Upcoming Events

A Chicana Eco-Genealogy: Searching for My Environmental Foremothers (virtual talk)

Date/Time: 2023-03-02 07:00 PM
Location: Zoom
Cost:
Details: Dr. Priscilla Ybarra, associate professor of literature at the University of North Texas, will trace the history of little-known Mexican American and Chicana ecological knowledge caretakers. Brief profiles will include ecologist Ynés Mexía (1870-1938) and poet Francisca Vallejo McGettigan (1875-1962). Narrating her immigrant Mexican mother Maria Higinia Solis Ybarra’s (1938-) story alongside the lives of these earlier ecological knowledge caretakers contextualizes Dr. Ybarra’s search for a Chicana eco-genealogy as a scholar, professor and writer.

The Genesis of the Recent Iranian Revolution: Women Life Freedom

Date/Time: 2023-03-23 04:00 PM
Location: Olin Theater
Cost: Free
Details: As we navigate daily through the world news to engage our students in cultural diversity, we come across a women’s and human rights revolution that is brewing in Iran. The nation of Iran is ablaze because of the fearless and daring protests that are contributing heavily to a new revolution in Iran. The young men and women that are the same ages of our students are standing up to one of the most anti-democratic governments in the world. We hope to present a program that would be the most anti-democratic governments in the world. We hope to present a program that would be educational and informative to the Wofford College community.

The Genesis of the Recent Iranian Revolution: Women Life Freedom

Date/Time: 2023-03-23 04:00 PM
Location: Olin Theater
Cost: Free
Details: As we navigate daily through the world news to engage our students in cultural diversity, we come across a women's and human rights revolution that is brewing in Iran. The nation of Iran is ablaze because of the fearless and daring protests that are contributing heavily to a new revolution in Iran. The young men and women that are the same ages of our students are standing up to one of the most anti-democratic governments in the world. We hope to present a program that would be educational and informative to the Wofford College community.

Intersecting Methods: 2020 Portfolio

Details: As a process for creating art, printmaking has many similarities to the scientific method. Printmakers dream up the imagery, experiment with their mediums, proof their plates, manipulate the variables (one at a time) and proof again to be able to create the desired results in the final edition. Intersecting Methods is a portfolio that brings together the arts and the science to create collaborative prints by partnering a printmaker with a collaborator. This exhibit is in the Martha Cloud Chapman Gallery in the Sandor Teszler Library, Feb. 8-May 21.

Memorandum
To: Wofford Staff and Faculty
From: Deidra Coleman, associate professor of mathematics and chair of the Cultural Affairs Committee
Date: March 7, 2023
Re: Applications being accepted for Cultural Affairs Committee grants

The Cultural Affairs Committee (CAC) welcomes applications for grants by Friday, March 31, 2023, for the 2023-24 academic year.

These grants will support events promoting some combination of learning, personal reflection, a better appreciation of the natural, social and political world around us in all its diversity, as well as opportunities to connect our personal, academic, spiritual and civic lives. As a point of reference, applications are encouraged to focus on the following kinds of in-person or remote events:

1) Speakers or readings
2) Performances, exhibits or showings
3) Cultural festivals
4) Seminars/colloquiums

Although the merits of all applications will be considered, the CAC will give preference to events that:

- Engage students across a broad spectrum of interests and cultures.
- Expose attendees to compelling questions, issues and views.
- Involve more than one academic discipline.

Applications from staff collaborating with a faculty member are permitted.

Submit applications for funding using the Cultural Affairs Event Proposal tab on my.wofford.edu or follow this link: https://connect.wofford.edu/mywofford/faculty/culturalAffairsProposal.aspx

Please submit your applications by Friday, March 31. Applications will be reviewed, and notifications of funding will be sent by May 22. You should receive a confirmation of your submission via email shortly after submitting. If you do not receive the confirmation, please contact a member of the committee as soon as possible to ensure your application has been received.

If you have questions, contact committee members: Deidra A. Coleman (chair), Gillian Young, Maya Fein, Ramin Radfar, Talicia Murphy and Cecil Elikem Asimenu.

Information Technology Services
Wofford College
Dear Phillip,

Our community has navigated the start of the spring semester — one filled with highs and lows — with a commitment to our mission and core values, and I appreciate you and your contributions.

On March 1, Mr. Jerry Richardson ’59 passed away. As a student, Mr. Richardson was a psychology major, resident assistant, captain of the football team and member of Kappa Alpha Order. After graduation, he played football in the NFL before opening a Hardee’s franchise, launching a business career that led him to NFL team ownership. He often talked about the impact that Wofford had on him, and it’s that impact that inspired him to establish scholarships, construct buildings, fund a compensation increase for hourly staff and support dozens of other projects designed to ensure student success and Wofford’s sustainability. He mentored students and alumni, and the college continues to receive stories of his generosity. Our community sends condolences to Rosalind Sallenger Richardson, trustee Ashley Richardson Allen, Mark Richardson and other members of the family. A service will be held at 11 a.m., Saturday, March 18, in the Jerry Richardson Indoor Stadium. Students, faculty and staff are invited to attend.

I’d also like to ask you to send your thoughts and well wishes to Dwayne Harris ’87, director of campus safety. Dwayne was in a car accident over the weekend. He is expected to recover completely, and we look forward to when he’s back on campus “living the dream.”

Finally, I’d like to congratulate and thank our student-athletes and coaches on the women’s and men’s basketball teams. Both represented us well in the Southern Conference Basketball Tournament. The women lost in a hard-fought matchup in the finals, and the men proved scrappy and competitive to the end in the semifinals.

Board of Trustees Update

The winter meeting of the Wofford College Board of Trustees held Feb. 23-24 was productive. In addition to discussing a major investment in a new ERP (enterprise resource planning) system to manage HR and other major administrative processes, the board approved the 2023-24 budget, with increases in academic programs, athletics, operations and high-impact programs. Some of this is the result of the endowment return on the $150 million gift from Mr. Richardson. Inflation remains a factor with costs rising in food service, utilities and medical/insurance premiums. The college continues to contribute 10% to employee retirement accounts, and a 3% increase in the salary pool was approved as well.
The board heard presentations on the changes proposed by the college’s Interim working group and the NCAA Division I transformation committee. In addition, the enrollment report noted that applications are the third highest in the college’s history and deposits are up; we are on track to enroll 480 students in the Class of 2027. The college also has updated Justice, Equity, Diversity and Inclusion progress, and that information will be posted to the website (Wofford.edu/strategicvision) within the month.

Capital projects this summer will include a renovation of the Reeves Tennis Center thanks to a $250,000 matching gift from Ed Reeves and generous donations from Maria and Tom Bower ’74, Rhonda and Howard Coker ’85, Justin ’96 and Anna Habisreutinger Converse ’95, and Mary and Wade Keisler ’80. We are repurposing the old bookstore space to create a collaborative work area for students; student organizations such as the Bohemian and Old Gold and Black will be invited to use these spaces when renovations are complete. The human resources staff will move into the back section of the building. This will allow the DuPré Hall lounge to once again be used as a student gathering space. The Office of Philanthropy + Engagement will get a refresh of their space in the Papadopoulos Building, and we will replace windows in Main Building.

The board meeting concluded with the dedication of the completely renovated Blackwell-Quattlebaum Center for Wellness and Counseling Services in the Hugh R. Black House. We are grateful for a major gift from the Quattlebaum family, with additional support from the family of Dorothy Beadles Halligan, for making this original campus home more serviceable and beautiful than ever. We appreciate their generosity!

New Care Team

Beth Wallace ’82, interim vice president for campus life and student development, and colleagues across campus have created a new Care Team. The new team is part of the college’s investment in the holistic development and wellness of all students as they strive to reach their academic potential. Understanding that circumstances can disrupt a student’s academic progress, the interdisciplinary Care Team offers guidance from professionals who can assess and perhaps provide confidential assistance to students who need collaborative support or resources during hardship or difficult circumstances. A new Care Team Starfish flag is now an option for members of the community who learn of a student in crisis.

Compensation study

During the fall semester the college contracted with a consultant to begin an institutional compensation study. The initial phase, conducted by Frank Casagrande and Associates, a highly recommended compensation consulting firm that specializes in higher education, included discussions with stakeholders, the establishment of an initial benchmark group (based on College and Universities Professionals Association, Bureau of Labor Statistics and U.S. News data) and the consideration of next steps and priorities.

While I had hoped that we could have something ready for presentation this spring, I’ve learned that we still have much to do toward a thoughtful and thorough assessment and the development of policies that will position Wofford well for the future. Below is a summary of next steps:

- Shannon Knupp, a human resources specialist who had worked with the college as interim director of human resources, is extending her contract with the college and will be gathering the most recent CUPA data and reconciling that with the college’s compensation data. The new CUPA report came out in late February, and Shannon will begin her work soon.
• The college has contracted with Carrie Cavanaugh, a senior human resources consultant with Find Great People, to assess internal equity for all positions and study the wage structure and compensation for staff positions.

• The college has retained Frank Casagrande to facilitate the recommendation of an overall compensation philosophy, structure and implementation plan — including faculty frameworks — that is institutionally owned and equitable.

To shepherd the college through this process, the college will convene a task force on faculty compensation, facilitated by Casagrande, and a task force on staff compensation, facilitated by Cavanaugh. The faculty task force and staff task force will conduct their work beginning this spring and continuing into the fall semester.

Thank you to those who have already been involved with the college’s compensation study, and I hope all who are asked to participate in next steps will find a way to contribute.

In all things, I appreciate your patience and support.

Seeking Seghers: The Case of a Lost Art Collection and its Afterlives by Dr. Robert Mayhew

Date/Time: 2023-03-14 06:00 PM
Location: Leonard Auditorium, Main Building
Cost:
Details: In this discussion, Dr. Robert Mayhew will tell the story of a curious collection of paintings once housed in the Church of Carolus Borromeus in Antwerp, a fabulously Baroque church built at the height of the Counter-Reformation. The paintings are a unique example of artistic collaborations in the 17th Century and provide an illuminating case study in the intersection of economics, art and cultural history.

The Genesis of the Recent Iranian Revolution: Women Life Freedom

Date/Time: 2023-03-23 04:00 PM
Location: Olin Theater
Cost: Free
Details: As we navigate daily through the world news to engage our students in cultural diversity, we come across a women’s and human rights revolution that is brewing in Iran. The nation of Iran is ablaze because of the fearless and daring protests that are contributing heavily to a new revolution in Iran. The young men and women that are the same ages of our students are standing up to one of the most anti-democratic governments in the world. We hope to present a program that would be educational and informative to the Wofford College community.

Materiality and the Divine: Baroque art across Europe

Details: This exhibition, including works from Wofford’s collection along with loans from the Bob Jones University Museum and Gallery, explores the dynamic and revolutionary art of the Baroque era in Europe. The deeply moving art of this period, C. 1600-1750, with its dynamic and monumental compositions, deep color, realistic detail, and dramatic light, reflects seismic changes happening across Europe during religious upheaval and global exploitation. This exhibit is free and open to the public. Located in the Richardson Family Art Museum, lower level.

Intersecting Methods: 2020 Portfolio

Details: As a process for creating art, printmaking has many similarities to the scientific method. Printmakers dream up the imagery, experiment with their mediums, proof their plates, manipulate the variables (one at a time) and proof again to be able to create the desired results in the final edition. Intersecting Methods is a portfolio that brings together the arts and the science to create collaborative prints by partnering a printmaker with a collaborator. This exhibit is in the Martha Cloud Chapman Galleries in the Sandor Teszler Library, Feb. 8-May 01.

Women's History Month: Dr. Dara Horn, "People Love Dead Jews: Reports from a Haunted Past"
Dr. Dara Horn will discuss her award-winning book, "People Love Dead Jews: Reports from a Haunted Present." Horn challenges us to confront the reasons why there might be so much fascination with Jewish deaths as emblematic of the worst of evils the world has to offer and so little respect for Jewish lives as they continue to unfold in the present. Co-sponsored by the Office of the President and the Office of Equity, Diversity and Inclusion.

The campus community is invited to attend the celebration of life for Jerry Richardson ’59. As a student, Mr. Richardson was a psychology major and a member of the football team, residence life staff, ROTC and Kappa Alpha Order. During his lifetime, he made gifts of more than $270 million to the college, many in support of scholarships for students with financial need.

The service will begin at 11 a.m., Saturday, March 18 in the Jerry Richardson Indoor Stadium. Again, the campus community is invited to attend.

Pick up flowers to share

The Richardson family would like to share the flowers from the service with the Wofford community. Please drop by the front of the Jerry Richardson Indoor Stadium between 3 p.m. and 5 p.m., Saturday, March 18 to pick up a bouquet that you can then share with someone you love. There also will be an opportunity to write a letter of condolence or appreciation to Mrs. Richardson, Ashley Richardson Allen and the Richardson family. The team in Campus Life and Student Development are preparing the flowers for pickup for your enjoyment.

Increased traffic

The morning of the celebration of life, Evins and Cummings streets will see increased traffic. Twitty Street will be closed to thru traffic. Please plan accordingly if driving near those areas between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m.

If you have questions, you may email WoffordNews@wofford.edu.
Remember today is Thirsty Thursday.

Come celebrate our community and an early St. Patrick's Day!

TODAY (Thursday, March 16)
4-5:30 p.m.
The President’s home back patio

Irish music! Beer, wine and pretzels will be served.

Wear green and join us, please.

New Care Team

Details: An interdisciplinary team across campus has created a new Care Team. This work is part of the college's investment in the holistic development of all students as they strive to reach their academic potential. Understanding that circumstances can disrupt a student's academic progress, the team offers guidance, assess and perhaps provide assistance to students who need collaborative support or resources during difficult circumstances. A Care Team Starfish flag is now an option for members of the community who learn of a student in crisis.

Re: Compensation Task Forces

Attracting, rewarding and retaining a talented faculty and staff that is eager to share a vibrant intellectual living and learning environment with students and our community of learners is paramount to the success of our college. Therefore, the college has formed two task forces — one on faculty compensation and another on staff compensation. Frank Casagrande, a highly recommended compensation consultant with decades of experience in this area, will facilitate the work of the faculty task force, which will be chaired by Dr. Jameica Hill, associate provost for administration. Carrie Cavanaugh, also highly recommended for her work in staff compensation, will facilitate the staff task force with leadership from Courtney Dobbins, associate director of human resources. The work of each task force will begin this spring with the intention of concluding by the end of the fall 2023 semester.

Both groups will recommend a compensation philosophy and structure with consideration of benchmark institutions, reliable and valid market information and the college’s mission and core values. There will be opportunities for the groups to communicate progress along the way.

Please join me in thanking the members of our community who are leading us in this process.

Wofford names Dwight Perry as head men’s basketball coach

SPARTANBURG, S.C. – Wofford College has announced that Dwight Perry has been named the head coach of the men’s basketball program. Perry has spent the past four seasons at Wofford, two as an assistant coach and two as associate head coach. On Dec. 5, 2022, he was named interim head coach.

In his four seasons with Wofford, the team has posted winning records in all four campaigns. He has seen six different players earn All-Southern Conference honors, along with coaching five players who earned All-Freshman team accolades.

“We are pleased to have Dwight Perry as the head coach of the men’s basketball team,” said Dr. Nayef Samhat, Wofford’s president. “He understands and feels strongly about upholding the values and integrity of the athletics program here at Wofford. Over the course of this past season, he has risen to the challenge of leading a young and committed team with great dignity and enthusiasm.”

According to Richard Johnson, director of athletics, Perry has earned this opportunity. “He did a great job during the past season of bringing stability to the program and building a culture of teamwork, grit and competitiveness. We look forward watching the program move forward under his leadership.”

“I am thankful for Dr. Samhat and Richard Johnson and their belief in me,” said Perry. “Wofford is a special place. I am looking forward to building off the many great coaches and players that are part of the tradition here who built that foundation of Wofford basketball. We are going to move the program in a positive direction both on and off the court with these student-athletes. I am ready to get to work.”

“I am very excited about the selection of Coach Perry,” said sophomore Corey Tripp. “When he came in and took over as interim head coach, we were looking for some hope. He changed the program and our culture. He allowed guys to be themselves, and I am excited for the future.”

Highlights of the season were a road win over Texas A&M and a win over UNC Greensboro in the quarterfinals of the Southern Conference Tournament. Overall, the team was 17-16 on the season and an 8-10 mark in the Southern Conference to finish sixth in the standings. Senior B.J. Mack was named first team All-Southern Conference by the coaches and media, while Jackson Paveletzke earned the league’s Freshman of the Year and All-SoCon third team.

During the 2021-22 campaign, Perry helped guide Wofford to a 19-13 overall record with a 10-8 league mark in his first season as associate head coach. Highlights during the season include a road triumph over Georgia and a home win over Samford. B.J. Mack and Max Klesmit garnered Second and Third-Team All-Southern Conference honors, respectively.

In the 2020-21 season, the Terriers were 15-9 overall and 12-5 in the Southern Conference. The team played only six non-conference games due to the pandemic, including a win over Coastal Carolina. Following the season Storm Murphy was named to the All-Southern Conference first team and three players earned All-Freshman Team honors.

In his first season with Wofford, Perry made an immediate impact, scouting upsets of No. 17 North Carolina and the second-seeded Furman Paladins in the Southern Conference Tournament en route to Wofford’s second consecutive SoCon Championship appearance. The team was 19-16 overall and 8-10 in league play, while Nathan Hoover was named All-Southern Conference.

Prior to Wofford, Perry spent five seasons at Furman University, assisting the Paladins to a 31-68
Prior to Wofford, Perry spent five seasons at Furman University, assisting the Paladins to a 91-68 overall record with three 20-win seasons and a shared regular season title in 2016-17 over the span, while helping recruit and coach 17 All-Freshman and All-Conference selections, including two SoCon Players of the Year and one Freshman of the Year.

The Durham, North Carolina, native served as a graduate assistant under former Virginia Commonwealth head coach Shaka Smart for two seasons before being named as the Rams' video coordinator for the 2013-14 campaign. During his three-year stint in Richmond, Va., the Rams posted an 82-26 record and made three consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament, including appearances in the round of 32 in both of Perry's seasons as a graduate assistant.

A 2010 graduate of the University of Kentucky, Perry played three seasons for the Wildcats and earned a degree in business management. He was named to the SEC Academic Honor Roll. He served as an intern with Stanford's men's basketball program for two years before joining VCU, where he earned a master's degree in sport leadership in May of 2013.

Perry married the former Brittany Gee in August of 2016, and the couple has two sons, Dwight III (Trey) and Ashton.

He is the 19th head coach in Wofford men's basketball history, which dates back to 1906.

The Genesis of the Recent Iranian Revolution: Women Life Freedom

Date/Time: 2023-03-23 04:00 PM
Location: Olin Theater
Cost: Free
Details: As we navigate daily through the world news to engage our students in cultural diversity, we come across a women’s and human rights revolution that is brewing in Iran. The nation of Iran is ablaze because of the fearless and daring protests that are contributing heavily to a new revolution in Iran. The young men and women that are the same ages of our students are standing up to one of the most anti-democratic governments in the world. We hope to present a program that would be educational and informative to the Wofford College community.

REMINDER: Experience Wofford applications are due THIS FRIDAY. Faculty, please encourage your first- and second-year students to apply!

EXPERIENCE WOFFORD (XW) IS_excited TO ANNOUnCE THE OPENING OF APPLICATIONS FOR THE INAUGURAL XW FELLOwSHIP COHort.

Rooted in the liberal arts, XW will support up to 20 fellows as they develop and refine purposeful, ambitious, experiential projects that engage with global issues. Fellows may apply now, and the first cohort will be announced by the end of April 2023, following a review/interview process. Faculty and staff are encouraged to nominate students. Support for these fellows will include:

- Cohort building.
- Discernment work.
- General and project-specific reading lists.
- Alumni/faculty/staff mentoring.
- Targeted educational modules.

Through this process, students will be encouraged to connect their passions and ambitions to broader global themes and develop a project that reflects the fullest expression of that intersection.

Projects will generally fall into one of four categories. (These categories are suggestions. If you are unsure if your proposal will fit, contact Dr. Mark Ferguson at fergusonma@wofford.edu. It’s also OK if you are unsure of the type of project that you would like to pursue.)

- Social justice or community engagement.
- Entrepreneurial problem solving.
- Artistic or creative undertakings.
- Scientific research.

Accepted students will participate in intensive summer reading and a late summer/early fall weekend retreat in 2023, weekly meetings during the fall 2023 semester and the completion of a project plan by the end of that semester. Projects will generally be completed during spring or summer 2024. Returning fellows will present at the XW Fellows Symposium during Family Weekend in the fall of 2024 and will serve as reciprocal mentors for subsequent cohorts.

Note: While the cohort selection will be need-blind; financial need will be one of several factors in determining the level of support for individual projects. Fellows will not generally receive academic credit for the completion of their projects.

Please submit your application to XWfellowsApp@wofford.edu by 5 p.m., March 31.
Direct questions to Dr. Mark Ferguson, program director, fergusonma@wofford.edu.

APPLICATION

Name:
Address:
Email:
Planned major(s)/minor(s):

Please provide written answers to the following questions.

List your favorite class (or classes) at Wofford so far. Why?

If there were no barriers or financial considerations, what three careers would you most like to pursue professionally? Why?

How do you hope to change Wofford while you are here or the world after you leave Wofford?

How does a liberal arts education help you engage with, understand, and/or solve global issues? (By “liberal arts” we mean cross-disciplinary problem solving characterized by breadth of thought, coursework, influence and experience.)

Please answer the following question via audio recording.

Tell us a story about an eye-opening experience that you have had. This could be anything you have seen, experienced or encountered that has changed how you think about or understand the world or your place in it.

Materiality and the Divine: Baroque art across Europe

Details: This exhibition, including works from Wofford’s collection along with loans from the Bob Jones University Museum and Gallery, explores the dynamic and revolutionary art of the Baroque era in Europe. The deeply moving art of this period, C. 1600-1750, with its dynamic and monumental compositions, deep color, realistic detail, and dramatic light, reflects seismic changes happening across Europe during religious upheaval and global exploitation. This exhibit is free and open to the public. Located in the Richardson Family Art Museum, lower level.

Intersecting Methods: 2020 Portfolio

Details: As a process for creating art, printmaking has many similarities to the scientific method. Printmakers dream up the imagery, experiment with their mediums, proof their plates, manipulate the variables (one at a time) and proof again to be able to create the desired results in the final edition. Intersecting Methods is a portfolio that brings together the arts and the science to create collaborative prints by partnering a printmaker with a collaborator. This exhibit is in the Martha Cloud Chapman Gallery in the Sandor Teszler Library, Feb. 8-May 21.

New Care Team

Details: An interdisciplinary team across campus has created a new Care Team. This work is part of the college’s investment in the holistic development of all students as they strive to reach their academic potential. Understanding that circumstances can disrupt a student’s academic progress, the team offers guidance, assess and perhaps provide assistance to students who need collaborative support or resources during difficult circumstances. A Care Team Starfish flag is now an option for members of the community who learn of a student in crisis.

CETL lunches

Details: Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning lunches occur every Wednesday from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the faculty/staff dining room. They’re an opportunity to get together to talk about teaching: to share things you’re doing in your classes, to seek input or advice on things you’re considering doing or to listen to what others are doing. Lunches don’t have a specific agenda. What we talk about at any given lunch depends on the interests of those present. Come for 15 minutes or 90. Come every week or only once. Whatever works for you. The CETL will cover the cost of lunch for participants.

Re: Required Emergency Management Training

Students, staff and faculty will be asked to complete online emergency management training courses occasionally. The first course is due April 28, and it involves watching a 20-minute video on active shooter events. You will receive an email from Information Technology Services (ITS) this afternoon with a link to access the video.

The video will discuss how to respond during an active shooter event and steps to take to protect yourself and others. The goal of this training is to assist the Wofford community in being “better equipped to react with purpose and to maximize your chance of survival.” Every building on campus is equipped with automated external defibrillators (AEDs) and bleed kits, which are housed together in the event of any emergency.

Please watch the video by Friday, April 28.

If you need support after viewing the video, please use the resources below:

- ProtoCall (864-597-4393) for all members of our community.
- The Rev. Dr. Ron Robinson, Perkins-Prothro Chaplain, robinsonrr@wofford.edu.
- For students, the counseling staff, counselingservices@wofford.edu.
- For faculty and staff, the Employee Assistance Program, which can be accessed through employee benefits.
