Congratulations on making it to the end of the fall semester! This email contains information to ensure that everyone understands the college's policies regarding shared study areas. Most importantly, remember the following:

Respect each other.
- Be courteous, supportive and kind to each other. We’re all working hard to achieve our goals!
- Be sure to vacate classrooms on weekdays by 7 a.m. so the housekeepers can prepare it for exams. Also, if you use a classroom between exams, make sure you vacate that classroom by 1:30 p.m. so that faculty and housekeepers can prepare those rooms for exams as well.

Take care of our campus.
- After you use a classroom or shared space to study, wipe down the surfaces of any equipment you touch, and clean off any whiteboard space so that others can use it.
- It is not the job of our housekeepers to clean up your late-night mess. Please take any personal items, food or trash with you.
- Do not attempt to enter locked rooms or rooms that are not approved for your use, even if they are inadvertently left unlocked.
- Do not move any furniture, cover glass in door or window glass, or tamper with the A/V equipment or printers in spaces in which you are studying.

Prioritize wellness, self-care and safety.
- Please do not hold the doors open for non-Wofford individuals.
- Do not place any material over locks on doors or block door locks from functioning. Jeopardizing the safety of others is a serious violation of our code of conduct.
- Be aware of your surroundings and do not study in places that put you in harm’s way. A secluded space may seem ideal, but it also may be unsafe if no one else is around.
- Take a healthy study break! The Fitness Center will remain open from 6 a.m.-10 p.m. through Dec. 10. On Dec. 11-14, the operating hours will shift to 8 a.m.-6 p.m. The center will close for the winter break beginning on Dec. 15.
- There are many study breaks taking place on campus over the next two weeks. Please see the attached flyer to note the times and locations of some of our opportunities for self-care, tasty food and rejuvenation.

GUIDANCE FOR SPECIFIC BUILDINGS

Roger Milliken Science Center
- Great Oaks Hall is open for studying 24/7 by ID card key access. No one is allowed access to the basement, roof or any locked area.
- All personal items, such as clocks, coffee pots and coolers may not be placed in study rooms in Great Oaks Hall. These are public rooms to be shared, not to be reserved or appropriated by individuals.
- Please do not leave books, laptops or other materials in classrooms, study rooms or on tables unattended for more than 30 minutes. Following the 30-minute time limit, students seeking a place to study may carefully clear such materials out of an unoccupied room and carefully take them to the receptionist’s desk (across from the Acorn Café), where the materials may be reclaimed, without complaint, by their owners.
Olin Building

- The doors will be locked at 11 p.m. All students in the building at the time may remain in the building.
- Rooms 118, 114, 201, 213, 218, 219 and 220, as well as the lounge, are open in the evenings for student use.
- Faculty members have reserved some rooms for study sessions. During these sessions, students will have to vacate classrooms.

Main Building

- Most classrooms are open 24/7. The building can be accessed by the card-reader door on the northwest side of the building (horseshoe/Shipp side).
- Campus Safety officers will patrol the buildings for your safety.
- Mickel Chapel on the first floor is open for prayer and meditation. Please do not use it as a study room.

Mungo Student Center

- The Mungo Student Center is open 24/7.
- Tony White Theater will be open 24/7 for studying with the exception of posted dates and times listed on the doors. The two rooms on the mezzanine are first come. These spaces are not reservable. Please refrain from moving couches into these spaces.
- Please do not leave books, laptops or other materials in classrooms, study rooms or on tables unattended for more than 30 minutes.
- Please do not rearrange the furniture. The tables, chairs and dry erase boards are set up to allow multiple individuals/groups to study in the space.
- All study material must be cleaned from dry erase boards before individuals or groups leave the study space. Any material left on the boards will be erased each morning.

Daniel Building

- Most classrooms are open 24/7. If you have any trouble accessing the space, please call Campus Safety.

Please remember that we are fortunate to be able to work and study on Wofford’s beautiful campus. We ask everyone to help take care of our facilities so current and future students, faculty and staff can enjoy them for years to come. Please discourage and/or report destructive behavior so that all can benefit from a hospitable, collegial and scholarly environment.

REMEMBER YOUR RESOURCES

- Staff in the Wellness Center, the Division of Campus Life & Student Development, and the Halligan Center for Religious & Spiritual Life are here to help you!
- All members of the Wofford community can access the Terrier Care Line by calling 864-597-4393. A mental health counselor is available 24/7 to assist with any situation.
- Visit the academic support hub for information on tutoring, accommodations, writing help and more!
- Call Campus Safety at 864-597-4911 24/7 to request an escort, ask for assistance or report suspicious individuals.

RESIDENCE HALL CLOSING

Don’t forget to read the checkout/closing memo sent by the Office of Residence Life. The residence halls and apartments will close on Friday, Dec. 15 at 6 p.m. Any students wishing to remain on campus after that time will need to complete the late-stay form on the Residence Life housing portal. Students must receive email confirmation from the Office of Residence Life in order to be considered approved. Please contact reslife@wofford.edu if you have any questions.

Best wishes for success on your final exams and papers and a meaningful and restful holiday break,

Beth Wallace
Dean of Students

Good morning, all!

On Friday, Dec. 8, the Office of Human Resources will move to its new location at 501 N. Church St. (the location of the old bookstore). The new entrance will be on the side of the building near the Montgomery Music Building. Human resources will be unavailable on the day of the move. The office will reopen in its new location on Monday, Dec. 11.

Thank you for your understanding as we move into a new space that will better serve our community.

Roots/Routes: Mobility and Displacement in Art of the American South

Date/Time: 2023-12-14 12:00 PM
Location: Richardson Family Art Museum Upper Level
Cost:
Details: Currently on view in the Richardson Family Art Museum. Throughout the history of the American South, war, ecological disasters and enslavement (among other events) have spurred the movement of people. This exhibition investigates the ways in which mobility has affected the trajectories of Southern Art. Including works from the nineteenth century to the present, this exhibition asks audiences to consider the role that displacement, mobility and place have played and continue to play in the histories of the American South.

Dear colleagues,

I wish you a well-deserved, restful and fun-filled break celebrating with the people you hold most dear.

The winter break begins today for students and faculty, and as planned, staff will be off beginning on Wednesday, Dec. 20 at noon. In the spirit of the holidays, the break will be extended through January 2 (originally scheduled as our return to work in 2024). The first day back for staff now will be Wednesday, Jan. 3.

Thank you for your many contributions to our college. I remain grateful for all of you who make Wofford College such a special place.

Happiest holidays,

Nayef
