"No Words"

Details: Today is the first day of Black History Month programming here at Wofford. Around campus, you may see students walking around with yellow tape across their mouth representing those who have no voice. These students have agreed to stand in solidarity for those who have repeatedly had no voice at the table, in their communities or here in our Nation. We hope that here at Wofford as leaders, we will continue to consider "who have we left out" when we are continuing to create and implement programs, events, and research as we move forward to building a more inclusive campus environment where all voices are being heard.

Details: At historically black Mission College, the activist-minded Dap (Larry Fishburne) immerses himself in a world of political rhetoric and social movements -- one day he hopes to rally the students as a united front. At the other end of the spectrum, Julian (Giancarlo Esposito), the head of the biggest fraternity on campus, is more concerned with maintaining a strict social order. In between, Dap's conflicted cousin, Half-Pint (Spike Lee), spends most of his time rushing the fraternity. (Fandango.com)

True West Tickets On Sale Now

Details: Tickets are on sale now for Wofford Theatre's upcoming faculty showcase production of True West, staged in tribute to late Pulitzer Prize-winning playwright Sam Shepard. Starring faculty members Mark Ferguson and Dan Day, this production is directed by guest artist Daniel Murray, of the South Carolina Governor's School for the Arts and Humanities. True West is an intimate exploration of sibling rivalry and familial discord in the suburbs of Los Angeles. Turmoil bubbles just below the surface for warring brothers Austin and Lee, as their aspirations clash and collide during a fateful weekend that will change their lives irrevocably. This unforgettable show is sure to sell out, so purchase your tickets early! Discounted tickets are available online at www.wofford.edu/boxoffice. Students: $3 online / $5 at the door; Faculty and Staff: $10 online / $12 at the door; General Public: $13 online / $15 at the door. Seating for this show is general admission, and doors open 20 minutes prior to showtime. Purchased tickets that are not redeemed will be released to the public 5 minutes before showtime. True West runs from Feb. 27 to Mar. 3 at 8 p.m. in the Sallenger Sisters Black Box Theatre, with an additional matinee performance on Mar. 3 at 2 p.m.

The Future of Afrofuturism

Date/Time: 2/14/2018 7:00:00 PM

Location: Jerome Johnson Richardson Theatre (RSRCA)

Cost: Free

Details: Please join us this evening as the African/African American Studies Program and the Department of Art and Art History at Wofford present a lecture and panel discussion with Ingrid LaFleur and Dr. Cassandra L. Jones. Ingrid LaFleur is a Detroit-based cultural producer, arts advocate, and pleasure activist. In 2013, LaFleur founded AFROTOPIA, an evolving creative research project that investigates the possibilities of using the arts movement Afrofuturism as psychosocial healing. She explores ideas around historical traumas, myth-making, transcendence and the role of spirit science and technology within Black American socio-political movement. Dr. Cassandra L. Jones is an assistant professor of African American studies and the director of the African American Studies Program at the University of South Carolina Upstate. Her research in Afrofuturism sits at the intersection of race, gender, technology, and speculative fiction and moves along two vectors: post-colonial identity and metaphors of technology in Afrofuturist texts. This event is presented in conjunction with the art exhibition "Three-Point Perspective: Conversations in Imagination, Legend and Science" by Jessica Scott-Felder, assistant professor of Art and Art History at Wofford. The exhibit will be on display from Feb. 6 to March 31 in the Richardson Family Art Gallery in the Rosalind Sallenger Richardson Center for the Arts.

True West Tickets On Sale Now

Details: Tickets are on sale now for Wofford Theatre's upcoming faculty showcase production of True West, staged in tribute to late Pulitzer Prize-winning playwright Sam Shepard. Starring faculty members Mark Ferguson and Dan Day, this production is directed by guest artist Daniel Murray, of the South Carolina Governor's School for the Arts and Humanities. True West is an intimate exploration of sibling rivalry and familial discord in the suburbs of Los Angeles. Turmoil bubbles just below the surface for warring brothers Austin and Lee, as their aspirations clash and collide during a fateful weekend that will change their lives irrevocably. This unforgettable show is sure to sell out, so purchase your tickets early! Discounted tickets are available online at www.wofford.edu/boxoffice. Students: $3 online / $5 at the door; Faculty and Staff: $10 online / $12 at the door; General Public: $13 online / $15 at the door. Seating for this show is general admission, and doors open 20 minutes prior to showtime. Purchased tickets that are not redeemed will be released to the public 5 minutes before showtime. True West runs from Feb. 27 to Mar. 3 at 8 p.m. in the Sallenger Sisters Black Box Theatre, with an additional matinee performance on Mar. 3 at 2 p.m.

Campus Community:

An incident occurred this evening in which a Wofford student received a minor injury when a stray bullet fired from a distance off campus ricocheted off the ground and struck her in the leg. Campus Safety received information from Spartanburg City Police that they were chasing a suspect on foot at a location off campus. The suspect was firing randomly. One of his bullets entered campus, striking the ground then hitting a student who was near the Greek Village as she walked to the basketball game. She sustained a minor injury to her leg.

The suspect has not been apprehended but authorities say there is no reason to believe he is on or near campus. That being said, as always, be aware of your surroundings and call Campus Safety at 864-597-4911 if you see suspicious persons or activities. We will update you as we get more information from the Spartanburg Police.

This is a webinar broadcast by the American Chemical Society that will last about an hour. These days it is difficult to escape the tragic news of yet another story referring to the growing opioid epidemic. In the United States, overdose deaths from opioids have nearly tripled in the last 15 years. In 2016 alone they claimed more than 30,000 lives. Join us for a special broadcast as we explain what makes these compounds so addictive, the treatments and medications that are being used to help those who suffer, and profile the work that chemists are doing to make prescription pain killers safer and harder to abuse.

Wofford Theatre Presents: True West

Details: Reserve your tickets now for Wofford Theatre's True West, opening next week in the Sallenger Sisters Black Box Theatre! Order online to take advantage of our discounted rates! This faculty showcase production is staged in tribute to late Pulitzer Prize-winning playwright and actor Sam Shepard. Directed by Daniel Murray of the South Carolina Governor's School for the Arts and Humanities, Wofford faculty members Dan Day and Mark Ferguson take the stage together for the first time as warring brothers Austin and Lee. Turmoil bubbles just below the surface for these two unforgettable characters, as their aspirations clash and collide during a fateful weekend that will change their lives irrevocably. Show Dates: Feb. 28-Mar. 3 (8 p.m. all, with additional 2 p.m. matinee on Mar. 3). Purchase discounted tickets online at www.wofford.edu/boxoffice. Students: $3 online / $5 at the door; Faculty/Staff: $10 online / $12 at the door; General Public: $13 online / $15 at the door. Online sales close two hours before showtime, and the box office opens in the lower level of the RSRCA at 7 p.m. Seating for this show is general admission, and doors open 20 minutes prior to showtime. Unredeemed tickets will be released to the public 5 minutes prior to showtime.

This is a webinar broadcast by the American Chemical Society that will last about an hour. These days it is difficult to escape the tragic news of yet another story referring to the growing opioid epidemic. In the United States, overdose deaths from opioids have nearly tripled in the last 15 years. In 2016 alone they claimed more than 30,000 lives. Join us for a special broadcast as we explain what makes these compounds so addictive, the treatments and medications that are being used to help those who suffer, and profile the work that chemists are doing to make prescription pain killers safer and harder to abuse.

Opioids: Fighting Addiction with Chemistry

Date/Time: 2/27/2018 6:45:00 PM

Location: RMSC122

Cost: Free

Details: Opioids: Fighting Addiction with Chemistry The CHEM Dept will be hosting a program tonight, at 7 p.m. (pregame at 6:45 p.m.) titled "Opioids: Fighting Addiction with Chemistry" in RMSC 122. This is a webinar broadcast by the American Chemical Society that will last about an hour. These days it is difficult to escape the tragic news of yet another story referring to the growing opioid epidemic. In the United States, overdose deaths from opioids have nearly tripled in the last 15 years. In 2016 alone they claimed more than 30,000 lives. Join us for a special broadcast as we explain what makes these compounds so addictive, the treatments and medications that are being used to help those who suffer, and profile the work that chemists are doing to make prescription pain killers safer and harder to abuse.

Community Conversations: "Stand up or sit down, the debate regarding the Anthem"

Date/Time: 2/27/2018 7:00:00 PM

Location: Anna Todd Wofford Center

Cost:

Details: The anthem is playing. Do you stand or do you remain sitting? Or do you kneel? Please join us tonight to have a conversation surrounding the national anthem, free-speech and protest. "In 2016, Colin Kaepernick decided not to stand during the national anthem in protest against the oppression of people of color" (The Washington Post, 2017). Student-Athletes, Monica Branch, and Joanne Franklin will be facilitating the community conversation regarding the decision to stand or sit. Please join us and share your voice on this controversial topic. The dialogue is co-sponsored by the Office of Diversity and Inclusion and the Student Athletic Committee.
