Wofford faculty and staff:

Please join me in congratulating Bill Littlefield on his promotion to director of facilities.

Bill starting working at Wofford in 2001 as the grounds supervisor and most recently has served as assistant director of physical plant. Bill will continue helping to manage numerous campus improvements while overseeing all our facilities supervisors. When you see Bill running from one project to the next, please slow him down and join me in congratulating him!

Dear Wofford Family,

After a month of experiential learning and international travel, Wofford students begin spring semester classes today. During January they completed internships and research projects in fields ranging from medicine and law to business and education. Students who participated in travel-study projects are safely back from destinations such as Morocco, Japan, Thailand, Chile, Costa Rica, Greece, Italy, Germany, England, New York, Los Angeles and Washington, D.C. Students on campus studied architecture, debate, classical music, East Asian cultures, entrepreneurial thinking, furniture design-build, creative writing, the cultural history of horror film, archaeology and video game design, among 60 classes taught by a faculty committed to extending the walls of the traditional classroom.

Interim also brought the announcement of a new residence hall thanks to the generosity of Jerry Richardson '59. When the college's Board of Trustees meets in February, college leadership will continue to build on the planning, energy and momentum of the Strategic Vision to advance a new five-year plan. Wofford is fiscally sound and has enjoyed record applications and enrollment while many colleges and universities have struggled. For example, over the past five years, completed applications have increased at Wofford by almost 53 percent, and 2019 applications already have surpassed applications for 2018, with several months left in the admission cycle. This is no accident. Wofford's success has been the result of a forward-thinking vision that was the result of a broad, community-driven process, a campus committed to diversity and inclusion, and a generous base of support from alumni, parents, friends of the college, faculty and staff — even some current students. Please look for another report after the Board of Trustees meeting in late February. The Spring 2019 Wofford Today also will share next steps toward the realization of the college's Strategic Vision.

The spring semester promises to be exciting. Men's basketball is having a tremendous season, and women's basketball had its best start in program history. Our spring sports are just beginning their seasons, and the calendar is filling up with student-led Black History Month, Women's History Month, arts, academic and social programming. I'm especially excited about our slate of spring speakers, including Edmund Morris (considered the nation's foremost expert on President Theodore Roosevelt), Jon Meacham (presidential biographer and former Random House editor), Alberto Gonzales (former U.S. attorney general) and Major Garrett (a chief White House correspondent), here as part of the Hipp Lecture Series on International Affairs and Foreign Policy, and Janisse Ray (writer, naturalist and environmental activist), who will deliver the Tyson Family Lecture on the Preservation and Restoration of Southern Ecosystems.

As always, I thank you for helping Wofford students succeed in all ways — in the classroom and community, in leadership development and NCAA Division I competition, in career engagement and social responsibility. With your support, creating a living and learning environment that offers Wofford students opportunities to find their paths as citizens, leaders and scholars is what Wofford does best.

Subject: MESSAGE TO FACULTY AND STAFF: New website launching Wednesday
Date: February 19, 2019 at 5:19 PM
To: Wofford Staff and Faculty WoffordStaff@Wofford.Edu

Wofford faculty and staff:

We are very excited to announce the launching of the new Wofford.edu website tomorrow afternoon, Wednesday, Feb. 20!

The site features a clean, fresh design aesthetic as well as the message: “where thought leads.” We believe Wofford is a place where this happens both in and outside the classroom, and in doing so our graduates leave here as thought leaders ready for what’s next. In addition, the site gives a fresh, new presence for Wofford to the public, and specifically to our primary target audiences – prospective students and their parents. The site is fully responsive, so it will scale appropriately from mobile to tablet to desktop, and we are hopeful the new search functionality will enhance the site’s usability to our visitors.

We know that with the launching of a new website, there inevitably will be minor bugs and issues that must be addressed in the first few days or so after the launch. We ask for your patience as we address these issues, and we ask that you make us aware of any that you see or any questions you have by emailing us at WoffordNewsDirector@wofford.edu.

We will address issues or questions as efficiently and quickly we can.

We’re excited for you – and the world – to see our new site.

Thank you for your help!

Join Wofford's Chemists celebrate the International Year of the Periodic Table.

Date/Time: 2/26/2019 6:30:00 PM

Location: RMSC122

Cost: free

Details: Join Wofford Chemists as we participate in an American Chemical Society program celebrating the International Year of the Periodic Table. One-hundred and fifty years ago, Dmitri Mendeleev first presented his periodic system to the Russian Chemical Society, forever shaping the way we look at the elements. His system, which organized the elements based on atomic weight, valence, and measurable properties, laid the foundation for today's Periodic Table. In honor of this, The United Nations has declared 2019 to be the International Year of the Periodic Table. All are welcome! Refreshments served at 6:30.

To: Wofford Campus Community

This year's Commencement Exercises and Baccalaureate Service will be held on the front lawn of Main Building, weather permitting. The Baccalaureate Service will be held at 5 p.m. Saturday, May 18, and the Commencement Exercises will held at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, May 19.

The rain location for both events will be the Jerry Richardson Indoor Stadium. A decision will be made no later than the Thursday before Commencement weekend (May 16) regarding the rain location. In the event that rain is expected for the weekend, the events will be held indoors. (We all know, nature is unpredictable; however, once a decision is made to move the events, it will be difficult to change course at that late date.)

Additional information regarding Commencement Exercises will be emailed separately to graduating seniors in the near future.

For more details about Commencement, please go to www.wofford.edu/academics/registrar.

SCATE Night (Students Creating Art Through Expression)

Date/Time: 2/28/2019 7:00:00 PM

Location: Campus Life Lobby

Cost: Free

Details: So do you think you can dance? Sing? Or act? Do you write poetry and looking for an opportunity to share with others? AMS is sponsoring a SCATE night, which will be the form of an open-mic for all students, faculty, and staff. Join us and share your talents with other Terriers! There will be prizes for the runner ups and a grand prize given to our winner. Food and drinks will be provided! You do not want to miss out on this opportunity. Anyone interested in participating, please email Bryson Coleman (colemanbp@email.wofford.edu) or Naya Taylor (taylorns@email.wofford.edu) to register as a participant.

An Essay Film by Dr. Katrin Pesch

Date/Time: 2/28/2019 7:30:00 PM

Location: Olin Theater

Cost: Free

Details: Based on six years of documentary fieldwork, the essay film "Finding Things I Don't Want To Find" traces material and spectral encounters around a small historic house museum of Native American and settler history located in Southern California. An obscure national historic landmark, the Bancroft Ranch House Museum is also a social hub where a medley of things ranging from artifacts to discarded goods are exchanged. Now add to this scenario two voracious collectors able to find history in the "most worthless trash."
