Dear Wofford community,

It's been three years since Prema and I joined the Wofford community, and we are still appreciative of the warm welcome we received from students, faculty, staff, alumni and the Spartanburg community. That welcome was based on a spirit of respect, generosity and genuine care for others that define what it means to be a Wofford Terrier.

As we begin another academic year and welcome the Class of 2020, I want to thank you for serving as an ambassador of Wofford College with every conversation, lecture, prayer, debate, greeting and physical interaction you have with other members of our community and the many visitors who will experience our campus this fall.

Colleges and universities across the country face issues related to sexual assault and harassment every day, and unfortunately, our community is not immune. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, more than 20 percent of college women have been the victims of sexual assault while on campus — a place where they should feel and be safe — and the CDC actually estimates a much higher number because many instances of assault and harassment go unreported. Sexual assault certainly happens to men as well, but the numbers of male victimization vary widely because the crime is so often unreported.

I want to state unequivocally that Wofford College has a zero tolerance policy for sexual assault and harassment. The college also places national best-practice systems, policies and educational opportunities in place to show that healthy relationships matter and to nurture the college’s culture of respect and dignity for all. For example, the 457 first-year and transfer students who joined the college community on Wednesday, Aug. 31, will complete required training (both online and in their FYI classes) promoting healthy attitudes and relationships. The goal is to empower these new Terriers to set limits, communicate their expectations, respect others and seek support from peers, college counselors and resources within the Spartanburg community. The student handbook outlines sexual assault and harassment policies and procedures, and the college offers trained Title IX coordinators and a 24-hour hotline monitored by Campus Safety (864-597-4911) as well. The college’s residence life staff also promotes an ongoing series of programs and events throughout the academic year to keep students engaged in a variety of healthy activities and behaviors.

The same care and precaution that goes for our students goes for faculty and staff as well. The Wofford College Sexual Misconduct Policy outlines the policy as well as the background of Title IX and community expectations. It also discusses definitions, confidentiality, reporting and support available to victims. The college also offers Title IX webinars and training during the semester for employees of the college. If you or someone you know may have been a victim of sexual assault or any other type of sexual misconduct, I encourage you to seek assistance. The number for the college's 24-hour emergency hotline is 864-597-4911. Melissa Nichols, the college's Title IX and ADA coordinator, is available as well for reporting or further discussion. Her email is nicholsmm@wofford.edu.

We are a community, and enjoying healthy relationships and modeling safe behaviors is foundational to the Wofford experience. As we begin the fall semester and start building new relationships and experiences, let us always remember to respect, care for and be good to each other.
trusts and new relationships, keep in mind that we are all stronger when we feel welcomed, valued and respected.

I appreciate your continued commitment to this important work and look forward to another transformative semester.

Go, Terriers!

Annual Mock Interviews for Medical, Dental and Vet School
Date/Time: 9/10/2016 9:00:00 AM
Date/Time: 9/10/2016 9:00:00 AM
Location: The Space
Cost: Free
Details: Attention Junior and Senior Pre-med, Pre-Dental and Pre-Vet Students: An excellent GPA and MCAT score can get you a medical school interview. A successful interview will get you an acceptance letter. Are you ready? Don't let your first interview be the one that counts. Register now for Wofford's annual mock medical school interview event taking place on Sept. 10, from 9 a.m.-noon. Each participant will have two practice interviews conducted by physicians, many of whom are Wofford alumni and/or graduates of the medical schools you wish to attend. After each interview, the interviewer will give you personalized advice on how to improve before the "real" one. After all the interviews are complete, you will have an opportunity to chat and network with all of the physicians over coffee and treats. This year we have one vet and one dentist available to interview pre-vet and pre-dental students. The event is FREE, but space is limited. The following priority will be used to fill the interview slots: 1) Seniors applying to school this year 2) Seniors applying in future years 3) Juniors who plan to study abroad in the fall semester of their senior year 4) Other Juniors. To register for the event, please contact Dr. Spivey (SpiveyNW@wofford.edu). The deadline to register is Sept. 7 at 9 a.m.

Theatre Open House and AUDITIONS
Date/Time: 9/6/2016 6:00:00 PM
Location: Tony White Theater--Campus Life Building
Cost: Free
Details: Hello! Welcome/welcome back to Wofford! I'm writing to warmly invite you to the Theatre Open House at 6 p.m.today, Sept. 6., in the Tony White Theater in the Campus Life Building. There will be cupcakes and drinks, the chance to meet other theatre students and the faculty and staff, and the opportunity to hear about the 2016-17 season (we hope to unveil ALL the season posters on Tuesday), the status of RSR Center for the Arts, and what sort of opportunities you have for getting involved on or off stage at Wofford. It will be short and sweet. Immediately following the Open House (around 6:45 p.m.), we will hold auditions for the fall production, IN THE NEXT ROOM, OR THE VIBRATOR PLAY by Sarah Ruhl (script attached). Anyone and everyone is encouraged to audition. Auditions will consist of cold readings from the script and whatever else Dr. Kate Roark has in mind; you do not need to prepare anything specific, though I strongly encourage you to (re)read the play if you plan to audition. (For first-timers: it doesn't hurt to dress appropriately for auditions--you don't need to wear a suit or a dress, but don't forget that it is a job interview.) Please don't hesitate to contact me with any questions you may have and best wishes for a fun weekend and a great start to the new semester.

Sincerely, Dr. Ferguson

Presidential Host Application
2016-2017 Academic Year

Presidential Hosts serve directly under the Office of the President in conjunction with the Office of Advancement as the official hosts and hostesses of Wofford College. They are ambassadors for Wofford College and provide a student presence at college events. The group is charged with the duty and honor of representing Wofford College to faculty, administrators, and the community at events including, but not limited to, the following:

- Alumni receptions
- Guest Lectures
- Parties at the President’s Home
- Athletic events (President’s Corner, Mungo Box, etc.)
- Groundbreaking ceremonies
- Board of Trustee meetings
- Reunions
- Commencement

Membership is highly selective and selections are based on applications and interviews. Those selected will also have exclusive access to training and professional development opportunities offered through The Space.

Qualifications:

- Currently enrolled at Wofford College
- Successful completion of at least fifteen (15) credit hours prior to program enrollment
- Cumulative GPA of 2.5 or higher
- Commitment for the 2016-2017 academic year*
- Availability for some evening and/or weekend activities
- Excellent verbal communication skills
- Enthusiastic personality!

*Students who are scheduled to graduate in December 2016 or who intend to study abroad in spring 2017 should still apply if interested.

Please email your completed application to Elizabeth Shuler (shulereb@wofford.edu). Finalists will be invited to participate in a 15 minute interview session the week of September 12, 2016.

To: Wofford Campus Community

Wofford Campus Safety recommends that students, faculty and staff not park on Memorial Drive. The street has no sidewalks and is very busy, and due to the terrain, visibility can be limited. Cars also have been broken into or stolen from that area. If you choose to park there, do not park along any yellow curbs as this limits visibility for those pulling out of Wofford parking lots and Campus Drive.

Campus Safety will ask the Spartanburg City Police Department to begin ticketing vehicles parked along the yellow curb, as this is a city street. If you are parked on the yellow curb or next to a parking lot or street entrance, please move your vehicle immediately.

As a reminder, parking is available in other on-campus or near campus locations, including the Spartanburg Memorial Auditorium, Marsh Lot, Shipp Lot, DuPre Lot, Village Lot and the football parking lots on Cumming Street.

If you have questions, please contact Randy Hall, director of Campus Safety, at 597-4351.

With sadness, we report the death of Professor of Philosophy Emeritus Dr. James A. Keller, who passed away yesterday, Sept. 6, after a period of declining health. Dr. Keller joined the Wofford faculty as chair of the Department of Philosophy in 1972 and retired as the Samuel Pate Gardner Professor of Philosophy in 2011. He continued teaching part-time through the spring of 2013.

A memorial service celebrating Dr. Keller’s life will be held at 4 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 9, in the Chapel of First Presbyterian Church of Spartanburg (393 East Main Street), with visitation in the Church Parlor immediately following the service.

Serve as a Presidential Host
Details: Presidential Hosts serve directly under the Office of the President in conjunction with the Office of Advancement as the official hosts and hostesses of Wofford College. They are ambassadors for Wofford College and provide a student presence at college events. The group is charged with the duty and honor of representing Wofford College to faculty, administrators and the community at events including, but not limited to, the following: alumni receptions, guest lectures, parties at the President's Home, athletics events (President's Corner, Mungo Box, etc.), groundbreaking ceremonies, Board of Trustee meetings, reunions and commencement. Membership is highly selective, and selections are based on applications and interviews. Those selected also will have exclusive access to training and professional development opportunities offered through The Space. Qualifications: Currently enrolled at Wofford College, successful completion of at least fifteen (15) credit hours prior to program enrollment, cumulative GPA of 2.5 or higher, commitment for the 2016-2017 academic year, availability for some evening and/or weekend activities, excellent verbal communication skills, enthusiastic personality! Students who are scheduled to graduate in December 2016 or who intend to study abroad in spring 2017 should still apply if interested. Please email your completed application to Elizabeth Shuler (shulereb@wofford.edu) (attached). Finalists will be invited to participate in a 15-minute interview session the week of Sept. 12.

To: Wofford Campus Community

Wofford College will celebrate an important accomplishment on Tuesday, Sept. 13, and we want all of campus – students, faculty and staff – to participate in the celebration!

We will celebrate the topping out of the Rosalind Sallenger Richardson Center for the Arts with a brief presentation from 11 to 11:15 a.m. at the construction site, followed immediately by a campuswide luncheon on the lawn near the site. All other dining venues on campus will be closed so that everyone may share in this exciting celebration. (Rain location for lunch: Burwell Dining Hall.)

A topping out for a building is an important event – a celebration of the structure itself and a tribute to the hard work of the craft workers who have used their skills to construct the building.

We will honor the construction crews who have worked so hard on the building during the celebration. The workers and members of the Wofford campus community then will be invited to sign a ceremonial steel beam that will be displayed in the building when it is completed in the spring of 2017.

Welcome back!

We're only a few days into the fall semester, but already Wofford is a hive of activity. We've played (and won) our first football game, and we've celebrated move-in, orientation and the first day of classes. On Tuesday we enjoyed bringing one of our own — Thomas Pierce, a 2006 graduate — back to campus as our Opening Convocation speaker. Thomas is a writer who's earned rave reviews from the New York Times for his short story collection "Hall of Small Mammals." He provides an ideal example for our students of the power of a liberal arts education.

In the next few weeks we will honor our construction crews and the economic impact of our two new buildings with special Topping Out ceremonies. You are welcome to join us for the Topping Out celebration for the Rosalind Sallenger Richardson Center for the Arts (scheduled to open in the spring of 2017) at 11 a.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 13, and for the Jerry Richardson Indoor Stadium (scheduled to open in the fall of 2017) at 11 a.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 27. The ceremonies will be on the construction sites with communitywide picnic lunches to follow. We're also looking forward to the naming and dedication ceremony for the new Greek Village at 2 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 17, before the first home football game. Please join us for a tour of the Stewart H. Johnson Greek Village, lunch, the football game and an after-party.

To prepare for these and other exciting fall events, the college was particularly busy this summer. Several buildings received upgrades, including Marsh Hall, which received a new roof and fresh-air unit. As part of the Milliken Sustainability Initiative at Wofford College, we have implemented an energy metering and monitoring system across campus, and we are hiring new faculty and staff thanks to the $4.25 million grant from the Romill Foundation that made the initiative possible. Wofford welcomed a new provost, Dr. Mike Sosulski, who is eager to meet and talk with Wofford parents, alumni and friends of the college. He's already hard at work getting to know Wofford and the students, faculty and staff who are a part of this special community.

Students this fall also will have the opportunity to discover new majors, minors and programs. In particular, these new courses of study mirror changes in the world in which we live. The college now offers programs in Middle Eastern and North African Studies (MENA), classical civilizations, film and digital media, and Asian studies. With MENA, Arabic language classes have expanded. Also, the Department of Sociology has added anthropology to its name, and the Department of Government is the Department of Government and International Affairs.

My favorite part of the semester is welcoming a new class of students. This year 459 new students (440 first-year students and 19 transfers) joined our community; 104 are legacies and will join The Order of 1854 during Family Weekend, 93 are NCAA Division I student-athletes, and 69 are the first in their families to attend college. This year the percentage of minority students increased to 20 percent, and 45 percent of students are from out of state.

These new students bring a diversity of backgrounds and experiences with them, and our learning environment has become even more dynamic and enriched with their arrival. Diversity and inclusion will be a focus during the 2016-17 academic year, and this fall we will start that initiative with a comprehensive external and internal review of diversity and inclusion at Wofford College.

According to a special report on diversity in the Chronicle of Higher Education, there are lots of reasons to do this:

- Changing demographics in our country's public high schools show that by 2020, 45 percent of Emerging demographics in our country's public high schools show that by 2020, 45 percent of graduates will be minority students. Colleges that want to thrive must embrace this new and exciting statistic and welcome these students.

• Activism on college and university campuses across the country has reflected the racial protests and hostile climate in our country. College students rightly have much to contribute to the conversation.
• According to the U.S. Department of Education, 75 percent of full-time faculty are white, which means that minority faculty share a disproportionate load when it comes to mentoring diverse students and serving on college committees that need a diverse voice.
• Most college leaders (84 percent) consider race relations good or even excellent on their campuses; yet only 24 percent say that race relations are good at other colleges and universities. That indicates that most people think that race relations are someone else's problem.
• Recent research in Forbes shows that diverse teams outperform their counterparts by more than a third. Diversity is good for our workforce, military and our nation's future in scientific research and innovation.

Although Wofford College prides itself on its well-earned reputation for creating a welcoming and respectful community, we always should strive to make everyone feel comfortable and at home on this campus. We believe that in addition to showing us ways to improve, the coming year of evaluation and introspection will highlight the things we are doing well. We want to take advantage of every opportunity to offer genuine hospitality to all.

We all will benefit from considering new and better ways to break down barriers and navigate human differences. Positive change toward authentic diversity will require a willingness to ask tough questions as part of a college-wide commitment to including and listening to all voices. I'm eager for the challenge knowing that the Wofford College community will reap the benefits for generations to come.

Thank you for your partnership in this important work.

Sincerely,

Nayef H. Samhat

"Tres vidas" Musical performance
Date/Time: 9/15/2016 7:00:00 PM
Location: Leonard Auditorium
Cost: Free
Details: Chamber Music Theatre is a unique performance format developed by the Core Ensemble featuring a marriage of theatrical narrative and chamber music performance. Francisca Mu?oz portrays multiple characters while interacting with the onstage musical trio of cello, piano, and percussion. Tres Vidas celebrates the life, times and work of three significant Latin and South American Women: painter Frida Kahlo of Mexico, peasant activist Rufina Amaya of El Salvador and poet Alfonsina Storni of Argentina.
activist Rufina Amaya of El Salvador and poet Alfonsina Storni of Argentina. With storylines including Frida Kahlo's dramatic and passionate relationship with painter Diego Rivera, Rufina Amaya's astounding singular survival of the massacre at El Mozote and Alfonsina Storni's life long challenges as Argentina's first great feminist poet, Tres Vidas presents dramatic situations timeless in their emotional appeal and connection to audiences across all gender and ethnic spectrums. With a script written by Chilean poet/writer Marjorie Agosin, Tres Vidas offers powerful portrayals of each woman and includes the singing of traditional Mexican folk songs as well as Argentinean popular and tango songs made famous by Mercedes Sosa and Carlos Gardel. Additional music by Astor Piazzolla, Orlando Garcia, Pablo Ortiz, Alice Gomez, Carlos Sanchez-Gutierrez, Michael DeMurga and Osvaldo Golijov round out the musical score. Dear Wofford community:

It's always exciting to welcome a new class of Terriers. This year 459 new students (440 first-year students and 19 transfers) joined our community; 104 are legacies and will join The Order of 1854 during Family Weekend, 93 are NCAA Division I student-athletes, and 69 are the first in their families to attend college. This year the percentage of minority students increased to 20 percent, and 45 percent of students are from out of state.

These new students bring a diversity of backgrounds and experiences with them, and our learning environment has become even more dynamic and enriched with their arrival. Diversity and inclusion will be a focus during the 2016-17 academic year, and this fall our diversity committee, led by Jennifer Gutierrez-Caldwell, will undertake a comprehensive study of diversity and inclusion at the college. In effect, I envision a strategic plan for diversity that will articulate our goals to strengthen and nurture a culture of diversity and inclusion in our community. We will present the plan to the community and the Board of Trustees at the February 2017 board meeting.

There are four broad questions that will frame the committee's work:

- What are we doing? We will undertake a comprehensive inventory of practices and programs relating to diversity and inclusion on our campus and in the broader Wofford community.
- What is effective and why? We need to understand what is working and where we are doing good work. We also need to know what needs improvement and where gaps need to be filled in our efforts, practices, services and programs.
- What are our goals? What does a diverse Wofford community look and feel like? Consideration of how we conceptualize diversity and inclusion is an important part of this evaluation. What does this mean for our curricular and co-curricular programs? What will it mean across campus, specifically in the areas of campus life, student development, enrollment, marketing and communications, and athletics? What influence will hiring practices for faculty and staff have on our goals? How do these goals become an integral part of our campus community and culture?
- How do we get there? Finally, we will evaluate our resources as well as strategies for meeting our goals. We may propose organizational structures and timelines for completion of this important work.

According to a special report on diversity in the Chronicle of Higher Education, there are lots of reasons to do this:

- Changing demographics in our country's public high schools show that by 2020, 45 percent of graduates will be minority students. Colleges that want to thrive must embrace this new and exciting statistic and welcome these students.
embrace this new and exciting statistic and welcome these students.

- Activism on college and university campuses across the country has reflected the racial protests and hostile climate in our country. College students rightly have much to contribute to the conversation.
- Most college leaders (84 percent) consider race relations good or even excellent on their campuses; yet only 24 percent said that race relations were good at other colleges and universities. That goes to show that most people think that race relations are someone else's problem.
- Recent research in Forbes shows that diverse teams outperform their counterparts by more than a third. Diversity is good for our workforce, military and our nation's future in scientific research and innovation.

Although Wofford College prides itself on its well-earned reputation for creating a welcoming and respectful community, we should always strive to make everyone feel included, represented and at home on this campus. We want to take advantage of every opportunity to create spaces that inspire learning and raise social consciousness for all students, faculty, staff and the greater Wofford community.

By embarking upon this focus on diversity and inclusion, Wofford College is pledging support of all people, regardless of race, color, creed, religion, gender, age, national origin, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation and any other diverse identity. Whether we like to admit it or not, prejudice does exist, and we must be willing to ask tough questions and engage in complex conversations. We must commit ourselves to the principle that every student will graduate from Wofford College ready to enter the world that they will encounter seamlessly and confidently.

We all will benefit from considering new and better ways to break down barriers and navigate human differences. Positive change toward authentic diversity will require a college-wide commitment to including and listening to all voices. I'm eager for the challenge knowing that the Wofford College community will reap the benefits for generations to come.

Thank you to Jennifer and the college's diversity committee for their leadership, and to our entire campus community for your collective commitment to this important work.

Sincerely,

Nayef H. Samhat
President

"Tres vidas" Musical performance
Date/Time: 9/15/2016 7:00:00 PM
Location: Leonard Auditorium
Cost: Free
Details: Chamber Music Theatre is a unique performance format developed by the Core Ensemble featuring a marriage of theatrical narrative and chamber music performance. Francisca Muñoz portrays multiple characters while interacting with the onstage musical trio of cello, piano, and percussion. Tres Vidas celebrates the life, times and work of three significant Latin and South American Women: painter Frida Kahlo of Mexico, peasant activist Rufina Amaya of El Salvador and poet Alfonsina Storni of Argentina. With storylines including Frida Kahlo's dramatic and passionate relationship with painter Diego Rivera, Rufina Amaya's astounding singular survival of the massacre at El Mozote and Alfonsina Storni's life long challenges as Argentina's first great feminist poet, Tres Vidas presents dramatic situations timeless in their emotional appeal and connection to audiences across all gender and ethnic spectrums. With a script written by Chilean poet/writer Marjorie Agosin, Tres Vidas offers powerful portrayals of each woman and includes the singing of traditional Mexican folk songs as well as Argentinean popular and tango songs made famous by Mercedes Sosa and Carlos Gardel. Additional music by Astor Piazzolla, Orlando Garcia, Pablo Ortiz, Alice Gomez, Carlos Sanchez-Gutierrez, Michael DeMurga and Osvaldo Golijov round out the musical score. Re: Important Parking Information

The Campus Safety Department reminds all students, faculty and staff that they must remove their vehicles from the following parking lots before 6 p.m. Friday evening (Sept. 16) so these lots can be used on Saturday morning by the people who have purchased spaces in them:

- Richardson (also referred to as the Verandah lot)
- Lots F, T, C and D (across from the indoor stadium construction)
- B (across from the Taylor Center)
- P (the new one behind the Greek Village)

Vehicles remaining in any of these lots will be towed.

Students are reminded that they may park in the lot behind the soccer stadium, the Calvary Baptist Church lot on Osage Street and the designated spaces in the Spartanburg Memorial Auditorium lot.

Please refer to the campus map for parking lot designations:

Imagine Science Films: The Wofford Tour
Date/Time: 9/27/2016 7:00:00 PM
Location: McMillan Theater
Cost: Free with reservation
Details: The Imagine Science Film Festival in New York City ? the first science film festival created by scientists ? emphasizes the importance of storytelling, narrative structure and visual communication. Chosen on the basis of both scientific and artistic merit by Founder/Executive Director Alexis Gambis and Program Director, Nate Dorr, the annual roster includes genres that run the gamut from fiction and documentaries to experimental films, and hybrid forms of "docu-fiction." The primary goal is to break down stereotypes and defy categorization of the "science film," and while the Festival showcases films whose chief purpose is to convey scientific information with artistry, it also celebrates abstract works designed to capture the magic and "cool" of science and its practitioners. Wofford is thrilled to be hosting a tour of the film series September 27-30. Each night of the festival, we'll be showing one of the programs followed by a panel discussion and Q & A. Light refreshments will be served, and tickets are free with reservation: http://www.wofford.edu/arts/ImagineScienceFilms/

Imagine Science Films: The Wofford Tour
Date/Time: 9/27/2016 7:00:00 PM
Location: McMillan Theater
Cost: Free with reservation
Details: The Imagine Science Film Festival in New York City, the first science film festival created by scientists, emphasizes the importance of storytelling, narrative structure and visual communication. Chosen on the basis of both scientific and artistic merit by Founder/Executive Director Alexis Gambis and Program Director Nate Dorr, the annual roster includes genres that run the gamut from fiction and documentaries to experimental films and hybrid forms of "docu-fiction." The primary goal is to break down stereotypes and defy categorization of the "science film," and while the festival showcases films whose chief purpose is to convey scientific information with artistry, it also celebrates abstract works designed to capture the magic and "cool" of science and its practitioners. Wofford will host a tour of the film series Sept. 27-30. Each night of the festival, we'll be showing one of the programs followed by a panel discussion and Q & A. Light refreshments will be served, and tickets are free with reservations: http://www.wofford.edu/arts/ImagineScienceFilms/

To: Wofford Campus Community

The campus community is invited to celebrate the topping out of the Jerry Richardson Indoor Stadium at 11 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 27.

A brief presentation will be held from 11 to 11:15 a.m. at the construction site on Cumming Street, near Gibbs Stadium. It will be followed immediately by a campus-wide luncheon inside the under-construction building. All other dining venues on campus will be closed so that everyone may share in this exciting celebration.

A celebration of the hard work of the Robins & Morton construction crews again will be the focus of the topping out ceremony, which also is a symbolic celebration of the placing of the highest beam in the construction of a building.

Attendees should enter the site at the construction tent located on the right side of the building nearest Gibbs Stadium on Cumming Street. You will be directed to the main floor lobby for the presentation. The luncheon will follow in the volleyball gym. (If you are driving, please park in the paved lot across Cumming Street from the construction site.)

The construction workers and Wofford students, faculty and staff again will be invited to sign a ceremonial steel beam that will be displayed in the building when it is completed in the fall of 2017.

We look forward to seeing all of you there!

Re: Important Parking Information

The Campus Safety Department reminds all students, faculty and staff that they must remove their vehicles from the following parking lots before 6 p.m. today (Friday, Sept. 23) so these lots can be used on Saturday morning by the people who have purchased spaces in them:

- Richardson (also referred to as the Verandah lot)
- Lots F, T, C and D (across from the indoor stadium construction)
- B (across from the Taylor Center)
- P (the new one behind the Greek Village)

Vehicles remaining in any of these lots will be towed.

Students are reminded that they may park in the lot behind the soccer stadium, the Calvary Baptist Church lot on Osage Street and the designated spaces in the Spartanburg Memorial Auditorium lot. Please note that SMA will hold a large event on Saturday evening, so be sure to only park in Wofford’s designated spaces.

Please refer to the campus map for parking lot designations: http://www.wofford.edu/uploadedFiles/Wofford_map_download.pdf

Friends,

I write to you in my capacity as President of the Beertender Union Members (BUMs) and my purpose is to recruit you to be a BUM for the street party on the Saturday evening of homecoming (October 22).

What do BUMs do?
They serve beer to the 3500(ish) alumni who come to the super fun street party on Morgan Square, from 6-10pm. (The exceptions to this rule are John McArthur and Charlie Bass whose BUM role it is to talk to former students the whole time while everyone else serves beer. They are our windbag BUMs.)

Who is eligible to be a BUM?
Any Wofford employee: faculty, staff, administrators, coaches. The only person not eligible to be a BUM is a Wofford employee who does not know how to open a can of beer and is unwilling to learn this "complicated" skill. (Note: the relative complicatedness of the aforementioned skill corresponds directly to how much product BUMs consume while they work.)

How many BUMs do we need?
This year, we need around 35 BUMs, a slight decrease from previous years.

I think I’m interested in being a BUM, but can you sweeten the pot?
Yes I can! First, the Alumni Office will treat all BUMs to dinner at a restaurant on Morgan Square prior to the street party. Second, the Alumni Office will also outfit all BUMs in both an official 2016 homecoming t-shirt, and some other kind of yet-to-be-determined Wofford outerwear. This is some significant BUM booty!

If you’d like to volunteer to be a 2016 BUM, please send me an email (mathewsondb@wofford.edu) by October 3. Please include your preferred t-shirt and outerwear sizes.

Cheekily yours,

Dan Mathewson

Imagine Science Films: The Wofford Tour
Date/Time: 9/27/2016 7:00:00 PM
Location: McMillan Theater
Cost: Free with reservation
Details: The Imagine Science Film Festival in New York City - the first science film festival created by scientists - emphasizes the importance of storytelling, narrative structure and visual communication. Chosen on the basis of both scientific and artistic merit by Founder/Executive Director Alexis Gambis and Program Director, Nate Dorr, the annual roster includes genres that run the gamut from fiction and documentaries to experimental films, and hybrid forms of ?docu-fiction.? The primary goal is to break down stereotypes and defy categorization of the "science film," and while the Festival showcases films whose chief purpose is to convey scientific information with artistry, it also celebrates abstract works designed to capture the magic and "cool" of science and its practitioners. Wofford is thrilled to be hosting a tour of the film series September 27-30. Each night of the festival, we'll be showing one of the programs followed by a panel discussion and Q & A. Light refreshments will be served, and tickets are free with reservation: http://www.wofford.edu/arts/ImagineScienceFilms/

Civic Learning Data Lab #1
Date/Time: 9/28/2016 3:00:00 PM
Please join the Center for Innovation and Learning (CIL) and the Center for Community-Based Learning (CCBL) for the first ever "Civic Learning Data Lab" at Wofford, this Wednesday at 3 p.m. Faculty, staff and maybe even a few students will view/read/experience student artifacts of civic learning from: Cissy Fowler's and George Shiflet's Public Health (BIO493/SOC493), Dan Mathewson's REL 241, Laura Barbas-Rhoden's Spanish 303, and the Bonner Scholars Program. Participants will then create their own mini-artifacts in response and participate in a broad discussion about what these student artifacts tell us about civic learning at Wofford, as well as what questions they raise for us. Lab set-up requires knowing a ballpark number of participants. So, if you can make it, please RSVP to StoryJW@wofford.edu by the end of the day Tuesday. We hope to see you there!

Campus Community:

We’re looking forward to seeing the entire campus community at the topping out for the Jerry Richardson Indoor Stadium at 11 a.m. TOMORROW (Tuesday, Sept. 27) at the construction site on Cumming Street, next to Gibbs Stadium!

A brief presentation will be held from 11 to 11:15 a.m., followed immediately by a campus-wide luncheon inside the under-construction building. All other dining venues on campus will be closed so that everyone may share in this exciting celebration.

Like the recent topping out of the Rosalind Sallenger Richardson Center for the Arts, this event will be a celebration of the hard work of the Robins & Morton construction crews.

Attendees should enter the site at the construction tent located on the right side of the building nearest Gibbs Stadium on Cumming Street. You will be directed to the main floor lobby for the presentation. The luncheon will follow in the volleyball gym. (If you are driving, please park in the paved lot across Cumming Street from the construction site.)

The construction workers and Wofford students, faculty and staff will again be invited to sign a ceremonial steel beam that will be displayed in the building when it is completed in the fall of 2017.

We look forward to seeing all of you there!

Details: Dr. Rachel Vanderhill (Department of Government and International Affairs)
Title: Do the EU's Anticorruption Policies Work? Lessons from Romania and Bulgaria
Description: The EU has spent years mandating new laws, institutions, and regulations to combat corruption in postcommunist states. There is serious debate about whether or not these efforts have worked. Through examining EU anticorruption policies in Romania and Bulgaria, Dr. Vanderhill proposes that the EU has had both more and less success than theory would predict. Reception begins at 3:45 p.m.

Civic Learning Data Lab #1
Date/Time: 9/28/2016 3:00:00 PM
Location: Olin 207A
Cost:
Details: Please join the Center for Innovation and Learning (CIL) and the Center for Community-Based Learning (CCBL) for the first ever "Civic Learning Data Lab" at Wofford, tomorrow (Wednesday), 3 - 4:30 p.m. Faculty, staff and maybe even a few students will view/read/experience student artifacts of civic learning from: Cissy Fowler's and George Shiftlet's Public Health (BIO493/SOC493), Dan Mathewson's REL 241, Laura Barbas-Rhoden's Spanish 303, and the Bonner Scholars Program. Participants will then create their own mini-artifacts in response and participate in a broad discussion about what these student artifacts tell us about civic learning at Wofford, as well as what questions they raise for us. Lab set-up requires knowing a ballpark number of participants. So, if you can make it, please RSVP to StoryJW@wofford.edu by the end of the day today. We hope to see you there!

Imagine Science Films: The Wofford Tour

Date/Time: 9/28/2016 7:00:00 PM
Location: McMillan Theater
Cost: free with reservation
Details: The Imagine Science Film Festival in New York City - the first science film festival created by scientists - emphasizes the importance of storytelling, narrative structure and visual communication. Chosen on the basis of both scientific and artistic merit by Founder/Executive Director Alexis Gambis and Program Director Nate Dorr, the annual roster includes genres that run the gamut from fiction and documentaries to experimental films and hybrid forms of "docu-fiction." The primary goal is to break down stereotypes and defy categorization of the "science film," and while the festival showcases films whose chief purpose is to convey scientific information with artistry, it also celebrates abstract works designed to capture the magic and "cool" of science and its practitioners. Wofford will host a tour of the film series Sept. 28-30. Each night of the festival, we'll show one of the programs followed by a panel discussion and Q & A. Light refreshments will be served, and tickets are free with reservations:

Re: 2016 Annual Security and Fire Safety Reports (Clery Reports) Available

In accordance with the federal Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, Wofford College has posted the 2016 Annual Security and Fire Safety Reports for the college.

The document is available online by going to:

The document includes: campus crime and emergency reporting policies and procedures; and campus policies regarding weapons, alcohol and drugs, sexual assault and misconduct, discrimination and other similar policies and procedures. The report also includes campus crime statistics and the annual fire safety report.

Anyone who wishes to receive a hard/printed copy of the document may contact Randy Hall, Director of Campus Safety, at halljr@wofford.edu or 864-597-4351.
