POWER OUTAGE SCHEDULED FOR THURSDAY –NOT FRIDAY...

“Due to the forecast of worsening weather conditions for this Friday, the planned power outage will be moved to tomorrow, Thursday, Feb. 4th.

The anticipated power outages are as follows:

- The lower end of the campus will have power off for 5-10 minutes at the beginning of the shutdown (about 9 a.m.) and for 5-10 minutes at the end of the shutdown (anticipated to be about 3 p.m. plus or minus). The buildings included on the “lower end” of the campus are: Campus Life, Richardson, Andrews, Greene, Marsh, Carlisle, Daniel, Library, Health Services, and the Carlisle House.
- Buildings which will be down for the duration of the shutdown (6-8 hours beginning at 9 a.m.) are Main, DuPre and Shipp Residence Halls, DuPre Admin, and the President’s Residence.
- Snyder will be down for 1-2 hours on the tail end of the shutdown – starting perhaps about 1 p.m.

If you have any questions or concerns, please call Bill Littlefield at 809-5620 or Tom Rocks at 809-1798.”

Last night, the Wofford men's basketball team defeated Elon 72-56 to notch the 16th win of the season. Since Wofford moved to Division I in 1995, the record for most victories in a season is 16 (which has been set in each of the last two seasons).

The team will look to eclipse that mark Saturday night inside the Benjamin Johnson Arena against UNC Greensboro. Tip-off is at 7:00 pm.

Students who live local and our faculty and staff, be sure to come out and cheer on the team and they look remain in place for a high seed at the Southern Conference Basketball Tournament to be held March 4-8 in Charlotte.

If you have friends in the community interested in tickets to the game on Saturday, please call 864-597-4090.

Date: February 8, 2010 at 9:13 AM
To: Wofford Staff WoffordStaff@Wofford.Edu

Colleagues,

On February 27, Wofford is once again hosting some of the brightest high school students from across the Southeast in a quiz bowl tournament. Quiz bowl is a team competition that tests academic knowledge from many disciplines. In order to make this event a success (and make a good impression on these students), we need volunteers to read questions and keep score. Hopefully, that's where you come in! Lunch and training will be provided. Please contact me at cathey@wofford.edu if you have any questions!

Thanks,

Matt Cathey

Subject: SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT: American Shakespeare Center at Wofford: One Night Only!
Date: February 8, 2010 at 5:17 PM
To: Wofford Staff WoffordStaff@Wofford.Edu, Wofford Students WoffordStudents@Wofford.Edu

To: Wofford students, faculty and staff

From: Mark Ferguson, Director of Wofford Theatre

We have just landed a remarkable opportunity to have the American Shakespeare Center, a very sought-after professional performance troupe, come to Wofford next Monday, Feb. 15.

The show is the hilarious The Knight of the Burning Pestle by Francis Beaumont at 7:30 p.m. in the Tony White Theater in the Campus Life Building.

What the heck is The Knight of the Burning Pestle, you ask? Well, the director says: “I don’t usually traffic in superlatives, but I firmly believe that Pestle is the funniest play (in performance) of the Elizabethan and Jacobean eras not written by Shakespeare. It has all of the silliness and wackiness of The Comedy of Errors and The Merry Wives of Windsor combined. And on steroids. Pestle would be remarkable just for being that funny, but it’s even more entertaining because of its use of music, the multiple meta-theatrical levels it employs, and the river of good will and message of mirth that run underneath and through the play.”

Sound good? Sure. Fine. But funny AND Jacobean, you say? Meta-theatrical levels? That’s really the pitch? And you want me to come out on a Monday night the second week of the semester?

OK—imagine Homer and Marge Simpson buying tickets to a Chekhov play and then climbing on stage to redirect the show with Bart as the star, and you have some idea of the fun Beaumont unleashes in The Knight of the Burning Pestle. Loaded with laughter and song, this play is a celebration of the way Elizabethan audiences expected to be a part of the action.

Still not persuaded? Our own resident Shakespeare genius, Amy Sweitzer says: “This is great! I’ve seen this troupe do Roaring Girl and Richard III, and they were terrific. I love The Knight of the Burning Pestle! It’s not performed often enough, and will surprise anyone who thinks of Renaissance drama as elevated, elitist, classic, ‘good for you,’ etc. Hilarious, and what we would call postmodern if it weren’t early 17th-century. From what I’ve seen, the troupe is inventive, dynamic, and wonderfully, appropriately irreverent.”

Sold.

For even more persuasive reasons not to miss it:

<http://www.americanshakespearecenter.com/v.php?pg=511>

Tickets are $5 for students and $10 for adults. Call the Wofford Theatre box office at 597-4080 for tickets.

This one-night only performance will also serve as a teaser for our big “Fall for Shakespeare” event next October when we’ll have them on campus for three days (!) doing text and performance workshops as well as performances of Macbeth, As You Like It, and Measure for Measure – so awesome. Wofford Theatre should turn 40 every year.

ASC is super fun and engaging and the shows are great. Even though it’s a Monday night, we’d like to fill up the space if we can, both to drum up excitement about next fall and because it is a great chance to see an amazing and rarely performed play right in your backyard!

Best,
Mark

Subject: Important Message regarding Daily Announcements
Date: February 19, 2010 at 2:00 PM
To: Wofford Staff WoffordStaff@Wofford.Edu, Wofford Students WoffordStudents@Wofford.Edu

The Office of Communications and Marketing has resumed (as of today 2/19/2010) sending out Daily Announcements via email each morning during the week. Daily Announcements are not sent on Saturday or Sunday. Announcements will not be posted in the portal.

Daily Announcements Guidelines – Please save this email or download the attached PDF for future reference.

Daily Announcements are sent via email to the campus community each morning around 9 a.m. (Delivery time depends on the number of announcements received and the editing involved.)

1. Wofford Announcements must have a Wofford contact and a Wofford email address. Announcements that have an email address other than a Wofford email will not be accepted. No commercial announcements are allowed.
2. Announcements will NOT run more than twice. If an announcement is submitted multiple times it will only be run for the first 2 dates it is submitted.
3. An Announcement must be submitted prior to MIDNIGHT the day before it is scheduled to run. This is an automated system and announcements submitted after midnight will not show up in the system.
4. Event or Announcement – Which is it?? – An event is any function that has a DATE, TIME, and PLACE. If you submit an event as an announcement it will not appear in the ‘event’ section of the announcements.
5. Please try to keep your event announcements and general announcements as brief as you can. We reserve the right to edit for space and other issues.
6. If you submit an announcement and need to make a change you need to email the change to WoffordNews@wofford.edu.
7. Please proof your announcement before submitting it and check for spelling errors, making sure that the room and building are named correctly, etc. Editing will be limited.
8. We have had many instances where announcements for an event are submitted by more than one person. When planning an event please designate one person to be responsible for submitting the announcement so that we don’t have double announcements with different information.
9. Events must be submitted to the calendar as well. If you do not submit your event to the calendar it will not appear on the home page calendar section of the portal or on the home page of the Wofford web site. (Please note that there is limited space on the Wofford web site and sometimes it is not possible to list every event on the Wofford home page. However, all events posted to the calendar will appear in the calendar section of the portal.) When planning events please check the calendar for events that are already scheduled in an effort to avoid conflicts. REMEMBER – booking a venue does not mean that your event is on the calendar. You must still add your event. Calendar submissions must be approved by the Office of Communications and Marketing before they appear on the calendar. Event postings should be made no later than 4 p.m. the day before the event to ensure that they appear on the calendar. Note that you must reserve your room/venue with the appropriate staff person; putting your event on the calendar DOES NOT reserve the space.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS. We receive numerous requests for ‘special announcements’ to be sent out separately from Daily Announcements. In an effort not to clog the system, we will not send out special announcements unless it is an emergency. (Forgetting to submit an announcement does not qualify as an emergency.) If you have an event, a meeting, or an announcement please remember to submit it prior to midnight the day before you want it to run.

Questions about announcements or calendar postings should be directed to WoffordNews@wofford.edu. Questions to individual staff e-mail accounts may result in delays. If your email is sent to WoffordNews it will be handled promptly.

For detailed instructions on how to submit a daily announcement or an event to the calendar please see this link: <http://www.wofford.edu/newsroom/campusNews.aspx>.

Subject: SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT from President Dunlap: A Major Upcoming Event: The Sandor Teszler Award
Date: February 22, 2010 at 4:23 PM
To: Wofford Staff WoffordStaff@Wofford.Edu, Wofford Students WoffordStudents@Wofford.Edu

To: The Wofford Community
From: President Dunlap

Re: The Sandor Teszler Award Convocation

Next Tuesday, March 2nd, at 11:00, Wofford College will confer the highest recognition it has to offer on Jacqueline Novogratz, Founder and CEO of the Acumen Fund and author of the much-acclaimed The Blue Sweater: Bridging the Gap Between Rich and Poor in an Interconnected World. Like previous bestowals of the Sandor Teszler Award for Moral Courage and Service to Humankind, this is an event which no one in our community should miss. Faculty will gather in academic regalia in front of Old Main at 10:50, and everyone should be seated in Leonard Auditorium by 11:00.

This ceremony is more than an award: it is a reaffirmation of our institutions highest ideals. Previous recipients include Marian Wright Edelman, the Founder and CEO of the Children's Defense Fund; Paul Farmer, the Founder and CEO of Partners in Health; and Civil Rights hero and Congressional Medal of Honor winner Vernon Baker. Each of these people has literally changed the world. So has Jacqueline Novogratz.

I urge you to take time to watch one or more of Ms. Novogratz's TED presentations on the Internet at http://www.ted.com/talks/jacqueline_novogratz_invests_in_ending_poverty.html, http://www.ted.com/talks/jacqueline_novogratz_on_patient_capitalism.html, or http://www.ted.com/talks/jacqueline_novogratz_a_third_way_to_think_about_aid.html.

To give you some idea of her accomplishments, this is the first paragraph of her Wikipedia entry: “Jacqueline Novogratz is founder and CEO of Acumen Fund, a non-profit global venture fund that uses entrepreneurial approaches to solve the problems of global poverty. Acumen Fund seeks to prove that small amounts of philanthropic capital, combined with large doses of business acumen, can build thriving enterprises that serve vast numbers of the poor. Acumen Fund currently manages more than $30 million in investments in South Asia and East Africa, all focused on delivering affordable healthcare, water, housing and energy to the poor. The organization also includes the Acumen Fund Fellows Program, focused on building the next generation of business leaders with an understanding of global issues and poverty. The organization has offices in New York, Pakistan, India and Kenya.”

Her Wikipedia page at http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Jacqueline_Novogratz includes numerous links to sites about The Blue Sweater and other interviews. In addition, two fascinating conversations with Charlie Rose can be found at <http://www.charlierose.com/guest/view/6596>.

You will deeply regret it if you miss this event.

Here are a few of the new features that are now available: • Improved word cloud: Expand your search to include similar or related terms using the new, improved word cloud. • Browse the shelves: Click on a call number to see other titles on the shelf. • Improved categories: New categories for limiting your search results. For example, find documentary films on a topic with the Genre category. Or, browse the results by subject using the Topic category. • RSS Feeds: Subscribe to an RSS feed of new additions to the collection matching your search. • My Discoveries: Create, save, and share lists of titles or review and rate items in the catalog. • Coming soon: Later in the Spring semester, you will have the ability to expand your search to our journal article and research databases. Not only will there be a quick search of our most popular databases, but you will also be able to simultaneously search multiple databases grouped by subject. How do I use the new catalog? Search for your topic using the single-search box. Use the word cloud on the left to focus your search or the categories on the right to narrow your results. Try it now: <http://wofford.aquabrowser.com/> For more information on using the new features, visit: <http://woffordlibrary.blogspot.com/2010/02/new-and-improved-features-in-library.html> or, stop by the reference desk, call 597-4302, or email askalibrarian@wofford.edu.

Intern with Congressman Joe Wilson

Details: The Joe Wilson for Congress campaign is seeking responsible interns with strong teamwork skills for this upcoming election cycle. The ideal candidates will possess the ability to thrive under tight deadlines, have the ambition to self start, and will be able to effectively communicate verbally and in writing. All majors, minors, and concentrations will be considered but a strong interest in politics and a desire to positively affect the future of our nation is a must. Major responsibilities, depending on the position, will include: 1) Grassroots outreach 2) Volunteer Coordination 3) Research 4) Event planning. Travel around the area may be necessary (compensation for mileage will be provided) and the opportunity to travel with the campaign around the district from Blythewood to Beaufort will be available. Interns typically work 10-20 hrs/week; however, Joe Wilson for Congress is willing to work around your schedule to ensure that you can have an opportunity to experience and develop the necessary qualifications to pursue careers in all aspects of politics and government. For more information please contact R.J. May at 803-926-1413 or Robert@joewilsonforcongress.com.
