30

Wofford Cultural Events

Monday, Nov. 24:

Exhibition: Paintings by Amy Chalmers, Whetsell Fellows Annual Exhibition. The Whetsell Fellowship enables a Wofford student to study some aspect of the visual arts, with the summer's study leading to an exhibition on the campus during the next school year. Amy Chalmers spent the summer studying oil painting with Spartanburg realist artist Claire Miller Hopkins. Martha Chapman Gallery, Campus Life Building (through Dec. 12).

Exhibition: Robicsek Icon Collection. Drs. Francis and Livia Robicsek have assembled an important collection of Russian icons. The collection is on loan to Wofford College for display in the holiday season. Teszler Gallery, Sandor Teszler Library (through Dec. 16).

Exhibition- Artist's Books by Alice Kay McMillan.: "A Trunk full of Old Love" - Main entrance display case, Sandor Teszler Library. Wofford art instructor Alice Kay McMillan came across a trunk of 19th century love letters and photographs. These documents obsessed her for months and eventually inspired her to create a series of book art pieces. The books on display have just returned from an exhibition in Dahlonega, Ga.

Exhibition-Photographs by 2007-2008 Presidential Scholar Vanessa Lauber. Olin Building lobby display cases. In describing the photographs, Vanessa Lauber writes, " My trip and what I learned about environmental change and the challenges facing traditional culture were shaped and determined largely by the people I met, spoke with, and passed only briefly along the way. Here are some of those people."

Tuesday, Nov. 25:

Exhibition: The Migration Photography of Lisa Kristine. For over 20 years, Lisa Kristine has documented over 55 countries on six continents throughout the world. As haunting as the images are thought provoking, the artist wishes to open a dialogue about the diversity, beauty, and hardship of our interlocking world. Mickel Chapel, Main Building (through Dec. 12).

Local Cultural Events

Monday, Nov. 24:

Exhibition: 2008 Department of Art and Design Faculty Exhibition - "Interiors." Milliken Art Gallery, Converse. Gallery Hours: Monday-Friday 9 a.m. – 5 p.m.; Sunday 2-5 p.m. (through Dec. 4).

Recital: 7:30 p.m. Petrie Faculty Recital: Susan Lyle, mezzo-soprano. Appearing with Dr. Lyle will be Deanna McBroome and Robin Zemp, faculty members at the College of Charleston. Daniel Recital Hall, Converse College.

Exhibition: 4 – 6 p.m. COLORS Exhibit. Whitlock students step into the world of rap, photography, digital media, and drumming during an exciting exhibition of student photography. Light refreshments will be served. Music to start at 5 p.m. The Showroom, Downtown Spartanburg.

Tuesday, Nov. 25:

Exhibition 9 a.m. – 5 p.m. Gaffney High School Art Exhibit. FOCUS Gallery, University of South Carolina - Upstate (through Dec. 10).

IMPORTANT MEETING, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 24

All members of the administration and staff (non-faculty) are urged to attend a brief meeting with President Dunlap this Monday, Nov. 24, at 4:00 p.m. in Leonard Auditorium. One of the primary reasons for this gathering is to hear a report from Dr. Sally Hitchmough of the faculty about the importance of the college's United Way campaign. The faculty has already received this information, so their attendance at Monday's meeting is very optional. Others in the community of employees are strongly encouraged to be present.

Location: Leonard Auditorium, the Fraternity Row, and Burwell

Cost: Free

Details: I know it's hard to believe, but when we get back from Thanksgiving break, it will be Christmastime! You know what that means...Winter Lighting is coming! This year, the Campus Relations Committee along with Campus Ministries will be bringing to you the first ever Candlelight Carols and Winter Lighting! On Dec. 7, take a relaxing study break and come hear the Glee Club and Women's choir as they bring you Candlelight Carols at 5 in Leonard Auditorium. Directly following, around 6 p.m., join in and participate in Wofford's annual Winter Lighting at Fraternity Row. There will be hot cider, music, and announcing of the winners of the hall and village apartment decorating contests! Also, we will announce the winner of the best decorated fraternity house! All students as well as faculty and their families are welcome to attend! Santa will be passing out candy and Christmas dinner in Burwell will follow the festivities! Be sure to get your decorations together over break! You don't want to miss out on any of the fun!
