Today's Events

All Saints Day Tolling of the College Bell

Date/Time: 11/1/2012 11:00:00 AM

Location: Seal in front of Main

Cost: Free

Details: The Wofford Community is invited to gather on the College Seal in front of Old Main for our annual All Saints Remembrance Today, Nov. 1 at 11 a.m. It is a tradition of the college to toll the bell when new students arrive, when they graduate, and at the end of their life. Faculty, staff and friends of the college are included in the latter tolling which is held on All Saints Day. Chaplain Robinson will be joined by members of Campus Union, Panhellenic Council, Inter-fraternity Council, independent students, faculty and staff as we read the names and toll the bell. The gathering is a brief, but meaningful tradition uniting the Wofford community through the years.

Opening Reception for Gilbert (Trey) Parker Exhibition

Date/Time: 11/1/2012 4:00:00 PM

Location: Martha Cloud Chapman Gallery, Campus Life Building

Cost: Free

Details: Dr. William O. Whetsell has established a fund in memory of his brother, Dan Whetsell, to enable a Wofford student to study some aspect of the visual arts, with the summer's study leading to an exhibition on the campus during the next school year. The 2012 Whetsell Fellow, Gilbert (Trey) Parker, spent the summer working with Spartanburg artist Teresa Prater developing his drawing skills in charcoal. The subject matter generally derives from scenes and vignettes from the Wofford College campus. See the results of a summer's work, meet the artist over refreshments.

TO: The Wofford College Community

FROM: R. Michael James '73
Chair, Presidential Search Committee

RE: First Steps in the Presidential Search – The Pre-Search Study

DATE: November 2, 2012

The work of the Presidential Search Committee is well underway. I am writing to offer more detail regarding first steps of the search process and to encourage your participation beginning later this month. Senior Vice President David Beacham has been working with our search consultant, Tom Courtice from AGB Search, to arrange a complete pre-search interview schedule with all campus constituencies. We have identified Monday and Tuesday, November 12-13, as a time when we hope most of you can be available to meet and talk with Tom, and participate in this critical pre-search study. Tom brings nearly a decade of search experience to his work with Wofford, and nearly 40 years of immersion in independent higher education including three private college presidencies. His most recent presidential assignment was at Ohio Wesleyan University.

His conversations with you and the pre-search study have three primary purposes:

- To ensure that Tom will be well-informed about Wofford College, thereby performing his consultative role with full understanding;
- To give all constituencies an opportunity to register their views about Wofford's future needs and priorities;
- To enable Tom and the Search Committee to produce a Presidential Search Profile that outlines the key opportunities and challenges facing our next president and a related set of presidential attributes and talents that he/she will present to us.

David will be compiling and announcing the comprehensive interview schedule for November 12 and 13. We ask that you respond with your participation and your best thinking about Wofford's future when you are contacted. If you have any questions at this early stage, please let me know (rmichaeljames@gmail.com), or you may also contact David with questions at any time (beachamdm@wofford.edu).

Thank you for your interest and your support as we move forward with the search for Wofford's eleventh president.

Great American Smokeout 2012

The American Cancer Society is marking the 37th Great American Smokeout on Thursday, November 15 by encouraging smokers to use the date to make a plan to quit, or to plan in advance and quit smoking that day. By doing so, smokers will be taking an important step towards a healthier life – one that can lead to reducing cancer risk.

Tobacco use remains the single largest preventable cause of disease and premature death in the US, yet more than 45 million Americans still smoke cigarettes. However, more than half of these smokers have attempted to quit for at least one day in the past year. As of 2010, there were also 13.2 million cigar smokers in the US, and 2.2 million who smoke tobacco in pipes.

Quitting smoking is not easy, but it can be done. To have the best chance of quitting successfully, you need to know what you're up against, what your options are, and where to go for help. The American Cancer Society can tell you about the steps you can take to quit smoking and provide the resources and support that can increase your chances of quitting successfully. To learn about the available tools, call the American Cancer Society at 1-800-227-2345 or visit them at <http://www.cancer.org/Healthy/StayAwayfromTobacco>.

Lung Cancer Awareness

November is officially Lung Cancer Awareness Month. It originally started as Lung Cancer Awareness Day in 1995. As the lung cancer community and the lung cancer movement grew, the awareness activities increased and grew into Lung Cancer Awareness Month.

Lung cancer is the leading cause of cancer death and the second most diagnosed cancer in both men and women in the United States. In 2008 (the most recent year numbers are available):

- 208,493 people in the United States were diagnosed with lung cancer, including 111,886 men and 96,607 women.
- 158,592 people in the United States died from lung cancer, including 88,541 men and 70,051 women.

After increasing for decades, lung cancer incidence and mortality rates among men and women are decreasing, paralleling decreases in cigarette smoking.

Cigarette smoking is the number one risk factor for lung cancer. In the United States, cigarette smoking causes about 90% of lung cancers. People who smoke are 15 to 30 times more likely to get lung cancer or die from lung cancer than people who do not smoke. Even smoking a few cigarettes a day or smoking occasionally increases the risk of lung cancer. The more years a person smokes and the more cigarettes smoked each day, the more the risk goes up. People who quit smoking have a lower risk of lung cancer than if they had continued to smoke, but their risk is higher than the risk for people who never smoked.

Several exposures in the home or workplace may also help cause lung cancer. Radon is a naturally occurring gas that comes from rocks and dirt and can get trapped in houses and buildings. It cannot be seen, tasted, or smelled. According to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), radon causes about 20,000 cases of lung cancer each year, making it the second leading cause of lung cancer. Nearly one out of every 15 homes in the U.S. is estimated to have high radon levels.

Examples of substances found at some workplaces that increase risk include asbestos, arsenic, diesel exhaust, and some forms of silica and chromium. For many of these substances, the risk of getting lung cancer is even higher for those who also smoke.

Risk of lung cancer may be higher if a person's parents, siblings (brothers or sisters), or children have had lung cancer. This increased risk could come from one or more things. They may share behaviors, like smoking. They may live in the same place where there are carcinogens such as radon. They may have inherited increased risk in their genes.

Scientists are studying many different foods and dietary supplements to see whether they increase the risk of getting lung cancer. There is much we still need to know.

De-Stress at Your Desk: Office Yoga

Cow Face Arms has many benefits. Don't be put off by the funny sounding name of this pose. This upper body stretch releases tension in the neck and shoulders, as well as opens tight chest muscles facilitating deeper breathing and less stress.

Step-by-Step Instructions:

- 1) Sit slightly forward on your chair with feet flat on floor. Contract your abdominal muscles, roll shoulders back and down, and lift chest up.

- 2) As you inhale, reach your right arm straight up and as you exhale, bend the elbow and place hand at upper back between the shoulder blades.
- 3) As you inhale again, reach your left arm out to the side of your body and as you exhale, bend the elbow and bring hand around the back (palm facing away).
- 4) Clasp the fingers on both hands together. Grab a towel to join hands if fingers can't touch.
- 5) Breathe deeply into the space you are creating for 3-5 breaths. On an exhale, release both hands and arms down. Repeat on the other side, switching hand positions.

Lung Cancer Symptoms

Different people have different symptoms for lung cancer. Some people have symptoms related to the lungs. Some people whose lung cancer has spread to other parts of the body (metastasized) have symptoms specific to that part of the body. Some people have general symptoms of not feeling well. Most people with lung cancer don't have any symptoms until the cancer is advanced. This is because there are few specialized nerves (pain receptors) in the lungs. When lung cancer symptoms do occur, they vary depending on the type of lung cancer and the location and size of the tumor. Remind your doctor of your medical and social history at each physical examination to assist in a prompt and accurate diagnosis.

Lung cancer symptoms may include:

Local disease (Restricted to the area where the cancer started with no sign it has spread)

- Coughing (most common, 50% of cases)
- Blood in sputum
- Shortness of breath
- Wheezing
- Pain in the chest
- Fatigue
- Pneumonia (repeated bouts)

Locally advanced disease (Cancer has spread from where it started to nearby tissue or lymph nodes)

- Swollen or enlarged lymph nodes inside the chest in the area between the lungs
- Hoarseness
- Difficulty or pain in swallowing
- High pitched sounds while breathing
- Excess fluid in the lining of the lung
- Excess fluid in the lining of the heart

If the cancer has spread to other, more distant parts of the body, the symptoms are related to that part of the body. For example, in the brain symptoms may include:

- Headaches
- Seizures
- Weakness
- Confusion

If cancer spreads to the Liver, cancer may have the following symptoms:

- Stomach pain (right side)
- Yellowing of the skin and eyes (jaundice)
- Fatigue
- Weight loss
- Nausea

It is important to note that these symptoms have many other causes, and by themselves do not necessarily need to cause concern. As always, speak with your physician about any health concerns you may have.

This Month's Q&A: Ask the Expert

Q: How does a doctor confirm someone has lung cancer?

To confirm that a person has lung cancer, the doctor must examine fluid or tissue from the lung. This is done through a biopsy -- the removal of a small sample of fluid or tissue for examination under a microscope by a pathologist. A biopsy can show whether a person has cancer. A number of procedures may be used to obtain this tissue.

- Bronchoscopy -- The doctor puts a bronchoscope -- a thin, lighted tube -- into the mouth or nose and down through the windpipe to look into the breathing passages. Through this tube, the doctor can collect cells or small samples of tissue.
- Needle Aspiration -- The doctor numbs the chest area and inserts a thin needle into the tumor to remove a sample of tissue.
- Thoracentesis -- Using a needle, the doctor removes a sample of the fluid that surrounds the lungs to check for cancer cells.
- Thoracotomy -- Surgery to open the chest is sometimes needed to diagnose lung cancer. This procedure is a major operation performed in a hospital.

Breathe a Little Easier

Learn More About Asthma

Asthma is a chronic, or life long, disease that can be serious—even life threatening. There is no cure for asthma. The good news is that it can be managed so you can live a normal, healthy life. The more you can learn about asthma, the better you and your loved ones can manage living with this disease, making the most of every day, and maintaining the quality of life that is important to you. Asthma is a lung disease that makes it harder to move air in and out of your lungs. There are three things that you should know about asthma:

1. Asthma is chronic. In other words, long-term.
2. It can be serious – even life threatening.
3. There is no cure for asthma, but it can be managed so you live a normal, healthy life.

When you breathe, air passes through your nose and down your throat into your lungs. Inside your lungs are branching tubes called airways. With asthma, the airways are often swollen and red (or inflamed). This makes them extra sensitive to things that you are exposed to in the environment every day or asthma “triggers”. A trigger could be a cold, the weather, or things in the environment, such as dust, chemicals, smoke and pet dander.

When someone with asthma breathes in a trigger, the insides of the airways make extra mucus and swell even more. This narrows the space for the air to move in and out of the lungs. The muscles that wrap around your airways can also tighten, making breathing even harder. When that happens, it’s called an asthma flare-up, asthma episode, or asthma “attack”.

These “attacks” can be managed by avoiding triggers, taking suppressive medicines, taking notice of lung function on a regular basis and always having access to emergency treatment in case of an attack.

Asthma can start at any age. Sometimes, people have asthma when they are very young and as their lungs develop, the symptoms go away. There is a possibility that it will come back later in life. Sometimes, people get asthma for the first time when they are older.

The exact cause of asthma is not known. Asthma tends to run in families, but environmental factors may also play a key role. Scientists continue to explore what causes asthma, but we do know that the following factors play an important role in the development of asthma:

- Genetics. Asthma tends to run in families. Genetics plays an important role in causing asthma. If your mom or dad have asthma, then you are more likely to have asthma too.
- Allergies. Some people are more likely to develop allergies than others, especially if your mom or dad had allergies. Certain allergies are linked to people who get asthma.
- Respiratory Infections. As the lungs develop in infancy and early childhood, certain respiratory infections have been shown to cause inflammation and damage the lung tissue. The damage that is caused in infancy or early childhood can impact lung function long-term.
- Environment. Contact with allergens, certain irritants, or viral infections as an infant or in early childhood when the immune system in developing have been linked to developing asthma. Irritants and air pollution may also play a significant role in adult-onset asthma.

The good news is that asthma can be successfully treated. People with asthma can and do live normal, active, productive lives. It’s important to find a health care provider to help you manage your disease.

Poor asthma management can lead to airway remodeling. Airway remodeling is a serious condition that happens when asthma is untreated or poorly managed. The lungs become scarred, asthma medicines do not work as well, and less air is able to move through the airways. But airway remodeling does not have to happen. Stick to an asthma action plan. Take control of your asthma!

EXERCISE TIP

Activities that involve short, intermittent periods of exertion such as volleyball, gymnastics, baseball and wrestling are generally well tolerated by people with symptoms of asthma.

Activities that involve long periods of exertion, such as soccer, distance running, basketball, and field hockey, may be less well tolerated. Also less well tolerated are cold weather sports such as ice hockey, cross-country skiing, and ice-skating. However, many people with asthma are able to fully participate in these activities.

Swimming, which is a strong endurance sport, is generally well tolerated by many people with asthma because it is usually performed in a warm, moist air environment. It is also an excellent activity for maintaining physical fitness.

Other beneficial activities for people with asthma include both outdoor and indoor biking, aerobics, walking, or running on a treadmill.

Sweet Potato Success

Not only are sweet potatoes readily available, inexpensive, and delicious, there are many other reasons to love these yummy vegetables. Here are a few:

High in vitamin B6.

Vitamin B6 helps reduce the chemical homocysteine in our bodies. Homocysteine has been linked with inflammatory and degenerative diseases, including heart attacks.

Good source of vitamin C.

While most people attribute good immune function to vitamin C, few people are aware that this crucial vitamin plays an important role in bone and tooth formation, digestion, and blood cell formation. It helps accelerate wound healing, produces collagen which helps maintain skin's youthful elasticity, and is essential to helping us cope with stress. It even appears to help protect our body against toxins that may be linked to cancer.

Sweet source of iron.

Most people are aware that we need the mineral iron to have adequate energy, but iron plays other important roles in our body, including red and white blood cell production, resistance to stress, proper immune functioning, and the metabolizing of protein, among other things.

They balance blood sugar.

Sweet potatoes are naturally sweet-tasting, but their natural sugars are slowly released into the bloodstream, helping to ensure a balanced and regular source of energy, without the blood sugar spikes linked to fatigue and weight gain.

Recipe Corner

Sweet Potato Casserole

This scrumptious sweet potato casserole gets fabulous flavor from honey and freshly grated orange zest rather than the traditional stick of butter. To complete the healthy makeover, sprinkle a crunchy pecan streusel spiked with orange juice concentrate over the top. You can save the marshmallows for s'mores. View more Thanksgiving recipes at www.eatingwell.com.

Ingredients

Sweet Potato Casserole

- 2 1/2 pounds sweet potatoes, (3 medium), peeled and cut into 2-inch chunks
- 2 large eggs
- 1 tablespoon canola oil
- 1 tablespoon honey
- 1/2 cup low-fat milk
- 2 teaspoons freshly grated orange zest
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Topping

- 1/2 cup whole-wheat flour
- 1/3 cup packed brown sugar
- 4 teaspoons frozen orange juice concentrate
- 1 tablespoon canola oil
- 1 tablespoon butter, melted
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans

Directions

1. Place sweet potatoes in a large saucepan and cover with water. Bring to a boil. Cover and cook over medium heat until tender, 10 to 15 minutes. Drain well and return to the pan. Mash with a potato masher. Measure out 3 cups. (Reserve any extra for another use.)
2. Preheat oven to 350°F. Coat an 8-inch-square (or similar 2-quart) baking dish with cooking spray.
3. Whisk eggs, oil and honey in a medium bowl. Add mashed sweet potato and mix well. Stir in milk, orange zest, vanilla, and salt. Spread the mixture in the prepared baking dish.
4. To prepare topping: Mix flour, brown sugar, orange juice concentrate, oil, and butter in a small bowl. Blend with a fork or your fingertips until crumbly. Stir in pecans. Sprinkle over the casserole.
5. Bake the casserole until heated through and the top is lightly browned, 35 to 45 minutes.

Political Survey of Wofford Students

Details: Who will it be? That's the one question on everybody's mind at this point. After months of presidential debates and over a year of hopeful nominees vying for the top spot, I think it's safe to say that we're all pretty worn down at this point. But how will Wofford vote? The Sociology department's Social Research class set out to answer those questions. The result: 59.7% of surveyed students said that if the election were held today they would vote for Mitt Romney, 31.7% would elect President Obama, 6.5% supported a candidate from another party, and the remaining 2.1% chose not to answer. So, if Wofford students were responsible for the election Governor Romney would win with almost twice as much support as President Obama. Interestingly, a higher percentage of women supported Romney (61.7%) than men did (57.3%). This comes as a surprise considering the polarity of the (0/17/09) than men did (0/15/09). This comes as a surprise, considering the polarity of the candidates on issues such as abortion and whether or not the government should require insurance companies to cover contraception. Of our surveyed students, 84.9% reported that they are likely to vote and 74.1% said that they were either somewhat or very interested in politics. No matter where a person stands on the issues, it is important that each and every one of us is informed about the issues facing our country and goes to the polls to vote our values in every election year. Keep your eyes open for the next edition of the Old Gold & Black for a more detailed report of the survey where you can find out what influences students' votes.

Dear Colleagues:

Next Tuesday evening, November 13, at 7:00 pm, the college is hosting Rabbi Judith Schindler as part of our Re:Thinking Education events. Her talk will focus on what she calls -- "being the other" -- as to how Jews address the issue of being a minority in the South. Her talk will prove pertinent to all minorities.

As rabbi of Temple Beth El in Charlotte, Rabbi Schindler's work goes far beyond the Jewish community as she envisioned and created "Souls of our Students," a documentary on diversity that is being used in schools and businesses, and "Souls of Our Teachers," a documentary on urban education that advocates for support of public education. Her newest film is entitled, "Souls of our Neighbors: Fears and Facts On Affordable Housing."

Rabbi Schindler is a dynamic speaker. Her work in the community led to her selection as Charlotte Woman of the Year in 2011.

Please join us and encourage your students to do the same next Tuesday evening in Leonard Auditorium.

Thanks,
Andrew Green

Subject: IMPORTANT MESSAGE ABOUT PRESIDENT SEARCH
Date: November 7, 2012 at 2:26 PM
To:

To: Members of Wofford administration and staff
From: David Beacham

The Presidential Search Committee has selected AGB Search as the search firm to assist with Wofford's presidential search this year, and the consultant working with us will be Dr. Tom Courtice (<http://www.agbsearch.com/consultants/thomas-b-courtice>). Tom is a highly skilled and seasoned veteran of numerous presidential searches, and we are confident that he will be enormously helpful to our process. He plans to be on campus next Monday and Tuesday, November 12-13, for what he calls the "pre-search study". During this visit, Tom will be meeting individually and in group settings with as many stakeholders in this process as possible, to include students, faculty, administration, staff, trustees, and community leaders. Most of these sessions will be 45 minutes to an hour in length, and Tom will be working to learn from us what we perceive to be needed in our next president, and what we believe to be strengths and weaknesses of Wofford College.

Two options for sessions with members of the administration and staff (non-faculty) have been scheduled, and you are invited to select one to attend if possible. The two times are Monday, November 12, 4:00 pm-5:00 pm in Room 113 of the Michael S. Brown Village Center, and Tuesday, November 13, 3:15 pm-4:15 pm in McMillan Theater of the Campus Life Building. Please check your calendar and make plans to attend one of these sessions.

If you have questions, please let me know.

To: Wofford College Faculty and Staff
From: Bernie Dunlap

We will schedule an open forum in the near future for further discussion of Wofford's health care coverage. In the meanwhile, for those wishing more information, please check the Wofford website at <http://www.wofford.edu/humanResources/content.aspx?id=25968> or search the site for "Employee Medical Plan, PAI Links." Please note that several factors other than fees can profoundly affect what we actually pay—such as the threshold for deductibles and the percentage of a total bill that's covered by our policy.

"On Being a Jew in the South" --Rabbi Judith Schindler

Date/Time: 11/13/2012 7:00:00 PM

Location: Leonard Auditorium, Main Building

Cost: Free

Details: Southern Jews live in a different environment than Northern Jews. In the North, there are large self-contained communities in which Jews maintain a cultural identity and in some localized communities are even a majority. In the South, it is a different climate for Jews. Their communities are primarily Christian and Jews always are in a minority here. In this changed context, what does it mean to be a Jew in the South? Rabbi Judith Schindler is the senior rabbi at Temple Beth El in Charlotte, N.C. She received her bachelor's degree in clinical psychology from Tufts University, her master's from the Hebrew Union College in Los Angeles, and was ordained at the Hebrew Union College in New York in 1995. Schindler has done additional coursework at York University in England, Tel Aviv University, Hebrew University in Jerusalem, and the Jerusalem campus of the Hebrew Union College. Schindler envisioned and led the creation of Souls of Our Students, an award-winning documentary on diversity that is being used in businesses, congregations and schools throughout Charlotte and at independent schools across the country. She helped to create Souls of Our Teachers, an award-winning documentary on urban education. A "Re:ThinkingEducation" Event

Spectrum Film Night: Outrage

Date/Time: 11/14/2012 7:30:00 PM

Location: McMillan Theater, Campus Life Building

Cost: Free

Details: ****Counts as a Cultural Event**** Spectrum is screening Outrage, a documentary film discussing the hypocrisy of individuals purported as closeted politicians who promote anti-gay legislation. Snacks will be provided! After the film, Dr. Sexeny will moderate a discussion. Also, Hurricane Sandy destroyed a part of the Ali Forney Center, which is a shelter that provides homes and other services for LGBT teens who are forced to run away or are kicked out of their homes for being gay. We will be collecting donations at the film showing to give to Upstate Pride, which is collecting money to send to the shelter. Any donation is welcome and much appreciated!

Announcements

"The Cup" Round Two

Details: Fierce Green Fire and SI would like to happily announce the second annual sale of the cup starting this Tuesday. To purchase "the Cup", simply bring your W number with you to lunch to pay with terrier bucks or cash. There is a limited number so buy while you can. The benefits of these cups (other than the fact they look super cool) is students and faculty get free drinks in Burwell, Zach's, Phase V, and all sports events except for football games, where the drinks are half off. Please help us reduce paper waste on campus by buying and using "The Cup". Thank you, FGF

The Race is On!

If you haven't already heard about the Wofford 500 you can visit the website to learn more, but the 411 is this: We have been challenged to secure 500 individual donations in a single 24 hour period. Meeting this challenge will result in a $50,000 gift to the Wofford Annual Fund. Several members of the Wofford community (including students, faculty and staff) have asked if they are eligible to participate in the Wofford 500. The answer is YES.

Here is how you can help:

Be one of the 500:

- ▶▶ Visit the Wofford 500 website (it is mobile friendly)
- ▶▶ Scan a QR code on the posters around campus
- ▶▶ Drop off a gift (cash, check or credit/card) in the Development Office

and/or

- ▶▶ Encourage your friends, parents, or alumni you know to become one of the 500! - Share your excitement about the Wofford 500 with others via Facebook, Twitter, e-mails or phone calls!

Thanks for expressing an interest in the Wofford 500: Race the Clock.

To: All Wofford Staff
From: Bernie Dunlap

In recognition of the unstinting diligence of all Wofford employees, we are declaring next Wednesday, November 21st, to be a holiday for college staff—with the stipulation that offices must be fully staffed and functioning until 5:00 pm on Tuesday. If any offices must remain open on Wednesday, employees who work on that day will be entitled to an additional day of vacation leave.

Wofford Faculty and Staff,

The Old Gold and Black would like to hear from you in our upcoming spring issues! Each one of our issues during the spring 2013 semester will have a "Faculty/Staff Stories" column, and now is your chance to get involved. If you would like to write an article, please look below at the available issue dates below and email me (Millerla@email.wofford.edu) with your top two date choices. Articles should be 500-700 words in length and can cover any topic of your choice.

I appreciate your consideration in helping our publication.

Thanks,
Leigh Ann Miller

RICHARDSON BUILDING CLOSED ON SATURDAY

As part of the rules and regulations outlined for hosting the NCAA Playoff Game this Saturday, the Richardson Physical Activities Building is CLOSED beginning at 12:00am Saturday and will re-open at 7:00 pm Saturday. No students, faculty or staff of Wofford or VCOM are allowed to use the workout facility during this time. We apologize for the inconvenience, but ask for your understanding. The NCAA mandates that the building that housing the team locker rooms be completely secure the entire day of the event.

Kickoff of this second round NCAA playoff game between Wofford and New Hampshire is set for 2pm. Tickets for Wofford and VCOM students are $10 with a valid ID and may be purchased through Friday at the Athletic Administration Office in the Richardson Building (9a -5p) or at tables located at Zach's and Burwell (11a – 1p) or at the Cumming Street Ticket Booth at Gibbs Stadium on Saturday beginning at Noon. Tickets for faculty/staff and the general public are $25 and may be purchased by calling 864-597-4090 or stopping by the Athletic Administration Office in the Richardson Building (9a -5p) through Friday.

Thank you,

PLEASE DO NOT REPLY TO THIS EMAIL. If you have questions or comments, please email Dan Mathewson at mathewsondb@wofford.edu.

Dear Colleagues,

If you've been within fifteen feet of us at any point over the last month, you've no doubt heard (over and over) that this is a very big week in the Re:Thinking Education schedule! Please join us for one or all of the following events:

1. Book Club Discussion of Andrew Delbanco's College: What It Was, Is, and Should be.

Discussion groups are scheduled for today, tomorrow, and Wednesday at 4pm in the Papadopoulos Room (the evening discussion groups have been cancelled). If you've read the book or plan to do so in the next couple of days, please join one of the discussion groups.

2. Roundtable Discussion with Andrew Delbanco (Thursday the 29th at 11am in Anna Todd)

A group of 25 students, faculty, staff, alumni, and trustees have been invited to participate in a roundtable discussion with Delbanco of his book, College. The general public is invited to listen in on the conversation.

3. Public Talk by Andrew Delbanco (Thursday the 29th at 7pm in Leonard)

Delbanco is a highly sought-after speaker and he's carved time out of his incredibly busy schedule because he wants -- really, truly -- to be part of Re:Thinking Education. This is potentially a big publicity event for us, so we really do need to pack Leonard. If you're only able to come to one event this week, please make it this one. Also, please encourage your students to attend (please please please!).

Thanks in advance for your participation,
Dan and Anne
