Forms for the Registrar's Office

Details: The Course Withdrawal Form is now completely electronic. You will find it on myWofford under Student and Registrar's Spotlight. Prior to completing the form to withdraw from a course you should speak with your advisor, instructor, and perhaps even the Financial Aid Office about how withdrawing from a course will affect your degree progress and scholarship eligibility. The form is only available during the course withdrawal period, Monday, Sept. 7 through Friday, Oct. 30, at 5 p.m. All other forms (major/minor declaration, Coursework Elsewhere, Catalog Update Request) will need to be printed, completed, and submitted by dropping them in the RED BOX located just outside the Registrar's Office. For students not currently on campus, the form can be submitted by email to registrar@wofford.edu. Simply scan or take a picture of the completed form and email it to us.

Contact: Registrar

New Course Withdrawal Policy

Details: The Course Withdrawal Policy has been updated. ALL grades awarded for withdrawing from a course during the designated course withdrawal period will be posted to the transcript as a grade of ‘W’. Just as in the case of the previous grade of ‘WP’ the grade of ‘W’ will NOT affect the GPA. The complete policy can be read in the catalog http://catalog.wofford.edu/academics/registration-enrollment/. The course withdrawal period for Fall 2020 is Monday, Sept. 7 through Friday, Oct. 30, at 5 p.m. The new electronic Course Withdrawal Form is available on myWofford, under Student, and Registrar’s Spotlight. Wofford Faculty/Staff and Students,

This morning between approximately 9 - 10:30 a.m., the campus experienced some slowness with Internet service. This affected many people on campus: both wired and Wi-Fi. For the moment, the problem appears to be resolved. ITS staff will continue to monitor and work to determine the cause of the interruption. We apologize for any inconvenience and will let you know when we have more information about what caused the slow Internet speeds.

If you have any questions, email the IT Help Center at help@wofford.edu or give us a call at 864-597-4347.

Thank You,

Kashalett Foster

Dear Wofford community,

Last Sunday Prema and I joined the Rev. Dr. Ron Robinson ’78, Perkins-Prothro Chaplain an Professor of Religion, and the Class of 2024 for the first tolling of the college bell for our new Terriers. It was a physically distanced, walk-by event complete with masks and elbow bumps, it was still the continuation of an important tradition linking Terriers past, present and future.

Shaped by the pandemic, move-in and orientation looked different this year. Our opening session for faculty and staff was held via Zoom. Our athletics teams are not competing this fall. The first day of classes held more anxiety than anticipation. Still, we are back together on campus, and it is clear that we must all work together to remain together until Thanksgiving.

All of us are returning to a campus transformed by new buildings and renovations. The Jerome Johnson Richardson Hall opened for first year students with built-in facilities for baseball, golf and a future softball team, as well as classroom, study and seminar spaces. The Chandler Center for Environmental Studies is complete and is the only Three Green Globe building on South Carolina college and university campus. The first phase of the Mungo Student Center (formerly the Campus Life Building) is finished and will be fully complete next summer. And the Sandor Teszler Library renovation has created an academic commons for the 21st century. Finally, we began the renovation and transformation of Burwell Dining Hall, which will be complete in November 2021. There is no hiding the fact that there will be some inconvenience but our friends from AVI have worked to provide excellent food service in the meantime as we look forward to an expanded dining facility on campus.

We also experienced a very different summer. Issues of race and social justice dominated our consciousness and conversations. The college's response called for civil dialogue and engagement with these profound challenges in our communities and nation; it called for our own self-examination in order to nurture a more inclusive, diverse and equitable institution for a rapidly changing world.

With the support of the Board of Trustees, the college coalesced around a set of immediate actions and the launch of a new strategic visioning process to examine race, diversity, equity and inclusion. The steering group leading the college’s comprehensive and inclusive response chaired by Dr. Ramon Galíñanes and Dr. Christine Dinkins, will report to the board at the conclusion of their work.

It is my wish that everyone will take advantage of opportunities to participate — students, faculty, staff and coaches, alumni, trustees and friends in the community. Like other colleges and universities, Wofford has a complex history — from its reliance on enslaved people to build Main Building to the students during the 1960s and 1970s who marched in the Civil Rights Movement and drove their neighbors without access to transportation to the polls so they could exercise right to vote. Wofford College has always been proud to have been one of the first private colleges in the deep South and the first independent college in the state to desegregate when Gray applied for admission and enrolled as the college’s first Black student in the fall of 1964. While the college and individual alumni have done much over the years to prepare students for a complex global society, we can do more, and we must. We are not perfect, but it is in the fabric of this institution that through our educational mission we shall strive for our collective ideal, to defeat racism, bigotry and hatred, and ensure justice and equality for all.

The Wofford liberal arts educational experience must guide us in our commitment to our community. This commitment gives us purpose, strength and a resolve to protect and support each other.

As we begin the academic year, let us focus on the total well-being of our community. Wear masks, maintain physical distance and stay home if you are not well. Make good choices and exercise civility and respect for each other in dialogue and in all we do.

Things will get better, and Prema and I look forward to gathering in person with Wofford students, staff, faculty, alumni and friends. We are ready to watch the Terriers compete on our courts and fields of play and perform on our stages and in our studios. It has been a quiet campus for far too long. Now that we are together, let’s do what it takes to stay Wofford Together!

Welcome back, Terriers! Let’s have a productive, safe and healthy year!

Introduction to Truth, Racial Healing, & Transformation (TRHT) in Spartanburg and at Wofford
Details: Wofford joined the national Truth, Racial Healing, & Transformation (TRHT) movement in late 2019. Dr. Gail Christopher, whose life’s work has been developing the TRHT framework and movement, was the keynote speaker at the City of Spartanburg’s annual Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Day celebration in 2020. While she was in town, Dr. Christopher met with community partners, and Wofford and other Spartanburg higher education professionals. Then, the pandemic hit, George Floyd was murdered, and our nation was plunged into an economic crisis; all of which underscored how much more work we have to do. So, we all started re-imagining the work of TRHT for a new era. Join us on Zoom to learn about TRHT in Spartanburg and at Wofford, including how you can get involved. Upcoming Events

Introduction to Truth, Racial Healing, & Transformation (TRHT) in Spartanburg and at Wofford
Date/Time: 2020-09-09 02:30 PM
Location: Zoom
Cost: Free
Details: Wofford joined the national Truth, Racial Healing, & Transformation (TRHT) movement in late 2019. Dr. Gail Christopher, whose life's work has been developing the TRHT framework and movement, was the keynote speaker at the City of Spartanburg's annual Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Day celebration in 2020. While she was in town, Dr. Christopher met with community partners, and Wofford and other Spartanburg higher education professionals. Then, the pandemic hit, George Floyd was murdered, and our nation was plunged into an economic crisis; all of which underscored how much more work we have to do. So, we all started re-imagining the work of TRHT for a new era. Join us on Zoom to learn about TRHT in Spartanburg and at Wofford, including how you can get involved. Forms for the Registrar's Office Details: The Course Withdrawal Form is now completely electronic. You will find it on myWofford under Student and Registrar's Spotlight. Prior to completing the form to withdraw from a course you should speak with your advisor, instructor, and perhaps even the Financial Aid Office about how withdrawing from a course will affect your degree progress and scholarship eligibility. The form is only available during the course withdrawal period, Monday, Sept. 7 through Friday, Oct. 30, at 5 p.m. All other forms (major/minor declaration, Coursework Elsewhere, Catalog Update Request), will need to printed, completed, and submitted by dropping them in the RED BOX located just outside the Registrar's Office. For students not currently on campus, the form can be submitted by email to registrar@wofford.edu. Simply scan or take a picture of the completed form and email it to us.
Contact: Registrar

New Course Withdrawal Policy
Details: The Course Withdrawal Policy has been updated. ALL grades awarded for withdrawing from a course during the designated course withdrawal period will be posted to the transcript as a grade of 'W'. Just as in the case of the previous grade of 'WP' the grade of 'W' will NOT affect the GPA. The complete policy can be read in the catalog (http://catalog.wofford.edu/academics/registration-enrollment/). The course withdrawal period for Fall 2020 is Monday, Sept. 7 through Friday, Oct. 30, at 5 p.m.

RE: Changes to the academic calendar

Thank you for a great start to a most unusual semester. We all have been required to adapt to a new normal over the past six months, and as the pandemic continues, we continue to consider adaptations that will protect the quality of the student experience as well as our community’s health and well-being.

To that end, college leaders have adopted a modified Interim and spring semester calendar for 2021. Allow me to emphasize that this is intended to be a one-time alteration of our academic calendar in response to the global COVID-19 pandemic, and we anticipate returning to our normal routine once the pandemic subsides.

Jan. 4: Spring semester classes begin.
April 5-9: Spring semester final exams.
April 12-16: Spring break.
April 19: Interim begins.
May 13: Last day of Interim classes.
May 16: Commencement for the Class of 2021.

This schedule gives the college the best opportunity for preserving the integrity of Interim, including a range of study/travel programs, internships, research experiences and community-based learning opportunities. Of course, off-campus experiences, even in April and May, may still be dependent upon the successful development and wide availability of a COVID-19 vaccine or other therapeutics, so our contingency planning will continue throughout the spring to ensure we are prepared for all eventualities.

Many people spent the summer considering options and planning for the best ways for our community to learn both together and apart during the fall semester. That same diligent work has continued as we look to the remainder of the academic year. Starting 2021 with the spring term allows the college to begin the new year in a familiar place, doing what we were doing and benefiting from the lessons learned. Delaying Interim until April also will give faculty and staff time to plan for an altered Interim experience should more students be on campus than usual during that term.

Please visit the academic calendar online for a complete spring semester and Interim schedule, including registration, add/drop, mid-term exam and grade reporting dates.

Keep up the good work this semester. We still have 10 weeks before Thanksgiving, but I’m encouraged by the commitment I see every day from students, faculty and staff. Thank you all for your many efforts to keep Wofford Together!

Power is out in the Roger Milliken Science Center, the Rosalind Sallenger Richardson Center for the Arts, the Burwell Building and a few other locations across campus. Duke Power is working to fix the issue. Thanks for your patience.
Hey everyone,

The power outage turned our stairwell ceiling lights off and we can’t figure out how to turn them back on. I’m about to submit a ticket for them, fyi.

Thanks,
Missy

Power is out in the Roger Milliken Science Center, the Rosalind Sallenger Richardson Center for the Arts, the Burwell Building and a few other locations across campus. Duke Power is working to fix the issue. Thanks for your patience.
Dear campus community,

I invite you to participate in a Symposium Series on Race and Justice. The first event — Voting: a right and a responsibility — will be held at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 22 (National Voter Registration Day) via Zoom. [Register here.]

The symposium series, sponsored by the Office of the President and the Tyson Family Lecture Series, includes three events that will consider, within the context of the liberal arts, historical and ongoing issues of race and justice in the world and at Wofford College. This collective experience will feature readings, scholarly discussion and opportunities for the greater Wofford community to reflect on race and justice.

The first event will feature speakers and scholars in discussions ranging from suffrage and the Voting Rights Act of 1965 to the restoration of voting rights and reengagement in political systems. Panelists during the event include:

- Dr. David Alvis, Wofford College associate professor of government and international affairs.
- Karen Mitchell, president of the League of Women Voters, Spartanburg.
- Student panelists from the Student-Athlete Advisory Council, College Democrats and College Republicans.

Voter resources
Encouraging civic participation is one of the goals of this event. If you have not registered to vote, consider doing so now. You may register to vote or request an absentee ballot; it only takes about five minutes. Visit turbovote.org to make it happen!
Other voter resources include: campusvoteproject.org, rockthevote.org, vote411.org and scvotes.gov.

Also visit Wofford.edu/woffordvotes to learn more.

I urge you to attend the symposium, register to vote and engage in the political process!

Nayef

Wofford community,

Today is National Voter Registration Day. Visit the Mungo Student Center and entrance to Burwell between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. to register to vote! There will be prize drawing and giveaways such as Wofford Votes stickers and stickers from other national organizations. The Wofford event is registered with NationalVoterRegistrationDay.org.

The 2020 General Election is coming up on November 3! Every year millions of Americans find themselves unable to vote because they miss a deadline or aren’t sure how to register.

In order to take advantage of the rights and opportunities we all share as Americans, we have gathered the following resources. Learn how to register, sign up for election reminders, request mail-in ballots, explore early voting options, and more. We’ve done the leg work for you! All you have to do is click the links below. Also visit Wofford.edu/WoffordVotes.

The Vote.gov website is an excellent resource for voter registration. This website allows you to select your home state and be redirected to your state’s election body. There, you will be able to either register to vote online or learn more about how to register using other means. Using this site is a free and easy way to register online, while also ensuring that you are directly registering with the relevant local election office for your state. Click here to register to vote!

Not sure if you’re registered to vote? You can check your status online here.

Making sure you’re registered to vote is only step one. Explore these additional resources to help you get ready to vote and have your voice heard.

Details: Meditation is known to have benefits for focus, productivity, sleep, and even interpersonal relationships. Guided meditation is simply ”meditation with the help of a guide”. It’s one of the easiest ways to enter into a state of deep relaxation and inner stillness, and it’s one of the most powerful ways to eliminate stress and bring about positive personal changes. It does not require interaction with others and is a personal experience. Each Thursday at 12:30 p.m., we will participate in a brief meditation focused on breathing, relaxation, and clearing the mind. Meditations last approximately ten minutes. All are welcome!

During a routine traffic stop by Spartanburg City Police, the driver of a vehicle fled onto the Wofford campus. The person was last seen on Charlevoix and E. Cleveland streets, behind Synder Field. He is wearing jeans, a light or green shirt and a ball cap. No other details are available. The canine unit is on the scene. Please remain vigilant and call Campus Safety at 864-597-4911 if you see suspicious activity or need assistance.
The individual who fled onto campus earlier is now in the custody of Spartanburg City Police.
Dear campus community,

It’s been almost three months since we announced the Vision for Wofford in the World. To help us realize that vision, we formed a steering committee to lead our community in consideration of the college’s past, present and future with emphasis on justice, equity, diversity and inclusion. Since that announcement, the JEDI steering committee has met several times, determined working groups and hired a senior consultant — Dr. Debora Johnson-Ross ’81, chief operating officer of Black Eagle Associates. She has extensive experience in education, administration, finance, social entrepreneurship, service learning and leadership development. We welcome her expertise and her knowledge of and commitment to Wofford!

The JEDI steering committee has focused their work around five areas:
- History, memory and place.
- Curriculum, teaching and advising.
- Student life.
- Enrollment, recruitment and marketing.
- Policies, procedures and JEDI structure.

The steering committee’s progress will be posted at Wofford.edu/strategicvision beginning in early October. Please visit the site, follow the group’s work — including the results of listening sessions, research and discussions — and to learn how you can participate.

While this group addresses long-term, strategic change, we continue to be committed to ongoing improvement. Below is a list of recent successes:

- The Back of the College Neighborhood memorial has been moved to a more visible location on Cumming Street.
- The Office of the President, with support from George Tyson ’72 and the Tyson Family Lecture Series, has launched a symposium on race and justice with shared readings.
- Although the college has done limited hiring during the 2020-21 fiscal year, several major hires have been completed and several are ongoing in adherence to the college’s Search Advocate guidelines.
- Three out of ten new, full-time faculty with multi-year contracts starting this fall are people of color.
- The President’s cabinet has unconscious-bias and NCBI training scheduled for early October. The offices of Admission and Financial Aid, Marketing and Communications, Campus Safety and Residence Life as well as FYI instructors and orientation staff have completed that training.
- Campus policies are being reevaluated with an eye for implicit bias.
- The Office of Diversity and Inclusion hosted an eight-part Antiracism virtual teach-in series with a total of 23 guest speakers and 892 attendees. ODI also launched the Antiracism 101 Challenge giving student organizations the opportunity to invest in becoming more equitable and powerful advocated for change at Wofford and beyond.
- ODI partnered with our counselors in the Wofford Wellness Center on a mental health event focused on Black men.
- NCBI training was incorporated into the FYI curriculum.
- An NPHC Expansion Working Group has been formed to increase the number of NPHC organizations on campus. The group is also charged with supporting and sustaining current NPHC organizations. A NPHC Convocation is scheduled for Oct. 8.
- The Office of Marketing and Communications initiated a student marketing team to help guide marketing to prospective students in ways that ensure that the message is authentic and focused on the college’s commitment to safety, inclusiveness and student success.
- The Office of Advancement has been working with the Office of the President and the Board of Trustees Governance Committee to identify diverse candidates for board service.
- The November 2020 meeting of the Alumni Association Board will feature a panel of alumni representing BIPOC cohorts to discuss their career paths and mentoring opportunities.
- The Office of Admission continues to work with the American Talent Initiative to increase the number of Pell Grant-eligible students to the Wofford community.
- In addition to scholarships for first-generation college students and for students who complete the Citizen Scholars Program, the Office of Admission has begun the GOLD (Growing Our Leadership in Diversity, Equity and Inclusion) Scholarship for students from under-represented populations. The awards are based on academic performance, contributions to community and the potential to impact Wofford. Marketing efforts for this scholarship are ongoing.
- The Office of Admissions has developed new strategies for the recruitment of underrepresented students. For example, Admission staff have changed the way Bellringers, student who assist Admission with recruitment events, are selected so more students of color apply. Selected students from underrepresented populations who are most likely to apply have been identified and will receive additional and more personalized correspondence from Admission.
- Dr. Begoña Caballero, dean of diversity and inclusion, is planning dialogues this fall with departments about curricular inclusion.
- Dr. John Miles, dean of institutional effectiveness and academic planning, has developed a new English course: “Rhetoric, Writing and Race.”
- Muhammad Velji (philosophy) is planning a spring 2021 course entitled “Philosophy of Race.”
- Teach.Equity.Now, a yearlong faculty seminar on creating inclusive classrooms, remains an ongoing commitment of Academic Affairs. These events are designed for groups of 20 or fewer, so Wofford plans to continue offering these so all faculty have an opportunity to participate.

The Howard Hughes Medical Institute Inclusive Excellence grant pre-proposal
- The Howard Hughes Medical Institute Inclusive Excellence grant pre-proposal has been submitted. The grant is focused on success for students of color in STEM fields.
- The Department of Biology has created an antiracism working group. They have revised advising guidelines and are developing an advising handbook with advice on working with diverse students. The department also participated in a summer webinar, “Developing Anti-Oppressive Communities: Supporting Black Students and Mentees.” The provost is convening all science department chairs to broaden the discussion about health careers advising.
- To address the need to hire additional faculty of color, anti-bias training and participation in the search advocate process is now mandatory for all faculty search committees. Positions are advertised in online job posting boards that appeal to candidates from diverse backgrounds. The first Keller Postdoctoral Fellow in Philosophy has joined the campus community; the fellowship encourages applications from candidates of color, women, non-binary and LGBTQIA persons.
- Wofford’s Student-Athlete Advisory Committee has created a social justice committee, and 25 student-athletes serve in this area. They developed a One Love unity patch that will be on uniforms this year.

While I’m pleased with the college’s continued progress, I understand that we must not become complacent in our successes. We still have much to do, and I look forward to getting regular updates from the Vision for Wofford in the World steering committee.

Thank you all for your commitment to our community. Be well.
