Subject: Potential for severe weather

Date: January 8, 2024 at 2:31 PM

To: Wofford Staff and Faculty WoffordStaff@Wofford.Edu, Wofford Students WoffordStudents@Wofford.Edu

Severe weather is expected to move into the Upstate early Tuesday. The National Weather Service has issued a flood watch from midnight to 7 p.m., with rainfall totals ranging from 2 to 4 inches, which could lead to scattered flooding.

The National Weather Service also says a wind advisory will be in effect from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Tuesday, with gusts as high as 50 miles per hour. Gusty winds will blow around unsecured objects. Tree limbs could be blown down and a few power outages may result. There also is a chance of thunderstorms, a few of which could be severe.

Make sure your cell phone is registered to receive RAVE alerts and have the number for Campus Safety in your phone, 864-597-4911.
