Men's Golf Team, Ranked 34th, Travels to Louisville Sept. 28, 2003

The Wofford men's golf team will continue its fall season by traveling to Kentucky Monday and Tuesday to participate in the UofL Cardinal Collegiate.

In the latest rankings from Golfweek/Sagarin, the Terriers have garnered a 34th place ranking out of 149 Division I schools that have already played in a fall tournament. Wofford is the second highest ranked Southern Conference institution behind Georgia Southern (11th) and is ranked in the top 50 ahead of Furman (35th) and the College of Charleston (47th).

"We're riding on a pretty good high right now," said head coach Dan O'Connell. "The score we shot two weeks ago (at the Mid Pines Intercollegiate) was the lowest total in the 15 years since I've been coaching here. The guys have been working hard at it. This is a tournament in which we can be really competitive. If we played as well as we did two weeks ago, we could be right in the hunt.

"The ranking at this time of year is simply phenomenal because of how many teams play Division I golf. To be in the top 10 percent of that group is awesome. The good news is the guys got a taste of how good it feels and how much fun it is to play well. We just have to go out and do it every time and be consistent."

The Terriers finished tied for fifth with Furman at the season opening Mid Pines Intercollegiate in Southern Pines, N.C., Sept. 8-9.

Wofford Men's Golf Team Garners a Tie for Second at Final Fall Tournament Oct. 28, 2003

Saving its best for last, the Wofford men's golf team finished in a tie for second place, four shots off the pace, at its final fall tournament, the ODU/Seascape Collegiate in Kitty Hawk, N.C.

Led by two top-10 individuals, Jon Stephenson (T6/69-73--142/-2) and Marshall Swails (T8/72-71--143/-1), the Terriers tied Liberty with a team score of 578, four shots behind tournament winner Virginia Commonwealth (574).

Daniel Sloan continued the strong Wofford showing by tying for 22nd with a +3 (77-70--147), while teammate Van Burgess tied for 36th at +6 (76-74--150).

Richard Cox rounded out the Terriers at the tournament by earning a tie for 44th (73-79--152/+8) in the two-day event.

The Wofford men's golf team, coached by Dan O'Connell, will resume its season in the spring of 2004.

O'Connell Signs One in Early Period for Men's Golf Next Season Nov. 24, 2003

After a successful fall season and a fourth-place finish in the Southern Conference last year, Wofford head men's golf coach Dan O'Connell has inked Columbia, S.C., native Fielder Huntley to a National Letter of Intent for 2004-05.

Huntley, a student at A.C. Flora High School, is the defending 3-A state individual champion and helped to guide his school to the state team crown in 2003. He garnered runner-up honors at the 2003 Florence Junior Invitational and Junior Azalea in addition to a fifth-place finish at the S.C. Junior Championship.

After guiding A.C. Flora to the state team title, the squad also won top honors at the 2003 South Carolina-Georgia Junior Team Challenge Matches.

Individually, he is currently ranked sixth in The Heritage Classic Foundation S.C. Junior rankings.

"We are very excited about Fielder coming to Wofford and look forward to having him compete for a spot in our starting lineup next fall," said O'Connell. "He has a successful record in both the high school season and in the highly competitive S.C. Junior Golf Association tournaments."

At A.C. Flora, he has garnered All-State and All-Region honors for three seasons and has led the team in scoring average since the eighth grade. Huntley has also been the team's MVP three straight years and was named the 3-A Player of the Year by The State in 2003.

The Terriers will return to the links Feb. 16-17, 2004, at the UCF/Rio Pinar Intercollegiate in Orlando, Fla.

Terrier golf back into swing early next week
Feb. 13, 2004

After a successful 2003 fall season and a fourth-place finish in the Southern Conference last year, the Wofford men's golf team will return to the links Feb. 16-17, 2004, at the UCF/Rio Pinar Intercollegiate in Orlando, Fla.

The Terriers are led by a quartet of seniors, including Jon Stephenson who garnered all-league honors in 2001-02. Van Burgess, J.P. Chamberlin and Colin Murray comprise the rest of the group which will suit up in a Wofford uniform for the last time this spring.

Also highlighting the schedule this season will be the 17th Annual Wofford Invitational. The tournament, which began in 1988, will be held at the Carolina Country Club in Spartanburg, S.C., April 9-10.

Head coach Dan O'Connell enters his 16th season as the Terriers' mentor.

Wofford finishes second by a stroke at season-opening tournament March 7, 2004

The Wofford golf team finished in second place out of seven schools at the Lady Terrier Coca-Cola Intercollegiate at the Carolina Country Club this weekend in Spartanburg, S.C. East Tennessee State captured the team championship with a 651, one stroke better than Wofford's 652.

Freshman Laura Parris was the top Lady Terrier as she earned runner-up honors with a 76-78--154 (+10), five shots behind medalist Laura Terebey of Radford who garnered the individual champion slot with a five-over par, 73-76--149.

Laura Robinson gave Wofford two individuals in the top five as she garnered a fourth-place result with a 14-over par, 81-77--158. Also in the top 15 spots was Lauren Stephenson with an 82-84--166 (+22) in 11th place.

Rounding out the Lady Terriers were Chris Sprinkle with a 93-83--176 (+32) in a tie for 23rd and Amber Franks in 28th with a tally of 91-93--184 (+40).

"We played really well for our first tournament of the spring," said head coach Randy Mahaffey. "The weather was perfect this weekend for our inaugural event. Each of the participating teams had a good time, and I think all the festivities went well for our first go-around."

Wofford will resume its season next weekend, March 12-14, at the Shamrock Intercollegiate at the Tege Cay Golf Club in Rock Hill, S.C.

Sloan puts Terriers in a tie for third at Birkdale Collegiate Classic March 13, 2004

Junior Daniel Sloan shot a 73-72--145 (+1) to tie for second, one shot back of the lead, following the first two rounds of the Birkdale Collegiate Classic Saturday in Huntersville, N.C. Sloan's tally is one behind leader Matt Mincer of Charlotte. His total has helped Wofford place in a tie with UNC Greensboro in a tie for third among the 15 teams.

Jon Stephenson has kept the Terriers in the hunt as well with an 11th-place tying score of 77-73--150 (+6).

After recording an 81 in the opening round, J.P. Chamberlin responded with a one-under par, 71, for a two-round total of 152 (+8) to tie for 24th overall. Adam Dox also improved his score in the second round as he carded a 79-78--157 (+13) on the first day and is tied for 46th.

Van Burgess is one shot behind Dox with a 78-80--158 (+14) in tying for 51st among the 78 individuals.

UNC Wilmington and the host 49ers led the pack after day one, five shots ahead of the Terriers and UNC Greensboro.

The two-day event at the Birkdale Golf Club will conclude Sunday.

Sloan named SoCon co-men's golfer of the week
March 17, 2004

Wofford junior Daniel Sloan has been named the Southern Conference co-men's golfer of the week it was announced by the league office. He shares the honor with UNC Greensboro's Andy Bare.

Both golfers were a part of a three-way playoff at the Birkdale Collegiate Classic this past weekend in Huntersville, N.C. After 54 holes, Sloan and Bare were tied with Charlotte's Matt Mincer with a score of 222. Sloan was eventually eliminated before Bare captured medalist honors by recording a birdie on the second extra hole.

At the tournament, Sloan has helped the Terriers to a sixth place team finish with a his team leading score, including an even par second round of 72.

On the season, he has posted 74.06 stroke average in six events, including two top 10 results and 10 rounds of under 75. In his career, he has tallied four top 10 finishes.

Sloan and the rest of the Wofford men's golf team will return to the links March 26-28 at the Furman Intercollegiate in Greenville, S.C.

Terriers set to host Wofford Invitational
April 8, 2004

For the 17th year, the Terrier men's golf program will host the annual Wofford Invitational Friday, April 9 and Saturday, April 10 at the Carolina Country Club in Spartanburg, S.C.

The par-72, 6,843-yard event will feature eight schools playing 54 holes beginning with the first round Friday at 9:15 a.m. in a shotgun start. The second round will be Friday at approximately 1:30 p.m. before competition concludes Saturday with the final round slated for 8:30 a.m.

The eight institutions comprising this year's field include host Wofford, along with Belmont, Davidson, Elon, Furman, Old Dominion, UNC Greensboro and Winthrop.

"What makes this year especially unique is any team that is playing its best can win the tournament," said Terrier head coach Dan O'Connell. "It is a very balanced field throughout.

"As far as our team, we have played some of our best golf of the year in the last four rounds. Let's hope it continues this weekend."

Wofford will be represented on the links by seniors Van Burgess, J.P. Chamberlin and Jon Stephenson along with junior Daniel Sloan and sophomore Adam Dox.

Terriers finish fifth at Wofford Invitational April 10, 2004

The Wofford men's golf team finished fifth out of eight schools at the Wofford Invitational this weekend. The two-day, three-round tournament was held at the Carolina Country Club in Spartanburg, S.C.

By firing a one-under par 213 (74-68-73), sophomore Adam Dox finished as the top Terrier in the individual field by being one of five golfers to tie for fourth.

Teammates Daniel Sloan and J.P. Chamberlin each tied for 23rd after posting eight-over par tallies of 69-79-76 and 74-76-74, respectively.

Van Burgess carded an 83-71-73--227 for 11-over par and 30th place while Jon Stephenson tied for 31st with a 74-78-76--228 for 12-over par during the tournament.

Four individuals also competed for Wofford with freshman Dustin Adair notching a 12th-place tying score of 73-72-74--219 (+3) to finish as the top individual in the field.

Other Terrier individual scores included Richard Cox in 36th place with an 82-71-79--232 (+16), Marshall Swails in a tie for 39th with an 81-75-79--235 (+19) and Wil Hutchens with a 44th-place result after recording an 80-75-83--238 (+22).

Furman captured the team championship as the Paladins posted scores of 285-289-293--867 (+3) for a five-shot margin over runner-up UNC Greensboro. The Spartans' J.D. Bass took home medalist honors by finishing with a 69-68-73--210 (-6), three shots better than Winthrop's Matt Johnson (69-69-75--213, -3).

Wofford will next compete next weekend in the Southern Conference Championship. The Terriers will hit the road for Jonesborough, Tenn., and play at The Ridges Golf & Country Club.

Wofford men's golf heads to SoCon Tournament April 17, 2004

The Wofford men's golf team will hit the road Sunday through Tuesday, April 18-20, for the 2004 Southern Conference Tournament in Jonesborough, Tenn. The three-round, three-day event will take place at The Ridges Golf and County Club in the Johnson City suburb.

Coming off a fifth-place finish at last week's Wofford Invitational, the Terriers will be looking to earn a spot among the leaders at the tournament. In last year's field, Wofford finished fourth out of the 11 schools, tying it for its third-best finish since joining the league. In their first two seasons as a member of the conference, in 1998 and 1999, the Terriers registered second-place results behind East Tennessee State, including just a stroke behind the Bucs at the 1998 tournament at the Carolina Country Club in Spartanburg, S.C.

"We are optimistic heading into the tournament," said head coach Dan O'Connell. "Hopefully, we can finally put it all together when it counts and score well. We have been close to the top in each of the last three events we've played this year. The conference tournament this year is wide open. Because of that, we feel our chances are pretty good to do well."

Leading the charge among the likely participants for Wofford will be junior Daniel Sloan with a 74.08 stroke average. Seniors Jon Stephenson (75.00), Van Burgess (75.27) and J.P. Chamberlin (76.53) will also be likely playing on the links for the Terriers. Rounding out the team is sophomore Adam Dox (75.42) who has recorded three consecutive top-five results.

Stephenson garners All-America Scholar honor
May 12, 2004

Senior Jon Stephenson of the Wofford men's golf team was recently named a Top Flite-Spalding Golf Coaches Association of America All-America Scholar.

Stephenson's recognition is the second of his career, as he also earned it last season.

In order to be eligible for the award, a student-athlete must possess a 3.2 or higher grade point average, at least junior standing and carry a 76.0 stroke average in three-fourths of the tournaments in which his team competed.

"This award embodies what we strive for in athletics at Wofford," said head coach Dan O'Connell. "Specifically, great students with tremendous athletic ability. It is certainly a great way for him to cap his career."

This past season, Stephenson was second among the Terrier regulars with a 74.97 stroke average, and he finished with a team-best 13th-place tying score at the Southern Conference Championship. He garnered all-league accolades in his sophomore campaign of 2001-02.

Off the course, he excels in the classroom. He is soon to graduate with a 3.26 g.p.a. as a business economics major.
