Terrier women's basketball announces 2005-06 dates
September 22, 2005

A trip to California, meeting with 2005 Elite Eight participant North Carolina and 12 total home games highlight the 2005-06 Wofford women's basketball schedule. The Terriers will begin their second season under head coach Edgar I. Farmer Jr. "This schedule is both challenging and rewarding," said Farmer. "It will allow us to evaluate our team on a game-to-game basis but provide a solid core of opponents that will test us in every contest."

Wofford will open the campaign Nov. 18 with a home date with Montreat before hitting the road Nov. 21 for its first road game at Charleston Southern.

The Terriers will then play at home Nov. 23 and 26 versus Southern Virginia and North Carolina A&T, respectively, before going back on the road for five-straight games.

Included in the road trip is a Dec. 8 meeting at Elite Eight participant North Carolina and the Southern Conference opener Dec. 10 at Chattanooga. The matchup with the Tar Heels will be the third-straight season the two schools will face each other.

Also highlighting the road swing is a trip to California to face the University of the Pacific (Dec. 18) and Sacramento State (Dec. 20).

A 1 p.m. matchup on New Year's Eve with Western Carolina opens the home league slate. After the turn of the new year, Wofford will welcome Georgia Southern to the Benjamin Johnson Arena Jan. 2.

The final nonconference meeting of the season will be Jan. 4 at Winthrop in Rock Hill, S.C.

Other home dates against SoCon foes include Furman (Jan. 14), Appalachian State (Jan. 17), Davidson (Jan. 21), College of Charleston (Feb. 4), Elon (Feb. 7), UNC Greensboro (Feb. 21) and Chattanooga (Feb. 25).

The final meeting with the Lady Mocs Feb. 25 will serve as Senior Day for Nakia Mister, Becky Sasso and LaToya Strong.

The Southern Conference Tournament returns to Charleston, S.C., March 1-4, 2006.

Wofford 97, Montreat 48

SPARTANBURG, SC – The Wofford women's basketball team opened its 2005-06 season with a 97-48 win over Montreat College on Friday night at the Benjamin Johnson Arena.

Montreat was led by Alicia Rachels with 9 points. Jaime Gragg scored 8 points and led the Lady Cavaliers with six rebounds.

Wofford led from start to finish, scoring the first 10 points of the game and charging to a quick 16-6 advantage with 12:45 remaining in the half. Montreat rallied and outscored the Terriers 10-4 over the next two and one-half minutes to pull within four at 20-16. Wofford held a 9-point lead at 32-23 with 4:51 remaining in the half before outscoring Montreat 16-7 for a 48-30 halftime advantage.

The Terriers' 97 points were the most they had scored since a 97-74 win over Davidson during the 2001-02 season.

"I was very pleased with the win," said head coach Edgar Farmer. "We started off a little slow but we turned it on in the second have. We grew up as a basketball team today."

Junior center Jenny Weurding also reached double figures with 12 points while junior Mary Jo Yee scored 11 including all three of Wofford's three-point field goals.

The Terriers shot an even 50 percent from the floor in the game (37 of 74) while holding Montreat to 27 percent shooting (17 of 62). Charleston Southern 68, Wofford 61

CHARLESTON, SC – The Charleston Southern women’s basketball team scored a 68-61 win over Wofford Monday night in Charleston.

Both teams are now 1-1 on the year.

Wofford fell behind 7-0 early but dictated play for the remainder of the first half, taking a 33-28 halftime lead. Mary Jo Yee led the Terriers in the first half, scoring nine points on three of six shooting from 3-point range.

Wofford extended its lead to seven points on three occasions early in the second half, the last at 39-32 with 18:04 to play on a layup by K.C. Correll. However, Charleston Southern went on a 15-2 run, tying the game at 41 with 14:30 remaining and building its lead to 47-41. Kelsi Koenig broke the run with a jumper with 11:58 left to play in the game, bringing Wofford within four at 47-43.

The Terriers tied the game at 49 on a jumper by Nakia Mister and built a five-point lead at 54-49 on a pair of baskets and a free throw from freshman Summer Nichols.

The Lady Bucs rallied again and knotted the game at 59 with 2:09 remaining. A pair of free throws by Keena Wicker put Charleston Southern ahead 61-59 with 1:43 to play. A Wicker layup with just under a minute remaining put the Terriers behind 63-59 and forced them to foul. CSU made four of five free throws inside the final minute of action.

“We’re learning how to win, we’re getting close but we just have to take the next step,” said head coach Edgar Farmer. “The effort was there for 40 minutes without question. They left it all on the floor. Unfortunately, some shots didn’t fall. I’m proud of the way these Terriers fought tonight. I saw some flashes that will bode very well for when we get into Southern Conference play.

“I’m excited about the direction of this basketball team and I truly believe they’re going to do some special things this year.”

Correll led Wofford with 13 points while Koenig chipped in with 10 points and a team-high eight rebounds.

Charleston Southern was led by 15 points from Wicker and 14 from Erica McCoy. McCoy added nine boards.

Wofford will next host Southern Virginia on Wednesday, Nov. 23 at 3:00 p.m.

Mister's career-high tying 20 puts Terriers past Lady Knights
November 23, 2005

Senior Nakia Mister tied her career-high scoring output with 20 points to lead all players and lead the Wofford women's basketball team to an 86-45 victory over Southern Virginia Wednesday afternoon in the Benjamin Johnson Arena.

Mister finished with a 10-of-16 effort from the field to match the total she scored as a freshman versus East Tennessee State January 27, 2003. She added season-highs of six rebounds and three steals.

The Terrier victory was the second in as many games for Wofford over Southern Virginia as the Terriers handed the Lady Knights an 86-47 loss Nov. 24, 2004 in Spartanburg.

After Lynette Adams put Southern Virginia on the board first with a layup at the 19:26 mark, Wofford responded with six straight points as part of a 25-6 run over the next 10 minutes to put the game out of reach. The Terriers continued to pour in the points, mostly on layups, and held a 47-15 advantage at the break.

Back-to-back 3-pointers from juniors K.C. Correll and Mary Jo Yee opened the second half and provided a 53-15 Wofford (2-1) lead. The Lady Knights then scored the next nine points, including five from Adams, to cut the deficit to 29 at 53-24 with 13:53 to play. It would be the closest the visitors would get the rest of the game.

Over a two-and-a-half minute stretch, from 13:24 to 10:52, Mister scored six consecutive points for the Terriers before freshman Laura Depko took over. Depko finished with a career-high 14 points on 5-of-6 shooting and 4-of-4 from the foul line.

Fellow rookie Summer Nichols garnered 13 points, while the team's leading scorer, Kelsi Koenig was held to 10.

Junior Jenny Weurding finished with a game-high eight rebounds and four blocks. With her four blocks, she moved into third place on the Terriers' all-time blocked shots list with 122 surpassing the 121 accumulated by Anita Cooper (1993-97).

She also jumps into eighth place on the career Southern Conference chart overtaking Davidson's Courtney Laird (2000-04). Weurding also made her only 3-point attempt, the first trey of her career.

Freshman point guard Liz Miller added a career-high seven points and dished out a game-best seven assists with just one turnover.

Adams paced Southern Virginia (4-2) with 19 points on 8-of-19, including a 3-of-8 effort from behind the 3-point arc. She tied Chelsea Lund with a team-high six rebounds.

Wofford forced 33 turnovers and held a 23-to-2 steal edge over the Lady Knights.

The Terriers will return home following Thanksgiving to host North Carolina A&T at 1 p.m. Saturday in the Benjamin Johnson Arena. Southern Virginia plays at Coastal Carolina Friday in Conway, S.C.

Six players score in double figures as Terriers defeat N.C. A&T
November 26, 2005

Six players reached double-figure scoring, including a double-double from senior Nakia Mister, to pace the Wofford women's basketball team to a 94-50 victory over visiting North Carolina A&T Saturday afternoon in the Benjamin Johnson Arena in Spartanburg, S.C. With the win, the Terriers improve to 3-1 and are off to their best start since going 5-0 to open the 2001-02 campaign.

The 44-point margin of victory is also the largest since moving to the Division I ranks in 1995-96 and has only been surpassed by two games, including a 102-43 win over Division II Limestone December 14, 2001.

Mister led the team in scoring for the second-straight contest with 17 points on 6-of-10 from the field and 5-of-6 from the foul line. She registered 11 rebounds, including eight on the offensive glass, for her fourth-career double-double.

Sophomore Kelsi Koenig, the team's leading scorer, equaled Mister with 17 points and a game-high four steals off the bench.

Junior Jenny Weurding nearly posted a triple-double with a 12-point, nine-rebound and eight-block effort. The eight blocks are a new career high for Weurding and fall one shy of the Wofford (3-1) single-game record set January 27, 1996, by Anita Cooper versus Navy. Weurding also moves into a second-place tie with Catherine Rader (1991-95) on the all-time Terrier chart with 130 and into sixth place on the Southern Conference career list.

Classmate Mary Jo Yee contributed 10 points, including a pair of 3-pointers, while freshman Liz Miller connected on both of her attempts from behind the 3-point arc for a career-high 11 points. Fellow rookie Kate Dempsey added 12 points on 6-of-8 field goal shooting.

Wofford finished the game hitting 39-of-65 field goals (60.0 percent), which were mostly layups beating the Lady Aggie press. Junior K.C. Correll had a game-high seven assists, as the Terriers held a 27-9 margin in the category.

The hosts held North Carolina A&T (0-3) to just 27.1 percent from the field (19-of-70), including a 1-of-10 (10.0 percent) effort from behind the 3-point line.

The two teams opened the game trading baskets and keeping the score close. The Lady Aggies' LaKeisha Williams converted a layup with 8:29 remaining in the first half to bring the visitors within three, 22-19. Wofford opened up the scoring throughout the rest of the stanza on a 26-6 run to take a 48-25 lead into the intermission.

After the break, North Carolina A&T would get no closer than 21 on a pair of occasions, including their lone trey with 15:38 left by Ahmad Williams to close the gap to 57-36. The Terriers continued to hit shots in the second session, finishing 72.0 percent (18-of-25) from the field and connected on all three of their 3-pointers.

Bianca Johnson led N.C. A&T with 16 points, while Melea Gibson collected six rebounds. Preseason All-Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference selection Shareka Glover was held to zero points as she missed all three of her field goal attempts. Next up for Wofford is a five-game road swing beginning at 7 p.m. Wednesday at Gardner-Webb in Boiling Springs, N.C. Also included in the road contests is a meeting with No. 7 North Carolina and the start of SoCon action against Chattanooga.

Subject: Terrier women's basketball wins third straight

Terrier women's basketball wins third straight
November 30, 2005

A season-high 19 points from sophomore guard Mary Jo Yee sparked the Wofford women's basketball team to a 64-57 victory at Gardner-Webb Wednesday evening in the Paul Porter Arena in Boiling Springs, N.C.

Yee converted four 3-pointers out of her six field goals and was 3-of-4 from the foul line in finishing just two points shy of her career-best effort.

With the score deadlocked at 53-53 and under five minutes remaining, Yee nailed her final trey of the contest at the 4:37 mark to give the Terriers the lead for good at 56-53 off an assist from freshman Liz Miller. She then connected on a pair of free throws with :08 left to close the scoring.

Her first three 3-pointers of the game were on consecutive attempts in the first half and helped Wofford (4-1) push its lead to nine, 26-17, with 8:20 to go. The largest Terrier lead of the half was 10 when a pair of layups by sophomore Kelsi Koenig sandwiched a Brittany Harmon bucket at the 11:14 mark. Wofford held a six-point edge, 37-31, at the intermission.

Candyse Kelly and Katie Sanderson brought the Bulldogs back with six-straight points to tie the game at the start of the second half. It was not until a pair of free throws by freshman Summer Nichols at the 13:01 mark that the Terriers would score in the second stanza and take the lead, 39-37. Nichols would hit two field goals in a 9-2 run to give the visitors a 48-39 cushion with 9:19 to play.

Gardner-Webb (0-5) would not be denied, however, as it mounted another comeback and regained control of the score at 50-49 on a pair of free throws from Shameka Smith with 6:56 remaining. Yee and Koenig then hit a jumper each to give Wofford a 53-50 lead with 5:40 left before Novia Sturdivant 3-pointer equalized the contest for the final time with 5:06 to go. Koenig finished with 12 points and continued her streak as the only Terrier to score in double figures in every game this season. She nearly recorded her second career double-double, and second of the season, with a team-high nine rebounds including seven on the defensive glass. Junior K.C. Correll led all players with four steals.

Junior center Jenny Weurding swatted three Bulldog shots to raise her career tally to 133 and move her into sole possession of second place in the Wofford record books behind Lucy Hines (1997-2001) who tallied 169. Weurding also moves into a fourth-place tie on the all-time Southern Conference chart with Meghan Bryant (2000-04) of Davidson.

Smith paced all players with a career-best 23 rebounds, while chipping in 12 points. On the strength of three 3-pointers, teammate Brooke Wilkinson led Gardner-Webb with 13 points.

The Terriers hit a season-best 12-of-14 (85.7 percent) from the foul line, while the Bulldogs converted just 4-of-10 (40.0 percent) from the charity stripe.

With the victory, Wofford continues its best start in four years, since the 2001-02 campaign, with their 4-1 record. In the 2001-02 season, the Terriers began the year 5-0. Wofford also improves its series record versus Gardner-Webb to 12-2 all-time, while the Terriers sit atop the Southern Conference standings.

Wofford will take the next week off before traveling to Chapel Hill, N.C., to face No. 7 North Carolina Dec. 8 at 7 p.m. in Carmichael Auditorium for the third-straight season. It will be the second contest of a five-game road swing for the Terriers.

Her 17 points versus North Carolina A&T Nov. 26 helped Wofford earn its largest margin of victory over a Division I opponent in the 94-50 triumph. Against Gardner-Webb Wednesday, she nearly had another double-double with 12 points and nine rebounds. Although she is undeclared on her major, Koenig carries a 3.58 grade-point average.
