Elon shoots under par both rounds to take early lead at Wofford Invitational presented by VAULT
April 2, 2007

SPARTANBURG, S.C. – Elon fired a 5-under par 571 and held off a 10-stroke improvement by Charleston Southern to take control of first place following a picture perfect weather-wise opening day action Monday at the Wofford Invitational presented by VAULT men’s golf tournament at The Carolina Country Club in Spartanburg, S.C.

The Phoenix were the only team to shoot under par during each of Monday’s rounds and finished with a 287-284—571 (-5) to lead the pack of 14 teams. They withstood a Charleston Southern club, which also is under par after 36 holes following a 4-under par 291-281—572. Both schools enter Tuesday’s final round action aiming to become the first under-par tournament team champion since Virginia posted a 2-under par tally in 2002. Charleston Southern captured the team crown in last year’s event with a 35-over par 899.

Western Carolina’s Andres Cuenca paces the individual leaderboard with a 70-66—136 (-8). His 66 on the second 18, which was equaled by Jacksonville’s Russel Knox, and the 136 score through 36 holes equal the third-lowest second round totals in tournament history. Cuenca holds a two-shot edge over South Carolina’s Mark Silvers, who is playing as an individual, and a pack of three players, including Knox, three shots back.

Terrier junior John Gault, a member of the Wofford ‘B’ squad, is the leading player in the clubhouse from the host institution with a 68-71—139 (-5). The 68 he fired during the opening round is a personal best.

Freshman Mike McKenzie is the leader of the Wofford ‘A’ team with a 73-70—143 (-1). His effort puts him in a three-way tie for 13th as 15 players are under par through 36 holes.

The par 72, 6,877-yard tournament will conclude Tuesday with the final 18 holes. The first set of players is due to tee off at 8:30 a.m. with the final group heading out at 10:36 a.m.

Phoenix, Cuenca capture titles at Wofford Invitational presented by VAULT
April 3, 2007

SPARTANBURG, S.C. -- Day one leaders Elon and Western Carolina's Andres Cuenca held on to their respective leads to earn team and individual titles, respectively, Tuesday at the 20th Annual Wofford Invitational presented by VAULT at The Carolina Country Club in Spartanburg, S.C. The 54-hole, two-day event resumed following a two-hour delay for fog Tuesday morning and concluded with the final 18 holes on the 6,877-yard, par 72 course on another picture perfect weather day.

Elon shot under par for the third-straight round in finishing as the only school in the 14-team field under par. The Phoenix carded a 7-under par 287-284-286--857 to win the team crown by 10 strokes over Charleston Southern, the 2006 winner. The 7-under par team score is the fifth lowest in tournament history and fourth lowest for 54 holes since the event began in 1988. Elon also becomes the first team to finish the tournament under par since Virginia and East Carolina each did it in 2002.

Cuenca entered final round action with a two-shot edge and fired Even par Tuesday to hold off Elon's Justin Newton and Wofford B's John Gault in the race for medalist honors. The Western Carolina sophomore posted an 8-under par 70-66-72--208 to tie for the seventh-lowest tally in tournament history. His final score is the lowest for an individual since Virginia's Steve Marino registered a 9-under par 207 to win the 2002 championship.

Gault, playing as a member of the B team, finished as the top Terrier in the clubhouse with a 68-71-71-210 (-6), tying Newton for second place. Gault's finish is a personal best and is his first career top-10 result. Until this tournament, he had only two career rounds at even par or better.

Freshman Mike McKenzie, representing the Wofford A squad, notched a 73-70-70--213 (-3) to tie for seventh, one shot ahead of last year's winner, Shawn Hall of Charleston Southern.

Dustin Adair, playing as an individual, finished tied for 48th with a 72-81-74--227 (+11) in what could possibly be his final tournament as a Terrier. He began his collegiate career at the Wofford Invitational as a freshman in 2004.

The Wofford A team finished fourth overall, while the Terrier B squad placed 13th.

Wofford will conclude its 2006-07 campaign April 22-24 at the Southern Conference Championship at The Country Club of South Carolina in Florence, S.C.

McKenzie paces Wofford men's golf at SoCon Championship
April 24, 2007

FLORENCE, S.C. -- Freshman Mike McKenzie led a young Wofford squad to a fourth-place result at the Southern Conference men's golf championship, which concluded Tuesday at The Country Club of South Carolina in Florence, S.C. McKenzie was one of two rookies on the five-man team that also included a pair of sophomores and a junior.

McKenzie posted a 3-over par 74-73-72--219 to tally an 11th-place tying score in the 50-player field on the 7,062-yard, par 72 course. It marked the third time this season the Cambridge, Ontario, native paced the Terriers in a tournament. He also was the top Wofford performer at the WCU Intercollegiate in November, an event which was won by the Terriers, and for the 'A' team at the 20th Annual Wofford Invitational presented by VAULT in April.

His classmate, Garrett Medeiros, bounced back to finish 21st after posting a 68-83-71--222 (+6). He was the opening round leader following the career-best tying 68.

Sophomore Drew Perry was the next Terrier on the leaderboard. He concluded his second-straight SoCon Championship with an 8-over par 76-71-77--224 to tie for 23rd, two shots ahead of teammate and last year's league Freshman of the Year Neil O'Briain. O'Briain registered a 10-over par 78-70-78-226 to finish in a tie for 30th.

The fourth-place team result is the Terriers' highest finish since also placing fourth at the 2003 tournament. After earning back-to-back runner-up in its first two seasons in the league, in 1998 and 1999, Wofford also was fourth in 2000.
