The Wofford athletic department and director of golf Vic Lipscomb have announced the hiring of former LPGA professional Angie Ridgeway in the newly created role of associate director of golf.

“Angie Ridgeway gives Wofford instant credibility for our men's and women's programs,” Lipscomb said. “She has been an LPGA member and tournament player for many years. She also played golf at Appalachian State and has been doing a lot of teaching since she left the tournament scene.

“We are very fortunate to have someone of Angie's capabilities and stature to help Wofford grow the golf program.”

Prior to joining the Terriers, Ridgeway was named the women's golf head coach at USC Upstate and was in charge of beginning a new program with an anticipated start date in 2005-06.

“I'm thrilled to be at a Division I school so early in my coaching career and the opportunity to be at Wofford is especially exciting,” Ridgeway said. “The tradition in sports here is well known.

“To have a chance to work with Vic Lipscomb, my longtime friend, is a thrill. He is well established in Carolinas golf. Together, we can really take the golf program to a new level.”

A former 12-year veteran of the LPGA Tour (1992-2003), she played in over 190 events and five U.S. Opens. Her most successful year came in 1992 when she tallied $84,396 en route to over $300,000 in career earnings.

Ridgeway fired a 3-under-par 285 at the 1997 Ping Welch's Championship to garner a fifth-place result, one of her six career top 10 finishes. She also had 10 top 15 showings while placing in the top 25 on 21 occasions. In addition to playing on the regular tour, she also competed in over 260 charity and corporate pro-am events.

At the 1992 Sara Lee Classic, she finished ahead of notable players such as Nancy Lopez, Juli Inkster, Betsy King, Pat Bradley, Beth Daniel and JoAnne Carner on her way to tying for eighth place. She shot a career-low 64 in the first round of the 1992 Sega Women's Championship. She carded 44 career rounds in the 60s.

Ridgeway had her best years on the LPGA Tour in 1992 and 1993, winning over $159,000 during that two-year span.

A native of the Spartanburg area, she graduated from Boiling Springs High School before embarking on a collegiate career at Appalachian State. While at the Boone, N.C., institution, she earned a bachelor's degree in business and finished with a 3.5 grade-point average. She served as the Mountaineers' team captain and earned medalist honors at two tournaments.

Ridgeway has also advanced her professional development by attending various training programs, including the PGA of America Golf School, the Golf Digest School, the Dave Pelz Short Game School and the Sports Psychology Workshop conducted by Dr. Bob Rotella.

Wofford women's golf to host two tournaments in 2004-05 September 7, 2004

Highlighted by serving as host for two tournaments, the Wofford women's golf program and associate director of golf Angie Ridgeway have announced the 2004-05 schedule.

"I'm looking for leadership from our three returning players this season," said Ridgeway. "We also have two very enthusiastic freshmen who will contribute as they both are ready to go. Overall, we are looking to jump right in with both feet and improve on last year's performance."

The Terriers will start play this weekend, Sept. 13-14, at the Draper Valley Ladies Invitational in Draper, Va., before traveling to Sunset Beach, N.C., Sept. 25-26 for the Sea Trail Intercollegiate.

On Oct. 11-12, the first fall women's tournament in which Wofford will serve as the host occurs as the Terriers welcome competition for the Coca-Cola C2-Wofford Autumn Invitational. The two-day, 36-hole event will take place at the Three Pines Country Club in Woodruff, S.C.

Concluding the fall season will be a trip to Waynesville, N.C., for the Great Smokes Invitational (Oct. 18-19).

Opening the spring season is a Feb. 26-27 date at the Bethune-Cookman Spring Invitational in Daytona Beach, Fla.

Wofford will host its second tournament of the season, March 5-6, at the Coca-Cola Terrier Intercollegiate. The two-day, 36-hole event made its debut last year and will continue this season at the Carolina Country Club in Spartanburg.

Concluding the regular-season is a pair of tournaments, as the Terriers will play in the Shamrock Intercollegiate (March 18-20) in Rock Hill, S.C., before heading to Richmond, Ky., April 7-9, for the EKU Lady Colonel Classic.

Wofford wraps up its season at the Southern Conference Championship, April 22-24, in Greenville, S.C., at the Furman University Golf Course.

Fourth-place finish for Terrier women's golf in season opener Sept. 15, 2004

The Wofford women's golf team garnered a fourth-place finish out of 14 teams at its season-opening Draper Valley Ladies Invitational in Draper, Va. The two-day event, held Monday and Tuesday, was shortened to less than one round of play due to weather conditions in the area.

The Terriers were led by an eighth-place tying score by junior Lauren Stephenson (Cape Coral, Fla.). Stephenson registered a 37-37--74 (+2).

Wofford had three players finish within a stroke of each other. Senior Laura Robinson (Paget, Bermuda) tied for 14th with a 37-39--76 (+4) while freshman Ashley Current (Louisville, Ky.) carded a 39-38--77 (+5) in earning a tie for 20th. Sophomore Laura Parris (Spartanburg, S.C.) also factored into the mix with a 6-over par 37-41--78 to tie for 25th.

Rounding out the Terrier effort was freshman Mary Ellen Herring (Lillington, N.C.) with a 38th-place tying score of 40-40--80 (+8).

The squad will continue its season Sept. 25 and 26 at the Sea Trail Intercollegiate at the Sea Trail Plantation in Sunset Beach, N.C.

Terrier women's golfers continue season this weekend
Sept. 23, 2004

After a 4th-place showing at the season-opening Draper Valley Ladies Invitational, the Wofford women's golf team will resume its season tomorrow and Sunday at the Sea Trail Intercollegiate in Sunset Beach, N.C. The two-day event will be played at the Sea Trail Plantation and is hosted by fellow Southern Conference school Elon.

"Everyone has really been playing well," said associate director of golf Angie Ridgeway. "After we got off to such a good start at the season opener, we were disappointed we couldn't finish it. However, we are planning to pick up where we left off even though it is two weeks later."

At the rain-shortened tournament two weeks ago, junior Lauren Stephenson (Cape Coral, Fla.) led the Terriers with a 2-over par 74 to tie for eighth place in the individual standings.

Senior Laura Robinson (Paget, Bermuda) tied for 14th (+4) and freshman Ashley Current (Louisville, Ky.) tied for 20th to give Wofford three shooters in the top 20.

Once play is completed this weekend, the Terriers will return to Spartanburg before hosting their first fall tournament, the Coca-Cola C2-Wofford Autumn Invitational, Oct. 11-12, at Three Pines Country Club in Woodruff, S.C.

Stephenson and Current lead Terrier women's golf during day one Sept. 25, 2004

A pair of 7-over par 79s by two Wofford women's golfers highlight the squad's third-place tie after day one at the Sea Trail Women's Intercollegiate in Sunset Beach, N.C.

Junior Lauren Stephenson (Cape Coral, Fla.) posted a 39-40--79 (+7) and freshman Ashley Current (Louisville, Ky.) carded a 42-37--79 (+7) to tie four others for 12th place in the individual standings.

The Terriers also saw senior Laura Robinson (Paget, Bermuda) notch a 41-41--82 (+10) to tie for 27th and sophomore Laura Parris (Spartanburg, S.C.) tie for 37th with an 11-over par 42-41--83.

Rounding out the Wofford scoring was freshman Mary Ellen Herring (Lillington, N.C.) with a 46-46--92 (+20).

After day one, the Terriers are tied with Southern Conference foe and host Elon and are just three shots out of second place.

The two-day tournament will conclude tomorrow at the William Byrd Course at the Sea Trail Plantation.

Wofford women's golf to host first fall tournament
Oct. 10, 2004

The Wofford women's golf team will host its first fall tournament, the Coca-Cola C2-Wofford Autumn Invitational, tomorrow and Tuesday at the Three Pines Country Club in Woodruff, S.C. The Terriers will welcome The Citadel, Gardner-Webb, Jacksonville, Radford and Winthrop to the two-day, two-round event.

"We are excited about hosting the tournament," said associate director of golf Angie Ridgeway. "It will give us a chance to play on our home turf and compete against some quality opponents. I think we're all excited about the event."

Wofford has started its fall slate with success in its first two tournaments. At the season-opening Draper Valley Ladies Invitational in Draper, Va., the Terriers finished in fourth place and junior Lauren Stephenson (Cape Coral, Fla.) tied for eighth individually.

The squad then followed that effort up with a third-place showing at the Sea Trail Women's Intercollegiate in Sunset Beach, N.C. Freshman Ashley Current (Louisville, Ky.) paced Wofford with a tie for second place.

Wofford claims women's golf tournament title Oct. 12, 2004

Senior Laura Robinson (Paget, Bermuda) sparked the Terrier women's golf team to a first-place result at the Coca-Cola C2-Wofford Autumn Invitational at Three Pines Country Club in Woodruff, S.C. Wofford shot a 51-over-par (310-317--627) to earn the program its first tournament crown.

Robinson finished second individually with a 76-75--151 (+7), two shots behind medalist Tara Watt of Gardner-Webb. Not far behind Robinson was teammate Laura Parris (Spartanburg, S.C.). The sophomore from Dorman High School carded a 75-79--154 (+10) to tie for third place.

Freshman Ashley Current (Louisville, Ky.) recorded an 11th-place tying 76-85--161 (+17) while junior Lauren Stephenson (Cape Coral, Fla.) garnered a 13th-place result with an 83-79--162 (+18).

Rounding out the Wofford contingent was freshman Mary Ellen Herring (Lillington, N.C.), who notched a pair of 84s (84-84--168) to tie for 18th place at 24-over-par.

The 627 score by the Terriers was six shots better than second-place Winthrop (318-315--633, +57).

Wofford will conclude its fall season at the Great Smokies Invitational, Oct. 18-19, at the Waynesville Country Club in Waynesville, N.C.

Wofford women's golf closes fall season
Oct. 18, 2004

With three tournaments under its belt, the Wofford women's golf team will close the fall season at the Great Smokies Invitational at the Waynesville Country Club in Waynesville, N.C., today and tomorrow.

"We want to have a good showing based on our past results and which teams we will be facing," said associate director of golf Angie Ridgeway. "We're only taking four players but that does not mean our expectations have dropped. Everyone on the team is playing well. If we play up to our potential, we should fair well."

The Terriers captured the program's first tournament title at the Coca-Cola C2-Wofford Autumn Invitational this past week. It was Wofford's third straight top-five team finish, as it also earned fourth and third-place results.

Robinson to represent Bermuda in World Amateur Team Championship
Oct. 19, 2004

Wofford women's golfer Laura Robinson (Paget, Bermuda) will represent her home country in the World Amateur Team Championship, Oct. 20-23, at the Rio Mar Country Club in Rio Grande, Puerto Rico.

The tournament will take place at two courses at the country club. The Ocean course is slated for 6,076 yards, and the River course is set for 5,854 yards, both at par 72.

Each country which competes sends three participants for the 72-hole stroke play format. The lowest two scores per nation for the 51 women's teams count towards the Espirito Santo Trophy.

"This is like a major championship for amateur golf and that's the way we plan to treat it," said Sidney Wolf, president of the Puerto Rico Golf Association.

In order to be eligible for the event, players must be amateur golfers under the Rules of Amateur Status of either The Royal and Ancient Golf Club in St. Andrews, Scotland, or the U.S. Golf Association.

"It's a huge honor for her," said Terrier associate director of golf Angie Ridgeway. "To have a member of your own program in any type of world event is tremendous. We are all proud of her no matter what she accomplishes during the event. She certainly has the talent to play with anyone there."

Wofford is concluding its fall season today at the Great Smokies Invitational in Waynesville, N.C. In their previous three fall tournaments, the Terriers have increased their team finish each time. After starting the campaign in fourth, they registered a third-place finish before capturing the program's first tournament title with a first-place result at the Coca-Cola C2-Wofford Autumn Invitational last week.

At the home event, Robinson garnered a second-place finish with a 7-over-par 151. She is tied for the team lead with a 78.6 stroke average through the first three fall tournaments.

She will be allowed to carry her Wofford golf bag during the World Amateur Team Championship.

Second round of women's golf tournament cancelled
Oct. 19, 2004

Due to inclement weather, the second and final round of the Wachovia-Great Smokies Intercollegiate in Waynesville, N.C., has been cancelled. The first round was completed yesterday at the Waynesville Country Club.

In the event, sophomore Laura Parris (Spartanburg, S.C.) finished as the top Terrier with a 6-over-par 78. Wofford placed 18th out of the 24 teams.

The tournament was the final fall event for the Terriers. They concluded their four events in six total rounds and captured the Coca-Cola C2-Wofford Autumn Invitational, Oct. 11-12, in Woodruff, S.C.

The Terriers will next play when they open their spring schedule, Feb. 26-27, at the Bethune-Cookman Spring Invitational in Daytona Beach, Fla.

Robinson finishes first day of world event
Oct. 20, 2004

As one of three players representing Bermuda, senior Wofford women's golfer Laura Robinson has completed day one competition at the World Amateur Team Championship today in Rio Grande, Puerto Rico. Robinson hails from the Bermudian city of Paget.

She registered an 18-hole score of 84, a 12-over-par round of 43-41. Robinson tallied birdies on the par-4 sixth hole and par-5 10th hole.

She tied teammate Kim Botelho with her tally, and the pair finished two shots behind Ebonie Burgess for the top Bermudian score.

The four-day event will continue through Saturday.

Wofford women's golf rearranges spring schedule
Oct. 20, 2004

The Wofford women's golf program and associate director of golf Angie Ridgeway have announced changes to the upcoming spring schedule.

The Terriers have added a March 10-13 event, the St. Croix Collegiate Classic in St. Croix, Virgin Islands, to the slate. The tournament will take place at the Carambola Golf Club.

Additionally, Wofford will participate in its second Draper Valley event with the Draper Valley Intercollegiate, April 4-5, at the Draper Valley Golf Club in Draper, Va.

The program also dropped its participation from the ECU Lady Colonel Classic, April 7-9, at the Arlington Golf Club in Richmond, Ky.

The revised 2005 spring schedule is below.

2005 Wofford women's golf schedule:

Feb. 26-27, Bethune-Cookman Spring Invitational, Daytona Beach, Fla.

March 5-6, Coca-Cola Terrier Intercollegiate, Spartanburg, S.C.

March 10-13, St. Croix Collegiate Classic, St. Croix, Virgin Islands

March 18-20, Shamrock Intercollegiate, Rock Hill, S.C.

April 4-5, Draper Valley Intercollegiate, Draper, Va.

April 22-24, Southern Conference Championship, Greenville, S.C.

Second round complete for Robinson
Oct. 21, 2004

After firing a first-round 12-over-par 84, senior Laura Robinson (Paget, Bermuda) has completed her second round at the World Amateur Team Championship in Rio Grande, Puerto Rico.

Robinson, one of three Bermudians in the field, carded a 16-over-par 88 (47-41) during the second 18 holes. She played the River Course today at the Rio Grande Country Club, starting at hole 10.

On the back nine, she recorded a birdie on the 14th hole and parred holes 10, 12, 13 and 16. After making the turn, she parred holes two, four and five on the front nine.

Also competing for Bermuda today was Ebonie Burgess with a 9-over-par 81 and Kim Botelho with a 14-over-par 86.

The 51 nations competing in the event will continue the tournament through Saturday with the top two scores from each country counting each day.

Robinson completes best round yet at world event
Oct. 22, 2004

After 36 holes of play, senior Wofford women's golfer Laura Robinson (Paget, Bermuda) posted an 8-over-par 80 during the third round for her best 18-hole effort thus far in the four-day, four-round World Amateur Team Championship in Rio Grande, Puerto Rico.

Robinson is one of three players representing her home country of Bermuda. She fired the nation's top score today at the Rio Grande Country Club's Ocean Course.

On the front nine, she recorded a 2-over-par 38 which included pars on all but the sixth and ninth holes. After making the turn to the back nine, she registered a 6-over par 42, including a birdie on the par-4 13th.

For the tournament, she has notched a 36-over-par score through 54 holes.

Also competing today for Bermuda were Ebonie Burgess (+9) and Kim Botelho (+12).

The event concludes tomorrow.

Robinson finishes strong at World Amateur Team Championship
Oct. 24, 2004

Wofford senior women's golfer Laura Robinson (Paget, Bermuda) finished with a 6-over-par 72 during the fourth and final round Saturday to complete her competition in the World Amateur Team Championship at the Rio Grande Country Club in Rio Grande, Puerto Rico.

Playing the River Course for the second time, she finished the round with a 39-39 effort. On the front nine, she registered par on holes two, four, five, six, seven and nine. Her back nine was highlighted by a birdie on the 16th hole.

The 6-over-par daily total was the best among the three Bermudian players for the second-straight day as teammates Ebonie Burgess and Kim Botelho finished +8 and +11, respectively.

For the tournament, Robinson shot a 42-over-par total to place second on the team behind Burgess's 36-over par. Botelho was +49 for the event.

Bermuda finished 39th out of the 48 nations in the tournament with Burgess recording the team's top individual placement by tying for 98th place. Robinson tied for 108th and Botelho was tied for 110th among the 141 competitors.

Sweden edged the United States by three shots (9-under-par to 6-under-par) to win the team crown while the Swedes' Karin Sjodin and Paraguay's Julieta Granada tied for the top individual honor at 8-under-par following the four rounds.

Robinson will rejoin the Terrier program led by associate director of golf Angie Ridgeway. Wofford has completed its fall season and will next play when it opens the spring campaign, Feb. 26-27, at the Bethune-Cookman Spring Invitational in Daytona, Beach, Fla.
