SPARTANBURG, SC –Former Wofford College student-athletes Nathan Fuqua '03, Mike Lenzly '03 and Travis Wilson '03 have been selected by the Hall of Fame Committee of the Wofford College Terrier Club Board of Directors as the 2008 inductees into the school's Athletic Hall of Fame.

In addition, the Hall of Fame will honor Grover Eaker '34 as the Distinguished Service Award winner and Bill Drake as an Honorary Letterman.

The Hall of Fame recognizes "those former athletes and coaches who, by outstanding athletic achievements and service, have made lasting and significant contributions to the cause of sports at Wofford College, the Spartanburg community, South Carolina and the nation."

Fuqua and Wilson were football standouts while Lenzly excelled in men's basketball. Fuqua was a four-time All-Southern Conference honoree and earned All-America honors. Wilson holds school records for most total offensive yards in a season and is the only player in school history with more than 4,000 rushing and 2,000 passing yards. FANFEST: Get geared up for the upcoming season at the "Terrier FanFest" August 21

The Wofford Athletic Department will host the second annual "Terrier FanFest" on Thursday, August 21. This free, open to the public, event will take place in the Verandah Lot adjacent to Gibbs Stadium beginning at 6:00 p.m.

Fans will have an opportunity to get a firsthand look at the Terrier football and men's soccer teams as they take to the practice fields in preparation for their respective season openers. The Wofford volleyball team will also be practicing inside the Benjamin Johnson Arena during the two-hour event.

In addition, everyone will be welcome inside the Richardson Physical Activities Building to take tours of the completely renovated facility. Inside the Verandah Room at 6:15 p.m. the marketing and promotions staff will officially unveil a new marketing campaign for the athletic department as well.

Light "tailgate" refreshments will be available for fans free of charge compliments of Aramark, Jimmy John's and Coca-Cola. Attendees may also take home schedule cards, posters, pom poms and football schedule magnets for fans to gear up for the fall sports season - all free of charge.

Tickets will be on-sale for the football home opener against Presbyterian and season ticket packages will be on-sale for football and volleyball. Fans will also have a chance to register to win a pair of tickets to a future football game along with other prize packages.

On the Verandah end zone hill overlooking Gibbs Stadium, kids will enjoy the Terrier Tumbler moonbounce, "the world's largest doghouse," and the football skills challenge, both found every home football Saturday in "TerrierLand" outside the stadium on Cummings Street. The Southern Conference will also have a display where fans can pick up various premium items and register to win special SoCon prize packages.

"We are very excited about the upcoming year and this will be a good opportunity for fans to come and enjoy a free night of family fun, check out the improvements to the Richardson Building and learn more about our plans to accelerate our marketing in the community," said assistant athletic director for marketing and promotions Lenny Mathis.

Last year, the Terrier FanFest was held on the lawn in front of the

MEMORY LANE: South Carolina State Museum opens college football exhibit today

The South Carolina State Museum in Columbia opens a special exhibit on the history of college football in South Carolina today. The exhibit entitled "Mud, Sweat and Cheers: Football In The Palmetto State, 1889-2000" looks beyond the coaches and teams to the fans, bands, cheerleaders and boosters who are all part of the game of football.

The exhibit will make for a perfect side-stop during Terrier fans trip to Columbia for the September 20 football contest at South Carolina. The exhibit includes both high school and college football as well as South Carolina players who have gone on to the professional game. Wofford archivist Phillip Stone helped to give the exhibit a Wofford flair by loaning several items from the College including a framed victory pennant from the 1916 Wofford-Furman football game and film clips from the 1950 Cigar Bowl against Florida State.

The exhibit continues in the 401 Gallery through February 8, 2009 and you can learn more by clicking this link:

MARKETING: IMG College begins relationship with Wofford

In July, Wofford athletics entered into an agreement with IMG College to handle all the athletic department's media rights. Now, all radio, TV, signage, print media and promotional sponsorship opportunities are handled by IMG College (formerly Host Communications). David Nunnery will serve as the General Manager of Wofford Sports Properties and Adam Smith and Mike Rice will be working closely with all of Wofford's marketing partners and look to cultivate new partnerships in the community.

Most Wofford partners and the general public will not notice a change as Wofford Sports Marketing (Lenny Mathis and Lisa Cherry) will continue their roles in being active in the community and implementing many various promotions at all Wofford athletic events. The change allows for increased visibility in the community and new targeted ticket sales initiative to be put into place.

Wofford fall sports report to campus
August 8, 2008

SPARTANBURG, S.C. -- The Wofford men's and women's soccer teams, along with volleyball, are set to return to campus beginning Friday and continuing through Tuesday in preparation for their respective 2008 campaigns.

The women's soccer squad, under the guidance of 10th-year head coach Amy Kiah, was the first team to report. Kiah's Terrier team began preseason practices Friday afternoon at Snyder Field. Wofford returns six starters from a year ago. The Terriers will begin their season Aug. 22 at North Carolina State in Raleigh, N.C.

First-year head coach Ralph Polson will guide the Wofford men's soccer team this fall. A former assistant at fellow Southern Conference foe College of Charleston, Polson is charged with leading the Terriers who return nine starters. Wofford will open its slate August 29 at Presbyterian before the home opener two days later against ETSU.

Corey Helle returns to the Terrier volleyball sidelines for his seventh season. Wofford will welcome all six starters plus libero back to the fold this fall. The Terriers hit the court for preseason practice early next week before opening the season Aug. 29 versus South Dakota in Hampton, Va., as part of the Tiny Laster Memorial Tournament.

MEMORY LANE: South Carolina State Museum opens college football exhibit today

The South Carolina State Museum in Columbia opens a special exhibit on the history of college football in South Carolina today. The exhibit entitled "Mud, Sweat and Cheers: Football In The Palmetto State, 1889-2000" looks beyond the coaches and teams to the fans, bands, cheerleaders and boosters who are all part of the game of football.

The exhibit will make for a perfect side-stop during Terrier fans trip to Columbia for the September 20 football contest at South Carolina. The exhibit includes both high school and college football as well as South Carolina players who have gone on to the professional game. Wofford archivist Phillip Stone helped to give the exhibit a Wofford flair by loaning several items from the College including a framed victory pennant from the 1916 Wofford-Furman football game and film clips from the 1950 Cigar Bowl against Florida State.

The exhibit continues in the 401 Gallery through February 8, 2009 and you can learn more by clicking this link:

Wofford to host five Terriers Go Pink Days during 2008-09 August 27, 2008

SPARTANBURG, S.C. – Wofford athletics will continue its support for breast cancer research by holding five “Terriers Go Pink” Days throughout the 2008-09 academic year. The five events will cover each of the women’s sports which have home events: soccer, volleyball, basketball and tennis. The fifth date will involve the Terrier men’s soccer team.

The Wofford men’s soccer team opened its 2008 campaign with an exhibition match at No. 1 and defending National Champion Wake Forest last Tuesday, Aug. 19. As part of the game, the Terriers donned white jerseys with pink numbers to honor Gena Wiley, the late wife of former Wake Forest men’s soccer trainer Steve Wiley. The jerseys also featured a pink ribbon on the sleeve.

“Thanks to the generous support of Nike, we were able to create a set of uniforms that allowed us to also honor Gena Wiley and support the Susan G. Komen for the Cure Foundation,” said Wofford head coach Ralph Polson. Lloyd’s Soccer of Mt. Pleasant, S.C., did the numbering and embroidery work.

As a way to generate support and donations for the Komen Foundation, the Wofford athletic department will utilize a three-day, four-game home weekend in October. The first event will feature the Terrier women’s soccer team in action against UNC Greensboro Friday, Oct. 17.

On Saturday, Oct. 18, the Wofford football team takes the field against Western Carolina and the men’s soccer team will battle Furman later that day.

The weekend will conclude with the Terrier volleyball squad taking on Appalachian State Sunday, Oct. 19.

The men’s soccer team will wear the pink-themed uniforms again during the Furman match and then turn them over to the fans as part of an auction to raise additional funds for the Komen Foundation. The details of the auction are still being finalized, but other merchandise such as hats will also be available.

Wofford athletics is partnering with the Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority, which adopted the Susan G. Komen for the Cure Foundation as its national philanthropy in 1992.

Future “Terriers Go Pink” Days are planned throughout the academic year to highlight all home women’s events, including women’s basketball and tennis in the spring.

The women's soccer team is off to a positive start, dropping a 1-0 decision at N. C. State and fighting High Point to a 1-1 draw. Following a weekend tournament in Greenville, the team opens at home September 5 against South Carolina State. Admission for all soccer matches is free!

Corey Helle's Terrier volleyball team heads to Hampton, Va. for a tournament this weekend and will play their first home match on September 3 against Southern Wesleyan inside the Benjamin Johnson Arena (6:00 p.m.). The team will not have another home match until September 26 however.

THE FIRST DOWN: Athletics and Campus Ministry team up to create special program for youth

In a partnership between Wofford Sports Marketing and Wofford Campus Ministry, Terrier alumni, fans and area business leaders now have an opportunity to give those less fortunate the chance to enjoy a college football atmosphere.

"The First Down" is a program whereby individuals or corporations can send a group of 10 or more to see a Wofford College football game. For a minimum $100 donation, nine children and one chaperone will be given general admission tickets and a Wofford t-shirt to one of three selected games. Those who wish to make a larger donation, may do so in increments of five ($150 = 15 person group, etc.).

- Aug. 30 - Football vs. PC
- Aug. 30 - VB at Hampton
- Aug. 31 - MSoccer vs. ETSU
- Aug. 31- WSoccer vs. Coastal Carolina

This is similar to a ticket donation program employed for last year's NCAA FCS playoff game against Richmond where nearly 500 area youth got to experience the excitement of college football.

In 2008, the program will be in place for three of Wofford's five home games: August 30 vs. Presbyterian, October 11 vs. Chattanooga and November 8 vs. The Citadel. The latter of these two contests will be televised as part of "SoCon Saturday on SportSouth."

"The First Down program gives many youngsters their first exposure to a college campus and encourages them as they move ahead in life. We hope that college will become a place these young people will want to visit again and again, and that their time at the game will inspire them to set their sights on attending college in the future," said Perkins-Prothro chaplain and professor of religion Ron Robinson.

To participate in The First Down program by making a $100 donation or more, call Wofford Campus Ministry at 864-597-4050.

If you are a member of an area non-profit organization working with children in the 8th grade and below and would like to learn more about how to take part in the program, contact the Campus Ministry office at the number above and ask for Kimberly Smith.

LET'S GO: Wofford Sports Marketing launches a new marketing campaign

The Wofford Athletic Department introduced a new interactive marketing campaign designed to further enhance the visibility of its 18 varsity sports programs on August 21, 2008.

"The goal of the "Let's Go." campaign is to remind our on-campus community, Wofford alumni as well as the Spartanburg area just what makes Wofford a special place – the people," said Mathis. "That is why we highlighted not only our student-athletes and coaches in the campaign, but fans, alumni and youth because we are in this together. Quite simply, it's our constant reminder – Let's Go support the Terriers."

"The statement, "Let's Go." can mean something different for each individual. If you are a fan, student or alum, "Let's Go." is the time to head for the arena, the stadium or field and cheer on the Terriers. For our coaches and student-athletes, it's more about getting focused and ready for competition."

The "Let's Go." campaign has opened additional avenues for marketing the department as well. A complete list of all the places you can find this "new look" is listed below.

"We are very excited to bring this fresh new look to the Wofford community. A special thank you to Chris Brantly and Derek Wetter at Creative Edge, along with Lisa Cherry in our office for their work in bringing our concept to life," concluded Mathis.
