Wofford Theatre Open House and Auditions
Date/Time: 9/5/2018 6:00:00 PM
Location: Rosalind Sallenger Richardson Center for the Arts
Cost: Free
Details: Interested in getting involved in the Theatre Department at Wofford? Want to learn more about what's coming up this season, and about how you can help? Please join us for an Open House on Sept. 5 at 6 p.m., in the Sallenger Sisters Black Box Theatre! Meet the faculty, staff, and students who make up the vibrant and growing theatre community on campus, learn more about opportunities to get involved both onstage and off, and enjoy some delicious treats while you're at it! After the Open House, all are welcome to join us in the Jerome Johnson Richardson Theatre at 7 p.m., for auditions for our fall play, The Danube, written by Maria Irene Fornes and directed by Prof. Dan Day. Auditions will include cold readings from the script, and all auditionees are also invited to prepare and memorize two contrasting, contemporary monologues from American playwrights, no more than one minute long each. Note that monologues are required for all students who are currently pursuing or who plan to declare a major or minor in Theatre; please prepare new material that you have not used for previous auditions, classes, or productions at Wofford. Monologues are optional for all others. Performance dates for The Danube are Nov. 7-10 and 14-17, and rehearsals begin early in September. We hope to see you at one or both of these exciting events!

Dear Wofford campus community,

Wofford College began classes today for the 164th time. This year 487 new Terriers joined our community (466 first-year students and 21 transfers). We’re pleased that they include 126 legacies, 103 student-athletes, 79 first-generation students, 20.6 percent of an ethnicity other than white and 44.5 percent from outside South Carolina. These new students moved in on Wednesday, Aug. 29, to two newly renovated residence halls — Marsh and Carlisle halls — and they already have explored the campus to see the new fitness facilities in the Benjamin Johnson Arena and the new Zach's food court, both in the Campus Life Building. Renovations of the Richardson Physical Activities Building are almost complete as well. We’ve also added new campus lighting to make the college even safer and more energy efficient, and we will celebrate that gift later this semester.

As we start, once again, the rhythms of the academic year, I can’t help but think of the phrase, "the more things change, the more they stay the same." Students wear different clothes and come from farther away than they did 164 years ago, but they still take classes in Main Building, and they still make lifelong friends on this beautiful campus. Students today, just like students of the past, come to Wofford because it offers rigorous academics, excellent preparation for the future and a community of respect and civility.

We live today in what many would describe as unsettled times, and our college is not an impenetrable bubble isolated from the currents of political discourse and cultural shifts around us. Still, we remain a place in which academic freedom protects free speech, critical thinking and experimentation, a place in which we value the exploration of big questions that shape the tenor and fabric of our society and our world. At Wofford, addressing the status quo is not a threat, rather it is a means to raise alternative notions of who we are and what we may desire, what constitutes our community and how we might imagine our future. Naturally, there will be tension when difficult questions are posed, questions that confront us all with inflection points of social, cultural or community change. That, however, is not a reason to avoid dialogue or engagement with each other, just as it is not a reason to depart from principled norms of civility. Rather, it is when those most difficult questions are addressed that we must rely most on civility and our trust in each other. The journey is every bit as important as the outcome, one that we hope will advance our community, and reconciliation is made all the stronger and more enduring if founded in principles of mutual civility.

Let us have good, important and even difficult conversations about things that matter because, after all, that is why we are here, and let us do so with respect, with civility and a commitment to carry this ethos of civil engagement with us to the community beyond. Our democracy will be stronger for it.
Wofford's mission is to provide superior liberal arts education that prepares its students for extraordinary and positive contributions to society. That means fostering a commitment to excellence in character, performance, leadership, service to others and lifelong learning. As partners in that mission, we all have important work to do.

Students, your task is to take advantage of the many opportunities afforded by the privilege of attending Wofford College. Step beyond your comfort zone to engage the world in new and different ways. Do so responsibly and with a healthy embrace of the wide range of experiences inside and outside the classroom that will shape your future.

Faculty, staff and coaches, our commitment is to provide support — in the classrooms, on the stages and in the studios and residence halls, on the courts and fields of play, on every acre of this very special campus and in spaces outside of this place where students do research or complete internships, everywhere students live and learn. I know we are all eager to open doors and offer opportunities that will lead students toward excellence, engagement and transformation.

Thank you all in advance for another remarkable academic year. I look forward to the many things we can accomplish together.

Go, Terriers!

Nayef H. Samhat
11th President of Wofford College
To the Wofford Community:

You are all encouraged to attend Tuesday’s Opening Convocation – an important event for the college – when we welcome one of our own, Joyce Payne Yette, a 1980 Wofford graduate, a Wofford trustee and chief legal officer of Promontory Financial Group in Washington, D.C., as our featured speaker. The convocation will be at 11 a.m. in Leonard Auditorium in Main Building.

Members of the faculty will be in full regalia and are reminded that their official group photograph will be made at 10:45 a.m. on the steps of Main Building before the convocation.

As chief legal officer for Promontory Financial Group, an IBM company, Yette is responsible for overseeing its legal affairs around the world. Promontory is a global consulting firm specializing in helping companies manage complex risks and meet regulatory compliance requirements. Yette also is a member of the firm’s Risk and Reputation Committee. She was a first-generation college student and graduated from Harvard Law School.

In addition to serving on the Wofford Board of Trustees, Yette serves on the board of McDaniel College and the Council on Legal Education Opportunity. She also is on the advisory board of Neighborhood Legal Services.

Opening Convocation is an important and special event for our campus as we look forward to a wonderful and productive year. We hope to see all of you there tomorrow morning.

Thank you,
Nayef

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT DR NAYEF H SAMHAT

Dear Colleagues:

I will like to remind each and every one of you that this organization holds itself to the highest ethical standards. To that end we are pleased to announce our updated Business Integrity Program. Adherence to the Program standards not only achieves compliance with applicable laws and regulations, but affords us tangible business benefits. These standards also avoids liability for our company and all of us and also protects our reputation, but that is only the first of several benefits.

We must not take these benefits for granted as corporate scandals in recent years at Enron, Tyco, and other companies –including some companies in the pharmaceutical and biotechnology industries – have eroded the confidence of employees, customers, shareholders, and others.
Each of us must regularly affirm our commitment to integrity by acknowledging our agreement to the standards outlined in the Business Integrity Program. Please recognize the compliance responsibility this organization places in each and every one of us, as it will be taken seriously and any failure to act in accordance with the principles outlined herein.

The Business Integrity program is attached in this email and can also be accessed HERE. It is important that all staff go through it thoroughly and adhere to these standards so you will be helping to assure the future success of this organization.

Sincerely,
Dr. Nayef H. Samhat, President.

Teaching Inclusivity (Former Inclusive pedagogy group) for faculty, and staff interesting in teaching
Date/Time: 9/18/2018 11:45:00 PM
Location: Holcombe Room
Cost: Free

Details: Please come to have a free lunch and a discussion about what specific tools and strategies can we all do in our classrooms to support our less privileged students, some of them first generation students. The article published in the Chronicle of Higher Education titled "Traditional Teaching May Deepen Inequality. Can a Different Approach Fix It?" is fascinating and gives a lot of good advice. No problem if you don't have time to read the article, come anyway. We also hope we can brainstorm other ideas we could implement at Wofford to help our students.

Wofford College Community:

We are keeping a close eye on the forecasts for Hurricane Florence, currently expected to make landfall later this week along South Carolina/North Carolina coast. Predictions for the Upstate, including Spartanburg, are that we likely will receive heavy rainfall and high winds.

The exact path of the hurricane is unpredictable at this time, but we will continue to monitor forecasts, and we will make decisions regarding Wofford’s actions based on the best information available from the National Weather Service and local and state emergency preparedness agencies.

We have no plans at this time to cancel classes or close the campus. We will keep the college community informed regarding campus impacts via email and emergency alerts, as necessary.

We remind you to update your Rave Mobile Safety emergency alert account to include your mobile phone number. You may add others’ mobile numbers and emails as well, including parents and spouses.

Wofford College Community:

We continue to monitor the National Weather Service, the National Hurricane Center and information from local and state emergency preparedness agencies regarding the forecast for Hurricane Florence and its potential impacts on the Upstate/Spartanburg.

Currently, we plan to continue normal operations; we have no plans as of now to cancel classes or to close the campus. Some athletics contests and other events have been canceled or postponed due to the potential for inclement weather; please check the online calendar at calendar.wofford.edu for event changes.

We will send updates to the college community as warranted.

According to the National Hurricane Center, Hurricane Florence is expected to move slowly westward after making landfall along the South Carolina/North Carolina coasts on Friday. After weakening to a tropical storm and tropical depression, it is expected to bring heavy rainfall and gusty winds to the area through the weekend, possibly into Monday and Tuesday.

The latest information from the National Weather Service (Thursday afternoon) is that overall impacts to Spartanburg County will be moderate, starting with breezy conditions on Friday with more significant winds on Saturday and Sunday. Anticipated maximum wind gusts – not sustained wind speeds – are expected to be 20 mph Friday, 25 mph Saturday and 28-30 mph Sunday. Heavy rain is expected to begin Saturday and linger into Monday and Tuesday. Our area of the Upstate is expected to see 6 to 10 inches of rain over two to three days; the amount areas receive will depend on the track and intensity of the storm once it reaches the Upstate.

As always, should hazardous weather threaten Wofford’s campus, we will initiate emergency alerts through Rave Mobile Safety as well as emails to the college community.

We remind you again to update your Rave Mobile Safety account to include your mobile telephone number and to add other mobile numbers (up to three) and emails for parents, spouses or others. For instructions on editing your account, go to: www.wofford.edu/newsroom/emergencymanagement/emergencyalerts/

If you have questions about the alert system, contact Laura Corbin at laura.corbin@wofford.edu or 864-597-4180.

As always, if you have any type of emergency call Campus Safety at 864-597-4911 or 911.

Dear Wofford Campus Community:

The Office of Campus Safety requests that any individual currently parked on the Horseshoe between Shipp and DuPre Residence Halls please move his or her vehicle immediately. A large tree has fallen in the DuPre courtyard and it is necessary to position equipment on the Horseshoe for its removal.

Please also note that there will be no parking for students, faculty or staff on the Horseshoe until further notice. Any vehicles parked on the Horseshoe after 8 am tomorrow morning, Monday, September 17, will be towed.

We appreciate your help and assistance as we work to clear the tree. As always, if you have any type of emergency, call Campus Safety at 864-597-4911 or 911.

Thank you,
The Office of Campus Safety

Faculty Talk Series
Date/Time: 9/19/2018 12:00:00 PM
Location: Gray-Jones Room, Burwell
Cost: Free
Details: Dr. Begona Caballero-Garcia (Associate Professor of Spanish Studies and Dean of Diversity and Inclusion) will present, "Integrating diversity, inclusion and social justice in the Spanish curriculum" In this talk, she will explain how to foster diversity, inclusion and social justice within the classroom and will include research based on the critical pedagogy, theoretical framework based on the work by Brazilian educator Paulo Freire. Combining critical pedagogy, the ACTFL (American Council of the Teaching of Foreign Languages) 21st Century Skills Map and the Partnership for 21st Century Skills, the Spanish educator can promote learners' social consciousness, empathy, collaboration, diversity appreciation, personal responsibility, and leadership in the language classroom. A step further in these lessons is to end the learner's experiences with a civic engagement component related to social justice. At the end of the talk, strategies on how to implement this methodology in different curriculums across disciplines will be explained. Lunch provided for faculty attendees. Just tell the AVI folks that you are a part of the Faculty Talk Series.

Teaching Inclusivity (Former Inclusive Pedagogy group) for faculty and staff interested in teaching
Date/Time: 9/18/2018 11:45:00 AM
Location: Holcombe Room
Cost: Free
Details: Please come to have a free lunch and a discussion about what specific tools and strategies we can all do in our classrooms to support our less privileged students, some of them first generation students. The article published in the Chronicle of Higher Education titled "Traditional Teaching May Deepen Inequality. Can a Different Approach Fix It?" is fascinating and gives a lot of good advice. No problem if you don't have time to read the article, come anyway. We also hope we can brainstorm other ideas we could implement at Wofford to help our students. Gallery Talk: Scenic Impressions
Date/Time: 9/20/2018 7:00:00 PM
Location: Rosalind Sallenger Richardson Center for the Arts
Cost: Free
Details: Martha Severens, co-author of the book "Scenic Impressions: Southern Interpretations from the Johnson Collection," will deliver a gallery talk at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 20. An accomplished art historian, Severens served for 17 years as the curator of the Greenville County Museum of Art. This event is free and open to the public, and all are welcome to join us before the talk for a reception with Severens! "Scenic Impressions" will be on display in the upper gallery of the Richardson Family Art Museum until Dec. 20. On loan from the Johnson Collection, this exhibition features paintings created between 1880 and 1940, by artists native to the American South and by visitors and seasonal residents who were inspired by the Southern landscape. Their paintings reveal the influence of popular artistic trends in late 19th and early 20th century Europe, particularly the styles of Tonalism and Impressionism emerging from the Barbizon and Giverny regions in France. The collective result is an exhibition that frames the South as a pastoral utopia, a peaceful retreat from the rush and clamor of the industrialized world.

Wofford Campus Community:

Please join me in thanking all of the members of our campus community who worked tirelessly over the past few days – persevering under challenging weather circumstances caused by Hurricane Florence – to make sure the campus remained safe.

Among them are the staffs of the Physical Plant, Campus Safety and AVI, who were prepared for the worst potential impact on campus from the hurricane. While we did not receive the full impact predicted, we experienced a great deal of rainfall and high winds. The major impact was the large tree that came down in the courtyard of DuPre Residence Hall. We are thankful no one was hurt and that there was no structural damage to the building. We appreciate everyone’s cooperation in making room for the removal of the tree today.

All of these staff members prepared for the worse and worked throughout the weekend to make sure emergency plans were ready and did what was necessary to maintain our campus. Many others continued to serve the campus community and support ongoing activity.

I appreciate all of their hard work and perseverance, and I invite you to join me in thanking them for all that they do for us – during good times and bad times.

Faculty Talk Series

Date/Time: 9/19/2018 12:00:00 PM
Location: Gray-Jones Room, Burwell
Cost: Free
Details: Dr. Begona Caballero-Garcia (Associate Professor of Spanish Studies and Dean of Diversity and Inclusion) will present, "Integrating diversity, inclusion and social justice in the Spanish curriculum" In this talk, she will explain how to foster diversity, inclusion and social justice within the classroom and will include research based on the critical pedagogy, theoretical framework based on the work by Brazilian educator Paulo Freire. Combining critical pedagogy, the ACTFL (American Council of the Teaching of Foreign Languages) 21st Century Skills Map and the Partnership for 21st Century Skills, the Spanish educator can promote learners' social consciousness, empathy, collaboration, diversity appreciation, personal responsibility, and leadership in the language classroom. A step further in these lessons is to end the learner's experiences with a civic engagement component related to social justice. At the end of the talk, strategies on how to implement this methodology in different curriculums across disciplines will be explained. Lunch provided for faculty attendees. Just tell the AVI folks that you are a part of the Faculty Talk Series.

Gallery Talk: Scenic Impressions
Gallery Talk: Scenic Impressions
Date/Time: 9/20/2018 7:00:00 PM
Location: Rosalind Sallenger Richardson Center for the Arts
Cost: Free
Details: Martha Severens, co-author of the book "Scenic Impressions: Southern Interpretations from the Johnson Collection," will deliver a gallery talk tonight at 7 p.m. An accomplished art historian, Severens served for 17 years as the curator of the Greenville County Museum of Art. This event is free and open to the public, and all are welcome to join us before the talk for a reception with Severens! "Scenic Impressions" will be on display in the upper gallery of the Richardson Family Art Museum until December 20. On loan from the Johnson Collection, this exhibition features paintings created between 1880 and 1940, by artists native to the American South and by visitors and seasonal residents who were inspired by the Southern landscape. Their paintings reveal the influence of popular artistic trends in late 19th and early 20th century Europe, particularly the styles of Tonalism and Impressionism emerging from the Barbizon and Giverny regions in France. The collective result is an exhibition that frames the South as a pastoral utopia, a peaceful retreat from the rush and clamor of the industrialized world.

Faculty/Staff:

Please note that our first home game of the 2018 Men’s Basketball season will be on Tuesday, Nov. 6, against the University of North Carolina Tar Heels. Due to the high demand for this game in the community, we are giving faculty and staff the opportunity to purchase a ticket to the UNC game early before individual tickets go on sale to the general public. By way of a random lottery process there will be a limited number of tickets available for purchase (max of 2 per faculty/staff member) at a reduced price of $40 per ticket.

In order to get your name in the random lottery, you must fill out the online form at https://advance.wofford.edu/register/UNC2018TicketLottery by 3 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 26, with your name, Wofford ID number and the number of tickets that you want. We then will reach back out to you confirming your place in line and availability to purchase a ticket.

Timely Warning

Timely Warnings are issued in an effort to make the Wofford College community aware of situations that present a potential threat to the safety and well-being of our community members and in compliance with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security and Campus Crime statistics Act of 1990.

Wofford College takes all reports seriously, and we encourage victims to report.

Reported Offense:

The college has received a report that several female students may have been intentionally drugged by a student during an event in the Greek Village. The college is taking steps to investigate this matter according to college policies. If you have any information related to these reports, please call Campus Safety at 864-597-4911. Individuals also may share information anonymously with Campus Safety via the online Silent Witness Form.

Community Safety Tips

As a community, we are responsible for taking care of each other. Please be aware of your surroundings. If you notice someone being victimized or become aware of a situation that you think has the potential to impact someone’s safety and well-being, safely intervene or contact Campus Safety at 864-597-4911 immediately. Review the “It’s On Us” Bystander Intervention Tips to learn how you can be an active bystander.

Individual Safety Tips

1. Pour your own drinks. Don’t share drinks with others or set your drink down. If you think that someone may have put something in your drink, contact Campus Safety or obtain medical attention immediately. Common drugs and their effects can be found here.
2. Remember that common container drinks may contain unknown ingredients.
3. Trust your instincts. If you feel unsafe, take actions that you feel are necessary to leave the situation.
4. Make a plan with your friends to keep an eye out for each other before you go out, and review the “It’s On Us” Bystander Intervention Tips to learn how to safely intervene if a friend should need help.

On-Campus Assistance

Campus Safety is available 24/7 and can be reached at 864-597-4911. On-campus confidential services are available through the Wellness Center; you can make an appointment online or call (864) 597-4370.
Community Assistance

Emergency medical services can be obtained off campus at Spartanburg Regional Medical Center or Mary Black Health System.

Randy Hall
Director of Campus Safety
Timely Warning:
Timely Warnings are issued in an effort to make the Wofford College community aware of situations that present a potential threat to the safety and well-being of our community members and in compliance with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security and Campus Crime statistics Act of 1990.

Reported Crime: Vehicle Theft
A student reported the theft of his vehicle late this afternoon from the Shipp Residence Hall parking lot. The vehicle was stolen between 6 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 20, and 8 a.m. Friday, Sept. 21. The student reported that he lost his keys (with a key fob) for his 2017 Jeep Grand Cherokee several days ago on campus. The keys and fob are apparently how the vehicle was stolen.

Safety Tips
Here are some actions vehicle owners can take to minimize the possibility of break-ins or thefts:
- Always lock your vehicle, even when you plan to return in a short period of time.
- Never leave the keys or a spare key in the vehicle. Keep a spare in your room.
- Never leave your car running or the keys in the ignition when you’re away from it, even for briefly.
- Always close windows and lock the car, even if it’s in front of your residence hall or home.
- Never leave valuables in plain view, even if your car is locked. Put them in the trunk or out of sight.
- Remove portable electronic devices such as smart phones and GPS navigation systems, including suction cup or bean bag type mounts. Even the visible appearance of a suction cup ring on the glass windshield can be an enticement to a thief to break in and look for the GPS system.
- Park in busy, well-lighted areas if possible.
- Carry the registration and insurance card with you. Do not leave personal identification documents or credit cards in your vehicle.
- When you pay to park in a lot or garage, leave only the ignition or valet key with the attendant. Make sure no personal information is attached. Do the same when you take your car for repairs.

On-Campus Assistance
If you observe a crime or suspicious activities or persons on campus, immediately contact Campus Safety at 864-597-4911. Also, remember to call Campus Safety for a safety escort to your destination if you find yourself alone in a remote parking lot or other area of campus at night.

Dear Wofford College Community,

Wofford faculty and staff are devoted to creating a welcoming and inclusive college community where everyone can pursue their academic and professional ambitions. Wofford recognizes that diversity and an environment free from harassment and discrimination are vital components of a high quality education and a strong community. It is our commitment to provide students, faculty and staff with the opportunity to appreciate and engage differences through the practice of civil discourse that can only occur when individuals are willing to share their experiences and beliefs and embrace the same from others.

Wofford does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, sex, age, national origin, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation or any legally protected status (Wofford Board of Trustees, adopted October 2012). We will respect the well-being and human dignity of our community members and will protect those who voice concerns about the conduct of any administrator, faculty member, staff member, vendor or student. The college will continue to promote ongoing programs, pedagogies and events throughout the coming year to keep the campus community aware of issues related to and engaged in conversations about discrimination and harassment, diversity and inclusion, bystander intervention and efforts we can make as a community to create a more positive environment for all of our members.

We recognize that, despite the efforts of our community members, incidents occur that need to be addressed. The college encourages individuals who experience or witness discrimination or harassment to make a report to the college. The college has two policies that address discrimination and harassment for our entire community: the Discrimination and Harassment Policy and the Sexual and Gender-based Misconduct Policy. The policies explain the college’s response processes, reporting options, relevant definitions and available resources. The policies are implemented by trained staff and faculty. Demario Watts, assistant dean of students for diversity and leadership development, serves as the chair of the Bias Incident Response Committee and oversees the Discrimination and Harassment Policy, and Amanda Estabrook, Title IX coordinator, oversees the Sexual and Gender-Based Misconduct Policy. Please reach out to Dean Watts and Ms. Estabrook to become involved in efforts across campus to prevent and address discrimination and harassment.

I appreciate your ongoing support and commitment as we work together to nurture a safe and positive environment for all of our community members.

Sincerely,
Nayef Samhat

We want your Pet Photos
Details: Wofford's Annual Blessing of the Animals is coming up next week on Oct. 3. We know that most of your pets are at home, so Chaplain Robinson will bless them through pictures. Email us a picture to woffordblessings@gmail.com TODAY. Be sure to include the name of your pet. We will post the photos and call them by name during the blessing in a couple of weeks. Faculty and staff are invited to submit photos, too. Rev. Ron has blessed dogs, cats, fish, horses, hermit crabs, snakes, lizards, rats, gerbils, pigs, hedgehogs and more, so send their photos in and stay tuned for more information about the Blessing of the Animals!

Timely Warning:
Timely Warnings are issued in an effort to make the Wofford College community aware of situations that present a potential threat to the safety and well-being of our community members and in compliance with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security and Campus Crime statistics Act of 1990.

Reported Crime: Burglaries in Residence Hall
The Department of Campus Safety received a burglary complaint from a student in Marsh Hall that occurred in a residence hall room during the morning of March 24, 2018. During the investigation into the incident, Campus Safety officers learned of three other previously unreported incidents of burglary of residence hall rooms occurring at about the same time or shortly before the March 24 incident. In each case, entry into the rooms appeared to have been gained through unlocked doors.

Safety Tips
The Department of Campus Safety reminds students of these safety measures:
- Lock residence hall doors, whether the room is occupied or not.
- Never prop open exterior entrance doors to residence halls.
- Always report crimes as soon as they are discovered to the Department of Campus Safety.
- Call campus safety (864-597-4911) to report suspicious or unusual activity or persons in the areas in or around residence halls or other campus locations.

On-Campus Assistance
If you observe a crime or suspicious activities or persons on campus, immediately contact the Department of Campus Safety at 864-597-4911. Also, remember to call campus safety for a safety escort to your destination if you find yourself alone in a remote parking lot or other area of campus at night. This service is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week.
THIS IS A CORRECTED TIMELY WARNING.

NOTE THAT THE INCIDENT IN MARSH HALL OCCURRED ON SEPT. 24, NOT MARCH 24. WE APOLOGIZE FOR THE CONFUSION.

Guest Lecture: Dr. Stephen Bright
Date/Time: 10/9/2018 7:00:00 PM
Location: Leonard Auditorium, Main Building
Cost:
Details: Dr. Stephen Bright, professor of practice at Georgia State College and former president, senior counsel and director of the Southern Center for Human Rights, will speak at Wofford at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 9, in Leonard Auditorium in Main Building on "The Triumph of Law Over Fairness: How Race, Poverty and Procedural Rules Determine Outcomes in Death Penalty and Other Criminal Cases." Bright was with the Southern Center for Human Rights in Atlanta from 1982 until 2016. He began teaching at Georgia State College in 2017. As an attorney, he has tried capital cases before juries in Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi; argued four capital cases before the Supreme Court; and argued many other cases before state and federal appellate courts. Subjects of his litigation, teaching and writing include capital punishment, legal representation for poor people accused of crimes, conditions and practices in prisons and jails, racial discrimination in the criminal justice system, and judicial independence. He received the American Bar Association's Thurgood Marshall Award in 1998. The Fulton Daily Law Report, a legal newspaper in Georgia, named him "Newsmaker of the Year" in 2003 for his contribution to bringing about creation of a public defender system in Georgia. Before joining the Southern Center, he was a legal services attorney in Appalachia, and a public defender and director of a law school clinical program in Washington, D.C.

Wofford College Community,

Wofford will participate in an active shooter response exercise on Wednesday, Oct. 3. This exercise will involve all Wofford faculty, staff and students as well as Campus Safety officers and local law enforcement.

The purpose of the exercise is to help the campus community be prepared for the unlikely event of an armed intruder on campus.

We are not providing the specific time; the exercise should last 15 to 45 minutes.

You will receive alerts via email and text via the Rave Mobile Safety system; the outdoor siren also will sound. Please make sure your Rave account has been updated with your cell number. (Contact Laura Corbin at corbinlh@wofford.edu for assistance.)

NOTE: YOU MAY HEAR GUNFIRE (SIMULATED) during the exercise. THIS WILL ONLY BE SIMULATED; no actual ammunition will be used.

IF YOU HEAR gunfire OR SEE the “active shooter” (who will be an actor and will be readily identifiable):

1. EVACUATE, if it is safe to do so, or SHELTER IN PLACE.
2. CALL Campus Safety at 597-4911 immediately. Be prepared to describe where you are and what you heard and/or saw.

Other actions to take during the exercise:

- If the intruder is in your building, but not in your immediate vicinity, evacuate, if you can do so safely.
- Those in buildings NOT involved in the incident should shelter in place in LOCKED classrooms, residence hall rooms, restrooms or offices; remain there until advised or directed by police or Rave Mobile Safety alert message.
- In classrooms, lock doors and turn off lights; be quiet and silence cell phones.
- Simulate stacking furniture in front of the door, even if it is locked.
- Hide along walls so you cannot be seen from the window in the door; do not stand/sit directly behind classroom doors.
- Make a plan to attack the intruder if he/she enters your room. Create a team of volunteers and assign different areas of the body to attack.
- If a weapon is dropped or surrendered, kick it under a desk or trash can so that responders do not confuse you with the intruder.

When the exercise is completed, you will receive an “all-clear” message.

Thank you for participating in this important exercise.
Randy Hall
Director of Campus Safety
