Terrier Club Mini-Tour goes international

The Terrier Club Mini-Tour will head to Dublin and Northern Ireland June 3-10, 2006.

The trip begins with play at Portstewart Golf Club on the Antrim Coast before heading to Dunluce Links, the only course in Ireland to host the British Open. Golfers will also play at Portmarnock Golf Links, one of the top five courses in Ireland, as well as the K-Club, home of the 2006 Ryder Cup.

The tour includes ground transportation, hotel accommodations, local travel assistance in Ireland and the opportunity to travel with Wofford football coach Mike Ayers.

The cost of the tour per person is $3,080 and $1,560 for the non-golfer.

Space is limited in order to make the experience truly special for all guests. Reservations are due by Aug. 1. A $1,500 deposit is required (insurance available).

Please contact April Williams, director of the Mini-Tour, at (864) 597-4496 or williamsac@wofford.edu to reserve a spot or for more information.

Each participant on the 2005 Mini-Tour is automatically entered to win a free trip to the stop in Ireland. The more tournaments participated in, the better the chance to win. Raffle tickets will be sold at each tournament for $25 each.

Upcoming tournaments include the following:

Sept. 23, Atlanta Area Tournament - Pine Isle Resort
Oct. 17, Upstate Area Tournament - Musgrove Mill
Oct. 25, Charlotte Area Tournament - Carmel Country Club
Oct. 28, Charleston Area Tournament - Patriots Point

The winner of the free trip to Ireland will be announced in February 2006. If that individual is unable to go, Wofford will draw for another winner. If circumstances cause the trip not to take place, there will not be a drawing or winner of a free trip to Ireland.
As part of his “Inside the NFL” column posted online, SI.com’s Peter King ranks Wofford as the fifth-best NFL training camp location.

Wofford has been the summer home of the Carolina Panthers since their inaugural season in 1995. Panther owner and founder Jerry Richardson is a 1959 Wofford graduate and a former All-America wide receiver for the Terriers.

King has traveled to NFL training camps nationwide since 1988. He had the following to say about the Panthers' location at Wofford:

5. Panthers (Wofford College, Spartanburg, S.C.): Close call. Wofford barely nips the Bills' home (St. John Fisher College in suburban Rochester, N.Y.) and Seahawks' site (Eastern Washington in Spokane, Wash.) because of the proximity to the players. There might be 500 or 600 fans at weekday morning practices, and before and after each session, depending on which of three practice pitches Carolina's using that day, the players walk along a roped path, at least 75 yards long, to the field. Shake the hands. Meet the players. Fans are no farther than 10 or 15 yards from the sidelines during practice, and if the workout is in Wofford's refurbished stadium, the seats are close. Wherever you are, you can clearly hear coaches coaching. After practice, five kids are picked out to be Panther Pals, and they team with a player to carry helmet and shoulder pads back to the locker room -- and to spend 10 minutes with the player. If you head to the student union to buy a T-shirt or bottle of water between practices, you'll see them all. Bottom line: If you're a 10-year-old kid with a fan-crush on Jake Delhomme, chances are you'll meet him before the day's out.

The Panthers' 11th training camp at Wofford begins July 29 when players report to campus.
Wofford announces 2005 Athletic Hall of Fame class

Former Wofford basketball standouts Stephon Blanding ’90 and Brenda Jackson ’94, as well as All-America golfer Darrell Brown ’86, have been selected by a committee of the Terrier Club Board of Directors as the 2005 inductees into the College Athletic Hall of Fame.

Gordon Orr is this year’s Honorary Letterman while Cleveland Harley ’50 is the Distinguished Service Award recipient.

Induction ceremonies will take place Sept. 17, prior to the Wofford football team’s 7 p.m. home game versus Georgia Southern.

The Hall of Fame recognizes “those former athletes and coaches who, by outstanding athletic achievements and service, have made lasting and significant contributions to the cause of sports at Wofford College, the Spartanburg community, South Carolina and the nation.”

Blanding places 12th on Wofford’s career scoring list with 1,454 points. He was a four-year starter and three-year team captain.

A native of Sumter, S.C., Blanding ranked fourth nationally in Division II when he averaged 13.1 rebounds as a junior in the 1988-89 campaign. He led Wofford in scoring, rebounding and field-goal percentage as a sophomore. Blanding was named the NAIA District Player of the Week after averaging 27.3 points and 11.6 rebounds in leading the Terriers to a record.

Blanding averaged a team-best 10.9 rebounds while scoring at a 12.1 clip his freshman year. He also topped the Terriers that season in blocked shots (38), field-goal percentage (61.0) and free-throw percentage (76.3).

Blanding closed his Wofford athletic career as a defensive end for the football team in the 1990 season, helping lead the Terriers to the NCAA Division II playoffs.

Brown was a two-time NAIA All-America and a three-time participant in the NAIA National Championships, placing fifth as a sophomore and third his senior year. The Woodruff, S.C., native was the 1985 and 1986 NAIA District 6 Medalist. He helped lead Wofford to the 1986 District 6 title.

Jackson is the Wofford women’s basketball career rebounding leader (1,076) and No. 5 all-time scorer (1,537 points). She’s the lone Wofford player to reach the 1,000 mark in both career points and rebounds. No other Terrier women’s player has 1,000 boards. Jackson also ranks second in career steals (237).

A native of Abbeville, S.C., Jackson tied the Wofford single-game rebounding record with 20 against Newberry (Jan. 8, 1992). Her career rebounding average of 10.3 is nearly a full board better than the next closest player (Wofford Hall of Fame member Meg Hunt, 9.4, 1980-84). Jackson posted the top five single-season rebounding averages in Terrier history.

Jackson ranks fifth in career scoring average at 14.8 points, including a career-best 16.4 her senior year when she helped lead Wofford to the 1994 NCAA Division II Tournament. The Terriers had a 71-35 record in her four years on campus.

The Honorary Letterman Award recognizes those non-lettermen who through their dedicated and loyal support have been instrumental in the growth and development of Wofford’s athletic program.

Orr is a fixture at Terrier home athletic events with his Carolina Trader line of Wofford apparel. Proceeds from each sale are earmarked for the Terrier Club. Over $100,000 has been raised to aid scholarship support for Wofford student-athletes through Orr.

Also a 1989 Honorary Letterman, Harley is just the second individual to receive both special awards from the Wofford Athletic Hall of Fame. He has been an enthusiastic volunteer and generous contributor of Wofford for over 50 years.

In 1946, Harley was one of the founding members of the Terrier Club. He served the longest term as any Terrier Club president when he held office from 1962-70.

Volleyball player Rhea DeJesus, cross country runner Katie Isbell and football player Davy Olmsted are representing Wofford at this weekend's SoCon Student-Athlete Leadership Institute in Black Mountain, N.C.

DeJesus is participating for the second straight year.

The student-athletes are brought to this intensive, culturally enriching program in an effort to afford them the opportunity to become campus leaders as well as role models. They are guided through a program that will teach them about day-to-day issues faced by student-athletes in the conference. They will also be treated to a chat with SoCon administrators in which they will be able to have their voice heard and ask questions.

Cohen departs Wofford for TCU

August 4, 2005

TCU athletics director Danny Morrison has announced the hiring of Mark Cohen as the Horned Frogs' athletics media relations director.

Cohen will begin his TCU duties Aug. 9.

Cohen comes to TCU after working the last 16 years at Wofford College, an NCAA Division I institution located in Spartanburg, S.C., and a member of the Southern Conference.

After graduating from Cal State Fullerton in 1988, Cohen came to Texas as an assistant in the University of Houston sports information office. While employed with the Cougars, Cohen also worked in various game-day capacities with the Houston Astros, Houston Oilers and Houston Rockets.

Cohen was hired as Wofford's sports information director in 1989 by Morrison, who was then the Terriers' athletics director. Cohen was promoted to assistant athletics director for media relations in January 1992 and to associate athletics director in September 1996.

"We are delighted to have Mark join the TCU family," Morrison said. "He started his professional career in Texas and it's great to have him back in the state.

"After a national search, Mark emerged as the perfect fit for us. He is outstanding at developing relationships with media and has a very strong work ethic. Mark brings a lot to our program as we enter a new era in the Mountain West Conference."

Under Cohen's direction, Wofford's football media guide covers received "Best in the Nation" honors three times from the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA). The Terriers' football game program covers were also named "Best in the Nation" on three occasions. Cohen has received a total of 11 "Citations for Excellence in Publications."

"I am very excited about this tremendous opportunity at TCU," Cohen said. "The people I met on my visit and the athletic facilities on campus were most impressive.

"TCU is an outstanding place and I look forward to raising my family in the Fort Worth-Dallas area. Being able to work again with Danny Morrison is another positive aspect of this wonderful situation."

"Mark has been an integral part of Wofford for a long time," Terrier athletics director Richard Johnson said. "We are most appreciative of the contribution he's made in generating a lot of exposure for our student-athletes and teams through the years.

"Mark has raised the level of standards and expectations for the athletics media relations office at Wofford. We are thrilled about this opportunity for Mark and his family."
While earning a B.A. degree in communications and a minor in business administration at Cal State Fullerton, Cohen served as the media relations director for the 1988 Titan baseball team which advanced to the College World Series.

Cohen and his wife, Sarah, have three sons: David, 12; Adam, 10; and Steven, 6.

Shutt named associate athletic director for media relations
August 11, 2005

Steve Shutt, the associate commissioner for public affairs at the Southern Conference, has been named the associate athletic director for media relations at Wofford College. Wofford Director of Athletics Richard Johnson made the announcement today.

“We are delighted to welcome Steve to our staff,” said Johnson. “I think we’re fortunate to get a high-level administrator of his energy and of his background. We are looking forward to his contributions to our staff.”

Shutt, 46, has spent the last six years coordinating the public relations and media relations efforts for the Southern Conference. He initiated a program to provide media training for student-athletes, started a weekly satellite video feed for the distribution of highlight clips and developed SoConSIDA, a multi-day training workshop for the conference’s sports information professionals. In addition, Shutt was the Southern Conference liaison to the league’s baseball coaches and umpires and served as the director of the SoCon Baseball Championship.

“I have really enjoyed my time in the Southern Conference office,” said Shutt. “It has been a great six years and it has allowed me to develop outstanding relationships with all of the conference’s athletic directors and sports information officers. However, I missed the opportunity to spend time with the student-athletes and that is one of the many things that is so appealing about being at Wofford College.

“Mark Cohen spent 16 years running a successful media relations operation at Wofford and I will do my best to maintain the standard of excellence that he set. The one thing that will not change is the quality of the staff, the coaches and the student-athletes at Wofford. It will be our job to make sure that we communicate that level of quality to the campus, the community and the alumni.”

A veteran of 19 years on college campuses, Shutt previously served as the sports information specialist at Indian River Community College in Fort Pierce, Fla. (1980-82), as the assistant sports information director at Bowling Green State (1982-83) and as the SID at BGSU from 1983-87. In addition, he spent 11 years as an assistant athletic director at New Mexico State before joining Jeff Dezen Public Relations in Greenville, S.C., in 1999 where he was an account executive on the Maxfli-Dunlop golf account.

At Bowling Green, he successfully promoted quarterback Brian McClure to a top 10 finish in the 1985 Heisman Trophy race. At New Mexico State, Shutt worked with 27 student-athletes who earned Academic All-America honors.

Recently, Shutt served as the media relations director for the 2002 NCAA Men’s Basketball Championships first- and second-round site at the Bi-Lo Center in Greenville, S.C. He also worked as the liaison between the NCAA and CBS at the 2002 and ‘03 NCAA Basketball East Regional and was a media coordinator at the 2004 FedEx Orange Bowl.

Shutt is a 1980 graduate of Bowling Green with a degree in journalism. His wife, Dr. Doris Paez, is the director of the Metropolitan Studies Institute at the University of South Carolina-Upstate. They are the parents of an 8-year old daughter, Gabriela, and a 4-year old son, Javier. They currently reside in Spartanburg.

He will begin his Terrier duties August 22.

Wofford fall sports begin 2005 preseason practices
August 16, 2005

In preparation for their upcoming fall seasons, the Wofford men's soccer, volleyball and women's soccer teams have arrived in Spartanburg and begun practice Tuesday.

The men's soccer squad, coached by fourth-year mentor Matt Kern, returns five seniors from a year ago. Kern also welcomes 13 newcomers, including 11 freshmen, to the mix.

The Terriers open their slate Sept. 1 at Longwood before returning home for a Sept. 3 contest versus UNC Asheville at Snyder Field.

Also entering his fourth season on the Terrier sidelines is volleyball head coach Corey Helle. Helle’s squad is comprised of three seniors, two juniors, two sophomores and three freshmen.

The volleyball squad will open the campaign with a pair of matches Aug. 27 in Norfolk, Va., and start with five-straight contests away from home. Wofford will not open at home until a Sept. 13 date against Southern Conference foe Western Carolina.

Amy Kiah returns for her seventh season as the mentor for the women's soccer program. The Terriers feature seven seniors, the largest class in team history, and four freshmen in addition to three juniors and eight sophomores.

Wofford opens Aug. 26 at Samford before being the first fall sport to play at home with a Sept. 2 game versus High Point.

in Ireland. Please note a very limited supply of golf carts are available for hire. Certain restrictions apply, please advise your Golf Travel Specialist.

Sightseeing Suggestion: Enjoy the delights of the Antrim Coastline. Outside of Portrush lies Dunluce Castle. The jagged silhouette of the ruins of Dunluce Castle rises from the cliff edge above the sea. Continue to the lunar landscape of the Giant’s Causeway. Legend has it that the causeway is the work of the giant Finn McCool, the Ulster warrior and commander of the king of Ireland’s armies. The causeway proper is the most spectacular series of geological features to be found along the Antrim Coast consisting of 40,000 columns rising from the sea.

Overnight: Bushmills Inn: Standard Millhouse Room - including Irish breakfast (12 Rooms, 24 passengers)

Tuesday, June 6

Golf on Royal Portrush (Dunluce Links) TBA, an outstanding course in a dramatic setting. It has the distinction of being the only course in Ireland to have hosted the British Open. The Dunluce Course as fine a links as you will find anywhere, with the 5th being a particularly memorable hole to a green hanging on the edge of a cliff. Recently ranked No.4 in the British Isles.

Sightseeing Suggestion: Enjoy a visit to Bushmills Distillery, the oldest licensed whiskey distillery in the world, established in 1608. Following your guided tour take a walk out to the Carrick-a-rede-Rope Bridge. During the walk, along the Larrybane Cliffs, sea birds wheel and scream over the waves. The Rope Bridge bounces and sways as one ventures gingerly along the planks above the rock-strewn water 60ft below.

Overnight: Slieve Donard Hotel: Classic Room - including Irish breakfast (12 Rooms, 24 passengers)

Wednesday, June 7

Golf today on Royal County Down TBA, designed by Tom Morris in 1889 and situated in the shadow of the Mourne mountains. A spectacular location and an outstanding links golf course. It's charrmg old fashioned flavour of both the terrain and the layout. A mix of rugged dunes, coloured by a purple heather and yellow flowering gorse combine to a dramatic effect on what is one of the courses in the British Isles.

Sightseeing Suggestion: Take a city tour of Belfast, where you will visit the many sights and learn of the city’s fascinating history. A predominately Victorian city, which owes its expansion to the textile, engineering and shipbuilding industries. It’s here that Harland and Wolff built Titanic the ill-fated liner in 1912.

Overnight: Slieve Donard Hotel: Classic Room - including Irish breakfast (12 Rooms, 24 passengers)

Thursday, June 8

Today play the historic Portmarnock Golf Club TBA, consistently ranked as one of the top five in Ireland. Most of the trouble is visible and the fairways and greens are generally flatter than other links courses in Ireland. However, the course is well bunkered and is open to the winds coming off the Irish Sea and Dublin Bay. Please note a very limited supply of golf carts are available for hire. Certain restrictions may apply, please advise your Golf Travel Specialist.

Sightseeing Suggestion: Enjoy a visit to the Howth peninsula, affording wonderful views of the sea and Dublin Bay. Continue to Malahide, a pretty village where narrow streets slope down to the sea. Make sure to visit Malahide Castle that dates back from to the 12th century.

Help those in need and the Terriers in the Wofford vs. Furman "Food Fight"

On November 12 at Furman’s Paladin Stadium, the Paladins and the Wofford Terriers will renew their football rivalry, and before the game, students, alumni and fans will once again help those in need by participating in the Wofford vs. Furman “Food Fight”.

During the two years of the “Food Fight” the schools have raised nearly 3,400 food items and over $2,000 in monetary donations. The annual food drive will take place less than two weeks before Thanksgiving when Upstate food banks need assistance both monetarily and with cans and non-perishable food. Donations to Furman will go to Greenville’s Loaves & Fishes. Wofford donations will go to Miracle Life Mission and Mobile Meals. The contest is to see which school can collect the most food and raise the most money to fight hunger.

Students at both colleges will be collecting cans and non-perishable foods on their respective campuses the week prior to the game (November 6-11). On game day, both schools will be accepting monetary donations at the gates.

Bethay named league's field performer of the year; Belcher All-SoCon
April 30, 2006

Wofford sophomore Crystal Belcher and senior Katon Bethay each received All-Southern Conference honors following the league meet Saturday and Sunday at Georgia Southern in Statesboro, Ga.

Bethay also received the Southern Conference men's outdoor track & field performer of the year for the field events nod as voted upon by the league's head coaches.

Belcher became the first Terrier women's track & field athlete, indoor or outdoor, to be crowned an individual league champion when she placed first in the javelin Saturday with a throw of 127'1" (38.71m).

Belcher's honor is the second of her career, as she was named All-SoCon following the 2005 league outdoor meet.

Bethay provided Wofford with two individual league title holders Sunday when he captured the shot put with a throw of 52'11" (16.13m). He also earned a second-place result in the discus with a mark of 148'4" (45.23m) for his second school-record distance.

Bethay added to his impressive resume with his sixth overall all-league accolade and fourth in his track & field career. He is the only Terrier student-athlete to earn All-SoCon honors in more than one sport, as he accumulated two football and three indoor track & field honors in addition to being a first-time recipient for the outdoor campaign.

The top-three finishers in each respective event are named All-Southern Conference.

By virtue of their championship finishes, both competitors automatically qualify for the NCAA East Regional, May 26-27, on the North Carolina A&T campus in Greensboro, N.C.

Both performers were also coached by interim head track & field coach Andrea Stehman at the league meet. Stehman has assumed the interim duties after serving as an assistant to Freddie Brown before Brown stepped down in early April to take a head football coaching position at a local high school. The Southern Conference Championship was the first meet in which she was serving as the interim mentor.
