Stetson women's tennis slips past Wofford January 21, 2006

Despite claiming the doubles point, the Wofford women's tennis team could only muster wins in two of the six singles contests in losing, 4-3, to Stetson Saturday afternoon in the season opener for both schools in DeLand, Fla.

The Terriers jumped out early by winning two of the three doubles matches to earn the point. At the No. 1 seed, seniors Ellen Rogers and Tara Hartness knocked off Marina Levin and Milica Milovanovic, 9-7. The No. 2 doubles match featured a pair of freshmen, Cayley Wetzig and Ashley Page, making their collegiate debuts. The tandem won its first collegiate contest by posting a 9-7 triumph over Samantha Lange and Maja Miladinovic.

In singles action, Rogers won her No. 1 meeting with Milovanovic, 7-6, 6-5. Wetzig was also victorious in her initial singles competition by defeating Anna Leonenko, 6-4, 2-6, 3-4 (ret.).

Hartness battled tough at the No. 2 singles slot before falling to Miladinovic, 7-6, 7-6.

Wofford will continue its Florida season-opening road trip with a Sunday afternoon match at Embry-Riddle in Daytona Beach, Fla.

Terrier women's tennis earns first victory of season January 22, 2006

The Wofford women's tennis team was victorious for the first time in 2006 with a 6-1 triumph Sunday afternoon at Embry-Riddle in Daytona Beach, Fla. The Terriers claimed the doubles point then took five of the six singles matches for the win.

Wofford swept the three doubles matches. At the No. 1 position, seniors Ellen Rogers and Tara Hartness knocked off the Eagles' top duo of Alex Buttazzoni and Nora Kluge, 8-3. Freshmen Cayley Wetzig and Ashley Page then handed Natalie Anaya and Lindsey Kurtz an 8-3 loss during the No. 2 contest.

Sophomores Lauren Prickett and Adriane Hodges turned back Evan Halbhuber and Rachael Lund, 8-0, at the No. 3 slot.

In singles action, the five Terriers wins were all in straight sets.

Wetzig posted a 6-1, 6-3 victory against Anaya during the No. 2 match, while Hartness notched a 6-2, 6-1 decision over Buttazzoni at the No. 3 seed.

At the No. 4 slot, Page defeated Kurtz, 6-1, 6-0. Hodges swept Halbhuber 6-0, 6-0 in the No. 5 contest, while Prickett matched her effort at the No. 6 position with a 6-0, 6-0 blanking of Lund.

The victory improves Wofford's record to 1-1, while Embry-Riddle falls to 0-1.

The Terriers will return to action Feb. 4 when they open the home slate with a pair of matches. The day's action will begin at 10 a.m. against East Carolina and continue at 3 p.m. versus Georgia State.

Terrier women's tennis set to open home slate
February 3, 2006

The Wofford women's tennis team will open its 2006 home schedule with a pair of matches Saturday at the Reeves Center on campus. The Terriers will start the day's action at 9:30 a.m. versus East Carolina before facing Georgia State at 3 p.m. The Pirates and Panthers also will play each other at Noon.

"We saw East Carolina a lot this fall," said head coach Rod Ray. "They are very good. It should be a very good, close match for us.

"Georgia State will be a good test. We are certainly better and much improved than we were last year. I think the match will serve as a good indicator to find out where we stand."

Wofford opened the season splitting a pair of contests in Florida, Jan. 21 and 22, against Stetson and Embry-Riddle, respectively. In those two matches, the Terriers claimed five of the possible six doubles contests and earned a 6-1 victory against Embry-Riddle.

Freshman Cayley Wetzig also was victorious in both of her matches to start her Wofford career.

This weekend, the three teams will use a different scoring method, the 4-1 format.

"This format allows teams to get a doubleheader in on the same day," continued Ray. "Each team plays one doubles and four singles matches and the first squad to win three points is declared the victor.

"I think it is an exciting format because the whole dual match will be over quicker. There will be a little bit of strategy involved because as a coach, you have to decide who to play in doubles and who to play in singles. No one player will play both in the same match."

In addition to the Terriers starting the season 1-1, East Carolina will enter the day's competition with a 3-1 mark and Georgia State will be opening its season with the pair of matches.

East Carolina defeats Wofford women's tennis February 4, 2006

A loss in doubles action coupled with a pair of defeats in singles play resulted in a 3-0 loss for the Wofford women's tennis team Saturday afternoon against East Carolina.

The Pirates gained momentum with a 6-4, 6-1 doubles win by Kirstin Buchanan and Presley Thomas over Adriane Hodges and Laura Lynn Williams.

In singles action, two Terrier freshmen lost their matches. Rookie Cayley Wetzig dropped a 6-4, 6-2 decision at the No. 3 slot to Mireia Gol. At the No. 4 position, fellow freshman Ashley Page fell 6-2, 6-2 to Luiza Borges.

The No. 1 and No. 2 singles contests featuring Wofford's senior duo of Ellen Rogers and Tara Hartness, respectively, did not finish.

The two teams played the match in a 4-1 format, which includes four singles matches and one doubles contest. The first team to three points is declared the winner.

East Carolina also won its second match of the day, 3-2, over Georgia State to improve its record to 5-1 on the season. The Terriers fall to 1-2 and will battle Georgia State in the nightcap.

Georgia State rallies for women's tennis win over Wofford February 4, 2006

After trailing 2-1, the Georgia State women's tennis team rallied for a 3-2 victory against Wofford Saturday afternoon at the Reeves Center in Spartanburg, S.C.

The two teams played the match in a 4-1 format, which includes four singles matches and one doubles contest. The first team to three points is declared the winner.

The Terriers started off the action with a 4-6, 6-2, 6-1 victory in doubles play by Adriane Hodges and Ashley Page against Brittany Smith and Kiera Strickland.

As singles play was being contested, senior Tara Hartness garnered Wofford's lone win in the four matches. She knocked off Martina Nitkova at the No. 2 position, 6-3, 6-4. Her win gave the Terriers the lead.

In order to claim the triumph, the Panthers earned two three-set wins. At the No. 3 slot, Rachel Malina recorded a 4-6, 6-3, 6-3 triumph against Wofford freshman Cayley Wetzig.

The decisive match was at the No. 1 seed. Georgia State's Anne Breiholtz came-from-behind to register a 3-6, 6-4, 6-3 victory against Ellen Rogers.

The Terriers fall to 1-3 on the season with the loss, while the Panthers improve to 1-1. Wofford will next play at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday at Gardner-Webb in Boiling Springs, N.C.

Terrier women's tennis sweeps Gardner-Webb February 8, 2006

With six straight-set wins in singles play and a sweep in doubles action, the Wofford women's tennis team was victorious Wednesday afternoon with a 7-0 triumph at Gardner-Webb in Boiling Springs, N.C. The Terriers started off the day's action with an 8-3 win at the No. 1 doubles slot by Ellen Rogers and Tara Hartness against Jenny Gomez and Amy Beavers. At the No. 2 seed, Cayley Wetzig and Laura Lynn Williams handed Monica Walser and Krystina Sigmon an 8-2 defeat.

The sweep was completed with an 8-6 win at the No. 3 position by Adriane Hodges and Lauren Prickett over Sara Zirnheld and Tracy Tonsor.

In singles action, Rogers registered a 6-3, 6-4 victory over Gomez at the No. 1 slot, while Hartness picked up a 6-0, 6-2 triumph versus Beavers at the No. 2 seed.

A 6-0, 6-0 win occurred during the No. 3 contest as Wetzig was victorious against Walser. At the No. 4 position, Williams posted a 6-1, 6-1 decision over Sigmon.

Hodges tallied a 6-3, 6-1 victory against Zirnheld at the No. 5 seed, while Prickett tallied a 6-2, 6-2 triumph at No. 6 versus Tonsor.

The win improves Wofford's record to 2-3, while Gardner-Webb drops to 0-4.

The Terriers will return to action at 2 p.m. Saturday when they host Mercer at the Reeves Center.

February 10, 2006

The Wofford men's and women's tennis teams have announced they are pushing back their scheduled matches against Mercer to Sunday due to the threat of inclement weather. The Terriers and Bears will now meet at 1 p.m. Sunday instead of the scheduled 2 p.m. Saturday start. Wofford's men's team enters the contest with a 1-3 mark, while the women's squad is 2-3 on the season. Mercer, meanwhile, arrives in Spartanburg with a 1-2 men's record and a 0-0 ledger on the women's side.

Wofford women's tennis sweeps Mercer to even record February 12, 2006

The Wofford women's tennis team evened its season record at 3-3 following a 7-0 sweep against Mercer Sunday afternoon at the Reeves Center in Spartanburg, S.C. The Terriers won two of the three doubles matches and all six singles contests to stand at .500 on the season, while the Bears dropped their opener to fall to 0-1.

Seniors Tara Hartness and Ellen Rogers registered an 8-3 win at the No. 1 doubles slot against Lauriane Auvergne and Rachael Kerley to start the day's action. The doubles point fell on Wofford's side following a 9-7 victory at the No. 2 seed by Cayley Wetzig and Laura Lynn Williams versus Patricia Assumpcao and Teresina Pazsoldan.

Rogers then blanked Auvergne at the No. 1 singles position, 6-0, 6-0, while Hartness posted a 6-0, 6-2 triumph versus Pazsoldan during the No. 2 contest.

At the No. 3 slot, Wetzig earned a 6-1, 6-4 triumph over Irys Citko and Williams recorded a 6-2, 7-5 victory against Kerley in the No. 4 position.

Adriane Hodges then garnered a 6-4, 6-2 decision against Assumpcao at the No. 5 seed and Lauren Prickett concluded the day's action with a 6-2, 2-6, 10-5 win during the No. 6 match versus Karen Bellman.

Wofford will next play at 1 p.m. Friday when it hosts High Point at the Reeves Center.

Women's tennis set to host a pair of matches February 16, 2006

The Wofford women's tennis team is preparing to host a pair of matches in the next two days, starting with a 1 p.m. contest Friday against High Point.

It also will host Kennesaw State at 11 a.m. Saturday in place of the originally scheduled Noon contest versus Charlotte.

Due to a scheduling mix up, the Terriers and 49ers will not meet this season as they could not find another time which worked for both programs.

"Our women's team is better than it was a year ago," said head coach Rod Ray. "This team is having fun and holding themselves accountable for giving a good effort. Team captains Tara Hartness and Ellen Rogers and have really done a good job. This is a young team and the seniors have done a great job of pulling this team together, and everyone is responding.

"This weekend should be good for us. We really need more match action and playing High Point and Kennesaw State will help us. I am looking forward to seeing this team improve as we gain experience." Wofford enters the weekend with a 3-3 record and is coming off back-to-back 7-0 wins against Gardner-Webb and Mercer. Hartness and freshman Cayley Wetzig pace the club with four singles triumphs apiece.

Wofford women's tennis earns third-straight victory February 17, 2006

The Wofford women's tennis team swept the singles action and claimed two of the three doubles matches to garner a 7-0 victory against High Point Friday afternoon at the Reeves Center in Spartanburg, S.C. The win was the Terriers' third-straight shutout victory.

"The thing that impressed me the most today with our women's team was that we were not hitting the ball that well, but we competed well and found a way to win in every spot," said head coach Rod Ray. "Certainly we can improve, but today was a very good effort. I think we are getting better."

Wofford started the day's action with an 8-6 doubles win at the No. 1 slot by seniors Tara Hartness and Ellen Rogers against the Panthers' Suzanne Celensu and Kelly Tolman. The doubles point fell in the Terriers' favor following an 8-4 triumph during the No. 2 match, as Cayley Wetzig and Laura Lynn Williams registered the win versus Rebecca Carr and Iris Schabetsberger.

Rogers then recorded a 6-1, 7-6 victory at the No. 1 singles slot against Celensu and Hartness tallied a 6-4, 7-6 triumph during the No. 2 singles contest over Ann-Charlott Talus.

At the No. 3 position, freshman Cayley Wetzig come-from-behind to claim a 3-6, 6-3, 10-5 win against Schabetsberger. Fellow rookie Ashley Page picked up a 6-1, 6-1 triumph at the No. 4 seed versus Carr.

Williams then topped Sarah McDonough 6-3, 6-4 at the No. 5 slot, while Adriane Hodges notched a 6-2, 2-6, 10-3 victory versus Jody Wicks during the No. 6 match.

The Terriers improve to 4-3 with the win, while the Panthers drop to 1-4.

A Southern Conference opener at Noon Feb. 25 in Greensboro, N.C., at UNC Greensboro is next on the docket for Wofford.

Women's tennis knocks off Radford Saturday March 5, 2006

The Wofford women's tennis team earned its fifth-straight victory Saturday with a 6-1 neutral-site win against Radford at Virginia Tech in Blacksburg, Va.

The Terriers started off the match by sweeping the three doubles contests. At the No. 1 seed, seniors Tara Hartness and Ellen Rogers posted an 8-2 triumph over Daniela Milano and Cassandra Price. Freshman Cayley Wetzig and sophomore Laura Lynn Williams garnered an 8-5 win during the No. 2 match against Caroline Downs and Camila Noldin. Sophomore Adriane Hodges and freshman Ashley Page completed the sweep with an 8-2 victory against Ashton Downs and Antonietta Iosue at the No. 3 slot.

Rogers then tallied a 6-0, 6-0 singles win during the No. 1 match against Noldin, while Hartness registered a 6-4, 7-5 decision versus Milano at the No. 2 position.

Page was victorious in three sets, 6-7, 6-3, 10-5 at the No. 4 seed against A. Downs. Williams notched a 6-3, 6-3 triumph over Price during the No. 5 match. Hodges concluded the singles wins with a 6-0, 6-1 victory versus Alexandra Spector at the No. 6 slot.

The victory improves Wofford's record to 6-3, while the Highlanders fall to 2-3.

Virginia Tech knocks off Wofford women's tennis Sunday March 5, 2006

A pair of weekend matches in Virginia for the Wofford women's tennis team concluded Sunday with the Terriers falling 6-1 at ACC foe Virginia Tech in Blacksburg, Va. The Hokies claimed all three doubles contests and five of the six singles matches for the victory.

The lone Wofford triumph came during the No. 4 singles match, where freshman Ashley Page held off Jessica Long for a 6-2, 1-6, 11-9 victory.

Senior Ellen Rogers also saw her contest reach three sets before she lost 6-1, 2-6, 6-1 at the No. 1 position to Inga Beermann. Freshman Cayley Wetzig also went the distance with her opponent, Ashley James, at the No. 4 slot, before losing 1-6, 6-2, 6-0.

The Terriers fall to 6-4 with the defeat, while Virginia Tech improves to 8-3 on the season.

Wofford will conclude a three-match road swing with a 2:30 p.m. Wednesday meeting at Winthrop in Rock Hill, S.C.

Doubles point win not enough for Terrier women's tennis
March 8, 2006

Wins in two of the three doubles matches gave Wofford an early 1-0 lead but the Terriers could not manage any other points Wednesday afternoon in falling to Winthrop, 6-1, in non-conference women's tennis action at the Memorial Courts in Rock Hill, S.C.

Wofford tallied an 8-4 victory at the No. 1 doubles position as seniors Tara Hartness and Ellen Rogers defeated Ana Paula Novaes and Paula Takahashi.

With the doubles contests tied 1-1, sophomore Adriane Hodges and freshman Ashley Page pulled out an 8-6 triumph over Larisa Bekmetova and Alexandra Dyckman during the No. 3 match.

Rogers then faced No. 119 Novaes in singles action, at the No. 1 slot, and lost 6-2, 6-1.

The Terriers will resume their season with a home match at 1 p.m. Sunday versus Northern Colorado.

Wofford women's tennis defeats Northern Colorado March 12, 2006

The Wofford women's tennis team returned home Sunday for its first match at the Reeves Center since Feb. 17 and garnered a 6-1 victory against Northern Colorado in non-conference action. The Terriers had played four-straight contests on the road in between the home dates.

Seniors Ellen Rogers and Tara Hartness helped spark Wofford to wins in five of the six singles matches. Rogers defeated Karen Groll 6-0, 6-3 at the No. 1 slot, while Hartness earned a 6-4, 6-0 victory versus Meredith Krystofik at the No. 2 seed.

Freshman Ashley Page then posted a 6-3, 6-0 triumph against Christina Shelly during the No. 4 contest, while sophomore Adriane Hodges registered a 6-1, 6-1 win versus Kellie Crail at the No. 5 position. Classmate Lauren Prickett rounded out the Terrier singles victories with a 6-0, 6-0 decision in the No. 6 match against Tonya Bunting for her fourth-straight win.

Hartness and Rogers won their team-leading eighth doubles contest of the season with an 8-1 victory against Krystofik and Shelly at the No. 1 slot. The doubles point fell in Wofford's favor with an 8-4 triumph at the No. 3 position when Prickett and freshman Cayley Wetzig tallied the win versus Bunting and Crail.

The Terriers improve to 7-5 overall with the win, while the Bears fall to 3-6.

Wofford will continue to play at home for its next match when it hosts Charlotte at 2:30 p.m. Thursday.
