Dear Wofford Staff,

Your voice matters, and Wofford College would like to hear it. The college is administering the National Assessment of Collegiate Campus Climates, a confidential survey about the racial climate on our campus.

You will receive the survey link by email Tuesday, April 12. The deadline to complete the survey is May 10. Please note that though the survey email is from me, it will appear in your inbox from the email address helpdesk@nacccsurvey.org.

I urge you to participate in the survey because it is another way that you can support a more equitable and just Wofford and the work already being done in the areas of equity, diversity and inclusion.

The survey takes about 15 minutes to complete, and all participants will receive a $10 Amazon gift card.

Thank you in advance for making your voice heard and helping us make Wofford better.

Sincerely,

Nayef Samhat
President

To: Wofford Staff and Faculty
From: Jo Ann Brasington, Vice President of Marketing and Communications
Date: April 6, 2022
Re: Wofford employees invited to join Yammer

All college employees are invited to participate in the Wofford Employees’ community on Yammer, an internal social media network. People interested in joining should CLICK HERE to register.

Yammer offers a great resource for people who want to seek help with work, develop relationships with colleagues, share good news and connect over common interests. For example, I’m planning to post about a jigsaw puzzle exchange and hope to get some takers.

To learn more about Yammer, including acceptable use guidelines and how to get started, visit the college’s policy for Yammer communities.

Thanks. See you on Yammer!

Sylvia Rivera and the Fight Against Carceral Medicine
Date/Time: 2022-04-25 04:00 AM
Location: Olin 101
Cost: Free
Details: The 1970s-1990s marks a pivotal period in the history of carceral medicine, a term used to describe the complex entwinement of medical institutions and prison systems. One trans Latina activist during this period, Sylvia Rivera, co-organized a group called Street Transvestite Action Revolutionaries (S.T.A.R.) in 1970, and S.T.A.R. sought to provide housing, food, and clothing to homeless queer and trans youth in New York City. Alongside this work, the group also mounted a sustained critique of the forms of police violence and incarceration impacting communities of color at the time. Tracing this history, this presentation examines Rivera's commentaries on homelessness, psychiatric confinement, and social welfare reform, as vital archival traces of resistance to carceral medicine found among trans of color communities.

Please remember to share your thoughts about Wofford’s Interim Program with the Interim Summer Working Group, a group of faculty charged with crafting a mission statement and learning outcomes for Interim, and with considering changes to the structure of the program. This survey will be used, in addition to information from spring listening sessions, to inform the efforts of the Working Group. It should take less than five minutes to complete. Thank you for taking the time to share your opinions on our Interim Program.

This survey will close this Friday, April 22 at 5 pm.

FROM: 2022 United Way Campaign co-chairs
Andrew Green, associate professor of finance (Olin Building)
Ashley Owen, assistant dean of students (Mungo Student Center)
Liz Monaghan, OMC projects manager (Office of Marketing and Communications)

As President Samhat announced in his email to all employees on April 15, the college has kicked off its 2022 United Way Campaign, which runs through April 29. You may donate at uwpiedmont.org/Wofford. All donations to the United Way go back into our communities here in Spartanburg, Cherokee and Union counties.

In addition to the three of us, our United Way campaign has a leadership committee of “champions” as follows:

Dr. Laura Barbas Rhoden, professor of Spanish (Olin Building); Jeff Burney, director of housekeeping and event services (Cumming Street Facility); Dr. Jameica Hill, associate provost for administration and professor and chair of chemistry (Milliken Science Center); Curt McPhail, executive director, Career Center in the Mungo Exchange (Michael S. Brown Village Center); Lynze Roos, head volleyball coach (Jerry Richardson Indoor Stadium); and Raymond Ruff, director of constituent management systems and process improvement (Snyder House).

Please contact one of us or any of the champions if you prefer a paper pledge form rather than using the online portal to donate. For both the paper form and the online portal, you may make a one-time donation or an ongoing donation via payroll deduction. If you make an ongoing deduction, the designated amount will be deducted from your paycheck each pay period for 12 months only. You also may use the online portal to donate by credit card or... period for 12 months only. You also may use the online portal to donate by credit card or debit card. If you’d like to donate via cash or check, please use the paper form.

Thank you in advance for supporting this opportunity to give back to our community.

Best regards,

Andrew, Ashley and Liz

Dr. Andrea Pitts (UNC-Charlotte) will be speaking on Sylvia Rivera and the Fight Against Carceral Medicine
Date/Time: 2022-04-25 04:00 PM
Location: Olin 101
Cost: Free
Details: The 1970s-1990s marks a pivotal period in the history of carceral medicine, a term used to describe the complex entwinement of medical institutions and prison systems. One trans Latina activist during this period, Sylvia Rivera, co-organized a group called Street Transvestite Action Revolutionaries (S.T.A.R.) in 1970, and S.T.A.R. sought to provide housing, food, and clothing to homeless queer and trans youth in New York City. Alongside this work, the group also mounted a sustained critique of the forms of police violence and incarceration impacting communities of color at the time. Tracing this history, this presentation examines Rivera’s commentaries on homelessness, psychiatric confinement, and social welfare reform, as vital archival traces of resistance to carceral medicine found among trans of color communities. Sponsored by the Department of Philosophy and Cultural Affairs.

Dr. Andrea Pitts (UNC-Charlotte) will be speaking on Sylvia Rivera and the Fight Against Carceral Medicine
Date/Time: 2022-04-25 04:00 PM
Location: Franklin W. Olin Building, Room 101
Cost: Free
Details: The 1970s-1990s marks a pivotal period in the history of carceral medicine, a term used to describe the complex entwinement of medical institutions and prison systems. One trans Latina activist during this period, Sylvia Rivera, co-organized a group called Street Transvestite Action Revolutionaries (S.T.A.R.) in 1970, and S.T.A.R. sought to provide housing, food, and clothing to homeless queer and trans youth in New York City. Alongside this work, the group also mounted a sustained critique of the forms of police violence and incarceration impacting communities of color at the time. Tracing this history, this presentation examines Rivera’s commentaries on homelessness, psychiatric confinement, and social welfare reform, as vital archival traces of resistance to carceral medicine found among trans of color communities. FROM: Co-Chairs of 2022 United Way Campaign
Andrew Green, associate professor
Ashley Owen, assistant dean of students
Liz Monaghan, OMC projects manager

There’s still time to give before the Wofford United Way campaign ends Friday, April 29. During week one, 37 donors contributed $7,925. Let’s keep the momentum going by visit the www.uwpiedmont.org/Wofford to give. Finally, please note that in addition to making a community-wide donation to the United Way, you can use the online Donor Choice Form to direct your donation to a specific nonprofit organization.

Why give?

“The United Way provides opportunities to those who might not have access otherwise. My work with the African American Leadership Society of the United Way of the Piedmont provides an opportunity for me to contribute to the readiness of students in our community to be enrolled and successfully matriculate in post-secondary education.”

Dr. Jameica Hill, associate provost of administration and professor of chemistry and United Way African American Leadership Society mem

“The willingness and ability of the United Way of the Piedmont staff to move swiftly during the pandemic to facilitate access to vital financial assistance — both private and public dollars — was impressive to me. Those funds kept lights on, water running and roofs over the heads of many individuals and families in our local community.”
and roofs over the heads of many individuals and families in our local community.

Dr. Laura Barbas-Rhoden, Professor of Spanish and United Way board mem

Visit www.uwpiedmont.org/Wofford to make your own community-wide or donor choice impact by payroll deduction, credit card or debit card. Donations by payroll deduction will run for one year, from May 2022 to May 2023. If you would prefer to donate with a paper pledge form, please contact any of us or one of our Wofford campaign champions: Lynze Roos, Raymond Ruff, Jeff Burney, Curt McPhail, Jameica Hill or Laura Barbas-Rhoden.

Thank you for taking this opportunity to give back to our community.
