Wofford's Year of the Liberal Arts

During the 2012-13 academic year, Wofford will join the current national conversation about the crucial role of the liberal arts in American higher education. The College will host a variety of public lectures, symposia, conversation circles, and other in-person and virtual initiatives that will explore a series of overlapping questions: What are the liberal arts? What is their place in higher education? Why do they shape our institution? What is their future? Read more.

Re:Thinking Education Book Club

Four shared reading experiences will structure our year, two in the fall semester and two in the spring. The Re:Thinking Education Book Club is open to everyone and will include many small reading circles that will meet on campus, in cities with existing alumni networks, and virtually via Google+ and through online discussion boards.

To: Wofford Staff WoffordStaff@Wofford.Edu

Wells Shepard has served Wofford in the Admission Office for the past five years as associate director and director of admission.

The many things accomplished during his tenure include enrolling the three largest classes in our history, the highest SAT average ever for a freshman class, and a significant increase in our geographic diversity.

Wells has accepted a position with Jenzabar, a higher education consulting, strategy and software firm. His last day at Wofford will be Friday, Aug. 17, but Wells and his family intend to stay in Spartanburg.

Please join us from 3 to 4 p.m. on Friday in the Papadopoulos Room to congratulate him on a job well done and to wish him well in his new venture.

Please be advised that we have a student and family dealing with a difficult situation, and wanted you to be aware of it.

Christopher Mark Joye, a senior (Class of 2013) from Columbia, S.C., and member of the Wofford men's golf team, was severely injured in an accident early Saturday morning (Aug. 18) in Spartanburg. We do not yet know all details, but he was apparently struck by a train near downtown, causing critical damage to both legs. One leg was lost, but Mark has made progress every hour.

Please keep Mark, his family and his medical team in your thoughts and prayers.

Re: Marsh Hall

The college has informed our student body, and the parents of incoming first-year students, that Marsh Hall will not be ready for occupancy on the scheduled move-in date, and arrangements are being made for alternative housing for the affected students during the first week of classes.

A moisture problem recently developed in the building, and it was determined that the appropriate method to address the issue involves removing the coating on the ceiling. Unfortunately, this coating contains asbestos.

To avoid any possible exposure, protocol for removal requires an empty building before the ceiling abatement begins. Students who already were staying in the building have been moved and all furnishings have been removed.

The ceiling abatement began this morning (Monday, August 20) and it will continue 24/7 until the work is completed. The work will last approximately three weeks.

Move-in day for first-year students has long been a wonderful experience at Wofford. Our entire community will work to create a memorable and enjoyable experience for these students and their parents this year.

The Office of Residence Life is in touch with the affected students, and the Office of Student Affairs is exploring alternative housing options, which will be communicated soon. They also are making plans for temporary storage and the moving of large items for these students.

Please know that the college's primary concern is the health and safety of our students, staff and faculty.

Subject: MESSAGE TO WOFFORD STAFF: Introducing the Staff Advisory Council
Date: August 24, 2012 at 3:30 PM
To:

Colleagues,

On Wednesday, President Dunlap approved the formation of a Staff Advisory Council (SAC) for Wofford College. A copy of the request to form the group is attached.

SAC will work toward fulfilling the following goals:

1. Promote a spirit of collegiality, camaraderie, and communication among staff and the entire Wofford community.
2. Encourage a greater understanding of staff interests, responsibilities, and expertise in order to better coordinate and enhance staff efforts to support faculty and to provide a valuable student experience at Wofford.
3. Offer input and recommendations to college administration regarding staff interests and concerns and consider such matters as may be referred to the Staff Advisory Council by the administration or campus organizations.
4. Provide a forum for interests, enhancements, concerns, and information that may apply to staff members of Wofford College.
5. Exist as a means of voluntary staff service and actively work to increase staff engagement in the life and operation of the college.

All staff members are invited to attend a 30-minute meeting to learn more about SAC and how it will benefit the college and to learn about how you may get involved in creating its bylaws, policies and procedures.

The meeting will take place on Thursday, August 30, from 10:30 to 11 a.m. in Room 113, Michael S. Brown Village Center.

This is a historic opportunity for staff. I hope you'll take advantage of it. This is OUR group. To be successful, it needs YOU.

I hope to see you Thursday. If you have questions, please don't hesitate to contact Jessalyn Story (storyjw@wofford.edu) or me.

Thank you for your time.

To: Wofford Students Assigned to Marsh Hall
From: Dean Brian Lemere, Assistant Dean of Students
Date: August 31, 2012

As Dean Bigger told you last night at Camp Greystone, we were thrilled to learn that work on Marsh Hall was completed ahead of schedule by crews who agreed to work around the clock. The abatement of the ceilings has been completed. The air quality test results confirm that the building can be occupied. The college is painting the ceilings and cleaning the rooms. Marsh Hall will reopen at 2:00 pm on Monday.

We know that some of you have afternoon classes and science labs at that time. Please know that your classes, lab and academic work comes first. You must attend class or lab. You can move in after lab on Monday evening or sometime on Tuesday. If you would like to stay in your room at the Marriott on Monday night, please confirm this with me at lemerebj@wofford.edu <mailto:lemerebj@wofford.edu> .

If you plan to move on Monday, you must check out of your room by 12:00 noon. If you are going to wait until Tuesday, you must check out by 12:00 noon at the latest. The Marriott can store your bags while you are in class.

If you have belongings in the storage gym, you may pick them up between 2:00 -6:00 pm on Monday. If you have items in storage, but do not have a vehicle to move them, please contact Mrs. Beth Clardy at clardyby@wofford.edu <mailto:clardyby@wofford.edu> .

If your parents plan to bring items to your room on Monday, please know that they will not be able to enter the building until 2:00 pm.

Lastly, if you need to borrow some sheets and towels, please let me know at lemerebj@wofford.edu <mailto:lemerebj@wofford.edu> .

Please let me know if you have any questions.
