Report of the Pastor 2019 - State of the Church

Continuing Ministry

Dr. Coke continued his ministry at Andrew Chapel United Methodist Church every Sunday, November 11, 2018 through October 20, 2019. Dr. Coke has continued to “love the people” and bring healing to them. Throughout this year, Dr. Coke has opened the pulpit to lay speakers, Chris Mack, Bud Poole, Monty Felix, Jay Poole and Andy Stabler. Dr. and Mrs. Coke have not missed ministering any Sundays from November 11, 2018 through October 20, 2019. Faithfulness in the pulpit and loving in the homes, hospitals and convalescent homes has brought security to the congregation.

Parsonage

The parsonage was completely cleaned, redecorated, painted, repaired and re-carpeted for Dr. Coke and Mrs. Lori Coke to occupy in March 2017. Since that time, Dr. Coke has invited the PPRC committee into the parsonage for thorough inspections. Furthermore, since March 2017, the parsonage has remained open and the Cokes have held dinner parties, youth functions, counselling sessions and vesper services, all to the delight of church members. This has strengthened the health of the church and restored confidence in the pastor. All members feel good about and are proud of their home, the parsonage.

Preaching & Teaching

Dr. Coke has faithfully provided solid sermons on Sundays and Bible studies once-a-month on Thursdays that use the Bible as the core, and, teaches the children each Sunday morning prior to the adult sermon, the sermon of that day in a simple, visual aide. Both the children and adults enjoy the “children’s moments.” All are growing in the knowledge of God’s Word.

Visitation & Outreach, Missions, Youth Ministries

Dr. & Mrs. Coke continue to visit 40 homes, convalescent homes, hospitals and businesses monthly. This has raised up a strong lay movement (Andrew Chapel Cares) to visit and minister to the needy. The net result has been an increase in attendance, both members and visitors. Andrew Chapel United Methodist Church held two fund-raising/outreach bar-b-ques that reached hundreds of people in our area. Our senior citizens committee held two successful events at the W.O.W. senior citizens nearby center. The congregation is also very active in local and foreign missions. They provide shoeboxes for our military, cleaning buckets and hygiene kits for disaster relief and consistent monthly donations to help spread the Gospel to South Carolina and the entire world. The Holy Spirit has raised up children’s church and youth leaders.

Music

Due to the efforts of Mrs. Lori Coke to lead the choir, play for the services and organize special music, the music each Sunday has inspired all and has drawn all into effective worship.

Angel Tree, Military Shoe Boxes, Vacation Bible School & Men’s & Women’s Ministries

Andrew Chapel United Methodist Church has the strongest Military Shoe Box, Angel Tree and VBS ministries in the area. They provided abundant help to the poor and extremely effective Bible instruction to our local children. The new Men’s and Women’s ministries have helped fire victims, widows, the poor and construction projects at both church facilities.

Report of the Pastor 2019 - Account of Pastoral Ministry

Preach and teach the Word

Dr. Coke prepares his sermons and lessons using no less than twenty hours per week. Dr. Coke prints a complete outline of each sermon for everyone who attends. This includes: 1) Introduction; 2) Problem; 3) Purpose; 4) Body outline; and, 5) Recapitulation and Conclusion. Dr. Coke's delivery is logical, simple, with humor and passion. When and where possible, Dr. Coke uses pertinent visual aides, especially during the Sunday morning "children's moments."

Provide pastoral care and counsel

Dr. Coke has never turned anyone away from counsel. Privacy in counsel is maintained in the parsonage's pastoral study. Dr. and Mrs. Coke also visit and counsel in the homes, hospitals, convalescent homes and businesses. They always ask, "do we need to get you anything?" Dr. and Mrs. Coke frequently take home-made breads and favorite foods to individuals. Dr. and Mrs. Coke pray for those who are ill and offer hope to all. Dr. and Mrs. Coke regularly host families in the parsonage for meals, fellowship, singing and prayers. Dr. and Mrs. Coke appear at every fellowship and committee meeting to offer any advice when asked. Dr. Coke always prays the invocation and benediction when asked.

Administer the sacraments

Dr. Coke presides and participates in the sacrament of baptism and Holy Communion as well as the service of marriage, burial, confirmation and membership reception.

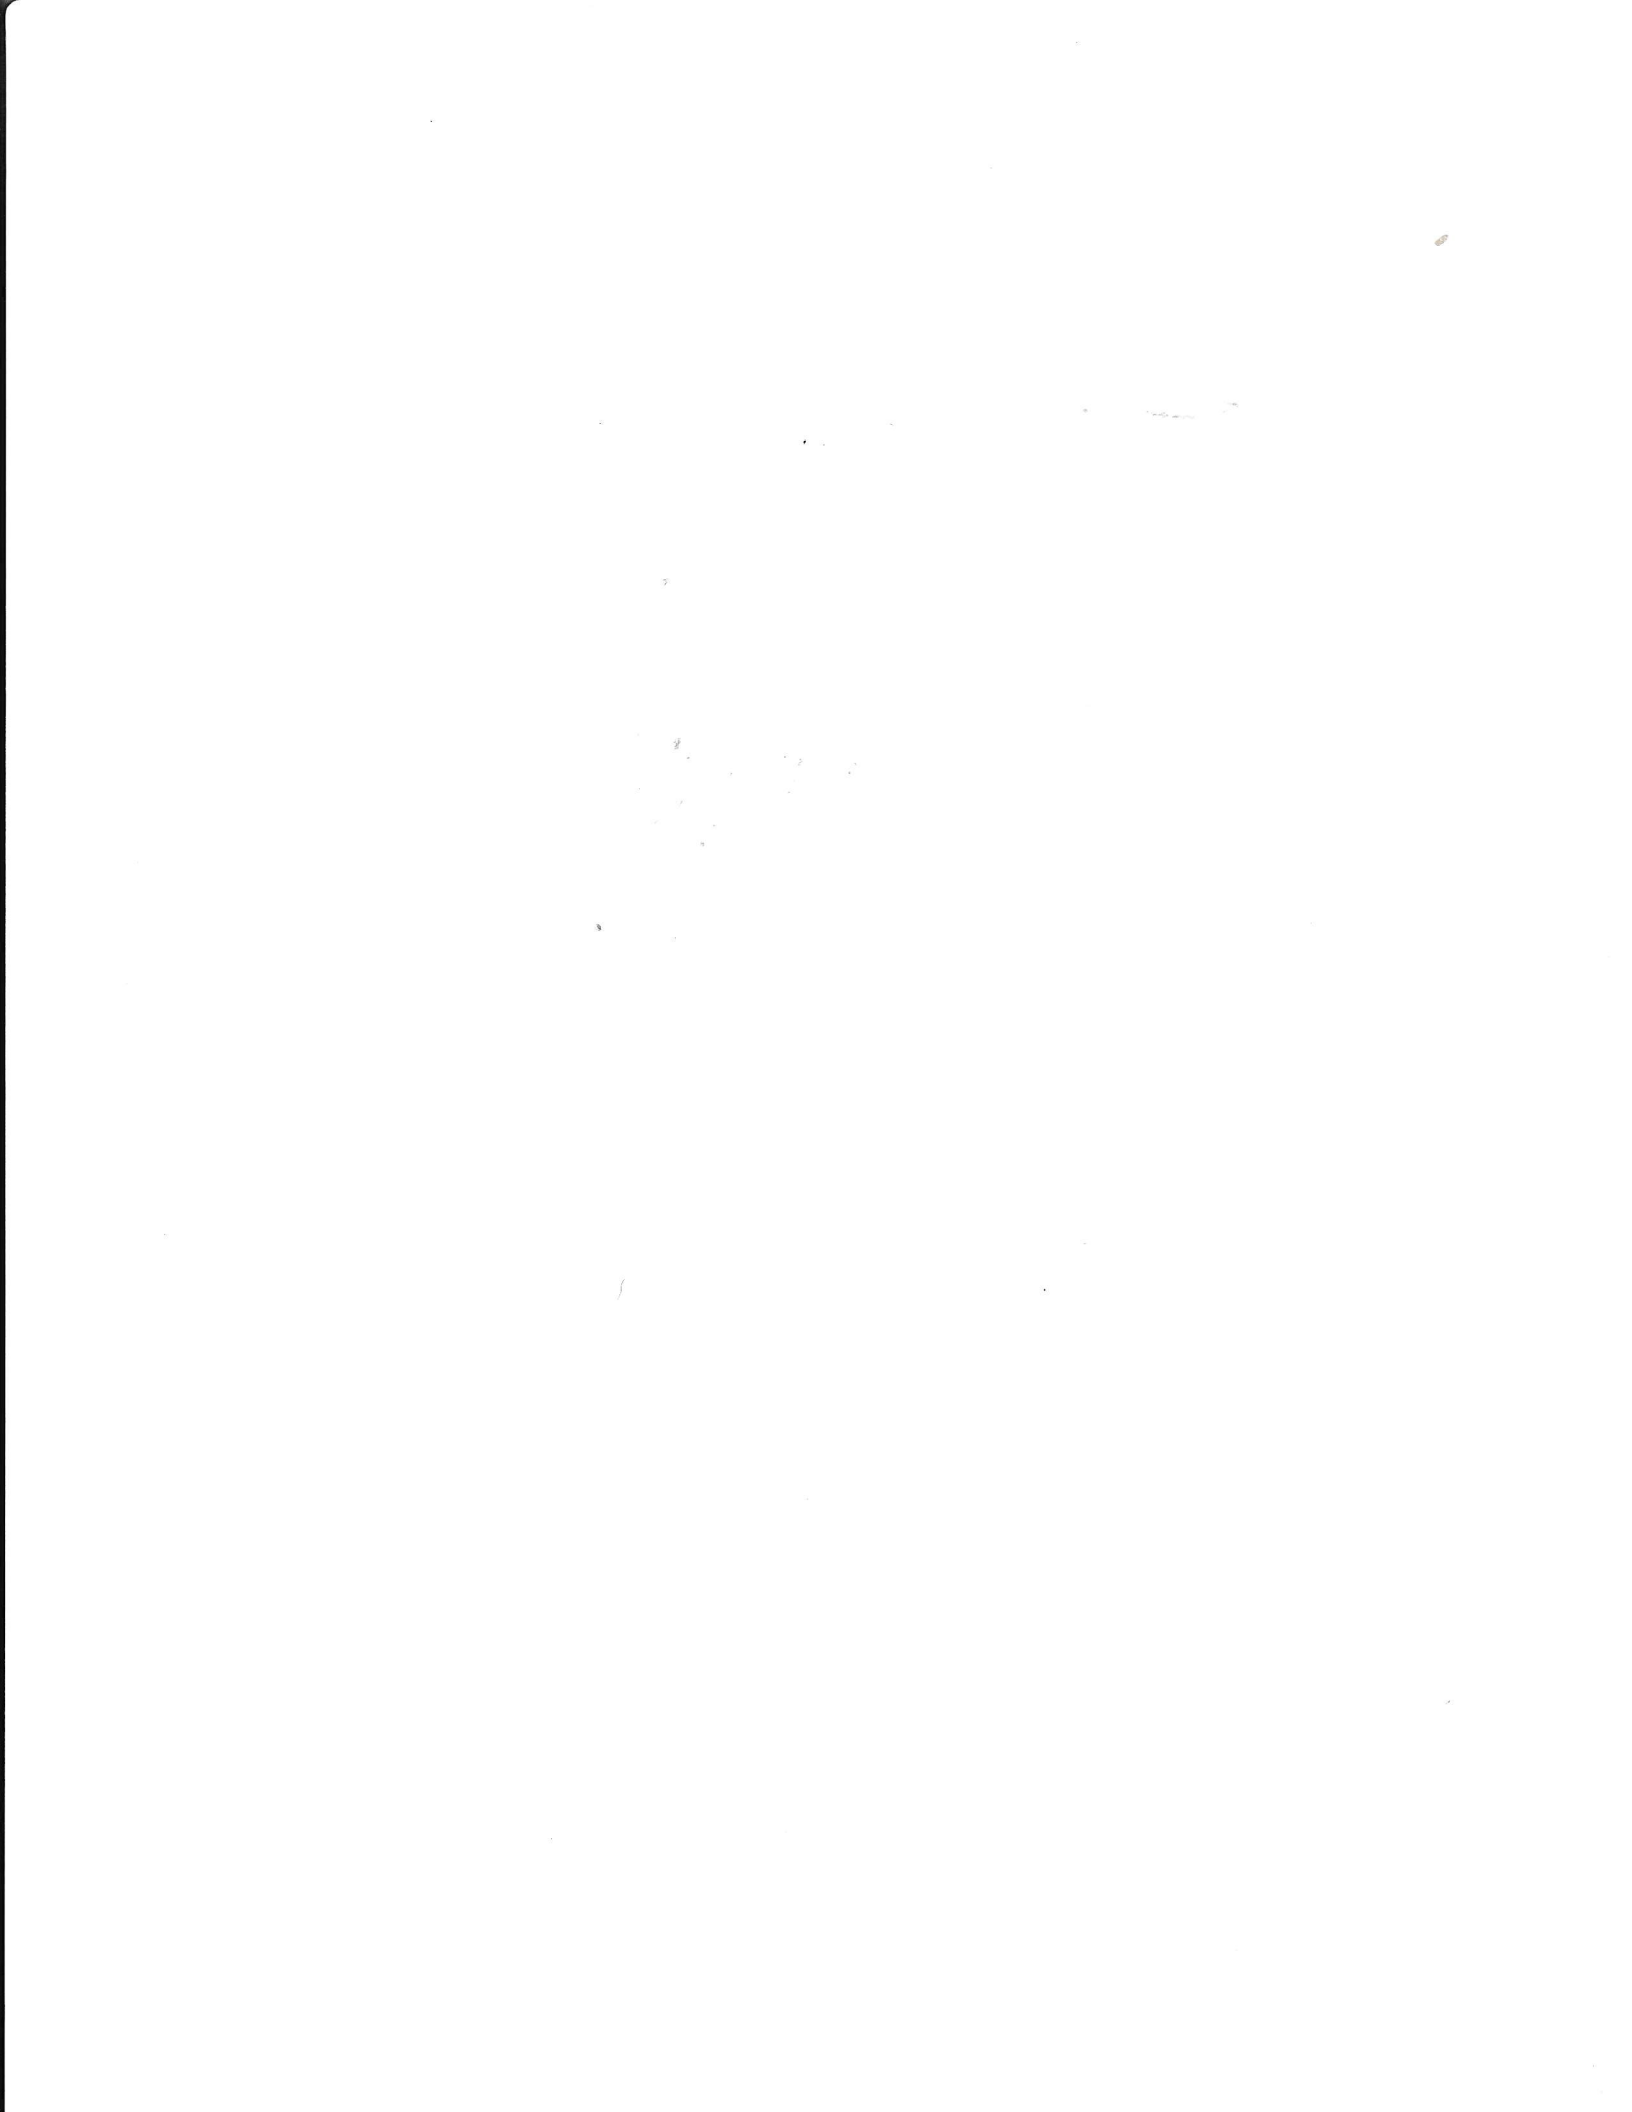

Order the life of the church for service in mission and ministry

Dr. Coke meets regularly with the Chair of Administrative Council, Finance Chair, Trustees, PPRC committee and others, to facilitate the ongoing ministry of Andrew Chapel United Methodist Church as it relates to the physical facilities and spiritual capabilities of the church. Vision is cast for all to easily follow. Purpose and definition of all who are called is given as needed.

Continuing Ministry

Dr. Coke continued his ministry at Andrew Chapel United Methodist Church every Sunday, September 13, 2022 through September 12, 2023. Dr. Coke has continued to “love the people” and bring healing to them. Throughout this year, Dr. Coke has opened the pulpit to lay speakers, Bud Poole, Allan Poole and Andy Stabler. Dr. and Mrs. Coke never missed one Sunday from September 13, 2022 through September 12, 2023. Faithfulness in the pulpit and loving by telephone calls, on-line letters, sermon outlines, Bible studies have brought security to the congregation following the threat of COVID19. Dr. Coke continues his apprentice program where he has raised up a new lay leader, Allan Poole, who leads services and has preached once a month at Sunday morning worship services.

Parsonage

Dr. Coke and Mrs. Lori Coke have invited the PPRC committee into the parsonage for thorough inspections. Furthermore, since March 2017, the parsonage has remained open for the Coke’s to hold dinner parties, youth functions, counselling sessions and vesper services, all to the delight of church members. This has strengthened the health of the church and restored confidence in the pastor. All members feel good about and are proud of their home, the parsonage.

Preaching & Teaching

Dr. Coke has faithfully provided live sermons on Sundays and Bible studies once-a-month on Thursdays that use the Bible as the core, and, teaches the children each Sunday morning prior to the adult sermon, the sermon of that day in a simple, visual aide. Both the children and adults enjoy the “children’s moments.” All are growing in the knowledge of God’s Word.

Visitation & Outreach, Missions, Youth Ministries

Dr. & Mrs. Coke visit homes, convalescent homes, hospitals and businesses monthly. Our senior citizens committee had both events cancelled at the W.O.W. senior citizens center. The congregation was very active in local and foreign missions. They provided shoeboxes for our military and consistently made monthly donations to help spread the Gospel to South Carolina and the entire world. ACUMC produced a golf tournament to raise funds for cancer patient, Karen Muse.

Music

Due to the efforts of Mrs. Lori Coke to lead the choir, play for the services and organize special music, the traditional praise and worship each Sunday has inspired all and has drawn all into effective worship.

Epworth Home, Military Shoe Boxes & Vacation Bible School

Andrew Chapel United Methodist Church has the strongest Military Shoe Box and VBS ministries in the area. They provided abundant help to the poor and extremely effective Bible instruction to our local children. The women’s ministry has tirelessly fed our shut-ins and fed neighboring families to ill to feed themselves.

Preach and teach the Word

Dr. Coke prepares his sermons and lessons using no less than twenty hours per week. Dr. Coke prints a complete outline of each sermon for everyone who attends. This includes: 1) Introduction; 2) Problem; 3) Purpose; 4) Body outline; and, 5) Recapitulation and Conclusion. Dr. Coke's delivery is logical, simple, with humor and passion. When and where possible, Dr. Coke uses pertinent visual aides, especially during the Sunday morning "children's moments."

Provided pastoral care and counsel

Dr. Coke has never turned anyone away from counsel. Privacy in counsel is maintained in the parsonage's pastoral study. They always ask on the telephone, "do we need to get you anything?" Dr. and Mrs. Coke frequently take home-made breads and favorite foods to individuals. Dr. and Mrs. Coke pray for those who are ill and offer hope to all. Dr. and Mrs. Coke have restarted hosting families in the parsonage for meals, fellowship, singing and prayers. Dr. and Mrs. Coke appeared at every committee meeting to offer any advice when asked. Dr. Coke always prays the invocation and benediction when asked.

Administer the sacraments

Dr. Coke presided over the sacrament Holy Communion that is passed to individuals kneeling at the altar.
