PROFILE OF THE WEEK:
Bainbridge Graduate Institute – MBA in Sustainable Business

Bainbridge Graduate Institute (BGI) was the first business school to offer an MBA in sustainable business and is ranked by Huffington Post as one of the top five sustainable business schools in the US.

Located in Seattle, Washington, BGI also has a LEED Gold certified facility called IslandWood on Bainbridge Island outside of the city. Students in the MBA and certification programs meet at the Seattle Learning Site for classes and go to the IslandWood campus each month.

In addition to the MBA program, BGI offers certificate programs in Sustainable Built Environments, Sustainable Energy Solutions, and Sustainable Food and Agricultural Systems. Also their Organization Systems Renewal (OSR) program will earn you an MA in Organizational Leadership.

Visit http://www.bgi.edu/ for more information on this pioneering graduate program in sustainability.
